Council Postpones Request

Tecumseh City Council again postponed a decision on a request from Al Meyers Airport Inc. to increase the city's annual $900 contribution for runway maintenance. Request has been pending about two months.

Matter will be reconsidered at the Aug. 2 meeting.

Request has been delayed because the city has not received a satisfactory answer on whether or not the city shares any liability for its contribution.

Although the city charter and state statue permits the city to make contributions, the city does have immunity when dealing in non-governmental functions, Attorney Greg Foresthoefel told Council.

"Insurance carriers tell us verbally, the city has no liability when the money is given in terms of a contribution," but there has been no written statement said Forsthoefel. "Insurance companies say we can't be insured if we don't have any insurable interest."

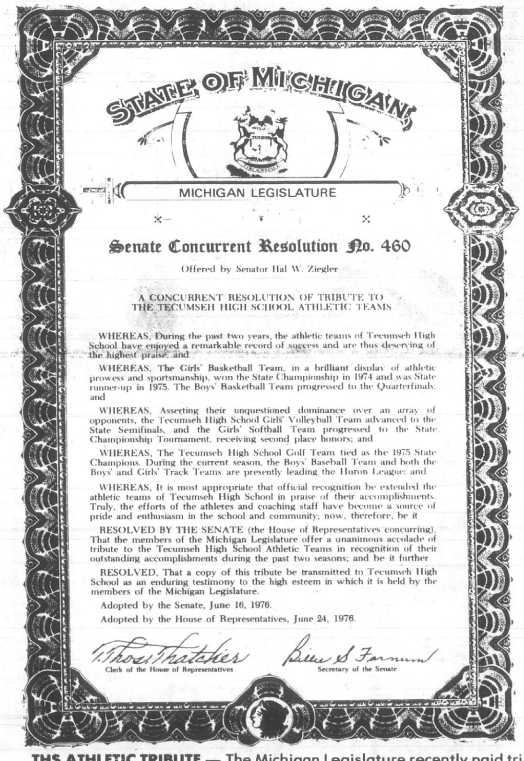
Bank, Firm Are Chosen

At Tecumseh's school board meeting Monday night, members voted to designate United Savings Bank as the depository of school funds.

In addition, members also voted to continue to retain the Lansing law firm of Thrun, Maatsch and Nordberg. Supt. Duhan later said that the firm specializes in school matters.

The board also authorized members Phelan, Macbeth, Records and Herrick to sign checks if needed. Checks must have signatures of two board members.



STATE OF MICHIGAN

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 460

Offered by Senator Hal W. Ziegler

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF TRIBUTE TO THE TECUMSEH HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC TEAMS

WHEREAS, During the past two years, the athletic teams of Tecumseh High School have enjoyed a remarkable record of success and are thus deserving of the highest praise; and

WHEREAS, The Girls' Basketball Team, in a brilliant display of athletic prowess and sportsmanship, won the State Championship in 1974 and was State runner-up in 1975. The Boys' Basketball Team progressed to the Quarterfinals; and

WHEREAS, Asserting their unquestioned dominance over an array of opponents, the Tecumseh High School Girls' Volleyball Team advanced to the State Semifinals, and the Girls' Softball Team progressed to the State Championship Tournament, receiving second place honors; and

WHEREAS, The Tecumseh High School Golf Team tied as the 1975 State Champions. During the current season, the Boys' Baseball Team and both the Boys' and Girls' Track Teams are presently leading the Huron League; and

WHEREAS, It is most appropriate that official recognition be extended the athletic teams of Tecumseh High School in praise of their accomplishments. Truly, the efforts of the athletes and coaching staff have become a source of pride and enthusiasm in the school and community; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE (the House of Representatives concurring), That the members of the Michigan Legislature offer a unanimous accolade of tribute to the Tecumseh High School Athletic Teams in recognition of their outstanding accomplishments during the past two seasons; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this tribute be transmitted to Tecumseh High School as an enduring testimony to the high esteem in which it is held by the members of the Michigan Legislature.

Clerk of the House of Representatives — Secretary of the Senate

Promenade Highlights 200th Birthday

City Hosts Unique Celebration

By KATHY BROWN

Two hundred years ago on July 4, 1776, the Founding Fathers set forth on paper the basis for an experiment in self-government which many feel is unequaled in history.

Two hundred years later, the City of Tecumseh Bicentennial Committee, chaired by the Rev. David Fox, planned and successfully executed a Bicentennial celebration unique in Tecumseh's experience.

And some said it couldn't be done.

The concept of four promenades from four parts of town, joining in unison with the band at the baseball diamonds for a rousing patriotic chorus, seemed idealistic to some skeptics and dissappointing to traditionalists who wanted to see a parade with floats and marching units.

But the Bicentennial Committee stuck to its original idea with great courage and judging by the numbers who joined the walk of the people at all points, the low key celebration was a welcomed change of pace for Sesquicentennial (celebrated in 1974) tired Tecumsehites.

The band's performance led by Jimmie Rice was called "a superb job," the timing of the promenades was "right on" and the community singing led by Russel Rieve and the stage band led by Gerald Bach, left everyone with "a good feeling," observers commented.

By 8:30 p.m. the lawns of the baseball diamonds and St. Peter's Church on North Evans were comfortably filled by an interested audience for the former Governor George Romney's address. To the delight of many, Mrs. Romney accompanied her husband, although she gave no public remarks.

Romney delivered a 20-minute speech with a high moral, patriotic and spiritual tone. In a portion of his speech he recited the Ten Commandments and compared current American life to the Biblical standards. He urged individual responsibility and renewal of the family.

Crowds swelled by 9:30 p.m. when the fireworks were scheduled. James Fielder and his crew presented a Bicentennial display appreciated by the crowd. Chamber of Commerce and the city sponsored the fireworks.

Earlier in the day, 50 attended the interdenominterdenominational services at Adams Park led by the Rev. Ray Warnick and 75 attended the family picnic at Tecumseh Park.

Bells pealed on schedule for the National Bell Ringing at 2 p.m. and the Ice Cream Social at the First Presbyterian Church was in essence, Tecumseh's birthday party for America, as it was exceptionally popular with crowds of guests.

Pleasant weather for Tecumseh and indeed almost every part of the United States on July 4, 1976, was the birthday blessing which added the special icing to the country's 200th birthday cake.

Congratulations to the Tecumseh Bicentennial Committee and all who worked diligently for the enjoyment of others.

City Chooses Industrial Committee

Six more nominees received by Tecumseh City Council Monday night for the industrial park development "Committee of 10" are:

Ray Oliver of Jiffy Plastics, representing small business; Earl Mason of the United Savings Bank, representing financial institutions; Chuck Hottinger of Goedert Realty Co., representing real estate; Henry Newland, attorney, representing city professionals; Morgan Ford of the Tecumseh Products Co., representing industry and Paul Dangler of Gaston's to represent the Chamber of Commerce.

These six were recommended by four other committee members previously appointed by City Council:

Hot Meals for Seniors

Hot meal service for Tecumseh Senior Citizens is expected to begin late this month on a five-day a week basis at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Announcement of a starting date and other information for seniors will be forthcoming.

Tecumseh City Council learned Monday night that verbal approval has been received on the federal matching funds requested on Tecumseh's behalf by the Lenawee Council on Aging.

Anticipating final confirmation, the city is proceeding with minor alterations at the Community Center so meals can be prepared there.

A stove, refrigerator-freezer and dishwasher have been requested by the city in the federal grant. Until alterations are made, meals will be prepared in Adrian.

Meals will be available to any senior citizen aged 55 years old or older. Meals are served for a free-will donation.

Once a staff person has been hired as meal site director for the Community Center, meals may be delivered to the homebound elderly who are disabled in some way, by directly contacting the meal site director.

Outreach, transportation, limited medical services and social activities will be available to Tecumseh Senior Citizens on those days which the Tecumseh Recreation Department has no scheduled senior citizen activity.

Currently the city recreation department hosts arts and crafts on Tuesday, and other senior citizen activities on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

Education Officers for 76-77 Chosen

At its annual organization meeting Monday night, Tecumseh's Board of Education elected new officers.

It was the first meeting in which new board members Richard Heglin and Dean Jones took part.

Dr. Donald L. Phelan was elected president, William Macbeth vice-president, Jim Records secretary, and Todd Herrick treasurer.

The board also voted to continue holding their meetings on the third Monday of every month with a starting time of 7 p.m.

'Slight Chance' Produces Hail

The weatherman's forecast for a "slight chance of rain" Tuesday afternoon misled Tecumseh and area which was caught by surprise with torrential downpour and hail the size of mothballs.

LEO HOLMES, GARY STEPHENS ATOP THEIR DERAILED TRAIN RE-RAILER

Eight Man New Division Office

Re-Railing Derailed Trains Is Their Job

By FRANK WEIR

A train including several cars loaded with deadly anhydrous ammonia slowly pulls out of a chemical factory yard in Southeast Michigan clattering over worn rails South towards Toledo.

Suddenly, and without warning, the cars dive off the railway crashing with earsplitting ferocity. They rupture, mixing ammonia with atmosphere forming an acrid, poisonuous gas.

The suffocating cloud immediately begins to spread and state police undertake emergency plans to evacuate the area.

A call is relayed to Tecumseh alerting a stand-by 24-hour crew specializing in train derailments. In a matter of minutes, their heavy equipment and know-how is on the way.

The above scene is, of course, fictional. But Tecumseh is the home of a new division office of Hulcher Emergency Service Inc., specializing in train derailments.

Since that time, the company has expanded and will tackle almost any job, from derailments to natural disasters to a farmer's tractor stuck in spring muck.

As Wayne Moore, a member of the local office comments, "If we can't get it out, you might as well throw dirt over it and forget it."

Eight men have moved to Tecumseh maning the new division office. Leo Holmes is the superintendent since Hulcher's opened in Ann Arbor in May. On June 16, the company came to Tecumseh which offered a shop with better facilities to maintain the company's six semi cabs, one front loader, two caterpillar tractors, and support equipment.

The tractors, originally pipe layers, form the basic tool of this unusual trade. A side boom is added to the tractor which is then driven alongside a derailed car.

The boom has a lifting capacity of 100 tons, the tractor itself weighing 115,000 pounds. The car is literally picked up with the boom.

"If we can't get it out, you might as well throw dirt over it and forget it."

The Tecumseh office, along with two others in Bluffton, Ind., and Lexington, Ohio handle emergencies in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

And if you thought there was never a need for such a service, consider that the company handles an average of six jobs a day nationwide. Since conception, the company has handled 6,018 jobs of various descriptions.

Since the Michigan office opened, the local crew have handled seven calls, two since their arrival in Tecumseh. One was in Detroit, the other in Ft. Wayne. Their very first call, a derailment in Newaygo early in May ended on a sad note with the first fatality the company has suffered in 10 years.

Holmes, 28, is the veteran of the crew having logged five years with Hulcher's. His toughest assignment came in the summer of 1974 when a rail car containing liquified petroleum gas exploded in the Decatur, Ill., rail yard. The disaster caused loss of life and a derailing of 470 cars. Four Hulcher divisions were called in. It took a week to re-rail the yard and a month to cut up cars and haul them out.

Holmes said that it usually takes about an hour to turn up a derailed car.

After derailed cars are removed, the company also restores the roadbed so service may continue as soon as possible.

The company has portable light plants for round-the-clock operation and other specialized equipment such as self-contained breathing apparatus and protective suits. Three aircraft are stationed at the home office in Virden, Ill., if needed.

What entices someone to take on such a trade? Holmes can only say, "Its different. Its never the same thing, not like a factory job. You'll never know what you'll get until you get there."

And Gary Stephens chimes in, "We work hard and we play hard." An intense rivalry has developed between the different division offices and the local crew already likes to call Tecumseh the "home of the FIRST team."

Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Engle, 4995 Raisin Center Hwy., will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house July 10 from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Tecumseh Church of Christ Fellowship Hall. Open house will be hosted by their three children, Mrs. Thomas (Sheila) Drouillard, Adrian; and Kelvin and Wayland at home. They have one granddaughter. W.T. Engle and Janie Lee Williford were married on July 2, 1951 in Fulton, Miss., by Jimmie Powell. They have lived in the Tecumseh area for 20 years. Mr. Engle is employed at Tecumseh Products Company and Mrs. Engle is employed at Fisher Body. Friends and relatives are invited to the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvie (Jim) Reitz of 201 E. Kilbuck St. will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary July 14, 1976. The couple will spend Sunday July 18, with their immediate families and close friends at their sons home in Britton. Arvie C. Reitz and Leona E. Eshleman were married at Watseka, Ill. in the Methodist parsonage by the Rev. Stanley Ward on July 14, 1926. They lived in Illinois until 1935. They moved to Michigan 40 years ago, and have been Tecumseh residents for the past 28 years. Mr. and Mrs. Reitz are parents of two sons, Dale E. of Britton and Ronald of Milton, Vt., they have seven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Hallett of 157 Bailey Dr., Adrian, were honored with a surprise open house June 20, hosted by their children. Max Hallett and Connie Colegrove were married July 4, 1951 in Morenci. They have five daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Pamela) Adams, Mrs. Thomas (Sandra) Edwards, Brenda, Lori and Linda at home. They also have two grandsons.

Request Postponed

"All I ask is there be insurance to cover the city.

"I would be remiss in my job as city attorney to tell you to go ahead with this carte blanche," Forsthoefel told Council.

Henry Newland, attorney representing Al Meyers Airport, Inc. told Council he researched the matter of liability and could not find a case where a city named in a liable suit for a contribution.

Attorney Newland told Council "The airport will not cease to exist but at this point in time it needs help."

He stated that runway maintenance exceeds $3,000 annually and indicated that resurfacing costs for the runway could be as high as $85,000.

Although no definite amount was asked for Newland mentioned a contribution of $1,000 or $1,500.

The precedent established by the city seems to have divided Council.

"I've felt we've been leaving ourselves open to criticism on financing an industry like this. Personally I see no reason why (we should give a contribution). I think it's wrong.

"I'm not against cutting this out, I don't think we should increase it," Puffer said.

Mayor Harold Easton on the other hand, made it plain he thinks city is buying a service from the airport, but agreed with the city attorney, "we shouldn't say 'yes' or 'no' until we find out about the insurance."

Councilwoman Mary Bowers and Councilman Carlton Cook agreed with the importance of the airport to the city.

In arguments he presented to Council, Newland outlined the value of the airport to the city.

+The airport reflects $300,000 of business in the city annually, an estimate he called "conservative."

+70 some employees are maintained full and part-time.

+Events such as the Dawn Patrol and Aviation Pioneers Fly-ins bring in commerce for Tecumseh shops, restaurants and motels.

+Citing a letter of support for the airport from Tecumseh's world glider champion, A.J. Smith, Newland pointed out the city has a municipal airport without major capital expenditure and the hard top runway provides a nucleus for industrial expansion.

Accident Claims Life

An employee with the Department of Natural Resources at Hayes State Park was killed in an automobile accident near the Park Monday.

Robert Francis Talbott, 37, 11500 Seymour, Grass Lake, was northbound on M-124 and was making a left turn into the Park when he was struck broadside by a vehicle driven by Robert William Klein, 21, of Allen Park according to the Sheriff's report.

Klein was passing two vehicles when he struck the DNR vehicle driven by Talbott.

Talbott was transferred to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor where he died later Monday evening.

Sheriff's deputies are still investigating the mishap.

Easing the burden: PRE-PLANNING

"Could you please come to the hospital right away, Pastor Miller? Mr. Gary has just had a cardiac arrest and his wife is absolutely beside herself!"

"How does it look for him?" asked Pastor Miller.

"We just don't know which way it's going to go," she said, "but it doesn't look good at all."

Pastor Miller placed the phone back in its cradle. It was six o'clock on a pleasant summer Saturday evening. Death, in any shape or form, he thought, seemed entirely inappropriate. Nevertheless, in slightly less than two hours, Mr. Gary died.

Pastor Miller explained that although Mrs. Gary had support from relatives and good friends she was unprepared to handle all the arrangements to be made in the hours and days after her husband's death. Decisions and details, many of which could have been attended to long ago, confronted her.

Pre-planning is sensible

Planning for death and burial is reasonable, logical and practical. Perhaps we do not like to think about our own funerals, much less plan for them. But, in fact, there are three very sound reasons for pre-planning.

First, it brings the subject into the open, where it can be discussed by members of the family. Second, pre-planning enables a person to make his wishes clearly known, thus guiding survivors and making their decision-making that much wiser and easier. Third, it can eliminate completely any possible disagreement as to doing "what would be most appropriate" or "what he or she would have wanted us to do."

TIPTON — Susan Platt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Platt, 8220 Tipton Hwy., and Steven M. Siler, son of Mrs. James Siler of Kettering, Ohio and the late James Siler, were married June 26 at 7:30 p.m. in a candlelight ceremony by the Rev. Max Bailey at the Tipton Community Church.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride wore a gown of sugar cane jersey trimmed with Venice lace. The bodice was designed with a wedding ring collar, cap sleeves, and an empire waistline. The A-line skirt had an attached chapel train.

She wore an embroidered Venice lace waist length veil held in place by fresh flowers matching her bouquet. She carried red rosettes, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Ginnie Ousterhout of Tecumseh was maid of honor, in a red and white dotted voile. Kathy Broski of Wyoming, Mich. and Julie Platt of Anderson, Ind. cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids and wore navy and white dotted voile dresses. All carried white wicker baskets filled with miniature red carnations, white daisies, snow drift pompons blue bachelor buttons and baby's breath for a bicentennial color scheme.

A reception for 225 guests was held at the Fisher Body UAW Hall, Tecumseh, where Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Platt, the bride's aunt and uncle were host and hostess.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh High School, and Grand Rapids Junior College and is employed in Grand Rapids as a dental hygienist. The groom graduated from Kettering High School and Grand Valley State College as an elementary and physical education teacher.

Mrs. James Siler hosted the rehearsal dinner at Bauer Manor.

Following a honeymoon to Wisconsin the couple will reside in Grand Rapids.

Announce Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Parisian of 8816 Grange Hall Rd. announce the marriage of their daughter Wendy Sue to Michael Paul Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Guy, Ypsilanti.

The couple were married on July 3, 1976 at a 7 p.m. wedding at the bride's home. Pastor Edmond Watkins of the First United Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Cynthia Houston, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and Steven Guy, the groom's brother, served as best man.

A dinner for the families of the newlyweds was served following the ceremony.

The couple will reside in Ypsilanti where the groom is presently employed at Eastern Michigan University.

MR. and MRS. JOSEPH VAN VALKENBURG

Brenda Poland Weds Joseph VanValkenburg

Brenda Lee Poland and Joseph Lambert VanValkenburg were married June 26 at 6:30 p.m. in St. John (Burry's) Church in Rochester, Pa. by the Rev. Carl A. Stewart.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Poland, Rd 1 of Rochester, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenburg of 7764 N. Adrian Hwy.

Mrs. Cindy Kinman was organist and Susan Ivy was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of crystal organza. The sheer yoke was trimmed with Chantilly lace and pearls accented the ruffled slit bodice. The full bishop sleeves were appliqued with Chantilly. The empire waistline, A-line skirt with attached train and hemline had matching lace.

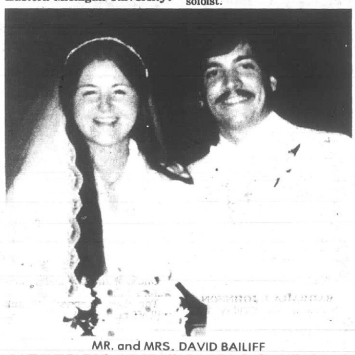
Mrs. Diana Rodgers, the bride's sister of Vestal, N.Y. and Christine Poland, the bride's sister of Rochester, Pa.

Daniel VanValkenburg, the groom's brother of Tecumseh was best man. Paul VanValkenburg, and James VanValkenburg, the groom's brothers of Tecumseh were ushers.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

The bride is a senior attending Monroe College in Ohio majoring in elementary education. The groom graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1971 and from Malone College with a degree in Christian education and religion. He is employed by the college as youth minister at the 11th Street Church of God in Canton, Ohio.

The couple will honeymoon at Salt Fort Lodge in Ohio and reside at 137 Apt. 13b, 25th St. N.W. Canton, Ohio 44709.



MR. and MRS. DAVID BAILIFF

Wedding Vows Spoken by Couple

Deborah Hollister and David Kenneth Bailiff were married June 18 at 5:30 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church by Fr. John Keifer of Siena Heights Chapel.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hollister, 805 Shady Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bailiff, 1108 E. Butler of Adrian.

Mrs. Pat Patterson was organist and Sister Moreen of Siena Heights Chapel played guitar and sang.

Mixed bouquets of spring flowers, fuji mums and carnations decorated the altar for the bride's approach with her parents. The bride chose a white polyester knit gown for her wedding. The V-neckline was trimmed with Venice lace, as were the long fitted sleeves.

She carried white carnations and peach roses.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Peerless Gear Union Hall in Clinton.

Candles and a peach color table skirt decorated the bride's table.

Special guests included: the bride's aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simmons of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pliss and family of East Hartford, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. James Keily and family, Mrs. Diane Bertrand and Pat Keily of Manchester, Conn.

The bride is a 1973 Tecumseh High School graduate and is employed at Herrick Hospital. The groom is a 1972 graduate of Adrian High School and is self employed in tree-trimming. The couple honeymooned in Virginia Beach, Va. for 10 days and reside at 316 N. Maumee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bailiff, the groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Rock Inn, Adrian.

Couple Wed in Palmyra

BRITTON — Deborah Mae Maschino became the bride of Charles Allen Schmidt, in a candlelight ceremony June 26, in Immanuel Lutheran Church, Blissfield Hwy., with the Rev. Karl Oelschlager officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Maschino, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schmidt, of Fenton.

Red and white gladiolus, flanked by hurricane lamps, enhanced the altar, and hurricane lamps and bows marked the pews.

The bride wore a gown of polyester organza with floral applique over taffeta. The full skirt featured a high neckline with a scalloped bib edged in lace with tucks and buttons, and long sheer sleeves gathered at the wrist with a lace-edged, ruffled cuff. The deep flounced hemline formed a chaple-length train.

Her fingertip veil was edged in scalloped applique trim, with a short blusher veil. She carried a nosegay of white daisies, miniture carnations, accented with red sweetheart roses, bachelor buttons and baby's breath. She wore white carved ivory rose earrings.

Patricia Frantom, Ypsilanti, groom's sister, was the matron of honor. She wore an empire-styled, navy blue, dotted Swiss organdy over taffeta, sleeveless gown, with a pinafore-styled ruffle and high ruffled neckline, and a deep-flounced hemline.

Bridesmaids gowns were similar to the maid of honor's. All carried nosegays of white daisies, bachelor buttons, red sweetheart roses and baby's breath, accented with red streamers.

Douglas Franton of Ypsilanti, brother-in-law of the groom, was the best man. Serving as ushers were Charles Wallace, Fenton; Kirl Bowden, Clarkston; Mark Maschino, Britton, brother of the bride; Larry Hillard, Sand Creek; and William Wilson, Fenton.

A reception was held at the United Products Workers Union Hall, in Tecumseh, for 350 guests. Rehearsal dinner was at Casa Novas in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Schmidt has been a substitute teacher for the past year in Clinton, Onsted and Tecumseh schools. She graduated from Britton-Macon High School and Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Schmidt graduated from Fenton High School and E.M.U. He is a secondary teacher in social sciences and driver education, in Ypsilanti.

Family Keeps Wish

By KATHY BROWN

Abram C. Wisner's 109-year-old death wish that a family cemetery be preserved on an approximate acre of land on Wisner Hwy. in Franklin Township has been renewed by his surviving family of Franklin Township and a Florida relative.

Inspired by the family heritage of the "Wisners in America" and local Bicentennial efforts to venerate family history, the family of John Wisner, Mrs. Ralph Ruesink, Mrs. Clayton Greenwald and Mrs. Charles Foreman of Franklin supplied the muscle; and Irene Wisner of Franklin Township and Carl Victor Wisner, attorney in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. supplied the capital.

The cemetery has a new fence and designating sign. Brush and weeds have been cut away and some stones have been repaired; one was reset.

About 12 family members were buried in the family cemetery. Honored there are The Rev. Jehiel Wisner, 1762-1839, a soldier of the American Revolution from 1979-1781 and his wife, Susanna Chandler; Abram C. Wisner, 1799-1867, son of the Rev. Jehiel, and wife, Sarah Wisner.

An impressive bronze tablet on a boulder from the Wisner farm tells their story. They came from Niagara County New York by ox team across Canada to Michigan in 1832 and settled on 200 acres of farm land in Franklin Township.

The stone also bears the Wisner family coat of arms and the motto: "By love, not force." It aptly describes the labor of love and respect that was spent to make an ancestor's request a reality.

Patricia M. Wisner was the last family member to be buried in the cemetery in 1934. In 1932 or '31 Rachel Wisner Maloney's brother and a baby sister were returned for interment at the family cemetery.

No one but the members of the family may be buried in the cemetery but the plot is a permanent and dignified memorial not only to the descendants of the Rev. Jeheil but also to the community of Franklin Township as it prepares for its all-day homecoming celebration July 10 at the Tipton Elementary School.

Former Franklin Township residents have been invited. Family picnics and games of 100-years ago will be featured as well as bingo, a volunteer community band and antique exhibits.

Searching a bit more into the life of the Rev. Jehiel Wisner, all his war service was in the state of New York. During his enlistment as Revolutionary War soldier, his tours of duty were sometimes short, lasting only a few days and sometimes lasting several weeks, as was common for patriots of that era.

Accounts refer to him as a talented minister of the gospel. One family story relates an experience that happened to him in New York. Being trailed by wolves, Jehiel took refuge in a tree. Fearing he might fall asleep and be killed by the animals, he preached all night with the "Sermon on the Mount" as his text. At least the preacher stayed awake.

The family first stopped in Clinton before settling in Franklin Township and both father and son, Abram, were active in building the first Baptist church of the village. The Rev. Jehiel is also said to have preached the first sermon in Franklin Township. He was buried at age 77, in the lot which later became the Wisner Family Cemetery.

TIPTON COMMUNITY CHURCH

Celebration Is Saturday

Everyone in the area is invited to attend the free activities.

Morning events will be highlighted by a fire department waterball contest, games for the whole family popular 100-years ago and bingo for adults with homemade jams and jellies as prizes.

In the afternoon a father and son baseball game will entertain. Family style picnics are encouraged. Bring own food and service.

A special 26-piece volunteer band has been recruited from grades five to 12 and rehearsed by Mr. and Mrs. William Vollmer.

Antique cars, old engines and tractors will be displayed.

Copies of Franklin Township's history, "A Little Bit of Yesterday," will be on sale.

See related story on Franklin Township's Wisner Family Cemetery, a family Bicentennial project in this week's Herald.

Hospitalized

Harry Curry of Tecumseh has been hospitalized at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor for a collapsed lung. He had spent three weeks in Herrick Hospital. Friends may address cards and letters to him care of St. Joseph Hospital, Rm. 752, Ann Arbor, Michigan, 48105.

Church Celebrates

Sunday, July 4, during the morning worship service at the Tipton Community Church, with ladies seated on the left and men on the right, a service of dedication was held for the new public address system and the communion table cover.

At this time the following new members were received as members of the church; Mrs. Margaretta Davenport, Mrs. Robert Platt, Beth Tuckerman, Amy Tuckerman, Ann Tuckerman, William Mukensturm and Ronald Hoenig.

The history of the Community Church began in 1836 at a little place called Franklin where a Sunday School and Church were started.

The first meetings were held in a log school house, north of Tipton, at the corner of Tipton Hwy. and Munger Rd., on the southeast side of the road.

The next step was to build a frame meeting house nearer the Tipton Hwy. This church was organized and carried on under the auspices of the Presbyterian Society of Monroe by the help of Rev. Phelps, who was then pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh.

In 1843 the deacons received a letter of dismissal from the Presbyterian Church and decided to become the Congregational Church of Fraglin.

In 1860 the present church was built with two doors at the rear and a gallery which was reached by a steep incline from both doors.

In 1930, the Community Church was formed when the Methodist and Congregational Church merged.

Many changes have been made, basement added, and three doors made into the assembly hall.

FRESH OUT OF THE NEST

Do you remember the last Thursday in June — what a dark and rainy day it was? And how beautiful June was such a dry month that it truly was a blessing when the weather man gave us a day-long rain.

The yards had begun to take on a mid-August burned yellow look, but the steady soaking rain worked its magic and by afternoon we could almost see the grass getting green again.

As much as we enjoyed this green-up, it was not what made our day however. Early morning events had assured us that no matter what followed, June 24 would go down in history as a red letter day.

All during my bath Gertie T. and I heard the noise. A loud persistent squeaky sound. It simply had to be baby wrens and they were close by.

In fact, several times Gertie T. went to the front window and tried to see the kids. It was frustrating to have them sound so close and not be able to find them.

Finally, just as my bed was about to be rolled up, Gertie T. gasped and pointed to the south facing window. Good gracious, even without my glasses I could see something little and dark on the pitched roof of the feeder.

While cautiously going to the window Gertie T. was wondering if she dared pull the curtains — we did not want to do anything which would frighten the little guy but, on the other hand, the view would be ever so much better with the sheers open.

We need not have worried, the tiny bird was so busy just maintaining his hold on the slippery roof that he paid not the slightest attention to what was happening elsewhere.

A shout to Mom and she joined us. By now the second youngster was on the roof of the feeder and the third was trying to join them but he lacked either the nerve or the ability.

He flew back and forth a couple of times, never quite getting it all together to land. For some moments he perched on the antenna lead-in wire; usually, however, his inbetween-flights resting spot was on the ground.

Ferns and evergreen grow beneath the south facing window and form the jungle which afforded good protection for the kids. The tiny dark brown bird simply disappeared into the undergrowth — that must be where the kids had been parked when we could hear but not see them.

Baby wrens are a noisy lot. During the last few days they were in the nest there was an almost constant chattering and it continued after the moving out.

I suppose it is one way of keeping the family unit together and in touch with each other until the lessons of survival are learned and the kids are ready to strike out on their own.

Regardless of its purpose, this young wren talk is fun to hear. Loud, shrill, high-pitched, squeaking. Add to that, the gratey chirping of the parents as they pour forth a steady stream of encouragement and well, a family of wrens can be noisy neighbors.

Cute neighbors too. The kids we saw were still in the fluffy feather stage and oh, how cuddly they looked. Their bodies were round, they had practically no tails yet, and their bills which opened extra wide had not lost the yellow edging.

Another sign that these youngsters had not been out of the nest long was the way they flew. They made such hard work of it -- almost a fluttering type of flight.

We could not tell whether both parents were involved or not, possibly just one takes charge of the kids. But, if this is true, he or she makes enough noise for two. Ordering, coaxing, teasing, instructing, and just plain bossing. Whichever, the kids were constantly being told what to do.

Finally they got the message and left the south facing window. One flew around the corner on my room and discovered the near-my-window feeder. No he was not interested in food, just a place to stop and rest.

Another came around the corner but instead of the tray his resting spot was a crosspane on the window. Never had any of us had close looks at wrens this young. Most thrilling.

The route the third youngster took we did not see, but when the two left our west facing window, they headed across the creek. For the next several days we heard the family cheeping and squeaking over there.

Now there is a male wren serenading his lady love — again we have not idea where the nest is but hopefully, a few weeks from now, there will be another rainy morning and we will be royally entertained by kid wrens who are fresh out of the nest.

Announces Candidacy

District Judge C. Ralph Kohn has announced his candidacy for Lenawee County Probate Judge. He is unopposed to fill the post formerly held by Probate Judge Kenneth B. Glaser, Jr., who is running for the new circuit judgeship.

Kohn has served on the district court bench since 1971, when he was appointed by Governor Milliken. He was re-elected in 1972 and 1974, his present district court term expires in 1981.

He has also served on various district court benches throughout the state and the Wayne and Livingston County circuit benches. He is a member of the Legislative Committee of the District Court Judges Association.

He graduated from the University of Detroit Law School in 1950 with a Juris Doctor Degree. He is a graduate of the American Judicial Academy at the University of Alabama and it's graduate school at the University of Colorado. He is also a graduate of the National College of the State Judiciary at the University of Nevada.

Kohn practiced law in Detroit, Hudson and Morenci for twenty years before taking the bench. He served with the U.S. Marine Corps for four and a half years during World War II as a combat officer in the South Pacific Theater. He was discharged a captain.

He is married, father of three married daughters, and is a member of St. Joseph Shrine Parish in the Irish Hills and lives at Devils Lake.

Participates In Evacuation

Navy fireman apprentices, Patrick A. Marion, 17, and James M. Marion, 20, sons of Belva I. Bates of 1325 S. Western, recently participated in the evacuation of civilians from Beirut, Lebanon, as crewmembers of the frigate USS Koelsch.

Their ship provided direct support during the evacuation of more than 270 civilian refugees from the beleaguered Lebanese capital. The frigate took station in the eastern Mediterranean prepared to render assistance for the evacuation if necessary.

23rd Annual Chicken Broil

Manchester will hold its 23rd annual Chicken Broil, Thursday, July 15. Some 550 men and boys in the area are prepared to serve 10,000 from 4-8 p.m. on the athletic field.

Optimists and Jaycees sponsor the charcoaled chicken halves dinner to raise money for many youth projects. All business houses have tickets in advance and so do all men and boys.

Four charcoal pits, each 100 ft. long are used to broil over three thousand halves at a time. Chefs wearing white gloves check the halves as they are slowly broiled, lightly salted and buttered during the cooking process.

Four tons of charcoal is ordered and Dr. Howard Zindell of Michigan State will again personally supervise the broiling as he did 23 years ago.

The chefs have prepared their secret formula dressing for the ton of cabbage for the slaw. A truck load of potato chips and a half ton of red radishes are ordered. A thousand dozen buttered rolls go into the boxes.

The village police chief and his staff — including the mounted division will direct traffic to the free parking areas.

Free shuttle bus service runs from the parking area to the athletic field or, if you prefer, be transported by horse and buggy this Bicentennial year.

A special attraction is offered free on the field for entertainment this bicentennial year at 7 p.m. A Bells fashion show by the 11 local chapters featuring both ladies and men's fashions will take the stage.

Groups or individuals who want the advance ticket price break can make arrangements by calling Robert Ross at 313-428-8577.

Has Role In Drama

Joining the cast members in their improvized drama, "Song of the Surf," Greg will be appearing in song, dance, and drama to help Larry Caza of Rochester (who plays Tom) win the surfing crown.

The production centers around two teenagers, Tom and Lisa, in competition for the position of president of the Surfing Club.

Workshop ends July 1, when the drama will show at 8:30 p.m. on the Summer Circle Free Theatre stage in the Kresge Court on MSU's campus.

Final Production Planned

The final summer production at Croswell Opera House, "Gigi", due to be performed August 18-22, and 25-29, will have final auditions July 10th from 1-5 p.m.

Many choice roles are available for area actors. John Michael King, a professional actor with Broadway experience will play the feature role of Honore Lachailles.

Parts open for casting include Gaston Lachailles, Honore's nephew. Gaston should be played by an actor dancer singer between 20 and 35 years of age.

Inez Alvarez (Mamita) is a mature woman, Gigi's grandmother, and a warm actress, singer, who shares the wonderful song "I Remember It Well" with Honore.

Aunt Alicia is Gigi's aunt and in charge of her "social" education. She needs to be played by an elegant actress, singer.

Four adult males are needed for speaking and singing roles as Honore's and Alicia's butlers, Gigi's Lawyer and one part that will be a combination of various speaking singing roles.

One female role for an actress, singer, dancer, Liane D'Exelmans, Gaston's mistress, awaits an energetic performer.

A dancing chorus of ten couples is needed. Many of the small speaking and dancing cameo roles will be available to this chorus.

Vacation Bible School Starts July 13

Grace Lutheran Church, Maumee & Shawnee Sts., is conducting vacation Bible school July 13-16. The daily time is 9-11:30 a.m.

The theme is fitting in this Bicentennial year, THE LORD, THE NATIONS, THE PEOPLE. Focus will be on Christian citizenship and responsibility.

Classes will be held for children from nursery sage through 8th grade. There will be stories, songs, crafts, games and refreshments.

Interested persons should call the church.

UNITED SAVINGS BANK OF TECUMSEH
Offers another new service—

Direct Deposit of Your Social Security Checks

The United States Department of the Treasury will now deposit your monthly Social Security checks and other recurring federal payments directly into your account here.

Under the new law passed by Congress, you need only fill out a single authorization (Standard Form 1199) to authorize direct deposits of

- Regular Retirement and Survivors Benefits
- Supplemental Security Income Benefits
- Disability Insurance Benefits
- Coal Miners Health Benefits (Black Lung)

This new law helps to insure that your federal payments will be deposited for your use on time every month. You won't have to wait in teller lines anymore. . . nor will you have to worry about your checks being lost or stolen. Even if you are sick, or on vacation, your federal payments will be deposited to your account automatically.

Information on either your next Social Security Check or your Payment Award letter is necessary for us to help you sign up for direct Social Security Deposits.

Town Joins Bicentennial Celebration

BRITTON — The Village of Britton came alive this past week as townspeople joined in the celebration of Bicentennial Week with various activities.

Highlight of the week was the Bicentennial parade Sunday, which attracted a large crowd and held up traffic for severa minutes as paraders took over M-50 with their decorated floats, horses, antique cars, farm machinery, and covered wagons, only to mention a few of the participants.

The paraders met at L&I Leasing just west of the village, then paraded to North Street to the fork in the road, returned past the fire hall to village park.

A similar parade was held a week earlier to open the Bicentennial festivities, but members of the parade remarked the July 4th parade was much better.

Earlier Sunday morning an interdenominational church service in the Britton-Macon High School gymnasium opened the scheduel of events, with the Rev. B.O. Bashore, of Tecumseh, as guest speaker. He gave an inspiriting messge comparing the foundations to follow, found in the Bible, with the foundations our forefathers have given us.

Bicentennial awards were presented by Mrs. Cassie Niblack following the community potluck dinner in the park Sunday.

After the big parade, the "fastest pie eating contest" with no hands allowed, was held with Ronnie Pickell, age 10, winning in the younger category; adult champion, devouring his pie in record time was Bob Raymond.

A good natured pie slinging followed and everyone near got a taste of the pies. An innocent bystander, Dan Wiemer, caught a pie on the side of his face. While covered with the gooey, sticky stuff, he gave his laughing wife an affectionate kiss. All's fair in love and war, I guess!!

Concluding the Bicentennial Week, a hilarious donkey ballgame between the local American Legion Post and Ridgeway Township Fire Dept. ended in a 3-3 tie.

Local residents will long cherish the memory of this July 4th celebration as the best birthday party yet.

Winners in the baking contest held Saturday in the park were: Marilyn Schuck, fanciest, a decorated American flag cake; Ronnie Pickell, tastiest, seven layer cookie; Lissie Needham, oldest recipe, gingerbread.

Mr. Mayor title went to Charles Faust of the Garter Snatchers and Lyle DeJonghe received honorary Mr. Sherrif's title.

Other winners during Bicentennial Week were: Mrs. Edna Bortel, a quit, sponsored by the Ridgeway Blinker Belles; an afghan won by Jan Wielfaert - an antique picture frame going to Elmer Strait, Monore - and a lamp to Jerry Crawford, all sponsored by the Dolly Wheelers.

Burning of Mortgage, Rededication Plans

Macon Church Plans Unique Celebration

By Nancy Fisher

MACON — Sunday, July 11 at 1 p.m. the Macon United Methodist Church will celebrate the Bicentennial in a unique manner, by burning the mortgage of indebtedness and rededicating the church.

This ceremony will be a testimonial to the faith and Christian work ethic evidenced by this church throughout its approximately 150 years of existence.

Pastor of the church is the Rev. Albert Raloff, of Adrian, who has served for one year.

Sunday's morning worship service features an address by Dr. Robert Ward, of Ann Arbor, district superintendant. He will also participate in the mortgage burning ceremony.

Services were originally held in the home of Peter Sones, one of the first settlers in Macon, in the year 1831 at which time Michigan was but a territory.

The present church building was erected around 1868, exact details and records being unclear due to the oftenchanging circuit ministry.

In 1956, increased activity warranted the presence of a resident pastor, and in 1969, the congregation held groundbreaking ceremonies for a new education unit.

At that time the Macon Church assumed a mortgage of $65,000, somewhat awesome for a congregation of 157 members.

With the same spirit of devotion and determination evidenced throughout the history of their church, the members set about the task of erasing the indebtedness.

The fact of accomplishment was realized by individual and family tithing, gifts from dedicated church groups such as the circles of the United Methodist Women, the Youth Fellowship and the Macon Church choir and the many dinners and socials provided by the famed cooks of Macon Church.

No economy was too small to be overlooked in the drive to erase the mortgage.

Paper drives were held. Members of the congregation took turns in custodial care of the church in order to save monthly costs. A hard-working finance committee issued annual and semi-annual reports of progress.

On July 11, one small, but strong congregation of United Methodists take pride in the fact their religious ideals are alive and well in Macon, Mich.

Everyone Is Eligible for Fair Talent Show

No matter where you live, in or out of Lenawee County - remember you can be eligible to participate in the talent show at the 1976 Lenawee County Fair! Entries are being accepted now thru Aug. 9, giving a chance to win both cash prizes and a trophy.

Two divisions will compete in the finals on Friday, Aug. 27 at the bandshell at 7 p.m. Preliminaries will also be held opening day of the fair-Aug. 22 for the junior division contestants under 21 years of age at 3 p.m.

The senior division for those 21 years and over will have their preliminary judging at 7:30 p.m. also on opening day.

The senior division is limited to those who consider themselves amateur, and the amateur standing is maintained when a person does not earn more than one quarter of their income in the area of talent presented.

Cash prize of $75 will be awarded to the winner in the senior division, and the runner-up receives $50. For the junior division, it's $50 and $25 in cash for the first and second place winners respectively. Trophys will also be awarded to the two top winners in each division.

Entry forms are available at the secretary's office at the fairgrounds or at Nixon Marbros in downtown Adrian. The deadline is 5 p.m. August 9.

Celebrate 200th on Birthday Eve

BRITTON — July 3 activities on the eve of the Nation's 200th birthday included a box social, costume ball and exchange of floats with Fowlerville, and Dundee.

Twelve lunch baskets were entered in the bidding for the old fashioned box social sponsored by the Liberty Bells in the Britton Park. The highest price paid for a lunch was $11.75. Richard Valley was the auctioneer.

The Costume Ball was held from 9 p.m. - a.m. at the fire hall. Bushes Band played round, square and social dancing. Sponsors were the Dolly Wheelers, 18-Wheelers, Blinker Belles and Garter Snatchers.

The Bell Hoppers and Independent Belles traveled to Fowlerville July 3 with their parade car and three floats. The Bell Hopper's float consisted of 13 men, representing the 13 original colonies, re-enacting the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Following their float, the women had a float entitled "Meanwhile, Back at the Fort." The women demonstrated home crafts such as quilting and butter churning.

The youths of the chapter made a replica of the Liberty Bell and walked beside it ringing small bells. Proceeding the floats and car were two girls carrying an identifying banner.

The chapters also entered the Dundee and Britton parades on July 4.

Other activities of the chapters included promenading for two evenings on the corner lot where they had earlier planted petunias and giving coffee and donuts to all passersby. The groups sold hot dogs, pop, chips and coffee at the Mess Beauty contest and Donkey Ball Game. They also sponsored a 50-50 drawing, with the winner, Mrs. Jan Matteson of Britton, winning $363.

Vacation Bible School

BRITTON — The Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 9950 Ridge Hwy., will hold its annual vacation bible school for children ages 4 through 8th grade, beginning July 12 thru July 16 at 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

This will be a week where the children will learn about Jesus, especially as he takes care of our country, not only now in this Bicentennial year, but always.

The overall theme of the Vacation Bible school will be "The Lord, The Nation and The People."

This is a wonderful opportunity for children (and parents, too) to learn more about how our Saviour Jesus cares for us in our everyday life in this country which he has blessed so richly.

35 Present Cantata

BRITTON — Do you love America? John Peterson and Don Wyrtzen love America, and have written their love for their country into a cantata, "I Love America."

The cantata will be presented by ther 35-member Britton area chorus, under the direction of Mrs. William Raeburn, with pianist, Mrs. David Hawk, Sunday evening July 11 at 8 p.m. in the Grace United Methodist Church.

Area ministers will narrate and Janine Squires, Paul Bush, and Laurie Hall will provide instrumental accompaniment.

Ned Newland, Ned Newland, Jr., Dawn Bush, Mark Gilmore, Mary Swain and Brenda Bearinger, will sing solos of such songs as "I'm Just a Flag Waving American"; "Red, White and Blue"; and "It's Time To Pray".

The group invites everyone to attend this Bicentennial salute as they sing their tribute to America.

Musical Program is Beautiful Gift

by MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — A beautiful gift to the community to mark the nation's Bicentennial, was the "Hallelujah America" musical program staged Sunday night by the Bicentennial Chrous, their director Peg Geiger and accompaniest, Carolyn Dicks.

Clinton High School auditorium was packed with an enthusiastic audience, requiring chairs in the aisles, and three rows of extra chairs in front, and still a few folks were left standing room only.

Scenic backdrop, costuming and choreography, all added to the well-rehearsed performances by nearly 40 adults and some two dozen youngsters, as narrators Don Geiger and Bill Stout, Jr. recalled historic moments in history depicted in timely songs.

Folks who were unable to see the show can only hope that sometime again the same show may be presented or a similar one, perhaps for the Fall Festival.

One can only marvel at the generous spirit shown by all who gave so much of their time, for months of rehearsal, with no thought of reward. Remember to tell them how much you liked it.

An outdoor dance Saturday night was well attended by local youth.

The Fourth of July celebration began with baseball games, included the bell ringing in churches and of the Clinton Bell, and an old-fashioned picnic on the lawn of the Community Center.

There was a four-way tie for the greased pig contest for boys under 10, with $5 and a free pizza won by Kevin Pike, Mike Steffens, Fred Ansbaugh and Rick Hilderly. Same prizes were won in two older classes by Jim Hall and John Hierholzer.

Winners in the sack races won Frisbees. Girls under nine were, Amy Bowman, first and Beth Bowman, second; boys under nine were Chris Wagner and Kevin Kryster, tied; girls over nine, Ginney Hilderly and Laura Scott.

In the change pick-up race, winners: girls under nine, Carrie Blaisdell; boys under nine, Jamie Demers; girls over 10, Laura Scott and boys over 10, Rick Hilderly.

Pie Eating Contest winners were: boys under 9, a tie, splitting $1, were Scott Miller, Jamie Demers and Harold Miller; girls over 10, Karen Busch and Edward Namyslowski; and girls under nine, Sheila Scott and Michelle Furgason.

Charlie Peart, Bicentennial chairman, and his committee of Peg Geiger, Hugh and Sharon McGill, Joy Hawkins and Joan Nighswander appreciated the fine response to the day's program by the community.

Clintonites are fortunate to have folks like these who take the time to plan and carry out such a great celebration.

Attend FFA Conferences

CLINTON — John Wahl and Brad Gauss of the Clinton FFA Chapter and their agriculture instructor, John Jansen, of Clinton High School, attended the National FFA Bicentennial Conferences in Washington, D.C. this week.

Besides the training sessions in the National FFA Center, visits were scheduled to Mt. Vernon Plantation, the National Archives, Smithsonian Institute, Arlington National Cemetery, and other historical sites in the capitol.

Thursday the group visited the office of Congressman Ed Hutchinson and attended a Capitol Hill luncheon.

Wahl, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alwin Wahl of Clinton, and Gauss, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gauss of Tipton.

State Police Has New Commander

CLINTON — Lt. James J. McGaffigan, Jr., 49, who has been commander for eight years at Blissfield, has been transferred to command at Clinton where he succeeded Lt. Donald Phillippi who retired in May.

The Blissfield post of the Michigan State Police became the department's second post in recent weeks to be changed to an officer team operation, Col. George L. Halverson, director, has reported.

Home base for the nine-man Blissfield team is the Clinton post. The State Police have operations at Blissfield and Clinton since the 1930's.

In charge of the Blissfield team will be Sgt. John R. Casterline, 48, who has been at Blissfield since 1965.

Regular operating hours for the Blissfield team office will be posted at the building. When that office is not manned, the Clinton home base may be reached by direct line from the Blissfield post.

Change to the trooper team operation effective June 27 at Blissfield was made in deference to budget and manpower limitations.

Three-Wheeler Overturns

CLINTON — Anthony Howard, 18, of Wayne, was driving a three wheeled go-cart about 5 p.m. Saturday, with a young passenger, Archie Walker, 5, riding behind him, when the vehicle hit a rock and rolled over throwing the driver and passenger off.

Archie was admitted to Herrick Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Motorcycle Car Collide

CLINTON — Motorcyclist Gary Slusher, 28, of Clinton, was treated at Bixby Hospital, Saturday night, for injuries received in a collision when an auto driven by Frank A. Morrk, 45, of Texas made a left turn in front of him at the intersection of M-52 and US-12.

Mishap occurred at 10:20 p.m.

Morrk was charged with making an improper left turn, by Clinton State Police.

Students Are Guests

CLINTON — Five students who have arrived from foreign countries to attend University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, were guests of local families for the Fourth of July weekend.

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Warner, 209 E. Michigan Ave., will observe their 60th wedding anniversary at an open house at their home, Sunday, July 11, from 2 to 4 p.m.

They were married in Hillsdale, July 11, 1916.

Hosting the event will be their son and daughter and spouses, Mr. and Mrs. William Warner, of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward, E. Church St. There are nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

They have lived in Clinton about 35 years. Mr. Warner is a retired carpenter.

The couple requests that there be no gifts.

Nominees Considered

Nominees being considered by the city for membership on the proposed Housing Commission are:

Richard Eggleston for one year, R.H. Moore for two years, Nancy Nichols for three years, Jens Touborg for four years and Dr. Paul Fackler for five years.

Organizational Meeting Is Held

At its annual organizational meeting Monday night, Tecumseh Board of Education approved its by-laws for the coming year.

The by-laws specify procedure to be followed when citizens desire to bring a subject before the board.

Citizens who wish to present a matter of concern are asked to make a written request to the secretary of the board (James Records) at least 24 hours before the meeting.

In cases of emergency, the board, by majority vote, can grant an opportunity to present problems to the board.

Students wishing action on a request must first present a statement to the principal, then the superintendent if the situation is still unresolved then to the board.

Sidewalk Sale Is Friday & Saturday, Thousands Expected

Thousands and thousands of shoppers are expected in downtown Tecumseh Friday and Saturday when local merchants will hold their annual Sidewalk Sale.

The two-day event is annually the biggest sale promotion of the year for Tecumseh merchants, who again will be offering savings up to 75 percent or more.

Most stores will display merchandise on the sidewalk; however, many merchants also extend their sale to merchandise inside their shops.

Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce sponsors and organizes the sale which is headed this year by Bill Feight, assisted by Marge Eggleston and Cal Damon. Over 25 shops are participating, probably the largest number in the history of the Sidewalk Sales.

Participating stores include Green's Clothing, Don's Beef Buffet, Dancers, Gambles, United Savings Bank, Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy, Tecumseh Newstand, Tecumseh Distributors Limited, Tecumseh Office Supply, Proctor Shoes, Van's Bakery, Jean Colgrove's Gifts, Gaston's Jewelry, Kitchen and Fabric Centre.

Investigate Two B&E's, Other Complaints Light

McCarty's Market, 807 W. Chicago Blvd., was the scene of a breaking and entering some time after 9 p.m. last Thursday night.

Someone kicked in the rear basement wooden door and took several eight packs of beer, paper back books and "girly magazines" according to the police report.

Total value of the stolen merchandise was placed at $60.70.

Owen Merrill, Frito-Lay employee told police last Wednesday that someone had pried open a window at the building on E. Russell but didn't believe anything was taken. Time and date of the incident is unknown.

Glenda Lickfelt, 1204 Willow reported to police the theft of an eight-track player and two tapes from her car.

The equipment was stolen from her car while it was parked at the Sunoco station between 5 p.m. July 6 and 4 p.m. July 7. The car was locked.

Total value was placed at $108.

A CB radio was stolen from a vehicle owned by Donald Dobrosky, 6521 Shull Rd., one Saturday between 2 and 4 p.m. according to police records.

Dobrosky told officers that the car was parked on the west side of Purkey's parking lot. The unit was valued at $150.

On Sunday Jack Hicks Sr. and Jack Jr., 120½ E. Chicago told police that some one had damaged both of their cars with a knife or screwdriver.

Jack Sr.'s car was damaged on the trunk and hood. His sons's car suffered damage to the hood, left door and bumper area.

The incident happened while the cars were parked in an alley behind their residence.

Sharon Butler told police on Tuesday of this week of the theft of a 10-speed bike valued at $89 from the yard of Russell Square apartments.

Butler lives at Russell Square Apartments.

The theft occurred during Monday night. A $2 locking cable was cut to facilitate the robbery.

Work Unfinished, But Most Pleased

City officials, merchants and shoppers have been pleased with the appearance of decorative lights and tree planters on the boulevard shopping district, but the beautification project isn't quite finished.

Every existing pole spaced between a tree planter will have a second globe, they have not yet arrived.

Total project is estimated at over $20,000. It was funded three ways: by public donations, particularly from merchants, Sesquicentennial profits and the city's general fund.

Cost includes the decorative street lights for additional sidewalk lighting between the new tree planters, and new trash cans.

Each planter has an electrical outlet. Some merchants plan to use miniature lights on each tree for Christmas decorations.

The beautification project has been in the planning stage for more than two years. A committee tried to gain support for a downtown redevelopment project, which was to include sidewalks and a mall effect around the back of the shopping district, but it was apparently was unpopular with merchants because it was to be financed by a special assessment district.

A campaign was then launched in summer 1975 to acquire donations for only the tree beautification program which successfully raised over $9,000 from merchants and other citizens.

Sesquicentennial funds of over $7,000 were earmarked by City Council for decorative street lights. When merchants talked about electrical outlets for Christmas tree lighting, city manager Cal Zorn recommended doing the work all at once to economize.

Money from the general fund was spent by the city to help accomplish the project as it is today.

Respond to Semi Fire

Tecumseh Fire Department responded Monday morning to a call just east of the Community Center on M-50 for a fire in the cab of a semi-tractor owned by Hess Trucking Co.

Cause of the cab fire was undetermined. No loss was reported.

BRIDGE OF YESTERYEAR CLOSED — Comfort Road Bridge over the Raisin River was closed recently by the Lenawee County Road Commission due to its sagging and unsafe condition. Built in the last century, it was designated as part of a natural beauty road in 1974. Until Russell Road Bridge is built by the city of Tecumseh the only way to cross the river will be M-50 and Sutton Road. Four other bridges were closed in Raisin Township in years past. Only Wilmoth Hwy. Bridge will be replaced due to increasing costs.

Lenawee Closes Comfort Bridge, Now Four Unsafe

Comfort Road Bridge has been closed by the Lenawee County Board of Road Commissioners as unsafe for public use.

This marks the fourth bridge closed in Raisin Township within the past four years.

Officials determined a motor vehicle rammed the Comfort Road bridge uprights which caused it to sag. The bridge load limit was set at three tons, the lowest in the County.

Built at the turn of the century, it is outdated but two years ago it was designated as part of the Natural Beauty Road from Raisin Center Hwy. to Rogers Hwy. and is known as one of the picturesque spots along the Raisin River.

Closing of the bridge will mean inconvenience to travelers but will be alleviated when Tecumseh builds the Russell Road Bridge ½ mile north.

The other bridges closed in Raisin Township are Raisin Center Hwy., Wilmoth Hwy., and Academy Rd. bridges. Only Wilmoth will be replaced due to costs. Replacement for Wilmoth bridge is estimated to exceed $80,000.

Two Are Cited in Six Accidents

There were six accidents in the last week. None resulted in injury and only two citations were issued.

A resume is:

July 8 — A car driven by Pamela Sue Aliiff, 20, 7167 N. Ridge Hwy., backed into a car owned by Anna and Donald Nixson in the city parking lot behind Gambles.

July 8 — Allen Dean Rupert, 13, 10195 Newburg Hwy., rode his bicycle into a parked vehicle owned by Frankie Herrell 215 S. Maumee St., on Blanchard St., 100 feet East of Adrian Street.

July 10 — Richard Thomas Bradmon, 47, 6800 Pennington Rd. in Clinton, was cited for careless driving after he lost control of his vehicle on the curve just north of Shawnee on N. Ottawa.

Bradmon told police the reason he lost control was because he was trying to eat fried chicken and the steering wheel was greasy. The vehicle hit the guard rail on the north side of the curve then crossed the street and hit a telephone pole.

July 12 — Shirley Ann Shadley, 49, 12910 Wilbur, Clinton, was cited for running a red light after she hit Sandra Sue Casper, 35, 411 Seminole at the Herrick Park Drive-N. Evans intersection. Shadley was Northbound on N. Evans while the Casper vehicle was westbound on Herrick Park Drive.

July 12 — A vehicle driven by Mary Jane Bucheimer, 53, 7998 Holloway Rd., in Britton struck the rear end of a car driven by Laura Ann Doig, 16, of 12000 Matthews, Clinton at the intersection of N. Evans and Chicago.

The Doug vehicle was stopped for the traffic light at the intersection. When the light changed, the Doig car began to turn right when a construction vehicle blocked her way causing her to stop. Bucheimer then hit Doig.

Area Search Is On for Oldest Business

How well do you know your local history about Tecumseh area businesses? The possibility exists that the Tecumseh area just might have a claim to being "home" of the "Oldest Business in Michigan."

Tecumseh area businesses are urged by the Historical Society of Michigan to enter the "Oldest Business in Michigan" Contest.

In honor of the Bicentennial era, the Historical Society in Michigan is holding a contest to find the oldest business in the state.

The Oldest Business in Michigan Contest will locate the oldest ongoing businesses that still pursue their original business or one that is closely related.

To encourage contestants, The Tecumseh Herald and the Tecumseh Public Library will make copies of the entry forms available.

Further, The Herald will Xerox, free any single piece of evidence to verify the founding date, which is to be mailed by the business to the Historical Society of Michigan.

The Tecumseh Herald and Library join in the search to focus attention on Tecumseh area business and industrial heritage during the Bicentennial.

Entries should include: 1) name of business, address and zip code, 2) date business was founded, 3) Xerox copy or description of documentation to verify founding date, 4) contest category and 5) name and address of person submitting entry.

All entries should be postmarked no later than Aug. 15, 1976. They should be mailed to the Historical Society of Michigan, 2117 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104.

Winners will be named in three categories:

1. Oldest continuously operating business in original building.
2. Oldest continuously operating business on original site but not in original building.
3. Oldest continuously operating business relocated from original building and site.

Winners in each category will receive framed certificates from the Historical Society of Michigan and honorary corporate memberships in the society.

In addition, the business with the oldest overall founding date will be presented with a framed pen and ink drawing of its first business office.

All businesses entering the contest that were founded 100 years ago will receive certificates recognizing them as centennial businesses.

The State Library, the State Archives and the State Historic Preservation Officer will receive a list of all business that entered the contest and their founding dates. This information will be used by researchers studying Michigan's early commercial and industrial history.

Winners of the contest will be announced as soon as the results are tabulated.

Need Resumes of Candidates

Candidates for the Aug. 3 primary are being contacted by reporters of The Tecumseh Herald for a resume of their background and qualifications.

A profile of the candidates will run in The Herald prior to the election.

Candidates are asked to submit a resume to include information of family, education, employment, political experience, and qualifications.

If the candidate is seeking an office contested from within the same party, a brief statement, or reasons describing why the candidate is seeking office, is requested.

Absentee Ballots Available

Absentee ballots for the Aug. 3 Primary Election are available at city clerk Vera Gardner's office at city hall after July 16.

Hours are 8-5 daily except Saturday and Sunday.

Deadline for application for absentee ballots to be voted outside the clerk's office is Saturday, July 31 at 2 p.m. Deadline for absentee ballots to be completed in the clerk's office is Monday, Aug. 3 at 2 p.m.

What'sit?

Beginning in next week's edition of The Tecumseh Herald, a new contest will begin called "WHAT'SIT." Object of the game is to correctly identify a blown-up picture of a common household object. Prize is a free year's subscription to The Herald. Contest will run to Sept. 2.

Again as the last popular contest, "Look Up Tecumseh," we will take only the first correct answer after 1 p.m. according to our clock on Fridays.

Fifteen free subscriptions were given in the "Look Up Tecumseh" contest to civic minded readers who correctly guessed the location of historic architectural details in town.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP AWARD — Mrs. Neil Pearson of 601 E. Pottawatamie received a life membership award for the Federated Garden Clubs of America from Mrs. Judson Miles, president of The Little Garden Club of Tecumseh, in appreciation of years of sharing the art of gardening with others. Life membership awards were established in 1937 for outstanding garden club workers. Mrs. Pearson was a charter member of The Tecumseh Garden Club, organized in 1937. Her love of gardening spread with her organization of The Little Garden Club of Tecumseh in 1958, The Town and Country Garden Club in 1972 and support of the reorganization of the Lenawee Count Council of Garden Clubs in 1972. Ceremonies recognizing Mrs. Pearson will be at the Michigan Federated Garden Clubs District meeting in Jackson Oct. 1976.

NEW ASSISTANT AT FRIENDS CHURCH — The Rev. James McDowell is the new assistant to the Rev. Dane Ruff at the Tecumseh Friends Evangelical Church. The Rev. McDowell will be minister of Christian Education and Youth. His family includes wife, Betty, and daughters, Lorinda, 12, and Kimberly, 5. They reside at 409 W. Brown. They are from Jonesboro, Ind., where he was formerly pastor. He attended Fort Wayne Bible College in Indiana and Berean Christian Seminary in Wichita, Kansas. Originally the family is from Ohio.

Six Attend Gym Camp

YMCA Storer Camps near Napoleon initiated a successful Girls' Gymnastics Camp attended by six Tecumseh girls.

A staff of 15 qualified high school and college gymnasts instructed the girls in balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vaulting, floor exercises, trampoline, ballet and tumbling.

Next summer's girls gymnastics camp already has a waiting list. Call (419) 243-1171 or (517) 536-8607.

Gail Kennedy is a June graduate from Western Michigan University. She has earned a bachelor of science degree in speech pathology and audiology. She is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy and has no definite plans for the future.

For the Record

Henry Newlin's name, attorney representing Al Meyers Airport, Inc., was mispelled in last week's account of council proceedings. The Herald regrets the error.

Christine McKnight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McKnight of Tuscon, Ariz., formerly of the Tecumseh area, will be graduated July 28 from Sunnyside High School in Tuscon, Ariz. Her grandparents are Mrs. Vera Driffil of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McKnight of Tipton.

Police Cite Britton Man, 3 Injured

A Britton man was cited for failure to yield after an accident Tuesday night in which three were injured.

Charles Irwin, 22, of 7471 Downing Hwy., in Britton, ran a yield sign at County Line Road and Kniffen Road striking a car driven by Donald Motylingski of Dundee.

Irwin was eastbound on Kniffen when he hit Motylingski who was southbound on County Line.

Irwin was treated and released from Herrick Hospital where Motylingski remains. Deborah Pentrics, 17, of Dundee, was transferred to St. Josephs Hospital in Ann Arbor for 24 hours observation.

The accident occurred at 10:15 p.m.

Honored

Yvonne (Fisher) Roe of Cookeville, Tenn., formerly of Tecumseh, was honored at a surprise baby shower last week while she and husband, Barry were visiting relatives in the area.

Games were played and gifts given to the mother-to-be. The baby is due in October.

ROGER PROCTOR

Consoling the Bereaved

Most people feel awkward when attending a wake or a funeral and being confronted by the bereaved. There's a hesitancy of manner, a fear of saying the "wrong" thing, an apprehension about possibly making someone cry.

What most people do not seem to realize is that these mixed feelings are very normal and natural reactions to death and those involved in a death situation. Few of us are so gifted as speakers or writers to choose the correct words to express our very sincere and personal feelings.

So, what do you say to a grieving widow? Usually, we advise a very simple "I'm sorry," accompanied by a firm grip of the hand, an arm about the shoulder. Such silent expressions of genuine concern are much more appropriate than talkative attempts at eulogies or forced expressions such as "I know how you feel."

In other words, we should be sensitive to the feelings of those who are grieving. Often this will make us more silent, more willing to listen, rather than forcing a conversation.

Most people who have suffered a personal loss will be more moved and comforted by quiet, emotional expressions of sympathy than by a litany of virtues of the person who has died.

Above all, don't try to "shake" a person out of his grief. Grief is a natural, wholesome process by which the living are encouraged toward a healthy life after the loss of a loved one. Only time can heal grief. And only love can bring about its fullest therapeutic effect.

MRS. DAVID LAUER

Double Ring Ceremony Held

Sharlene Wallace and David Lauer were married July 2 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Mark's Lutheran Church by the Rev. Lenhart E. Etzel in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Suzanne Wallace of Springville and the late Robert Wallace. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Lauer of Loch Erin.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her grandfather, V. Clare Wallace of Springville. For her wedding she chose a gown of ivory cotton trimmed with Cluny lace. It featured cape sleeves, a lace edged neckline and chapel train. Her lace edged veil was secured by a profile cap.

Mrs. Laura Ohlman, the bride's cousin, was matron of honor. Evelyn Lauer, Theresa Lauer, sisters of the groom, Beth Arnold and Cathy Pelham were bridesmaids.

The honor attendant and flower girl Kellie Filter were attired in peach and the bridesmaids, in green.

A reception was held for 300 guests at the United Products Workers' Union Hall, which was decorated in a Bicentennial theme. A champagne fountain was featured. The Louis Prange Trio played dance music.

The couple graduated from Onsted High School in 1974. The groom is presently employed by H.E. Branch and Son and is attending Eastern Michigan University. The bride is employed at Brooklyn Products.

Following a honeymoon to Niagra Falls, the couple will reside in Onsted.

200 Years of Religious Freedom

Dr. Peter P. Galatian, a settler from New York state, began organizing an Episcopal parish in Tecumseh in 1832 with the assistance of an Episcopal missionary from Ypsilanti.

Musgrove Evans, one of the town's founders, was one of the non-Episcopalians who assisted during the early period. He suggested that the group issue a call to William Narcissus Lyster, a dynamic young clergyman, who impressed him in Cleveland.

In 1832 a call was sent but Lyster did not reply until May 1833 when he visited Tecumseh without prior announcement. He conducted a service in the Tecumseh courthouse and accepted the call provided that the group build a church immediately.

The congregation had only four men, but nevertheless they accepted the challenge. Peter Galatian, Musgrove Evans and Joseph Brown composed the building committee. St. Peter's Church, the first church in Tecumseh, was constructed by August 1835, on a wooded-knoll overlooking Evans Creek, on land probably donated by Evans. Forty-three students were enrolled in Sunday School.

Among the contributers to the "most Western Episcopal Church edifice," were President Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and Daniel Webster.

By 1837 St. Peter's was debt free and consecrated by the Bishop of Michigan.

Lyster, being a zealous missionary, remained in Tecumseh only three years, until 1836.

"The original church of St. Peter was of severe classical revival design with Doric columns supporting a plain pediment and squarish belfry. The windows and belfry louvers were arched in the Gothic style. On the inside a gallery ran around three sided in the manner of English college chapels with entrance through the chancel at the east end. Furniture doors, and moldings were made of black walnut. Pews which at that time were leased or sold outright to parishioners, were fitted with aisle doors. It was not long before the depot of the Palmyra and Jacksonburg Railroad was constructed adjacent to church property on the west, and for more than half a century services were liable to be interrupted by clanging, hissing and hooting locomotives."

A decade after Lyster left, St. Peter's fell upon hard times. Following a troubled quarter-century in which seven rectors served St. Peter's, a period of strength and growth began during the tenure of the Rev. Josiah Phelps (1871-1893). His ministry coincided with the economic boom in Michigan following the Civil War.

The church was extensively renovated. The parish constructed a rectory in popular Italianate style on the ground, just north of the church. The present parsonage is located at 332 No. Union St.

Except for construction of theeparish hall in 1915, there were no major alterations or additions for the next 80 years.

By the 1950's, the church deteriorated. Although a state and national campaign was launched to restore it, the cost was considered prohibitive. Donations for replacing the structure were easier to obtain. After 120 years of use, the edifice was taken down. Many relics of the old church are used in the present building, including the oak altar (1921), brass altar cross (1861) an organ screen, Bishop's chair and rector's chair, prayer desk and oak pulpit.

Built in 1962 the new church is faced with limestone. St. Peter's is a contemporary adaptation of the traditional Christian basilica with nave flanked by side aisles.

One of the features of the new church is the von-Beckerath organ designed and constructed in Germany by Rudolph vonBeckerath of Hamburg. The baroque organ has two manuals and pedal with 14 stops, totaling 20 ranks of pipes. There are nearly 1,000 pipes. Dedicated in 1964, it has been acclaimed by musicologists as one of the finest small instruments in North America. University of Michigan students have given recitals in the church.

The Rev. David C. Fox has been rector since 1973.

Church organizations include The Daughters of St. Peter's, the Episcopal Church Women, the Episcopal Youth fellowship, the Senior High Youth Group, a junior and senior choir, Altar Guild and Acolyte Guild.

The church is also used by Alcoholics Anonymous, Rotary, junior high students for dances twice a month and on periodic basis, by other community groups.

Two Attend Conference at Olivet

Catherine Heglin and Sue Feight were among two hundred high school young people gathered for the Bicentennial Youth Conference, "Express America" at Olivet College over the weekend of June 25-27.

Lt. Governor James J. Damman met the young people at their opening dinner. Russ Gibb, Director of Youth and Education of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration of Washington, D.C., was the keynote speaker at the opening session.

U.S. Representative Garry Brown spoke to the group on the future of government. Other sessions focused on the future of education and the future of multi-culturalism.

The Pham Duy family, whose radio and television shows made them one of the most famous singing families of Indo-China, entertained the young people.

Letters to the Editor

In thanking Tecumseh's citizens for their support of our Bicentennial celebration, the Bicentennial Committee wishes to express particular appreciation to the following individuals and organizations who made a unique and invaluable contribution to the events which produced a memorable 4th of July weekend. Tecumseh City Council, Mayor Harold Easton, and City Manager Cal Zorn, The Tecumseh Choral Boosters, Vic Lawson, Ward Eardley and the Department of Parks and Recreation, the Girl Scouts, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the clergy and people of Tecumseh's churches, the members of the First United Presbyterian Church for their cake and ice cream social, the Tecumseh Herald, Betty Flanders, Jimmy Rice and the Tecumseh High School Band, Gerry Bach, the Tecumseh Fire Department, and the Tecumseh Police Department, the Proctor Funeral Home, the Kiwanis Club, Bob Bush, Dick Whelan, The Chamber of Commerce, the Tecumseh-Britton-Clinton CB Volnteers, Bill Davis, Tecumseh Woodworking, and Jim Fielder with his small army of fire workers.

From Bicentennial Chairman,
Rev. David Fox

Dear Sir,

It is tragic to note that on the day following our nation's grand and glorious celebration of its 200th Birthday and the principles on which it was founded that the Tecumseh Board of Education would vote to put up a barrier and otherwise restrict one of our most cherished freedoms — the right to speak freely in public forums.

At the first meeting of the board with its new members and newly elected officers this is what the board did.

They voted to require any person wanting to bring a matter before them to submit that matter to the board in writing 24 hours prior to the meeting of the board.

In addition they voted to restrict discussion or presentation time by the public to five minutes if the board so desires. This I would say would be a very handy tool to dodge an issue the board might not want to deal with.

I would hope that the board would dwell on the ramifications of its actions, see that it has erred and vote to repeal its action.

There are people in he community served by the board who do not know how to read and write, some of them graduates of Tecumseh High School. It is the intent of the board to deny them the right to petition a legitimate grievance before that body?

Can't the board also foresee a circumstance arise which might require a person considerably more time than five minutes to properly relate?

I for one will be at the next board meeting to see if action has been taken to repeal their vote. I do not intend to submit in writing my desires to speak before that body either.

I hope that other concerned citizens from the school district will be at that meeting.

In the name of justice and freedom,
Carl D. Schmidt

To the Editor:

The members of Girl Scout Troop 376 wish to thank all those who helped the group raise $232.80 on July 3rd to benefit the Wayne Nix family. Larry McDermott won the Bicentennial afghan.

Sincerely,
Troop 376 and leader, Mrs. David Fox

To the Editor:

As a fellow citizen, I want to thank the Tecumseh Bicentennial Committee for its well-planned program and James Fielder, who was responsible for the fantastic fireworks display on July 4th.

The 200th Anniversary celebration was a great success and will always be remembered by my family who all shared in the festivities.

Sincerely,
Flora A. Betzoldt

Budd Buys Tool Works

CLINTON — The Budd Co. announced the acquisition of Woodings-Verona Tool Works of Verona, Pa. Earlier this month the Boards of Directors of both companies had approved the transaction in principle.

Woodings-Verona Tool Works is a privately held manufacturer of rail anchors and hand tools for industrial, railway and consumer markets, with 1975 sales of approximately $12 million.

The company has been in business for over 100 years and has an extended history of profitable operations. Woodings-Verona has plants in Oakmont and Verona, near Pittsburgh, Pa.

Guest to Speak

CLINTON — The Rev. and Mrs. Roy Wagner and family will be vacationing for two weeks. They'll be visiting relatives in Minneapolis, Minn.

For the next two Sundays, the Rev. Bob Davis of Ann ARbor will be the guest pastor at United Church of Christ.

On July 18, Charles Steffens will assist the pastor, and July 25, Clayton Stroll e will assist.

You Told Us

by Kathy Brown

Reading The Declaration of Independence we note that our Founding Fathers recognized the right to pursue happiness and did not guarantee happiness.

Life, Liberty and Happiness are ideals we must strive for daily, and may do so more freely under our system of government then any other. As we tuck away the Bicentennial souveniers and fold the flag to unfurl another day, let's remember the opportunities we share as Americans and take individual responsibility to safeguard our freedoms. After all, the last words in American are "I Can."

Temporary Bridge Is In Planning

CLINTON — Clinton Village Council is in receipt of a letter from the Department of State Highways stating that a temporary bridge will be constructed on US-12 at the west village limits, when work on the highway is undertaken in early 1977.

A fire pre-emption unit will be installed in the traffic light at the main intersection in the village as a part of the continuing modernization of the utility.

The village engineering firm of Ayers, Lewis, Norris and May have been advised that they may proceed with the final plans and specifications for the new sewer plant upon receipt of a letter from the village.

Ticket Sales Earn Fund for Churches

CLINTON — Joe O'Donnell, chairman of automobile ticket sales for Clinton's Fall Festival, announced results of the recent incentive sales by the four local churches' sales committees.

The churches earned a straight 20 percent of ticket sales for the month of June, and checks have been sent to the churches already.

St. Dominic's Church sold 1,622 tickets and earned $324.40; United Methodist Church sold 1,618 tickets and earned $323.60; United Church of Christ, 1,525 for $305.00, and St. John's Episcopal Church 528 tickets for $105.60.

Tickets which will continue to be sold for the next three months, are for a choice of a Chrysler New Yorker, Lincoln Continental, or Olds Toronado, to be given away at the Fall Festival, Sept. 26.

'Life Line'

CLINTON — General Telephone is now offering a special limited one-party residental telephone service called "Life Line" in the Clinton exchange.

The new service is designed for those who make limited use of their telephone service but who want basic service available because of security, emergency or other generally limited uses.

The service will be available in all General Telephone exchanges in Michigan before the end of 1976.

Ex-Commander Accepts Florida Post

CLINTON — Henry Louwerens has accepted on July 1 the position of director of public safety for Pensacola Junior College, Pensacola Fla.

Britton Girls Lose 2 Games

The team lost 10-9 to Dundee last Wednesday and 29-7 to Toledo 2 on Monday.

Britton led in the game until the sixth inning when Dundee first tied the game at 9-9 and then went on to win.

Allison Judkins was the leading hitter in the Toledo 2 game scoring a triple in the third and a double in the fourth. Janis Tubbs hit two singles. Lucy Montalvo was the losing pitcher.

Ember's Knocks Protco

All of the Tuesday games were rained out.

Wednesday League

Davy Pray got four hits, while Ken Roberts and Don Eaton hit home runs as the Tri-County Loggers beat Beglinger-Reid 18-5. The Loggers had a total of 21 hits.

Wagon Wheel Bar scored six runs in the seventh inning but still dropped a 13-9 decision to VFW. Bill Smith paced VFW with two singles and a double. The win kept VFW in a tie for first place with Irish Hills Merchants.

Irish Hills Merchants limited DST to just seven hits posting a 13-2 win. Jim Johnson and Larry Henning each homered for Irish Hills and Chuck Kelly contributed three hits.

Thursday League

Leisure Time Sports Center snapped a scoreless inning streak exploding for nine runs in the second frame to beat American Legion 13-5. The winners turned a line drive into a triple play in the second inning.

Ember's Bar knocked Protco out of a first place tie by winning 4-1 in a defensive game. Tony Nykodym homered for Ember's.

Goble Lumber forfeited to Tecumseh Plywood.

Juniors Split Pair, Srs. Whip Clinton

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation sent two junior softball teams to Blissfield July 6.

The first team won easily, 13-8. Each Tecumseh player collected a hit. Sandy Humphries was the winning pitcher for Tecumseh.

The second team did not do as well. It was their first contest away from home and they were defeated 23-8. After the first inning, the team settled down, but it was too late.

With the score tied 14-14 in the bottom of the seventh and two persons on base, Luann Harvey drove in the winning run for Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department's Senior Girls Softball team.

There were many hits in the game for both Clinton and Tecumseh, but Tecumseh came out on top 15-14.

The engagement of Amy C. Vreeland and Michael V. Smith is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Vreeland, 10521 Milwaukee Rd., Britton. Bride-elect is a graduate of Britton-Macon High School and Eastern Michigan University with an associate degree in graphic arts. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith, 310½ W. Logan St. He is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and a student at Eastern Michigan University. He is employed by Brazeway, Inc. at Adrian. An Aug. 28 wedding is planned in St. Peters's Church.

THE SOFTBALL KING - The King (Eddie Feigner) and his Court will appear this Sunday evening at 9 p.m. at Island Park in Adrian, in a game against the Adrian Allstars. The contest is a benefit event, proceeds going towards the Artificial Ice Arena Fund. Tickets will be sold at the gate. The anticipated Ice Arena will be available for use by all Lenawee residents.

Bowlers in 1st Place

The traveling team from Ten Pin Alley - composed of 13-15 year old boys - won first place in the Huron Valley Bowling Association affiliated with the American Junior Bowling Congress recently.

They competed with teams from Ypsilanti, Dexter, Deerfield, Ann Arbor, Saline, Howell and Pinckney for a total of 16 teams.

Jim Stormes had high average with a 171 score, high three game series actual with 587, and third high actual single game of 235.

Bert Ouderkirk had third high series with handicap of 669.

1st Loss for Beglinger-Reid

Allen had four hits for Airport.

Beglinger-Reid was handed their first loss of the season by Store Bar of Irish Hills. Store Bar was hitting the ball as evidenced by the final 22-7 score. Cindy Stock had a homerun for Store Bar, while Haines and Anderson had homeruns for Beglinger-Reid.

Tecumseh Products picked up their first win of the season pounding Deerfield Merchants 20-13. Kennedy led the hitting attack for Tecumseh Products with two home runs and McKenzie added one. LaVoy had a homerun for Deerfield.

Interested persons may register at the Lenawee Council On Aging office at 327 Erie St., Adrian. Entry deadline is July 30.

Senior Girls Bump Dundee

The Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department's Senior Girls' softball team picked up another win Monday night by defeating Dundee 8-5.

Connie Retan led Tecumseh with a home run and Sandy MacGeorge had two base hits. Luann Harvey was the winning pitcher.

Tecumseh Library Book Mark

The following are new books that have recently been added to the shelves at the Tecumseh Public Library.

TEN-TOLA BARS. Masterminding the most elaborate gold theft in British banking history quickly becomes the biggest challenge of William Harte's career. To find out if he is successful, borrow our book. The result is an action-filled supersuspense book by Burton Wohl.

LYNMARA LEGACY. Another excellent novel by Catherine Gaskin, chronicling the bonds between one of England's greatest homes and several generations whose lives it controlled.

DRUMMER IN THE DARK by Francis Clifford. As it was with his last book "Goodbye and Amen," this new book is not to be started late at night unless one wants to read into the wee small hours.

BLEDDING SORROW. All old English estates had ghosts and this one is no exception. Beautifully written by Marilyn Harris, it is a tale of almost unbearable suspense and emotion.

COMING THROUGH by John Irsfeld, a new author. This is a novel of one crucial, violent week in the life of F.N. LeJeune, a Texas undergraduate on holiday. Dead broke, he goes to the local jail for a free bed and as a result comes under the wing of the novels dominating figure, the local sheriff. What follows is flood, death and destruction.

BRESSIO. His mother named him after Al Capone - he would have preferred Clarence Darrow. He becomes a solver of crimes and he knows everything there is to know about the underworld. Richard Sapir has written a sad, funny novel about the hope of the law and the reality of people.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS and other stories, by Sean O'Faolain.

EARLY POHL. Eight stories and one poem, each with a delightful autobiographical commentary by science fiction writer Frederik Pohl.

For all who like Westerns, we have two new novels: A SHERIFF FOR ALL THE PEOPLE by John Reese and THE STUBBORN BREED by Giles Lutz.

Sometimes you might mistake Tecumseh Public Library's children's fiction section for the Ark; there are so many new stories involving the always popular animals.

For the domestic animal lovers there's SHADRACH, the special pet black rabbit. The author of this sensitive story is Meindert DeJong, who has won every important national and international award for children's books. As an extra bonus, Maurice Sendak is the illustrator.

Another excellent writer for children is Nina Bawden, and THE PEPPERMINT PIG continues her fine work. This is the tale of a runt piglet who grows into the talk of the town through his antics.

The wild dog family provides four subjects for young animal lovers. Burdetta Johnson's COYOTE FOR KEEPS follows a coyote pup who is adopted as a pet but must hide from bounty hunters. It's impossible to find an animal psychologist who knows more about dogs — wild or domesticated — than Dr. Michael Fox, but it's also unusual to find that he is able to write two such interesting books for children as THE WOLF and VIXIE: THE STORY OF A LITTLE FOX. (His research on wolves was so important in Jean George's JULIE OF THE WOLVES.)

While Dr. Fox's books rate a "Don't Miss" because of their realistic look at life from a wild dog's point of view, Elizabeth Coatsworth's PURE MAGIC is another "Don't Miss" because of it's offbeat fantasy. It's the story of a boy who is also a werefox (that's right, much like a werewolf.)

For more fantasy try Tom McGowan's ODYSSEY FROM RIVER BEND, where the animals travel to the Haunted Land in search of special magic.

Parsley Sage is an elderly cat who takes his mistress, Rosemary, on an unusual journey through time in PARSLEY SAGE, ROSEMARY AND TIME by Jane Louise Curry, and, yes, there is a magic spice involved.

Finally be sure to see GRIZZLY BEAR written by Berniece Freschet and well illustrated by Donald Carrick. It follows a year in the life of a grizzley mother and her two cubs.

Ira Levin has done it again! THE BOYS FROM BRAZIL must be as exciting as a couple of his others, "Rosemary's Baby" and "Stepford Wives." It concerns the most hated Nazi of all, the "Angel of Death" and the Nazi-hunter Yakov Liebermann.

THE HAB THEORY by Allen W. Eckert raises the question of whether life on earth has been destroyed before - eons ago - and whether it is about to be destroyed again in a global cataclysm. This theory explains many of the riddles that have puzzled scientists for years. Let me hasten to explain that this is science fiction.

1876. Gore Vidal goes again to the Aaron Burr family for his new novel. This one centers around Charles Schuyler, Burr's unacknowledged son. It is a consumate work of historical fiction, accurate to the smallest detail and delves into the social and political life of the times.

The setting of Leon Uris' new novel, TRINITY, is Ireland. The Trinity consists of the Larkin family, with generations of Catholics; Hubbles, representing three centuries of British aristocracy, who ventured to Ireland to conquer, colonize and exploit; and the McLeods of Belfast, a family of devout shipyard workers with Scottish Presbyterian ancesters. These are the oil and water mixture thaT make explosive reading.

Another book of short stories is THE CARFITT CRISIS. These are all by the popular author J.B. Priestley and are a little different - happily so.

THE SEVEN OF SWORDS by R.E. Harrington. A major heroin dealer identified only as the "seven of spades" offers to sell top-secret U.S. Air Force documents to the KGB in exchange for a large amount of heroin.

Olympics Cancelled

Due to lack of interest, the Junior Olympics, sponsored by the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department is cancelled.

The contest was scheduled to start on July 19.

Twenty-One Travel to Tennessee

What would you say if one of 16 youth and five counselors asked you if you were willing to get up early enough to leave at 4:30 a.m. Sunday for a week. The week would be filled with donated, major repair work to houses that are literally falling apart at the seams. And the trip down to Madisonville, Tennessee is 13 hours none the less.

You'd probably say "You're crazy!"

The Tecumseh Methodist Youth left on that week trip recently, and they have done it every summer for the past eight years.

The group has spent their week of work in Kentucky until this year. This year they traveled to Hiwasse College, Tenn. There, under the direction of Bob Couch, they repaired what they could for people that did not have the money or ability to help their own economic and living conditions.

Each day, the group got up early and started out for two differently located houses. Each evening, they returned soon enough to eat and prepare for their nightly seminar. There, at the seminar, they gathered to sing, share daily experiences, and generally report on the day's progress.

This year, counselors Myrna Downing and Jerry O'Brien took eight of the group to the Betty Carson home. They repaired the roof, removed a wall, replaced the rotted floor, wallboarded the house, and fixed the porch.

Tamara Downing, Jennifer Thompson, and Jerry O'Brien worked most of the week ripping the old roof off the house and replacing much of it. They repaired what was still useable.

Rene and Judy Crombez, two other counselors, took the other group of eight to the Giles Ogle home and repaired the leaky plumbing, replaced the rotted floor, patched and tarred the roof, and gave the house a good coat of paint inside.

The group joining them included Tom and Sue McGarry, Sherry Norris, Fritz Dornan, John Gray, Laurie McLaughlin, Diane Williams, and Dawn Johnson.

Rev. Alan Gray spent his time working back and forth between the groups. He also spent one day looking at the projects within the area.

The drive is long. The work is hard, hot and ugly. The group is not paid a cent. But, payment is not always in money and you will never find one of those kids or counselors with a complaint.

BICENTENNIAL FUN — Tipton School was the scene of Franklin Township's July 10 Birthday bash for America. Included in the games were male and female bucket brigades. Winners and losers were "equaled"; both were wet but happy. A strolling clown entertained youngsters. Celebration was one of the area's most colorful and inspiring.

400 Attend Tipton Celebration Activities

TIPTON — A crowd of 400 enthusiastic residents of Franklin Township and friends were on hand July 10, for the opening ceremonies of the Franklin Township Bicentennial Celebration at the Tipton Elementary School.

The Tipton Community Church bell promptly initiated the noon flag raising. The community band played several selections under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. William Vollmer.

Ken Koons was master of ceremonies and led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The Rev. Max Bailey gave the invocation. Richard Platt, township supervisor gave the official welcome.

Mrs. Muza Grove, former resident gave the response. Thelma Swarts, Franklin Township Bicentennial celebration chairman thanked her committees for making the celebration and projects successful.

Old automobiles and machinery were exhibited in the school yard. The only complete set of Michigan state license plates from 1910 were exhibited. One room in the school depicted an 1850 living room with many antiques dating to 1825.

"A Little Bit of History," the Franklin Township history was published for and sold at the celebration. Copies are still available.

Sand Lake Fire Department had water games; the Shawnee Squares entertained: a baseball game and old-fashioned games were held; bingo was played. William Feight demonstrated radio controlled airplane flight.

Dale Cook won the CB radio.

Sand Lake Fire Department and the Lenawee Sheriff's Posse were thanked by township officials for their respective fire equipment and help, on July 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haas, Jr., Mary, Dawn and Sherrie and Rita Handley and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower, Todd, Andrea and Scott and Tracy Gibbs spent last week at the Johnny Sparzaks Resort on Drummond Island in Upper Michigan.

The Haas family and Rita Handley returned home Saturday, but the Bowers and Tracy Gibbs went on to spend Saturday night-seeing Agate Falls, Bond Falls and the Lake of the Clouds in Porcupine Mountains. They visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Austin, Denise, Jeff and Dawn at Ontonagon Saturday and Sunday nights, returning home Monday night.

Honored

BRITTON — Cheryl Lynne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire Lynne of Detroit, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday in the home of her aunt-to-be, Mrs. Fred Miller, of North Britton Hwy.

The bride-elect was presented with a corsage of yellow roses and daisies. Games were played and prizes awarded to both Cheryl and the winners.

A buffet luncheon was served to 30 friends and relatives by Donna Haas and Sylvia Miller.

Alma Is Setting for Uniting Couple

BRITTON — Rebecca Gabrion of Ithica and Richard Schroeder of Carson City were married June 9 in Grace Lutheran Church at Alma, with only the immediate family present. The couple were attended by the groom's sister and brother, Mary and Tom Schroeder.

A reception was held following the ceremony for 250 friends and relatives at Gratiot County Country Club.

Richard is a graduate of Britton-Macon High School and Michigan State University.

Area guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schroeder and Heidi, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder, and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tucker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haines, Milan, Dan Forgacs and Bill Tuberville.

Bi-centennial Journey

Bells
by Thelma Younglove

The ringing of bells across the nation on July 4th, as part of the Bicentennial celebration brought to mind memories of the sounds of bells of various sizes, sounds, and purposes.

Not too many years ago there were 231 school buildings in this county. Most of those buildings were equipped with large bells mounted in belfries on the top of the building usually over the front entrance. These bells could be heard for a considerable distance.

School bells were rung several times each school day. The first bell was usually rung at 8:30 a.m. for the purpose of warning some of the late risers that they should hurry or be tardy.

Many of the teachers gave the bell a tap at five minutes before time for the last bell (9 a.m.) to give pupils a chance to go to the rest room, clean mud from their feet, and get a drink before school called.

Most rural schools had a forenoon recess of 15 minutes from 10:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. During the recess many children ate a snack (cookie, apple, or banana), went to the rest room (little building in the back corner of the school yard), got a drink, and ran a race or two before school was called back in session.

At noon (12-1 p.m.) the first bell was rung at 12:45 p.m. to let pupils know that their noon recess was three-fourths over. The bell was given a tap at 12:55 p.m. and the last bell was rung at 1 p.m.

Afternoon recesses were from 2:30 to 2:45 p.m. In most rural schools the first, second, and third grade pupils were dismissed for the day at the beginning of the recess period. During fair weather the youngsters walked home. It was not uncommon for the little ones to walk as far as two miles. In those days there was little fear of their safety.

At 2:45 p.m. the bell was rung again. This called grades 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 back to their lessons. School for the older group was dismissed for the day at four o'clock.

Nearly all churches in the area were equipped with a large bell which was rung one-half hour before services were to begin and again when it was time for services to start.

For many years nearly every farm had a large, heavy dinner bell mounted on the top of a building (wood shed or well house) or on a post not far from the kitchen door. The farm dinner bell was used to call the men to meals or to summon them to the house when needed for something urgent.

Each bell, church, school, or farm dinner bell had a distinct tone. On clear days the sounds of the bells could be heard for considerable distances. People soon learned to identify the particular bell that was being rung. It was easy to tell which wife was late in preparing dinner.

As farming became more mechanized, the use of the farm dinner bell was discontinued. The peal of bells could not be heard above the roar of tractor motors.

Dinner bells have become collectors items and have gradually disappeared from most farms.

Church bells and school bells are also becoming scarce. Some are being replaced with electric buzzers, which can only be heard for a short distance.

The modern electric bells maybe more convenient to use, but they lack the pleasing melodious sounds of the old-fashioned bells. Let's keep the ones that now remain.

BB Barbecue Is Success

BRITTON — A profit of $875 was realized from the Band Boosters public Bicentennial chicken barbecue June 27. Of this amount $130 was turned over to the Bicentennial Committee for its community project. Approximately 500 dinners were served.

The general arrangements committee consisted of Mrs. Wesley Gilmore and Mrs. Bud Lorenz, kitchen; Ronald Frayer and Jim Arft, chickens; Mrs. Gerald Price and Mrs. Richard Handley, publicity and tickets; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, dining room and clean-up.

All committees appreciated the support of the public and help of the many band parents who worked and furnished homemade pies.

The Community Calendar has been sent to the printer and approximately $800 will be added to the band uniform account from this project. Delivery of these calendars will be in August. This brings the uniform account to about $4,000.

Area Youths Give Cantata

BRITTON — The 35-member Britton-Ridgeway Bicentennial Chorus sang out their love for America Sunday evening at Grace United Methodist Church, in the presentation of the cantata, "I Love America."

Area ministers narrating the program were the Rev. James Stephenson, Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene; the Rev. Thomas Trapp, Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Opening and closing prayers were given by the Rev. Jack Roach, of Grace United Methodist Church.

The Cantata was presented in three parts - "Patriotism for America...our history"; "Praise for America...our tribute"; and Prayer for America...our plea." Mrs. Peggy Raeburn, directed and Mrs. Linda Hawk was the pianist, both from the Congregational Christian Church.

A large selection of patriotic songs sung by the chorus included "I Love America"; "I'm Just a Flag-Waving American"; "In God We Trust"; "My Home, America"; "America the Beautiful"; "God of Our Fathers"; "The Red, White, and Blue"; "My Home, America"; "If My People"; "Jesus is Calling America"; "Battle Hymn of the Republic";

Solos were sung by Dawn Bush, Mark Gilmore, Ned Newlin, Jr., Mary Swain, Brenda Bearinger, Ned Newlin. Audience also joined in singing the chorus of selected songs.

Janine Squires, Paul Bush, Mark Gilmore, Laurie Hall provided instrumental accompaniment.

Special thanks were offered to the Methodist Church for allowing the group to use their facilities and equipment to the soloists and instrumentalist to Mrs. Mary Swain and Mrs. Karen Arft for their assistance as rehearsal pianists Mrs. Karen Arft for the publicity. Mrs. Arath Frayer for preparing the programs Mrs. Cassie Niblack for planning the coffee hour to the American Legion for use of flags and the audience who shared the musical celebration with the chorus.

MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear son and brother Ben Studnick, taken from us two years ago July 16.
We miss you Ben!
We do not need a special day to bring you to our minds.
The days we don't think of you
Are very hard to find.
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Jim, Liz, Todd, Will and JoJo.

As a candle is blown out by a sudden gust of wind,
So was your life in the shimmer of youth.
Oh, the tears subsided after a while,
but the ache in our hearts,
and the way that we miss you will remain for the rest of our lives.

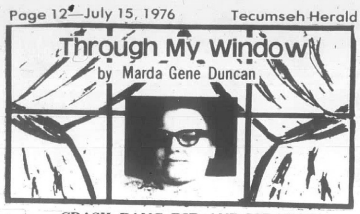
Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



CRASH, BANG, RIP, AND SCRATCH

The screens on our back screened-in porch take a frightful beating. Squirrels are the main culprits. They climb. The big fox squirrels with their sharp toenails or claws make larger holes than do the little red squirrels but, of course, the smaller squirrels take more steps and thus make more holes. Which is worse, fewer big holes or more small holes? We have not decided.

The noise the fox squirrels make on the screens is surprisingly loud. Not only do their claws scratch but their weight makes the screens snap and pop.

These large squirrels are not graceful or light footed either; in fact, they are often a bit awkward and unsure of themselves. Always they are easy and fun to chase. A flip of the curtain or, even better yet, opening the porch door produces instant panic.

If headed up they stumble over their big feet in trying to turn around and, if already headed towards the ground, they practically fall over themselves. Seldom are there bad falls or hair raising jumps but occasionally we have seen one freeze for a second or two before launching himself into frenzied flight. If normal climbing stretches the mesh of the screen, I hate to think what this mad scrambling does.

The tiny red squirrels are the ones who really fly up and down and back and forth; they take fright at the slightest suggestion of scare tactics on our part.

Even an imagined sound or movement is enough to cause a change of direction in mid-screen and a little red does not hesitate to jump.

We have seen them take what looks like terrible chances but always it turns out that they know their abilities better than we do. There have been no broken legs and usually the little guys seem to start running almost before they hit the ground.

If they do not jump but decide that back down the screen and over the planter is the best escape route, we laugh at how fast they go and how out-of-control they look. Again, it is best not to think about what these frantic flights are doing to the screen.

What is the great delight and challenge in clamoring over the screens? Part of it must be just plain curiosity. It is easy to believe that they simply wonder what is on the other side of that 'funny wire stuff'.

A number of years ago we kept sunflower heads on the porch during the winter and then, of course, there was no question at all as to the why of the squirrels' behavior.

Both fox squirrels and red squirrels were trying to find a way to get at the goodies. Once a red squirrel almost made it — he chewed a hole in the screen which, with just a couple more gnaws, would have been large enough for him to squeeze through.

Fortunately we caught that in time and, after patching the hole, decided the porch was not the ideal sunflower storage place after all.

The birds sometimes have trouble with our porch too. It is screened on three sides and more than occasionally some wrong thinking character tries to take a short cut and fly through instead of going around. Crash, bang and wow!

So far none have ever come inside — short pause while I knock on wood that our luck continues — nor have there been any fatalities. I refuse to even think about the headaches or the dents in the screen.

Now that the mulberries are ripe we are in the peak season for porch accidents. Seemingly the fruit eaters become so busy gorging themselves that they forget about the screen — bang!

One day last week a robin simply could not learn. Three times in the space of about an hour he smashed into the screen.

After each encounter he struggled to the closest branch, sat there and, if one could say a bird looked stunned, he certainly did.

He didn't quite shake his head to clear the cobwebs but I'm sure there was a glassy look had we been able to see his eyes. Once should have taught him but twice more he did the same thing. Ouch, ouch, ouch!

Rapin Participating in Operation

Navy Ship's Serviceman Frank J. Rapin, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Rapin of 116 Maple St., is participating in "Operation 200" as a crewman of the destroyer USS Dyess.

The operation, named in honor of our nation's Bicentennial, Consists of a complex series of fleet readiness exercises. The seven week exercise involves more than 30 ships from the Atlantic Fleet and includes Marine landing forces plus Navy and Marine aviation units.

His destroyer will be participating in maneuvers which encompass all phases of naval operations, including amphibious assaults, antisubmarine warfare, and both naval gunfire support and missile firing exercise.

The operation commenced in the fleet's Caribbean training area, near Puerto Rico, and the participating ships will move north along the east coast as the operation progresses. While traveling north, the ships will make port visits in many coastal cities to coincide with local Bicentennial celebrations.

This is NOT a continued STORY. But an IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO YOU. If you need Living Room, Bedroom or Dining Room furniture or anything else for your home . . . And want to GET IN on some Real Great Savings. NOW IS THE TIME and HARRY'S FURNITURE is the place to find it . . . At the lowest price YOU can find anywhere. It's going to be Thursday, July 15, 9-6 thru Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. We have been checking every item in the store and rechecking every item in the warehouse. We are making NO EXCEPTIONS. Every item in the store is given a DOUBLE CHECK.

The Managers orders are to CUT THE PRICES on any merchandise that has been slow moving or for any reason he wants to get it out of the store. We are talking about DOLLAR Savings, not PERCENTAGES. We have found lots of DOGS, CATS, WHITE ELEPHANTS, and Discos. This time of year we are LOADED with DISCOS. (A DISCO is a Discontinued number.)

It may have been a good selling item and some brilliant designer at the factory decides to put one mac in the back. They change the number and discontinue the current number. (Sometimes they do this so they can RAISE the price without our poor UNSUSPECTING furniture buyers catching on.) Let's get down to the specific items in the swinging sale. These prices are just plain WILD because we want this to be one of the best sales we've ever had. The best for you because of prices . . . the best for us because we MOVE old inventory quick to make room for new merchandise arriving daily.

Does this mean everything is half off or more? . . . Of course not . . . but for these 30 hours you will find more wild prices than ever before. This is not the time of year to worry about mark-up or profit. This 30 hours is the final wrap up. PRICES ARE NOW REDUCED . . . THEY ARE CHOPPED . . . HACKED . . . SMASHED . . . TO GET RID OF ALL DISCONTINUED ITEMS. (At Tecumseh Store Only!*)

MAKE A HAT SAVE A BUCK!

It has come to our attention that some people have been using their old Herald in many unusual ways.

Like: Wrapping Fish
House Training the Puppy
and Making Paper Airplanes

Now the Herald offers an even better idea!

Bring in a newspaper hat made from a page of the Herald and get $1.00 OFF on $7 and $9 subscriptions only.

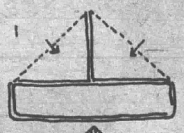
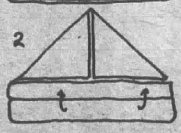
The Tecumseh Herald
110 W. Logan St.
Ph. 423-2174

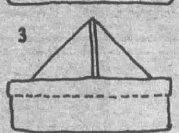
HERE'S HOW TO MAKE A PRINTER'S HAT!



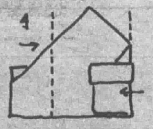
1. Place a full-sized, folded newspaper on a table, open edge toward you. Turn down upper corners to meet at center.



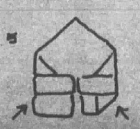
2. Fold lower edge of the top sheet up to base of the triangle.



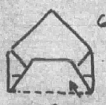
3. Now fold top sheet over again at base of the triangle. Leave the lower sheet unfolded.



4. Turn the whole thing over and fold the sides in to the center, so that the edges meet.

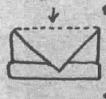


5. Fold up corners of the lower edge, forming small triangles.



6. Fold lower flap up.

7. Fold flap down and tuck it behind the "band."



8. Turn paper over again and fold point down to bottom edge.

9. Tuck point into band.

10. Open the cap and bring lower corners of cap together at center, forming a flat square.

11. Fold closed corners toward center, tucking them under band.

12. Fold top and bottom corners to meet at center. Cap is now ready to be opened and worn.

Addition Bids Run Three Times Expected Costs

Bids for a new addition and alterations to the heating and cooling system of city hall have exceeded anticipated costs, city manager Cal Zorn reported to Tecumseh City Council Monday night.

Originally a 20' X 40' addition on the east side of city hall was anticipated to cost $40,000 when first proposed in August 1975.

However bids ranged from a low of $117,781 by Dunbar Construction Co. to a high of $132,000 by Malson Construction Co.

Other bids opened at city hall at 4 p.m. July 15 were: $118,000 from Goodrich Construction Co. and $119,600 from Krieghoff-Lenawee Co.

Although the addition will cost about $50,000, the increase in cost of bids is due primarily to the new air conditioning and heating system planned for the entire building, Zorn explained.

He reported the new mechanical systems are necessary because the city hall's air and heating systems "haven't been right." In fact, he stated, that office windows have to be opened in winter while the police department doesn't receive enough heat.

Because of the closeness in the bids, the three low bidders have been asked to submit itemized costs by July 22 to give the city an idea of where costs might be cut.

The new addition will extend 40 feet north and south and 20 feet east from city hall and have a full basement for additional storage. The general offices will also be rearranged.

New addition was hoped to have been completed this spring, but specifications and drawings took longer. No new dates for start or finish have been estimated, but the city manager said it wouldn't take long once the bids were let.

Asked if the city would have trouble getting a new gas allotment for the new addition, Zorn said he thought the building would actually use less gas if the heating and cooling systems worked properly. City hall is presently operating under 1972 gas allottments.

Increases Noted in Bank Report

First half of 1976 has shown substantial increases in both assets and income for the United Savings Bank. In comparison to the first six months of 1975:

- Total assets have increased $8,135,000 or 12.5 percent.
- Net operating income rose to $315,300 or 28 percent.
- Net income, after securities transactions, amounted to $352,400 or 31 percent.

The bank's new trust department is expected to be operational by September.

Kenneth C. McElroy, bank president, states that though approval for trust powers is yet to come, preliminary field work has been completed by the Financial Institutions Bureau for the trust department.

Thousands Make Sale 'Greatest'

By KENT DOWNING

Most merchants conceded that early Friday shoppers were unusually thin. But after a very brief shower (a shower that lasted just long enough for the merchants to get their goods inside), the crowd picked up and business started booming.

And, not only was this sale more successful than last year's or many other years', a majority of the merchants also commented that the crowd was by far the largest ever. They felt the crowd size was proof of a successful sale, considering two other communities had Sidewalk Sales during the same period.

Some individual merchant comments were:

Mark King, of Trickey's said this was the "best sidewalk sale we've ever had." Mrs. Charles Trickey added that "It was marvelous. My feet told me so."

Jean Nettleman, sales lady at Jean Colgrove Gifts, stated she felt there were more people than usual and that "people seemed to be buying." She felt the beautiful weather Saturday and after the sprinkle Friday really brought the shoppers out.

Carl Lamb admitted that he spent much of his time in his store, but that he still felt an unusually large crowd came inside the shop. Rexall druggist said that there were "many new faces in town." He attributed the new faces to the "vacationers, those spending the week-end up at the lakes."

Paul Rockel added to the conversation by stating that he didn't see the new faces Saturday as he was not open. He added that since Carl did mention it, he did see many new faces Friday

Jack Morgan, of Merkel Furniture, indicated the crowd was not quite as big as last year's, but then he admitted that he has only participated in two Sidewalk Sales. He went on to state that the sale is a "good promotional thing" and that he had "more sales volume" than last year.

Rob Ford, Dancers, said his Tecumseh store did "better than any of the other eleven stores" affiliated with his in Michigan. He went on to explain that it would take a "couple days just to untangle, sort, and bunch the hangers they used during the sale."

Dick Eggleston felt the sale was the "greatest we've had so far!" He continued to say it was "much better than last year's." The key, he found, was complete participation. In the past, the sale turned into a "one day sale," with many merchants pulling their goods indoors Saturday. This year, the sale was truly a "two day sale," and Saturday was "much busier than a year ago" explained the owner of Eggleston's Jewelry.

Mary Anne Smith, clerk at Pat's Crafts, explained that they didn't do "quite as well" as last year. She was still very happy with sales because the store had a great sale turnout the year before.

John Damelio, of August Co., said he did good business over the weekend, but no crowd was too big to handle. He would have welcomed even more shoppers.

Goldie Watkins, owner of the Watkins Shop, explained the turnout simply: "It was the Watkin's Shop's biggest sidewalk sale ever."

Harold Green commented that the sale was "very good" at Green's Clothing.

Sue Goins, of Tecumseh Distributors, commended that she was initially "scared," because of the heresay of other merchants when they talked of the largest sale of the year. She found it was not as bad as she thought, and that they did "rather well."

Cal Damon, Cal's Tog Shop, felt that "It was great - as usual!" The "crowd was bigger than most years!" In fact, he felt his sale was the biggest ever concerning crowd size and business volumn.

Youth Arrested after Larceny

Tecumseh Police investigated three breaking and enterings this past week and arrested one 18-year-old in connection with a larceny from an auto.

Anna Shewman reported that her garage had been broken into at 107 Pine St. July 14. She found the garage door damaged and a number of items missing when she returned after being gone all morning.

Taken were a lawn mower, valued at $300, a ten-speed bike, valued at $150, numerous tools, rods and reels, and other small items.

The other two B&E's reported Monday were at the North Medical Building and Lenawee Glass Co.

William R. Shiels, 515 E. Pottawatamie, reported the breaking at the Medical Building at 602 E. Pottawatamie. Three doors were broken in and two sets of pane windows were damaged.

Police searched the building, as the breaking was reported in process, but found no one. Nothing was reportedly taken.

Gerald Sharp of Adrian reported the breaking at Lenawee Glass, 123½ W. Chicago when he discovered a broken garage door glass.

The suspects apparently entered through the door after reaching through the window to unlock it. They then went to the office area and pried open a filing cabinet and removed a steel cash box containing both cash and checks.

Saturday morning, at 2:20 a.m., police arrested a man after a larceny from an auto was reported in progress at Town and Country Apartments.

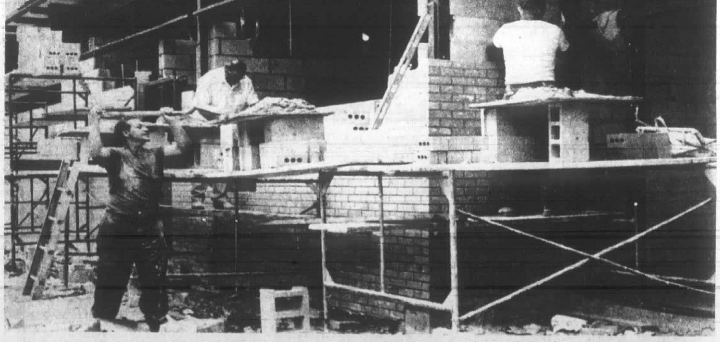
Stoddard reportedly opened the passenger door of an auto belonging to Sherry Alvardo, of Mexico and removed a TV set and tool chest, belonging to Gary Harper of Tipton.

Officers investigating the incident spotted the suspect, walking across a field to the south of the apartments and pursued on foot. The suspect dropped the items, but did not stop running until officers fired a warning shot.

In other police action, Randall Maynard, 1110 W. Pottawatamie, reported the larceny of a CB from his auto July 14. He had parked to play softball on N. Evans, and returned to find a broken left vent window. The CB was gone. Value was estimated at $149.

Mike Bartlett, 233 Maple, reported a stolen 10-speed bicycle. He went to a friend's house, stayed overnight, and woke Saturday to find the $138 bicycle missing.



MAY BE LATE — Although workmen are slaving away at the new $1.5 million addition to Tecumseh High School, officials report that work schedule has slipped and most of the addition will not be ready for the opening of school in September. Masonry work is being completed on the addition which will completely alter the school's appearance from N. Maumee St. (Photo by Kent Downing)

Protest Fence on Property

"I guess fences don't make good neighbors," commented Councilman Ray Puffer Monday night after City Council had another round with residents whose property adjoins the south and west end of the Tecumseh Pit.

This time two residents protested encroachment. They complained the $4,000, 4-ft. fence, which they didn't want the city to construct in the first place, was being constructed across a section of their back yards without prior notice or consent.

They were told the fence would be on city property. But when work crew came to a drop off, they started constructing across the neighbors back yards.

"The biggest point I wanted to make was that maybe Council did act too quickly and listened only to one person's information," said a protesting resident.

Once their complaint was heard, the two residents both agreed to have the fence across their properties, after City Council asked for permission.

By majority vote at an earlier meeting this summer, Council decided to fence in the rest of the Pit property after an elderly couple in the neighborhood complained, at three successive Council meetings, that resident using the park, especially kids, were entering across the couple's private property. Mini-bikers were also a problem.

The idea of the fence was to protect public safety, rid the neighbors or trespassers and hopefully, curb park vandalism.

Start Meals for Seniors

Complete hot meals will be served to senior citizens five days a week in Tecumseh beginning Monday, noon at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Meals for the homebound elderly will not begin until August. Details on this are forthcoming.

If any senior citizen needs a ride to meals served at the Community Center Monday through Friday, he or she may call the Lenawee Countil on Aging at 263-2161 ext. 220.

Tecumseh senior citizens will be asked at regular meetings at the Community Center Wednesday and Thursday how many will come for meals the first week.

Any senior citizens unable to attend the usual Wednesday and Thursday senior citizen gatherings sponsored by the Tecumseh Recreation Department at the Community Center may make a dinner reservation by calling the Community Center, 423-5602.

Free will offerings will be accepted for the meals.

Food will be prepared in Adrian and delivered in insulated containers.

A special kitchen facility in the southwest corner of the Community Center is being remodeled. New appliances will be installed and meals will then be prepared in Tecumseh once the kitchen is finished. Meanwhile existing kitchen facilities will be used for clean-up.

Volunteers will serve meals and set-up tables. Anyone who would like to volunteer to serve the meals, clean-up, pick-up Tecumseh senior citizens or bulk food from Adrian may contact the Lenawee Council on Aging at the same number above.

Table service will be provided as well as coffee, tea or milk.

Since the operation is new to Tecumseh, everyone's cooperation and patience will be appreciated.

Menu for the week is as follows:

WEDNESDAY, July 28 - Spanish meatballs, chopped lettuce and tomato, Spanish corn, rice, fruit cup.

Still Time Left To Join Society's Business Contest

Businesses one hundred years or older still have time to enter The Oldest Business in Michigan Contest; sponsored by the Historical Society of Michigan. Deadline is Aug. 15, 1976.

The Tecumseh Herald and the Tecumseh Public Library are making forms available. The Herald will also provide a free Xerox copy of the single document needed to verify the founding date. Service at the Herald is free.

So far Comfort Brick and Tile, founded in 1949, Bauer Manor, 1834 and The Tecumseh Herald, 1850, have entered the contest.

All businesses at least a 100 years old receive a certificate. Top winner gets a pen and ink drawing of its company.

Gymnastics Show Is Set

The Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a gymnastics show this Thursday.

Gymnasts George Huntzicker and Dennis Harlan will perform on the trampoline, do tumbling stunts and other special gymnastic moves.

The show is at 10:30 a.m. at the Community Center and will cost $.25 per person. The show is co-ordinated through playgrounds. If there are any questions, playground leaders should be contacted at 423-5602.

Car Fire Call

Tecumseh Firemen responded to a car fire call Friday night at 11:15 on South Tipton Hwy.

The auto was owned by Bill Vreeland Motor Co., Adrian, but was in the possession of George Reasoner of 210 E. Shawnee at the time. Car was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith and two of their six children, Tommy and Gary of Albion, N.Y. are visiting their aunt and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt. Melanie Wolf has been visiting her grandparents, the Hunts for the past two weeks.

Cindy Ivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ivan of Britton received an associates degree in general studies from Washtenaw Community College. She was graduated with honors. She is currently employed at Edwards Brothers in Ann Arbor. She is a 1970 graduate of Britton High School.

Citizen Complains of Charge

David Kovaleski, 111 N. Pearl St. complained to City Council Monday night about having to pay an extra $1 to dump cement and rocks, at Walker Landfill, with which the city has a contract.

Kovaleski said he dug up about 10 such pieces at 216 S. Union St. Load constituted one box full. He had a valid landfill card, still a landfill attendant charged him $1 to dump the materials.

Furthermore, Kovaleski complained that solid waste must be sorted when dumped at the landfill.

Council explained that under the city's contract with the landfill, certain materials are exempt, these include building materials and demolition, trees in excess of 4", fence. Automobiles and farm machinery also are not covered by the city's contract.

In Kovaleski's case the rocks were strictly considered building materials by the landfill attendant.

If city residents were to have these privileges, Council said it would cost the city considerably more than the present $900 monthly.

Another reason the city does not contract for these privileges is because builders and contractors could take advantage of hauling scrap to the landfill at city's expense.

One reason why materials such as metal must be separated from other materials at the landfill is because some materials are recycled.

Permits to use the landfill are intended to be distributed only to city residents, free, at city hall. New cards are issued about every 18 months to serve as identification at the landfill.

Five Are Cited in 8 Accidents

Eight accidents were investigated by police this week. Five citations were issued, but none of the accidents were serious.

July 14 - Richard J. Polmounter, 17, 5200 Centennial, was cited for failure to yield after he pulled from a parking space on E. Chicago. He was struck by David F. Blanden, 31, of 5000 E. Monroe.

Dalon D. Dersey, 26 of 111 W. Pottawatamie, was eastbound on Pottawatamie when he made contact with James Noe Jr., 32, of Toledo in the Van Buren intersection. Dersey reportedly had 33 foot skid marks. A yield sign had been taken from the corner prior to the accident.

July 16 - Leland G. Fogelson, 46, 102 E. Pottawatamie, was cited for improper backing when he backed into W. Chicago from Beglinger-Reid. He struck an auto driven by Janis S. Baker, 27 of 501 Blanchard St.

Harold Vardman Jr., 13, of 120 S. Evans sought his own treatment after he was struck while on his bicycle crossing an intersection. He was only shaken as he reportedly crossed in front of a car driven by Teresa A. Baugh, 21, of 5802 Billmyer.

July 21 - June Harris, 44, of Brooklyn was heading north on N. Maumee and struck a vehicle driven by Dennis Towne, 27, of 208 N. Maumee. Police are seeking a warrent for drunk and disorderly for June Harris.

Survivor's Social Security and Veteran's death benefits

Survivors of a deceased veteran or a person covered by Social Security are entitled to substantial monetary benefits under current law. Here are some of these benefits.

1. A lump-sum benefit of a maximum of $225 will be paid by the Social Security Administration.
2. $250 may be paid to survivors of veterans in most situations.
3. There may be a veteran's benefit of another $150 toward the purchase of cemetery plot. (If interment is not in a national cemetery or government cemetery.)
4. Monthly income benefits from the Social Security Administration are also possible. The amount of benefits depends upon the requirements of eligibility (length of time covered, number of dependent children, etc.)

If the deceased was employed by the government or an occupation covered by Civil Service; additional benefits may be forthcoming. Information regarding these and other sources of income or lump-sum benefits from insurance policies, union payments, etc. may be obtained from various sources. We may be able to suggest the correct offices for you to contact--or we can supply you with pamphlets describing specific benefits in detail. Call on us. Well be glad to help.

(This is one of a series of short articles I hope will be helpful. We welcome your questions--in private or publicly.)

MRS. DAVID BISHOP

Lynn M. Medvecz, David Bishop Nuptials

Lynn Marie Medvecz and David Frederick Bishop were married in Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church July 17 at 4:30 p.m. with the Rev. Kenneth Strack officiating.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Medvecz and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonal Bishop, 216 N. VanBuren.

Mrs. Fred Oberlin was organist, Mrs. Ronald Frey, soloist and Mrs. Kenneth Lindow, guitarist.

She wore a taffeta gown with white nylon overskirt. It featured a scoop neckline and apron style front with wide lace inserts at the front and sides of skirt. The sleeves were long and full. A full length chapel train was attached to the skirt. Chantilly lace and iridescent sequins trimmed the dress.

Doug Wheeler of Clinton was best man. Mark Koscho of Tecumseh, Cal Torres, groom's brother-in-law of Clinton, and Doug Noirot of Tecumseh were ushers.

Pastel colored streamers, pink candles in silver holders and a bride and groom centerpiece decorated the Peerless Gear Union Hall, Clinton where a reception for 200 guests was held.

Mrs. Allen Southard assisted at the reception.

The bride attended Tecumseh High School and is employed by Faraday. The groom is a 1973 Tecumseh High School graduate and is employed at Meyers Aircraft.

MR. & MRS. DARYL COOMBER

Couple Is Wed in California

St. Bridget of Sweden Catholic Church, Van Nuys, Calif., was the setting for the wedding uniting Marie Ann Hoffman and Daryl Lee Coomber, June 18. Ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mate Lukac.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Hoffman of 504 E. Logan St., and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coomber, Monterey, Calif.

Traditional wedding music was played by the church organist.

As she approached the altar with her father, the bride wore an ivory satin and Italian lace gown, with scooped neckline, flower designed lace covered bodice, trimmed with pearls and sequins. Lace panels also graced the skirt, and the triple-tiered floor-length veil.

The birdesmaid, Mrs. Robert Morse, of Van Nuys, Calif., wore a gown identically styled to that of the matron of honor.

Ushers were Gerry Lieberman, Woodland Hills, Calif., Allan Liedel, of Hollywood, Calif., the bride's cousin; and Timothy Irelan, the bride's brother-in-law of Tecumseh.

Attending the wedding from Tecumseh were the bride's parents, and brothers, Mike and Rick Hoffman, and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Irelan.

The groom is a graduate of Chatworth High, Calif., and is self-employed in the compressor business.

61 Gather for Reunion

Sixty-one people gathered on July 11 for the Ninth Hamden-Webster-Shourds reunion. A potluck dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Etter of Adrian.

The business meeting was conducted by president, Mrs. Mildred Allshouse, secretary report read and approved by Mrs. Nancy Pellowe and treasurers reported by Mrs. Carol Locke.

Special gifts were given to Walter Russell, Jr. from Chicago, Ill for traveling the farthest, Jennifer Lynn (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Stites) for youngest member present; to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shutte for the oldest couple present; also to Harvey Hamden, 81, and Charles Shourds,78, for the oldest members present.

Present officers were re-elected for the 1977 reunion with exception of Mrs. Evelyn Freet who was made chairman of gift selection.

Next year's reunion will be held the second Sunday in July at the Ellis Park in Blissfield. Laverne Stites is in charge of arrangements.

Games and ice cream were enjoyed by all the remaining part of the afternoon.

Inner-City Kids Aided

Paul Bush and Barb Henning, both of Tecumseh, are working with inner-city youngsters at the south campus of Manistee Music Camp located off Mull Road in Tipton.

The camp is an expansion from the original music camp located in Manistee National Forest started 19 years ago. The south campus began four years ago under the tutelage of William Mobley of Detroit, a professional musician.

Mobley, who has been with the camp 19 years, states the purpose of the program succinctly, "Its a curriculum camp for children from varying cultural backgrounds coming together for music and recreation in the woods."

Elementary through high school students participate, both band and orchestra oriented. Although some children from large income families attend, the majority are from low income on a scholarship basis. Eighty children are at the camp for one to two week sessions depending on age. Forty staff members are in attendance.

The camp begins each summer around June 15 and lasts until the middle of August, depending on funding available. Students receive private and group lessons as well as theory classes.

Bush goes on to say that some of the children are taken to his father's farm near Britton to ride on farm equipment. Bush says that there is little racial friction. "No one notices color. Music acts as a unifying force and everyone is up here for that."

Tecumseh High School grad Barb Henning is a counselor at the camp. She also sees the effect of the environment on the youngsters. "The things we take for granted in Tecumseh like the stars, trees or even poison ivy amazes these kids. Working here has opened my mind, its a cultural education."

Different concerts will be presented by camp members including one at the camp this Saturday and again at the Adrian Mall July 30 and 31.

Appointed Swine-like-flu Manager

Mrs. Alex G. (Mary) Hanson, R.N. has been appointed project manager for the swine-like flu immunization program, Dr. Roy Highsmith, County Public Health Medical Director, announced.

She will coordinate the activities in the all-volunteer effort to protect the community from a swine-like flu epidemic. The program will be accomplished during late summer and early fall dependent upon receipt of the vaccine.

The federal government will provide the vaccine through the State Health Department.

Vaccine will be distributed to the Lenawee County Health Department which is responsible for organizing the mass immunization program to immunize all residents of Lenawee County.

Mrs. Hanson will organize the community to assist the Health Department in its responsibilities. It will require volunteers from the community in all walks of life including professional, paraprofessional, service clubs, unions, school personnel, PTA, 4-H groups, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross and many others to accomplish a program of this magnitude.

Mrs. Hanson will contact and talk with various groups and individuals soliciting their help to organize the teams required for such an effort. To volunteer, contact her at 263-8831, ext. 281.

As the program develops and there is more information on vaccine arrival, announcements will follow.

Gas Company Sponsors Grain Program

The public is invited to attend a Grain Drying, Storage and Marketing meeting sponsored by Northern Propane Gas Co. in cooperation with the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Services.

Program begins at 10 a.m. on July 29 at Tecumseh Grange Hall, 4998 Milwaukee Road. Luncheon will be served.

My Year In Sweden

By Valerie Egli
Exchange Student

I've only been to Stockholm twice, yet I'm convinced that it's the most beautiful city in the world – at least that I've ever seen.

Stockholm is the capital and largest city of Sweden. The population of 671,453 is about half that of Detroit. Situated in the central part of Sweden, called Gotaland, it lies in two different counties, Uppland and Sodermanland.

The city, built on the east coast, covers 186 square kilometers of land on parts of 22 islands.

"Gamla Stan", "The Old City," or original Stockholm is the most fascinating part. It's situated on an island connected by two bridges, one on either side, to the mainland. This explains Stockholm's nickname, "The City Between Two Bridges."

I could walk down those old, narrow streets of Gamla Stan and never tire of it. I love to look in the old shop windows, especially when the shops are closed. Then there isn't a chance of buying something on an impulse that I would later regret, like something to eat!

The real charm comes when the weather is nice and the street musicians come out. In almost every part of Gamla Stan, one can hear singing, and song playing on old and new instruments of every kind.

One of the biggest attractions in Gamla Stan is the royal palace. Reigning monarch, King Carl XVL Gustaf resides there. He marries June 19 and the Swedish people are excited about their king's marriage.

Other interesting things to see in Stockholm include a museum call Wasa Museet, just outside the busy city.

Inside is a 348-year-old battleship scientists raised from the harbor. The ship "Wasa," was named after the reigning king, King Gustav Wasa, when it was built. On its maiden voyage, before it left the harbor, a wind blew her over and she sank.

When the ship was first brought out of the harbor, in 1961, it had to be sprayed 24-hours a day with a water and purification solutibn. If allowed to dry, the body would crumble. After a few more years saturation, the purification elements will have replaced all the sea water in the wood, strengthening the ship so it can dry.

Not too far away is a beautiful animal park called Skansen. It has almost every kind of animal, including genuine reindeer. Sorry to disillusion those who associate Sweden with the Northern realm of the polar bear, but there's not one polar bear in all of Sweden, not even in a zoo.

In some older buildings, nearby people watch bread and candles being made. Beside an old windmill is an old-fashioned restaurant.

Across the harbor from Skasen is a television and radio tower called Kahnastornet, the tallest building in Scandinavia, measuring 508 feet. On the elevator to the 13th floor is a glass-enclosed viewing platform. Below this is a restaurant, and on the floor above, the roof terrace. The view is breathtaking.

In the middle of all the city hub-bub is a beautiful building containing the Riksdag Hus, which can be compared to the Congress and Senate Buildings and the Kultur Hus, "culture house."

On the fourth floor of the Kultur Hus is what is called "Information Stockholm", a presentation of different aspects of Sweden.

Since the entire front of the building is glass, one can sit back in a comfortable chair in front of the window with a cup of coffee and look down at all the bustle, feeling completely unattached, and just relax.

A few of the side streets are exclusively lined with jeans stores. Jeans are about five times more expensive over here – the absolute cheapest pair costs over $25! Jeans are so popular that sometimes I'm the only one not wearing jeans.

Some of these jeans shops have American themes. A few stores sell red, white and blue striped shoes with a silver "76" on top. One store went all the way with a "Wild West" decor; all the salespeople wear cowboy boots.

Not too far from all this blue jeans action is McDonald's, of which there are four in Stockholm. I had the first Big Mac I've had in nine months and did it taste delicious.

As I said in my last article Swedish food is good, but it was great to taste something American.

Mrs. Gerald Marion is in New York this week visiting an U of M classmate, Diane Haines, and the McMahon Child Shelter. Mrs. Marion has recently visited High Point, Ann Arbor, a beautiful facility for children with special needs. She plans to do some volunteer work there in the fall.

Last week, she acted as a facilitator at the Institute for the Study of Mental Retardation and Related Disorders. The conference was entitled "Development Approaches to Early Case Finding: Identifying Developmental Disabilities in Infants."

Currently, Donna is completing a practicum in the pediatric practice of Dr. Susie Luz MD, in Adrian. She will graduate as a Pediatric Nurse Practioner from the University of Michigan, Aug. 20.

Foundation Gives Library $700 Grant

CLINTON — A $700 grant from W.K. Kellogg Foundation has been received by Clinton Township Library Board.

The Foundation recommended that the grant be used for purchase of materials such as a tele-communications system.

Grant was not large enough for purchase of this size of equipment, so board decided to give the money to the Huron Valley Library System, which the Township Library is affilliated.

Huron Valley System will combine the Kellogg grants received from its other affiliated libraries to purchase the equipment to be used by the entire library system.

Physicals For Athletes Is Aug. 2

CLINTON — Physicals for Clinton athletes will be Aug. 2 from 7 a.m. to noon at Clinton High School.

The girls will have physicals from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. and the boys from 8 to 9 a.m.

There is no scheduled make-up date so athletes will have to get a physical at their own expense after Aug. 2.

Grand Response on Bake Sale

Tecumseh Band Boosters said they had "grand response" from parents who contributed baked goods for the Band Boosters' bake sale Friday and Saturday, July 16 and 17 during the sidewalk sale.

Boosters raised $97 from bake sale alone and sold several T-shirts and calendars. The T-shirts and calendars are still available.

Winner, Profits Are Announced

Carolyn Baker of 9383 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., Tecumseh was winner of the patchwork quilt and matching apple doll raffled by the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary.

The event raised $156 for Jaycee Auxiliary community service projects.

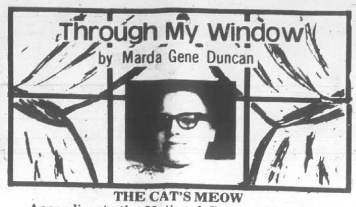
Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



THE CAT'S MEOW

According to the National Geographic's lovely "Song and Garden Birds of North America" they can put "forth a wild medley of songs and calls—sounds that approach the mockingbird's in richness and mimic artistry." Oh? This same book finally gets around to saying that these birds also make a noise they describe as a "querulous mew." Yes, I can agree because this is the sound I often hear whereas the more musical and mimicing song I have not identified.

Last year was a poor one for catbirds here along Evans Creek but happily I can report that this summer they are in residence again and performing as usual.

Nice birds, they are, attractive in appearance, friendly in disposition, and undemanding in wants.

After a carefree winter in the south, the males reach the family raising area first and, just after the territorial boundries are set, the females arrive.

A quick courtship and she immediately begins nest building. Using leaves, grasses, and little twigs for the outer layer and soft rootlets or shredded bark for the inner lining, she constructs the nest in a dense thicket or small bushy tree.

Certainly there are many such suitable nest building sites on the creek bank or even in the jungle across the creek. Where the nest is we have no idea, like most birds they are not about to give that precious information away.

A'though the youngsters are fed primarily an insect diet, the adults favor an occasional fruit course when it is available. And oh my, but it is available now -- choke cherries and mulberries are currently ripe and before that it was cherries.

My best look at a catbird this season came when the mulberries first began -- well, the temptation is to say that the berries were ripe and, apparently, for the birds and squirrels, they were fit to eat. But to all of us they seemed much too green.

In fact, for a few days it was almost a standard joke to worry about the tummy aches and laugh about getting a corner on what would be the bird and squirrel equivalent of Pepto-Bismal.

Mother Nature's creatures usually know what they are doing though, and none suffered any distress.

However, one particular catbird suffered quite a surprise. With so many of the creek bank trees offering such a banquet he obviously felt that food was available everywhere. At least he swooped down and lit on the near-my-window feeder as if fully expecting those banquet boards to be groaning too.

With the exception of a few times when we put out a special treat such as an apple half, our feeder is not geared for catbirds. But while this fellow was finding that out, I had an excellent chance to see and appreciate what a truly pretty bird he was.

All gray with a black cap and a russet area at the base of his tail, he had a shiny black bill and bright black eyes.

He, or perhaps it was she for they both dress the same, was also the personification of neatness -- every feather was in place and a slicker, softer looking bird would be hard to find.

Mom and Gertie T. are just a trifle jealous of my eyeball to eyeball adventure with a catbird. So far their looks have been of him going over the creek bank or in the trees.

The National Geographic book claims that a catbird "looks as if he were skulking" in the trees or bushes with his "tail depressed and body held close to the perch".

To me skulking seems a strange word to use in connection with this bird. He may be shy and certainly his life style keeps him closer to trees and shrubs than the open places such as the middle of our front yard; however, he is friendly and trusting, I would hesitate to call him sneaky.

Which brings me to the title of this article. Cats I would call sneaky, they do skulk. The one black mark against the catbird is that he has a scolding, cross 'song' which does indeed sound like a "querulous mew". Or meow, the dictionary says either spelling is acceptable.

Bush to Head Britton Board

Karl Kimerer and Richard Bruce were re-elected vice president and treasurer respectively, and Ken Bortel elected secretary.

Board set regular meeting dates for the 1976-77 school year as the second Thursday of each month at 8 p.m., except for November through April, when it will begin at 7:30 p.m. Meetings are held in the superintendent's office at 201 College Ave.

The Deerfield State Bank was selected for the school district depository for the 1975 building fund, and United Savings Bank of Tecumseh as depositor for all other school district monies.

Board voted to continue its school bus fleet and building contents insurance with Don Sunderland Insurance of Tecumseh.

Attends FHA Leadership Meet

BRITTON — Mary Schroeder, a senior at Britton-Macon High School was one of 1,200 delegates selected from a half-million nationally to attend the Future Homemakers of America National Leadership Meeting this month in St. Louis, Mo.

During the four-day session, Mary participated in leadership training workshops and values clarification activities. Delegates discussed the expanding role of home economics in our consumer-oriented society.

Selection as a leadership meeting delegate is one of the highest honors an FHA member can achieve. Criteria for selection include exceptional achievement in scholastic and extracurricular activities and demonstration of high personal standards.

In addition to her FHA responsibilities Mary is also active in Campfire, National Honor Society, church youth group and 4-H.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder of Britton.

By Lillian Luce

TIPTON — A highlight of the annual Church and Sunday School picnic at the Tipton Elementary School the Rev. Max Bailey was honored on his retirement and both he and Mrs. Bailey were honored on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

About 175 persons attended the annual picnic Sunday following morning service. A potluck dinner was served. The Rev. Bailey has ministered at the Tipton Community Church for eight years.

A wedding cake was served to guests. The Sunday School, the Church and Women's Fellowship presented gifts to the honored couple. The new baseball field was dedicated as "Bailey Field."

Dr. Tyrone Imbody will be the guest minister next Sunday. Dr. Joe Perez was the guest minister last Sunday.

Tipton Grange met for a special meeting on Friday night at the home of Mrs. Howard Evans, with 22 members and guests present. After a short business meeting the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Platt and Mrs. Grover Swarts served ice cream, topping and nuts, cake and iced tea. Euchre was played and prizes won by Mrs. Kenneth Munger, and Mrs. Howard Kronberg, John Wisner and Harold Every. Ed Lewis had the most lone hands.

Mrs. Bill Williams attended the opening night of the Perry Como show in Chicago at the Arie Crown Theater on Monday night. She was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David McCaughey and family in Hoffman Estates for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller of Mancelona were guests the past week of Mrs. Howard Evans. On Thursday the Millers, Mrs. Grover Swarts, Elsie Johnson of Williston, Ohio and Mrs. Evans were guests of Mrs. Muza Grove at Round Lake.

On Friday Mrs. Evans and guests Mr. and Mrs. Miller were luncheon guests of Nancy Evans in Tecumseh.

Britton Little League Results

Britton's little league Bears won two on Monday of this week whipping the Colts 29-4 and the Lions 8-0.

Dennis Shock was the winning pitcher in the Colts game while Dale Evans, Mike Kniffen, David Irvin and Tom Morgan all pitched for the Colts.

Against the Lions, Brian Fanslau pitched his first shut out allowing only three hits and struck out 12 batters for the Bears.

The Bears also beat the Falcons 11-5 July 9 and the Hawks 17-3 on July 13.

Cheerleaders Hold Clinic

Cheerleaders gave instruction on the fundamentals of cheerleading to 60 area girls, ages 5-15, and one two-year-old. Lessons included jumps, mounts, cheers, and pom-pom routines.

Mothers were invited as spectators on the closing day last Friday to watch the girls compete in mounts for each age group, with ribbons awarded to first, second and third place winners. Attendance certificates were also presented to the future cheerleaders.

Money earned will be used to make slacks for the cheerleaders for the upcoming football season.

Ridgeway Young People Canoe River

RIDGEWAY — Eight young people from the Ridgeway Baptist Church canoed 12 miles down the Huron River Saturday from Dexter to Ann Arbor.

The group stopped at Delhi Metro Park for lunch.

The other two canoes carrying Jack, Ron, Cheryl and Trisha Hintz portaged around them.

Next youth outing is a trip to Cedar Point in August.

Bi-centennial Journey

By THELMA YOUNGLOVE

BRITTON — Several grocery items that were in demand in the early part of this century are not to be found on grocer's shelves.

Red bananas are rarely seen in the produce department of any of the modern food stores. The skin of the red banana was red instead of yellow. Most of the red bananas were somewhat shorter but plumper than the bananas on sale now. Red bananas varied little in taste from the ordinary yellow banana. The red bananas are not so extensively cultivated because they do not store well.

Blood oranges were frequently sold in grocery stores in the 1900's. The outside of the blood orange looked the same as an ordinary orange but when the orange was cut, especially crosswise, the fleshy part of the orange was red or streaked with red. The flavor of the oranges varied little from the common variety.

Few of this generation may be familiar with nutmegs. Years ago when grandmother's recipes called for nutmeg she or her helper had to grate the nutmegs before using it. The task was harsh on one's skin.

Nutmegs were shaped somewhat like a marble. They were about the size of a medium sized hickory nut and so hard they resembled hard wood.

Yeast foam, used by our grandmothers, has disappeared from grocer's shelves. Yeast foam came in hard dry cakes each about 1½ inch square and ½ inch thick. The yeast cakes were packaged in paper wrapped packages containing five or six cakes.

At one time grocers had a supply of China nest eggs for sale. People bought the nest eggs to place in a hen's nest thinking hens could be enticed to lay their eggs in the nest, making it easier for the farmer's wife to gather the eggs.

Now almost all grocery items are pre-packaged. Gone are the days when crackers, cookies, sugar, and salt came to the store in barrels. The grocer or his clerks weighed out the quantity the customer wished to purchase.

Prices of grocery items have changed drastically. Just what would our parents and grandparents say about the prices housewives pay for meat, groceries, and other household items today?..

DO IT YOURSELF CORNER

by Vic Clauda
Master Plumber

If you are repairing your own oil burner on your furnace or boiler, make sure the electrodes are clean and have no cracks. Set the tips of electrode 1/8" beyond end of nozzle 3/16" apart and ½" above. This is normal if you have an 80 degree nozzle. You will have to adjust electrode tips if you have a different spray pattern.

Clauda Plumbing and Heating has the parts to put your burner in good running order. We have motors, oil pumps, electrodes, pump couplings and wire to fix most oil burners.

HELPFUL HINT: It is best to have your furnace serviced at least once a year. We have the test gauges to get the most efficient operation from your furnace.

Raisin Township Bicentennial Festival Draws 1,000

Some estimated there were nearly 2,000 visitors but it was difficult to document because everyone was too busy to keep an accurate count.

The weather was beautiful. Many visitors from nearby communities dropped in for a few minutes to see how it was going and to shake hands with Allen and Virginia Blouch from Eaton Rapids.

Al was presented a fireman's axe in recognition of his efforts in organizing the Raisin Fire Department 26 years ago.

Retiring township supervisor, Jim Mitchell, welcomed the visitors at the opening ceremonies. He was colorfully dressed as a country squire for the occasion.

During the ceremony a resolution was read dedicating a tract of land as a township park and naming it in honor of Mr. Mitchell's 33 years service as township supervisor. An American flag from the nation's capitol was presented to Mrs. Dorothy Mitchell by County Commissioner, Bill Mackey.

Mrs. Emma Adams and Mrs. Dorothy Kopke were honored as the oldest known native born citizens of Raisin Township present for the occasion.

The names of about 20 living citizens of the township who are 80 years of age or more this Bicentennial year are being added to the honorary resolution.

Dick Gallaway served as master of ceremonies. Lance Weisman, a young descendent of the Calhoun family, sang the Star Spangled Banner and led the pledge of allegience to the flag.

The Raisin Center Friends Church staged an old-fashioned Quaker wedding twice during the day, an interesting and much photographed event. Edith Haviland and several others were dressed in authenic Quaker garb for the occasion.

There were numerous exhibits of old farm and home articles rounded-up from the community. Many family pictures and heirlooms were shown. There was an attractive old kitchen scene by the Round Block Extension club and a quilting bee by the Raisin Sewing Circle. Larry Carpenter, Bud DeGrout, Lawrence Kopke and Glen Meyers had excellent exhibits.

Several local clubs provided a variety of refreshment stands with lots of baked goods, popcorn, lemon aide and iced tea served by ladies in old fashioned costumes. Hundreds of hot dogs, fresh donuts and some 52 gallons of homemade ice cream were reported consumed.

Ken Mitchell auctioned off two wagon loads of merchandise contributed by local citizens which were collected by the Slickers and Homemakers 4-H clubs. The auction yielded $365 to help pay expenses of the day.

About 200 copies of the township history book, compiled by Merle Kerr, were sold on festival day. Copies are still available from Mildred Gritzmaker or at the Sutton Branch of United Savings Bank.

The Raisin Bicentennial committee proclaimed the day a great success.

AUCTION RAISED $365 — Ken Mitchell, auctioneer with arm raised at right, gave his talents to the Raisin Bicentennial Festival and festival visitors bought wagon loads of goods to help finance the celebration. Ray Gratz, center, appears to be one of the buyers that has the crowd's attention.

FRIENDLY HANDSHAKE — A visitor is registered for the Bicentennial homecoming by committee members, at right, back to front, Larry Ganun, Dorothy Mitchell, Mildred Gritzmaker and Sara Lowery. Copies of the township history, compiled by Merle Kerr were sold as well as Bicentennial cookbooks compiled by the Around the Block Extension Club. Copies of both are still available.

Handley Keeps Share of First

Tuesday League

Handley Equipment maintained a share of first place by beating B&W West 17-8. Louis Gonzales hit a two-run home run for West and th winners were led by Tim Gall with three singles.

Clinton Merchants won their first game and knocked United Savings out of first with a 10-4 win. David Spielman and Dave Ward each homered for Clinton.

B&W West scored five runs in the first inning then eased into an 18—4 win over Underwood Chevrolet. David Johnson hit a two—run home run for West who climbed above the .500 mark with a 4—3 record. Doug Biddix and Earl Cook each had three hits for Underwood Chevrolet.

Tecumseh Merchants took an early lead then held on to beat United Savings Bank 8-7. USB pushed across two runs in the bottom of the seventh, but left the tying run on second base. Paul Lenanski stroked four hits including a home run for the Merchants.

Handley Equipment kept a share of first place by beating Clinton Merchants 6-1. Every player in the Handley line-up reached base safely at least once, while George Service and Mike Creswell each got three hits for Clinton. Creswell scored the lone run after tripling in the fourth inning.

Wednesday League

Dave Arnold hit a three run home run in the first inning as Tri-County Loggers beat DST 8-4. Bob Vogel also homered for the winners as did Tom Claus for DST.

DST got three hits from Warren Corwin including a home run to beat Beglinger-Reid 12-7. DST never trailed, jumping off to a three-run lead in the first inning. Terry Ranta homered for Beglinger-Reid.

Irish Hills Merchants sent 18 batters to the plate in the second inning and scored 14 runs as they buried Wagon Wheel Bar 23-4 in five innings. Don Ford slammed two home runs and Terry Filipek had one for Irish Hills Merchants, while Jim Johnson was hitting four straight singles. Defensively, the winners allowed only five hits as Wagon Wheel Bar scored three of their four runs in the first inning.

Tri-County Loggers beat VFW 11-6 to throw the Wednesday league into a three-way deadlock for first with Irish Hills Merchants. Al Roberts had three hits including a home run, and Dave Pray homered for the Loggers. Tom Ashley homered for VFW and Bill Smith added three doubles in the losing cause.

VFW shut out Irish Hills Merchants for five innings to post a 9-6 victory. The win leaves VFW alone in first place. Tom Barton and Dan Jurasek each had three hits for VFW. Irish Hills had a two run home run by Larry Henning.

Beglinger-Reid and Wagon Wheel Bar combined to score 46 runs as Beglinger-Reid won 29-17. Beglinger-Reid scored in every inning as Terry Ranta had four hits, including two home runs. Bob Collins had five hits including a home run. Jerry Zemlo and Clair Maynard added home runs. In addition, Brad Sisson and Tom Thayer added three hits each. For Wagon Wheel Bar, Barri Campbell homered and hit two singles, while Steve Hathaway and Chuck Warner each added three hits.

Thursday League

Dan Lewis and Gordon Henning hit back-to-back home runs in the fifth inning to pace Tecumseh Plywood over Leisure Time Sports Center 16-13. Jim Reilly added four hits for the winners as did George Harvey for Leisure Time.

John Travis hit two home runs as the Ember's beat American Legion 15-4. Mark Goodacre added four hits. The win keeps Ember's tied for first place with Tecumseh Plywood.

Goble Lumber scored eight runs in the sixth inning, but it wasn't enough. Protco won 15-13. The win keeps Protco within striking distance of the League leaders. Brian Shick had three hits including a home run. Bob Borton, Mike Corley, and Al DeShano all added homers. Bob Knox homered for Goble.

Doug and Sandy Jacobs head for regionals

Golfers Qualify

Two local junior golfers have qualified for regional competition in the Junior PGA Championships to be held in Bellaire, Michigan at the Shanty Creek Country Club.

Doug and Sandy Jacobs, 17 and 15 respectively, qualified in the districts of the tournament at Ann Arbor Country Club recently. Doug shot a 79 finishing fourth of 68 entrants. The top 12 qualified.

Sandy was tops among women players with an 88 and was the only girl in the district to advance.

The regionals are slated for this Saturday. The pair will face golfers from all of Michigan and must take first place in order to advance to the finals.

Finals will be held at Walt Disney World in Florida Aug. 16-20.

Gunder Scores Hole in One

He used a wedge on the 115-yard par 3 hole.

Gunder was participating in the Wednesday night scratch league when he made the shot.

John Gibson, front, Dave Graf, Scott MacBeth and Doug Jacobs

THS Golfers Sweep Tourney

John Gibson prevailed over teammate Doug Jacobs in a two hole playoff to take first place in the championship flight. Jacobs took second and Tecumseh's Scott Macbeth beat out Onsted's Brad Fowle in a playoff for the third spot.

Jacobs parred the final hole in regular play and forced a tie after Gibson carded a bogey. Both players posted a 216 after 54 holes of play.

Macbeth finished regular play with a 222 and captured third after the first hole of a playoff with Fowle. Graf came in with a 246.

The tourney concluded Friday.

New Tennis Class, Aug. 2

Upon the request of many people, the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department is offering another adult (16 and over) tennis class, one intermediate and one beginner.

The beginner class will start on August 2 at 6:00 p.m. and will run every Monday and Wednesday for 3 weeks. Class time will be 1½ hours long. Cost of instruction is $8.00.

The intermediate class will start on August 2 at 7:30 p.m. and will be held Monday and Wednesday evenings for 3 weeks. All classes will be held at the Tecumseh Park.

Tourney Slated

There will be an invitational tennis tournament for all students who have participated in Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department's tennis classes this summer.

The Junior Singles Tournament will be on August 19 and 20, and the 21 if needed. It will be a double elimination tournament, for both boys and girls.

Entry fee will be $1.75 and trophies will be given to the winners.

The adult tournament will be both doubles and singles held on August 20 and 21, and on the 22 if needed. Entry fee will be $2.25 and trophies will be given to the winners.

Palmer Wins Golf Tourney

The Frank Smith Memorial Tournament was held at Tecumseh Country Club July 5.

Murray Palmer captured the top spot with a gross of 96 and a net of 64 with a 32 handicap. Bud DuRussel was second with a gross of 83, a net of 64 and a 19 handicap.

Gary Jahner had a low gross of 72 and Jim Erb had second low gross of 73. Harold Kelly and Cash Beechler tied for third low gross with a 78.

Entrants finishing behind the leaders were, Mike McKie with a gross of 80, net of 66 and 14 handicap; Bill Powell, gross of 83, net of 66, 17 handicap; Bryce Roekle, gross of 79, net of 66, 13 handicap; Ed Steele, gross of 94, net 68, 26 handicap.

Bears Whip Colts, 10-4

The Bears trailed the Colts 4-2 after three innings of play in Britton little League action last Thursday. But the Bears came back strong scoring four runs in the fourth inning and another four in the sixth to win it 10-4 going away.

Stotler was also one of the leading batters for the Bears along with Tyke Eccleston and Dennis Shock. Mike Kniffen and David Irvin were Colt leading hitters. Irvin scored a home run.

David Below made two "great catches" in the outfield according to coaches in the first inning for the Colts. The Bears scored a double play by Brian Fanslau to Tyke Eccleston to Mike Harriott.

VFW Rallies to Win, 9-6

Pony League

VFW rallied from a 5-1 deficit to win 9-6 in extra innings over Ottawa Machine. Strack had three hits.

Ron Smith and Rick Ebright combined for 14 strike-outs for LaVoy's 6-2 victory over Ottawa Machine.

Halvin struck out 16 and helped his own cause by hitting two RBI's. Gaston's took it 7-6 over LaVoy.

Andy Neilson pitched a two-hitter for UPW in their 10-6 victory over LaVoy. UPW lost the first contest 12-11 to LaVoy.

Kevin Salters pitched a one-hitter during Ottawa's 7-3 win over Gaston's.

Major League

Steve Britt struck out 11 pitching a two-hitter in Kiwanis' 19-0 shut out of UPW. Jim Quinn had five hits.

Jack McConnell scored the winning run and played one of his best games of the season for the JC's in helping to defeat Plywood 1-0.

Kevin King, Steve Britt, Mike Hoover and Graham Mordon all had three hits in Rotary's 11-9 win over Credit Union.

Other scores: Tecumseh Plywood 23, Exchange 9; Credit Union 11, Kiwanis 8; JC's 8, Exchange 6; Police 11, Tecumseh Plywood 2; Police 12, Exchange 9.

Minor League

Angels 6, Athletics 0; Red Sox 21, Royals 11; Twins 13, Athletics 13; Royals 14, Orioles 4.

Youths Clear Raisin River

It's clear canoeing down the Raisin from Clinton to Tecumseh.

Last Saturday nine youths from Boyswille's Ford Hall sawed, chopped and finally removed several large trees which were blocking a one-mile stretch of the river.

Jake Cuevas, their counselor, resides in Adrian.

The project took several hours and the youths felt proud of the achievement which required the use of several saws and axes. One axe was lost in the process and was not recovered.

Sign Up for Raisin Valley Tournament

Raisin Valley Golf Club Women's 18-hole best ball scramble, is Aug. 8 at 9 a.m.

Teams will be drawn by handicap.

The Rev. David Fox and Roger Proctor discuss Town Meeting with Jeff Roper, center.

TM Coming to City

By KATHY BROWN

TM is coming to Tecumseh this fall and the whole town is invited to participate.

TM is not Transendental Meditation. It is an abbreviation for Town Meeting, a New England tradition used to bring people together to plan their future.

Michigan communities are reviving the technique to bridge the communication gap between local government and its constituency.

In an effort to bolster communication between Tecumseh's government and its residents, 28 Tecumseh city, civic and business leaders met July 22 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church to hear the Town Meeting concept explained.

The meeting was arranged by the Tecumseh Bicentennial Committee, the Rev. David Fox is chairman.

Jeff Roper, a representative of the Institute of Cultural Affairs, a non-profit organization which coordinates the town meetings, presented slides of Town Meetings successfully held in Kalamazoo, Madison Heights, Charlotte, Pontiac, Ann Arbor, Flint and Bay City.

Tentative Tecumseh date is Oct. 23.

The focus of the Town Meeting is on the quality of community life. People of all ages and backgrounds are invited to attend and expected to participate in making proposals to advance the community through community action.

The ICA facilitates the day of dialogue by training volunteer leaders for guiding the smaller workshops. Two ICA consultants are sent on the meeting day. ICA also supplies each community with workbooks that suggest how to begin talking about and solving problems. At the end of the day the challenges and proposals the TM participants have recommended are printed in booklet form by ICA staff.

The document published during the day serves as a check list of remedies.

"If a community takes itself seriously, it can come up with ideas about what can be done," said Roper.

ICA's fee for the TM is $600. Eight percent of the cost is for printing. Other fees and costs may be incurred by the community for meals and meeting facilities.

However funding has not been a major concern at the present time. In view of response thus far, the Bicentennial Committee is confident the community wants the program and sponsors will be found.

That something like TM is needed in Tecumseh, everyone who spoke at Thursday's meeting agreed; others were open to the plan. City Council has also expressed interest in the program.

The Bicentennial Committee has challenged community organizations to guarantee 10 percent attendance of their memberships for the Town Meeting.

Volunteers are also needed for a steering committee to promote, plan and carry out the project. Anyone interested may call the Rev. David Fox or Roger Proctor for more information.

Aug. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Tecumseh Public Library, Clara Waldron Room is the next crucial planning and information meeting.

Suffers Burns

Lonal Bishop, 216 N. Van-Buren, received first, second and third degree burns to the right foot July 23 when a radiator hose burst while he was working on a car at his home.

The city fire department truck driver and Herald employee has been off work this past week, but expects to return in another week.

New Service Is Planned at Hospital

Herrick Memorial Hospital in Tecumseh has petitioned the state for approval to add a new service.

In keeping with federal and state requirements which call for prior approval before expanding services, the administration of Herrick Memorial Hospital has applied for a Certificate of Need to the Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction of the State Health Department.

The hospital proposes to lease space to Dr. Nancy Newlin who would provide the hospital's patients with ultrasound diagnostic service.

Dr. Newlin would furnish the machine, perform the diagnostic work, and bill the patients independently of the hospital.

If approved, the new service would be made available to patients by fall.

Serve Meals to Seniors

The Lenawee Council on Aging served about 36 meals on Monday and about 25 on Tuesday to Tecumseh senior citizens at noon at the Community Center.

This is considered a good number for the program which just began. Menu for Aug. 2-6 is in The Herald. To make reservations, contact the Tecumseh Recreation Dept. at 423-5602.

The LCOA is also accepting applications on Thursday and Friday at the Community Center for a part-time position as site director of the Tecumseh Senior Citizens Site.

LCOA is looking for someone who enjoys older people and has knowledge of social services and leisure activities.

Candidates Here

Tecumseh Kiwanis will meet Judge Yale Kerby and Judge Kenneth Glaser at the Aug. 3 breakfast meeting at 7 a.m. at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church. Both contending for the newly created circuit court judgeship.

Harvey Koselka and Henry Crudder, candidates for prosecuting attorney will also be introduced. Jim Daly is chairman for the meeting.

CITY BALLOTS ARE LIGHT

Most Primary Races Are in Townships

By Kathy Brown

Although the Aug. 3 primary will decide many political races, city voters actually will participate in just two contests, both Congressional.

There is a race for the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives for the Republicans and the Senate for the Democrats.

While many other candidates will be listed on both the Democrat and Republican ballots, none will involve races.

Eight Republican contests will provide the excitement in the Aug. 3 General Election Primary for six townships in the Tecumseh area.

In all but two township races, the office will be decided at the primary contest. Only two Republicans will have Democrat challengers in the fall: in Franklin Township where there is no primary contest for supervisor and in Raisin Township where there is a Republican primary contest for trustee.

All supervisor, clerk and treasurer posts are two-year terms. One trustee and constable is elected every four years.

There are four supervisor contests, in Raisin Township between Richard Gallaway and Clarke Wilson (James Mitchell is resigning after 40 years.) in Macon Township between Charles Bigelow, incumbent, and Otto Miller; in Ridgeway Township between Robert Auten, incumbent, and Gerald Filter and in Clinton Township between Frank Gignac and James Wilson.

Besides a contest for supervisor, Raisin Township also has a three-way primary contest for trustee, among Lee P. Coffey, incumbent, John L. Ruggierlo and Eugene Vaughn.

The Republican selected in the primary will face Democratic challenger David Irwin in November.

Raisin Township also has a three-way primary contest for treasurer among Majorie Comfort, incumbent, Greta Isley and Lynette Sayler.

Other Raisin Township candidates are Shirley Roback-R, clerk; and Harry A. Withrow Jr., incumbent and Kenneth Kendall, both Republicans, seeking two constable offices. John Escott-R, the second constable, presently serving, is not seeking reelection.

Other candidates in Macon Township besides the supervisor contest are Beatrice Gilmore, clerk; Sandra Bortel, treasurer and Lawrence Hoagland, trustee all Republican incumbents.

Edward Clark-R, incumbent and Dean Moore-R are candidates for two constable offices. Hamilton Moore is retiring as constable creating a new office there.

In Ridgeway Township besides the race for supervisor, is the two-way contest for trustee between Fred Bryan and Walter Denny, incumbent, both Republicans. Other candidates on the ballot are Arlyne Banks, clerk and Russ Spalding, treasurer, both Republicans and incumbents seeking reelection.

In Clinton Township, other candidates besides those in the supervisor primary race are Janet Welch, clerk; Mary Hull, treasurer, James Meeks, trustee and Leo Smith, constable. All are imcumbents and Republicans.

Clinton Township Library Board candidates are John Colton, incumbent and Harry Comstock, both running for two, six-year terms. Dennis [illegible], incumbent and challenger Karen Bolgos are contestants trying for one, two-year unexpired term.

In Tecumseh Township, all Republican incumbents are seeking reelection: J.H. Tonneberger, supervisor; Albert Merz, clerk; Helen Sharpe, treasurer and Hebert F. Long, trustee.

Franklin Township will have a supervisor contest in the November election between Jay Osburn-D challenger and Richard Platt-R incumbent. Both will be listed on the Aug. 3 ballot.

Wesley Whelan-R incumbent, clerk and Donald Daniels-R, treasurer are seeking reelection; Thomas Northley and David Whelan, both Republicans, are candidates for the two constable offices.

Absentee ballots may be picked up from township clerks and must be submitted by 2 p.m. July 31. Emergency ballots, to be signed in the presence of the clerk, may be completed up to 2 p.m. the day before the election, Aug. 2.

Polls are open Aug. 3 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The respective polls are at the Raisin Township fire station on Occidental and Gady Rds. precinct 2 and the fire hall in Holloway precinct 1; Macon Township Hall on Welch Rd. at Ridge Rd., Beatrice Gilmore, clerk; Ridgeway Township Fire Hall on S. Main St. in Britton, Arlyne Banks, clerk; Tecumseh Township at Les Dallas Motor Sales, Albert Merz, clerk; Clinton Township at Clinton Middle School, Janet Welch clerk; at Franklin Township on M-50, Wesley Whelan, clerk.

Burt St. Project Near End - Maybe

Most of the work now closing Burt St. will probably be finished yet this week, according to Cal Zorn, city manager.

Selders Excavating is currently wrapping up the installation of sewer leads. Other work to be done includes the installation of a lift station and a forced main.

Zorn said both of these projects are off the street and should cause little problem for traffic.

City officials will meet Friday with Tecumseh Country Club representatives relative to installing sewer and water lines to the club house. If this work is approved, the present sewer would be extended east on Burt St. and Milwaukee Rd., and again closing that portion of the street for a short period of time.

$2,000 Loss

Sherriff's deputies are investigating a burglary of a Tecumseh home that netted the thieves $2000 in household goods.

The thieves reportedly broke into the Joseph A. Nykodum home, 3403 Gove Ct., early last week while the family was on vacation.

Taken were tools, a television, stereo equipment, jewelry, and other items totally over $2000.

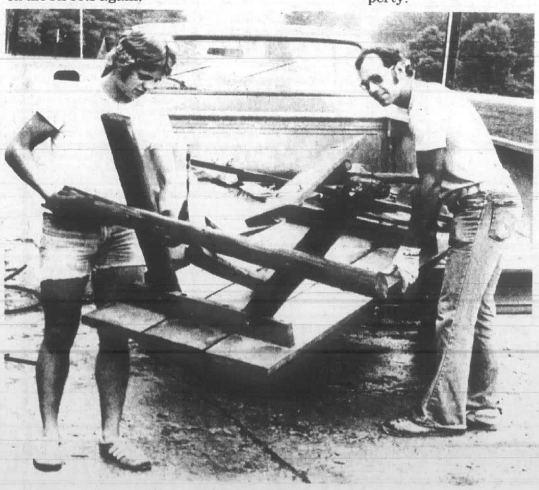
HOPE TO HALT VANDALISM, PROPERTY DESTRUCTION

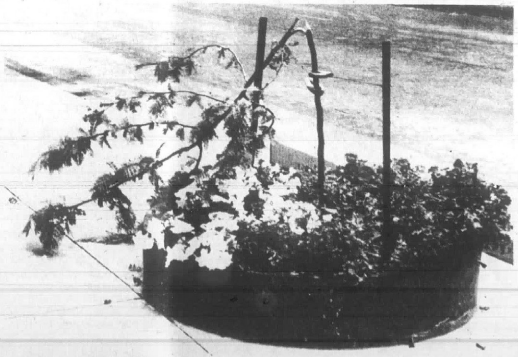
$100 Reward Offered for Information

Vandalism, a senseless and costly act, continues to plague the community and residents, most of whom would like to see the culprits caught and actually punished, not just scolded and turned out on the streets again.

A $100 reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the party, or parties, responsible for vandalism or destruction to either Chamber of Commerce or city property.

Although Council has not approved city participation in the reward, several city officials have been contacted, and all favor the reward - or any other action that would bring a halt to the vandalism. Council is expected to act on the reward issue next Monday night.





VANDALISM — City and Chamber of Commerce members are taking action by offering a $100 reward in hopes of curbing much of the property damage in the community. Photo at left shows an 8-foot picnic table that was clipped by an auto after it was placed in the middle of E. Chicago Blvd. at the Community Center sometime before 3 a.m. last Friday. Above picture simply shows a senseless vandalism act. (Photos by Kent Downing)

Several members of the Chamber also favor the reward and indicate the Chamber board should actively support it. Many businesses have sustained damages, mostly glass breakage.

Last Friday, three acts of vandalism were reported. One of the acts could easily have been more than just vandalism, especially if someone had been seriously injured or killed.

About 3:00 a.m. last Friday, an auto driven by Danny Horton, 19, of 12520 Smith Rd., Britton, crashed into a city picnic table that had been placed in the middle of E. Chicago Blvd. at the Community Center. The table had been taken from the city picnic area there.

Horton was eastbound at the time and clipped one end of the table. Passengers in his car were Glenda Horton, 17; Joel T. Andrews, 19; and David Pennington, 16. Fortunately, none was injured.

Also early Friday morning or late Thursday evening, vandals snapped one of the Chamber of Commerce's new trees, adjacent to the bank on N. Evans St. Less than a block away, a large commercial waste container was shoved - probably by a vehicle - into the side of a pickup truck owned by Forest Abner of Abner's Service.

The Chamber has initiated a beautification plan for downtown Tecumseh and the trees along with new curb lighting are part of the project. In a period of about six months, two trees have been broken, and in some instances flowers have been pulled from the planters and scattered on the sidewalks.

4-H'ers Fly to Japan

Harry Withrow has joined a group of 58 Michigan 4-H teenagers flying to Japan.

These young people are flying to Japan as the second phase of a Japanese LABO - 4-H Teen Exchange.

Each teenager will live for three weeks with a Japanese host family. The American exchangee will be treated as a member of the family — working and playing together with his-her Japanese host parents, brothers and sisters.

The final week of the exchange will be spent touring Japan, visiting such ancient cities as Tokyo, Kikko and Snasu.

The youths will also participate in a four-day LABO summer camp during their stay.

The exchange is jointly coordinated by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service and the LABO Exchange Foundation of Japan. The program was first instituted in Michigan in 1974.

The families of the participants first became involved in the exchange in 1975 when they hosted Japanese youth visiting the United States. They also worked hard to organize the 4-H International Dinner held in April.

Malicious Destruction on Rise

Malicious destruction to private property is on the rise in Tecumseh this week as police investigated four such incidents.

July 23 - Police noticed malicious destruction to the 100 block of downtown Tecumseh along N. Evans at 3:45 a.m. Several flowers had been ripped out of the tree planters and one tree was broken.

Forrest Abner, 808 Outer Dr., told police that a large, trash barrel had been rammed into the side of his service vehicle during the night.

July 24 - Tom Cook II, 1202 Murray Dr., reported vehicle damage to his car at 2:50 a.m. He found his windshield smashed and driver's side doors dented while parked on the 100 block of E. Logan.

July 25 - Chari Jagelka, 9520 Tonneberger, reported malicious destruction to her auto while she was in it. She was in an alleyway to the rear of Lamb's when a subject came up swinging his belt and struck the top of her car with the buckle twice.

In other police complaints:

Police reportedly were stopped at a traffic sign when a subject approached them, claiming a young man just shook one of the new light poles downtown until the light went out. The citizen left with the police to identify the subject.

Police then observed a man throwing a can of beer into one of the tree bases in the downtown area. Dranginis was identified at that time as the one who shook the pole.

Russell B. Ferguson, 32, of 707 Russell Rd. was arrested for carrying a concealed, unregistered gun.

Officers observed a vehicle traveling on W. Chicago with the horn sounding and subjects yelling. They stopped the vehicle to check the driver and occupants.

The driver reportedly reached for his registration in the glove box when police showed their light to help. They then spotted the gun in the glove box.

July 25 - Char Bryant, 515 S. Occidental, reported the larceny of CB wire and tools from his home. Also missing was a motorcycle helmet.

July 26 - William Groulx, 828 N. Evans, reported an attempted breaking and entering of Airport Bowl. The date and time of the attempt is unknown. Groulx found a broken glass at the rear of the building, but no entry was gained.

Sue Gould, 224 Maple, reported a stolen bike at Tecumseh Park. Bicycle loss was estimated at $125.

Richard Beaubien, 1007 Russell Rd., reported the theft of a piggy bank with coins. The bank contained silver and half dollars. Total loss was set at $200.

July 27 - Richard L. McKenzie, 33, of Onsted was arrested after he was observed traveling west of town along M-50 at a high rate of speed. He reportedly went off the shoulder of the road and drove left of center several times. The subject was doing in excess of 70 mph.

Ellen Zimmerman, 212 E. Chicago, reported the theft of her 10-speed bike valued at $140. The bicycle was taken from the Tecumseh pool area while she was working.

The bicycle was soon recovered when police were told two youths from Ridgeway had the bicycle. Both boys were told at the time that they would be petitioned to Probate Court.

That bicycle was recovered in a Tecumseh neighborhood after it was reportedly left there by the same two Ridgeway boys that were earlier found with the Zimmerman bike.

Six Accidents, Three Are Cited

Police investigated two accidents this week that could have resulted in serious injury, but did not. Six accidents in all were investigated with three citations written.

Thursday, July 22, David A. French was cited for careless driving after he went in the ditch along M-50, west of town on four occasions. No one was injured in the incident as no other cars were involved, but French did hit one telephone pole.

Witnesses to the incident reported that French left the Cedar Shack at a high rate of speed, traveling west. Police checked the vehicle's speed in excess of 70 mph.

Reports explain that French lost control of his car by Tecumseh Plywood, going into the ditch to the right. He then crossed the road into the opposite ditch, and then crossed M-50 again to the first ditch. He crossed M-50 a fourth time, hitting a telephone pole along the left ditch.

Officers then blocked the French vehicle from traveling along the road berm, as French was attempting to regain control of his car to get back on the highway.

In other police action:

July 21 - Lisa K. Goll, 16, of Britton and Iva Hotrum, 75, 203 E. Shawnee, collided. The Hotrum vehicle was pulling out of the city hall west drive when she struck the Goll vehicle.

July 23 - Ronald A. Birchfield, 16, of 211 S. Democrat told police that the car in front of him at the corner of S. Maumee and E. Chicago wanted to back up, so he backed to make room. Birchfield did not see a car, driven by Donald D. Phillippi, 49, of Adrian behind him. Birchfield was cited for improper backing.

A few minutes later, while the Phillippi vehicle was still in the middle of the road because of the accident, another incident occurred. Stephen A. Horvat, 79, of Manchester attempted to pass Phillippi and struck the vehicle in the left rear side.

Francisco M. Terrasi, 25, Russell Rd., and Rebecca L. Stormes, 19, of 706 S. Occidental collided on W. Chicago. Terrasi was reportedly moving into the left lane to turn while Stormes was already in the same lane passing. The lanes as yet, are not marked for left turn only.

July 25 - Mary C. Miller, 46, of Adrian was cited for failure to yield after she pulled out of Kroger store and struck a vehicle operated by Steven Barron, 22, of 405 S. Pearl.

The role of the Clergy at Time of Death

In attempting to console the bereaved, the clergyman can sometimes find himself in seemingly a conflict with the facts of death, as observed by the bereaved.

Statements by a father to his five-year-old child such as "Now mummy's gone to Heaven" are too complex and yet too simple for the child to accept--especially when the child has seen the tears and expressions of grief of family and friends.

The minister can be of great assistance in defining the DIFFERENCES between physical (body of the deceased) and the soul (spirit of the deceased). It can be far healthier emotionally to allow the minister (priest or rabbi) to help the family of the deceased as they work openly through their grief than to permit their sadness to be repressed or concealed. The clergymen have been trained to assist in times of stress. Their experiences--drawn from real life-and-death situations--can be invaluable. The many sources of comfort and aid to which they have access may be most beneficial. They are anxious, moreover, to serve their congregations in these hours of grief-counselling.

This is one of a series of brief articles I hope will be helpful. We welcome your questions--in private or publicly.

Nuptial Vows Are Recited

WED IN CALIFORNIA — St. Bridget of Sweden Catholic Church, Van Nuys, Calif., was the setting for the marriage of Marie Ann Hoffman and Daryle Lee Coombes, June 18. The Rev. Mate Lukac officiated. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Hoffman, 504 E. Logan St. and Mr. and Mrs. Hebert Coombes, Montery, Calif. The bride's parents, brothers, Mike and Rick, and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Irelan, all of Tecumseh, attended the wedding.

Nuptial vows were recited by Deborah L. Seal and Michael W. Tilton before the Rev. Kenneth Boyd in First Baptist Church, July 17.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Seal, 1416 Southwick and Mr. and Mrs. William Tilton, 506 Stacy.

Carol Christman was the organist and Floyd Wells was the soloist.

As she approached the altar with her father, the bride wore a organza gown of Victorian styling featuring a stand-up ruffled neckline, a lace accented bodice and long, full sleeves. The full skirt was edged with a deep ruffle. Her elbow length veil was held by a pearl-trimmed, floweret headpiece.

She carried a hand-tatted handkerchief made by her paternal grandmother, and her bouquet was fashioned of roses, baby's breath and stephanotis.

Mrs. Dennis Moore was matron of honor. She wore a lavendar organza gown with flower headpiece, and carried a basket of daisies and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids, who wore gowns of peach or pale green organza, were Mrs. Steve Tilton, St. Thomas, Ont. Canada, the bride's sister-in-law; Lori Ann Seal, the bride's sister, and Vicky Vescilius.

Reception at Products Workers' Union Hall was attended by 350 guests.

The groom is a 1971 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Ford Motor Co., Saline.

Upon return from a wedding trip to Northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Pawnee Heights.

Resumes of Candidates in Aug. 3 Primary

Raisin

RICHARD GALLAWAY

Richard Gallaway-R, candidate for supervisor of Raisin Township has been Raisin Township trustee for 12 years (three, four-year terms).

In 1975 he was appointed acting supervisor by the Raisin Township Board for three months, while retiring supervisor, James Mitchell was ill.

Gallaway feels his experience as trustee and working experience with the township boards helped train him to be supervisor.

He said he is interested in meeting the township's needs and keeping the township a good place to live and work.

Gallaway is a high school graduate and supplemented his education with management and government seminars. He is a plant foreman by profession.

A life-long resident of Raisin Township, he resides at 105 Raisin Center Hwy. with his wife, Gloria and son, Richard A., 15. Two other children are Carol, 25 and Neil, 23.

CLARKE WILSON

Clarke Wilson-R, candidate for Raisin Township supervisor, has served on the Board of Review for six years and the Township Planning Commission for two years.

"Raisin Township is the fastest growing township in Lenawee County. It is important that this growth be controlled to benefit us all. One thing that I feel strongly about is giving greater publicity to township questions before final decisions are made.

"Also, I feel appointments to township boards should be shared by as many families as possible. No family should be on more than one township board." Wilson said.

"This knowledge of small business and agriculture will help me understand the problems of many Raisin township families," Wilson said.

He is a member of the Christ Episcopal Church Vestry, President of the PTO, and a 4-H Community Leader. He is a member of the Masons, American Legion, Rome Grange and Farm Bureau.

He has lived in Raisin Township for the past 11 years and in the county all his life.

He is 43 and a graduate of Adrian High School.

MARJORIE COMFORT

Marjorie Comfort-R, incumbent treasurer is seeking reelection. She has served four years as treasurer, (two, two-year terms).

While in office she said she established the township's first investment program, so that funds can earn interest until they are needed; helped the Township gain in federal revenue sharing funds when Washington did not allow for recent growth and redesigned the property tax forms to be easier and faster to prepare and read.

"This could be a hectic year for tax time," she noted. "Raisin will have a new supervisor, who takes office in mid-November. The tax statements should go out Dec. 1. I believe my experience and familiarity with the tax rolls will be beneficial to the township residents."

Mrs. Comfort has a bachelor's degree in journalism from Michigan State University. She has also had a class in governmental accounting.

She has worked for several newspapers in southern Michigan, including The Detroit Free Press.

She has lived in the township since 1962 and resides with her husband, Gordon, on Sutton Rd. with their two daughters.

Mrs. Comfort is a former president of the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh and is currently president of the Environmental Council of Lenawee (ECOL), a county-wide volunteer group concerned with conservation of natural resources.

GRETA J. ISLEY

Greta J. Isley-R is candidate for Raisin Township treasurer. She has been associated with the public in some form or other most of her life.

She has been a 4-H leader, Brownie Leader and has given her time for school functions and school committees.

At present, she is a licensed realtor and member of the national, state and local board of realtors and Women's Council. She is an associate of Whatley Realty Inc.

She has also worked as a cashier in several stores, managed a gift shop and worked in direct sales.

"It is my feeling that we need new leadership in the township government. Someone with new ideas and methods. Someone willing to give more time and effort in performing their job. Someone to cooperate with township officials and work in the best interest of the local people. If elected I promise to perform my duties to the best interest of the local taxpayer," said Mrs. Isley.

Mrs. Isley attended Adrian and Tecumseh public schools. She has been a resident of Raisin township for 10 years and a county resident all her life. She and her husband, Harold, reside at 8 Ridgemont Dr. They have two children.

LYNETTE SAYLER

A candidate for Raisin Township treasurer, Lynette Sayler-R is a wife, mother of two boys and a part-time student at Adrian College working for a bachelor degree in accounting. She has maintained an A-average.

Mrs. Sayler has worked several accounting positions. Her more recent work experience includes supervisor of accounting department of the Lenawee County Department of Social Services in Adrian for 2½ years. She worked in cooperation with county offices and while in this position, gained some experience with state programs.

She has also worked for Faraday as a bookkeeper, Fisher Body in the payroll department and for Montgomery Wards as head bookkeeper.

"I don't think I'll be completely blank going into it (the office of treasurer), said Mrs. Sayler.

Mrs. Sayler said she had considered the office for a time and decided to enter the race "instead of being a spectator." She said she is enthusiastic about the office, is concerned, wants to get involved, contribute something to local government and see the tax monies are put to best use for the people in the township.

Mrs. Sayler is a member of the Raisin Center Friends Church in Birdsall and is treasurer of the Tipton PTO.

She was graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1964. She is 30 years old and has lived in Raisin Township since 1958. She and husband, Dale reside with their sons at 1595 Ives Rd.

LEE P. COFFEY

Lee Coffey-R incumbent trustee is seeking reelection in Raisin Township. He has served eight years, (two, four-year terms.) He also represents the board on the township planning commission.

Coffey said he enjoys serving the township, would like to see controlled growth in Raisin Township, which he feels has been accomplished and he said he has missed only one meeting in eight years.

Coffey, 50, has worked for the Tecumseh Products Co. in inspection for 29 years.

He has resided in the township since 1952.

He is a Tecumseh High School graduate, served in the United States Navy in World War II and was post commander of the VFW three times.

Coffey and his wife, Louise have three sons and reside at 4671 N. Adrian Hwy. They attend the Adrian First Presbyterian Church.

JOHN L. RUGGIRELLO

John L. Ruggirello-R is a candidate for Raisin Township Trustee. He is product control manager at Bohn Aluminum.

Ruggirello has lived in the township for eight years; the family moved from Detroit.

"Now I want to get more involved with the community. I want to see what I can do to help. Raisin township is a growing township, I'd like to be a part of it in that respect," said Ruggirello. He said he has attended township meetings.

Ruggirello was graduated from Southeastern High School in Detroit and has studied general business and accounting at Monroe Community College and Siena Heights College.

He and his wife, Christine have a son and two daughters and reside at 5178 Osburn Dr.

EUGENE VAUGHN

Eugene Vaughn-R is a candidate for Raisin Township Trustee. He has served as a township planning commission member since 1972.

"I am actively interested in solving the township problems and regularly attend township meetings. As trustee, I would work for continued township growth, and would be available to answer your questions to the best of my ability," said Vaughn.

He is a high school graduate and is a foreman at the Tecumseh Products Co.

He and his wife, Bernadean reside at 4941 Raisin Center Hwy., with son, Jim. Two other children are married. Vaughn attends Tecumseh Friends Church.

Franklin

DALE COOK

Dale Cook-R is candidate for Franklin Township trustee. He was building inspector for the township and resigned in 1974 due to work obligations. Since then he is retired from Martin-Marietta Aluminum, Inc. He has also worked for Harvey Aluminum and Chevrolet Motor and said there would be nothing to compete with his time if elected trustee.

His prime interest is "to serve the people of the community to the best of my ability."

A Tecumseh High School graduate, Cook and his wife Edyth reside at 3854 Monroe Rd. They have a married son.

Cook was born and raised in the area and lived 25 years in his present residence. He is a Chancellor Commander of the Knights of Pythias, assistant to Tipton Grange master and a member of the Springbrook Lodge.

GREG HARDY

KENNETH KOONS

Kenneth Koons-R a candidate for Franklin Township trustee is a Sand Lake Fire Department Chief. He joined the department 11 years ago. He was secretary-treasurer of the Lenawee County Firemen's Association for one year and a member for six years. He was on the Franklin Township Bicentennial Committee and was president and vice-president at the Onsted PTO.

"I feel that the welfare and future of all the residents in the Franklin Township must be considered before making any major decisions, especially in time when our economy is of great concern. I would like to try and get the people more interested in their community. I would like everyone in Franklin Township to get out and vote, if not for me, for any of the other candidates running for public office. This is your right, why not use it?" said Koons.

Koons, 38, is a supervisor at General Motors, Ypsilanti. He worked there 18 years.

He is a Clinton High School graduate, attended Olivet College and received a certificate for real estate law at Vo-Tech in 1976. He is also an Emergency Medical Technician.

He and his wife, Ollie have three children and reside at 72 Pentecost Hwy. in Onsted. They resided in Onsted 11½ years.

Macon

Neither Charles Bigelow-R incumbent nor Otto Miller-R challenger could be reached for a resume. Both are seeking the office of Macon Township Supervisor.

Ridgeway

ROBERT AUTEN

Robert Auten-R is incumbent supervisor of Ridgeway Township seeking reelection. He has served as supervisor for six years, three two year terms.

Auten, 50, is a certified assessor. He is an insurance agent for Farm Bureau in Tecumseh. He is a Britton High School graduate and is a member of the American Legion Post in Britton.

He and his wife, Evelyn reside at 7547 E. Monroe Rd. with daughter, Karen, 18. Two other children are grown.

Auten was not available for comment. He is in the hospital for tests.

GERALD FILTER

Gerald Filter-R is a candidate for supervisor of Ridgeway Township. He did not want a resume printed.

FRED BRYAN

Fred Bryan-R, a candidate for Ridgeway Township Trustee, just retired after serving 20 years as a Village of Britton Councilman. He is a volunteer on the Britton Fire Department and is assistant chief.

Bryan, 60 is a Tecumseh High School graduate. He worked at Tecumseh Products Co. for 40 years. He also served on the Tecumseh Area Employees Credit Union board of directors and on the Products Workers Union Board. He attends Tecumseh First Baptist Church.

He and his wife, Helen, have a married son and daughter.

Bryan could not be reached for comment.

WALTER DENNY

Denny, 58, has served four years, or two, two-year terms. He is a mechanical engineer for Charles A. Strand of Detroit. He has graduated from Detroit Institute of Technology with a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering and passed the state test to be a professional engineer.

He is a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

He and his wife, Nellie (Jo), have four children and reside at 413 W. Chicago Blvd. in Britton.

Denny could not be reached for comment.

Sheriff Write-In

Ronald Brazee-D of Sand Creek is seeking to be the Democratic write-in candidate for Lenawee County Sheriff in the Aug. 3 Primary Election.

He is employed as supervisor at the Lenawee County Drain Commission.

He served as deputy sherrif as training officer of the Morenci police department. Brazee received credit from Jackson Community College in courses related to police work.

He was chosen most outstanding officer of the year in 1969.

Brazee, 43, is planning for all officers combined training programs in law enforcement, better cooperation and concern with other departments and more county coverage and lessening of tension between local police agencies.

A life-long county resident, he and his family reside in Sand Creek.

Procedures, Materials Needed to Document the History of Homes

Now that the Tecumseh Historic District Survey questionnaires have been mailed, many people are trying to document the history of their homes.

Listed below are some useful procedures and materials which will help you learn when houses were built and find other background information.

If you are a homeowner, the first place to start your research is the abstract of your property. This lists the buyers (grantees) and sellers (grantors).

If you do not have an abstract or if your abstract is incomplete, you can still research your home if you can recall the names of a previous buyer and seller. You can use these names to trace the earliest owners at the Register of Deeds, Lenawee County Courthouse, Adrian.

The Register of Deeds contains records of buyers and sellers of property from 1827 to date. Personnel at the Register of Deeds office will be glad to show you how to use the records, as they have been informed of Tecumseh's Historic District home survey.

The Register of Deeds has an alphabetical list of buyers and sellers. For example if you know that John Smith was the buyer and Harry Smith the seller in 1875, you would look under the name Harry Smith as a buyer, to find out whom he bought the property from.

Continue looking under the buyer and seller lists until you have completed your date to the earliest buyer and seller you can find.

The Register of Deeds is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Neither the abstracts nor the Register of Deeds record the date a house was built, but a great increase in the price of the property as shown on the abstract may indicate that a house was added since the property last changed hands. Thus the abstract may suggested an approximated date the home was built.

To find a more specific date, you should consult the Tecumseh tax assessment rolls because each entry contains a short description of the property, including the buildings.

Tecumseh City Hall has tax assessment rolls back to 1860. In these records, homeowners are listed alphabetically by last name in a volume for each year 1860 to date. This is why you must have as complete as possible a list of previous homeowners otherwise you will not be able to easily complete your search through the tax assessment rolls.

You may search the assessment rolls by checking under the owners' names, year by year, to find the first entry in which a house is mentioned.

By the description of the house and its position on the property, you may be able to determine whether the house is the one you live in.

City hall personnel ask you to call before paying a visit to make sure someone will be on hand to take you to the basement where the assessment rolls are located.

City Hall hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Lenawee County Historical Society Museum, 108 S. Main St., Adrian, has tax assessment rolls for Lenawee County from 1845 to 1899.

These are also bound by year and owners are listed in alphabetical order under the respective city or township of that year.

They list a brief accurate, description of the property and indicate a new building or one torn down.

Dr. Charles Lindquist, curator of the Lenawee County Museum said the museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 1-5 p.m. only. But a morning appointment may be arranged for Tuesday through Saturday by calling the museum at 265-667.

You may also wish to find historical information about previous owners. Tecumseh Public Library has a number of books which contain biographical information about former residents.

One of the best, of course, is Clara Waldron's ONE HUNDRED YEARS: A COUNTRY TOWN, which is now indexed. Other good sources are:

MEMOIRS OF LENAWEE COUNTY, by Richard I. Bonner, published in 1909; HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHICAL RECORD OF LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, by William Whitney and Richard Bonner, 1897; ILLUSTRATED HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHICAL RECORD OF LENAWEE COUNTY: MICHIGAN, by John I, Knapp and Richard K Bonner. 1903 PORTRAIT AND BIOGRAPHICAL ALBUM OF LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, 1888.

For information about early Tecumseh settler, you should also consult the paper's of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society. This set has a subject index which will lead you to a great deal of information about prominent early settlers.

You may also want to look for pictures of houses and street scenes, as well as other information in the Tecumseh vertical file, located in the Clara Waldron Room. Ask a librarian and she or he will be glad to show you the file.

Another library source for pictures of homes is the COMBINATION ATLAS OF LENAWEE COUNTY. Published in 1874, this atlas contains drawings of many prominent Tecumseh homes.

Painting Bee Revives Church

HOLLOWAY — An old-fashioned painting bee has been revived at the Holloway Presbyterian Church with the help of church members of the Toledo Collingwood Presbyterian Church. Other volunteers are from Erie, Lasalle, and Monroe Presbyterian churches.

While working on the white frame Holloway Raisin United Presbyterian Church, 5847 Holloway Rd., Britton, the group of 15 youth and 5 adults also conducted morning vacation Bible school for children in nearby Palmyra Presbyterian Church.

The volunteers are also painting the residence of the Palmyra Presbyterian Church.

The work bee is a project of the Christian education program at the Toledo church. The Rev. James Regester, associate minister, is also working beside the young adults.

The estimated cost of the youth project is $2,000 for the two week Michigan project. The Holloway church paid about $450 for the paint. They have opened their hearts to the students.

Temporary dorm facilities have been set up in both churches for the workers.

The two Michigan congregations are glad to have the visitors. Church membership is only about 100 now. The extra hands are appreciated to help with major maintenance.

The congregation financed a major renovation project last year. The building has been at its present location since 1915, although the congregation is more than a century old.

The sanctuary seats about 200 and features dark floors and woodwork, finely polished, maroon carpet and matching pew pads. The stained glass windows have also been kept in fine shape.

With work completed, the youth and church members can be proud.

SHARON CONNORS OF MACON

Correspondent Joins Herald

Sharon Connors, 9210 Clinton-Macon Rd. joins the Herald staff as new Macon correspondent.

In a sense, she steps out of the shadows and into the limelight since most people in the Tecumseh area are acquainted with her husband, Pat, Tecumseh High School football and wrestling coach and history teacher.

Sharon however is no football widow. As a former player's parent and as a coach's wife, she is an active Indian booster. In fact, she will be a cook at the Indian football camp for 55 young men at Camp DeSales, near Vineyard Lake.

"The hardest part will be getting along with the coach," Sharon said jokingly.

The Connors have four children, Patrick Jr., 21, a pre-law student at Eastern Michigan University; Mike, 19, in the United States Army stationed at Fort Hood, Tex.; Timothy, 12, at Tecumseh Junior High School and daughter Kristin, 8, a student at Ridgeway School.

Other activities which keep Sharon active are the Macon Historical Society, St. Elizabeth Catholic Church where she is a catechism teacher, the Herrick Hospital Auxiliary and the Ridgeway PTO. She has also volunteered to work in the County mass immunization program.

Sharon initiates her column this week by asking you to participate in a contest to name the column.

? ? Macon ? ?

By SHARON CONNORS
423-7219

As your Macon correspondent I plan to report all news of interest in the Macon area. I am relying on all my neighbors to help me do this. Our first need is a title for this column, so we are starting out with a contest.

The Herald staff will judge the winning title and give a free year subscription to the winner. The contest is open to Macon area residents of all ages.

Submit your suggestion to me by phone 423-7219 or mail to 9210 Clinton-Macon Rd., Tecumseh, or drop it in a box at the Macon Grocery.

Your suggestion and your name and address are all that is needed on your entry. The contest closes Aug. 8, so get busy, start thinking and get your idea in!!

Pioneer Sunday at the Macon United Methodist church was a success. A highlight was a display on the bulletin board of a local Macon family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas presented by Mrs. Phyllis Thomas. It was a history of the Thomas family back to the family of Even Thomas of early Macon.

Vacation Bible School will be held August 23-27. Volunteers will be needed for teachers & helpers. Please contact Evelyn Hawkins 423-2703.

The Macon Historical Society met at the home of Linda and Bill Phillips July 17. A profit of $1,059 was reported from the Pie Social. Work on restoring Mills School will continue through the summer. The next meeting will not be until Oct. 2. A member party is also in the planning for October.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark and John returned Sunday from a week of camping in the Manistee area.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tucker spent the weekend in Clare. They visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tucker and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCombs (former Tecumsehites from Boca Raton, Fla. visited Elton and Isabel (McCombs) Helle this past week. The Helles have been living on Smith Rd. since the first of the year.

Pat and Sharon Connors along with Ted and Kay Todd attended the Dan Howlett - Terri Stevens wedding near Akron, Ohio July 24. Dan is an assistant football and wrestling coach at Tecumseh High.

Mrs. Agatha Camburn and Bob were in Waterville, Ohio Saturday visiting the L. A. Spaffords. Mrs. Camburn tells me Bessie Travis is reported to be doing some better. She is hoping to make a trip to Macon soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hawkins attended a birthday celebration for Steven at the George Hawkins' in Britton Sunday afternoon.

Club Plans Summer Picnic

The Wit and Wisdom Club will have its summer picnic supper at the Satterthwaite Park, east of the Tecumseh Community Center on Aug. 2 at 6 p.m.

Bring a dish to pass and table service and drink.

1966 Graduate Is 'Outstanding'

Emily Manwaring former Tecumsehite and now of Jackson will be included in the 1976 edition of Outstanding Women of America.

Women between the ages of 21-36 are selected for the distinction for their accomplishments in professions, community and in their homes. They must exhibit leadership, service and dedication.

Miss Manwaring is assistant to the director of admissions at Jackson Community College and is also women's athletics coach. For the past two years the school's basketball team went to Kansas for the junior college national women's basketball tournaments. This past year the team was runner-up.

JCC's volleyball team also played in the junior college national women's volleyball tournament in Maryland this past November and were fifth.

She was selected coach of the year for the team's Region 12 in both sports.

Miss Manwaring is a 1966 Tecumseh High School graduate and a 1970 graduate of Michigan State University. She majored in physical education. She taught four years at Portland High School near Lansing before coming to Jackson.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring, 116 W. Pottawatamie.

In addition to being presented with the annual awards volume, Miss Manwaring will be considered for one of 51 state awards and may be selected one of the 10 outstanding Young Women of America.

The creatures of the woods scurry to their dens to wait out the approaching storm. Every living thing in the forest seems to be holding its breath . . . in anticipation . . . or in fear.

And this is the way of the world. There will always be anxiety . . . always fear — even in the heart of man.

And where does man go for refuge? To what or to whom does he look for comfort and safety?

For centuries the Church has offered him protection against the adversities of life. It even offers him miracles. Certainly it promises solace and peace when grief and fear beset him.

Come to the House of the Lord . . . while the storm is raging . . . and forever thereafter.

Vote in the General Primary Election Aug. 3. "Bad officials are elected by people who don't vote."

Mr. and Mrs. John Seay and three children have returned from a two week camping trip to Virginia Beach, Va., where they visited the Norfolk Navy Base, toured historic Williamsburg and returned by the Skyline Drive in the Blue Ridge Mountains. Their houseguests are her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Kirby, formerly of Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvie Reitz and Mrs. Dale Reitz, spent the past week in Illinois visiting relatives and friends.

Ronald Reitz of Milton, Va., spent several days at the home of his brother and family in Britton of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arvie Reitz in Tecumseh. He came especially to help celebrate his parents 50th wedding anniversary returning home on Wednesday.

Pamela Hoehn, 6510 Gove St. a senior in elementary education at Western Michigan University has completed a three-day workshop conducted by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration designed to broaden the teachers' knowledge on space achievements.

Participants built and flew model airplanes, launched miniature rockets and sent up balloons with return post-cards.

Former Tecumsehites Beulah and former mayor George McCombs of Boca Raton, Fla. visited in the area for the past two weeks. They spent a day in Ypsilanti with son, Bob and his wife, Sharon. After dinner they visited Heatherdowns Lounge in Toledo, Ohio where Bob opened his entertainment engagement.

The McCombs also stayed with their daughter and son-in-law, Elton and Isabel Helle on Smith Rd. in Britton.

A visit to their niece and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. John Keyser of Port Huron was made. Mrs. Keyser is the former Jackie Dunn, daughter of Jerry and Ellen Dunn. Dr. Keyser recently finished his residency and has gone into partnership with several other doctors in Port Huron. John and Jackie Keyser have three children. A long haul over with and well worth it.

Finally for the McCombs was a five-day camping visit with their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Brad McCombs in Northern Michigan.

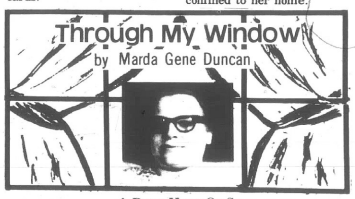
Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



A Busy Hour Or So

All indications were that it just might be a rather hectic afternoon; therefore, after lunch I had my bed moved from its usual spot in front of the window.

I was pushed back into the corner a little which meant that Gertie T.'s table and typewriter were slightly out of their usual position too. We made the moves because they made more company room but it turned out that the new positions and the slightly different window viewing angles rewarded us with some most exciting bird watching.

All morning Gertie T. and I had discussed the choke cherries on the other side of the little ravine behind the white end-of-the-street barrier.

The trees are so much taller than they were last year and, of course, the clumps of cherries much more numerous. It looked like a good crop, certainly a pretty one.

The sun shining on the bright red fruit made a most eye pleasing sight. We thought it should be an appetite teasing sight for some hungry birds too. In no time at all it was. But the screaming grackles, hollering bluejays, and quarreling starlings hardly counted.

We wanted something nicer and not long after we shifted to the new position Gertie T. spotted it. She exclaimed in surprise, pointed towards the choke cherries, and excitedly said that a gorgeous red-headed woodpecker was choking down the cherries.

Wow! These patriotic birds, red heads- white bodies- blue black wings, are great fruit eaters. I have often watched them nip off a mulberry as they flew by and Gertie T. reported that they were just as adept at picking cherries on the wing. What fun.

Next came the kid cardinals. Mom was in the room so she shared this adventure. The young, but nevertheless out on her own, female cardinal lit on the northernmost end of the near-my-window feeder.

She was an obliging gal and soon hopped to the other tray which was in my line of vision. A charming youngster, she was still dark billed and baby brown but her eyebrows were beginning to show red and there were red highlights in her tail.

Her 'crowning glory' was the top-knot she held up so tall and erect. It was pretty and she held it with such pride that we just knew the ability to raise and lower it was a new found talent.

Suddenly another cardinal landed on the feeder. Brother had come to join his sister. As they sat side by each on the edge of the tray, perfectly happy at being together, we chuckled at the difference in their appearance.

She was so soft and smooth looking but he was rough and ragged. Red blotches were starting to show on his light brown breast and, although his top-knot was held as erect as hers, it was skinny.

His bill was brown, there was no trace of a black face mask yet, and his back gave only a hint of the brilliant scarlet it would sometime be.

The two youngsters were peacefully enjoying the feeder when, from out of nowhere, came the third kid. He too was a male and slightly more colored than his brother. Much more agressive too. No friendly sharing as far as he was concerned.

Almost quicker than we could watch he chased the other two cardinals away. Then after a few moments, after unruffling his feathers and calming down from the excitment of the fight, he flew away.

Mom and Gertie T. had one more bit of excitment. It took them right to the west facing window and, after bending down and crouching, they finally wound up on their knees.

Something in the nearby maple tree was playing a hard game of hide-and-seek with them. The big leaves were perfect to hide behind.

After a peek at a little patch of the head, a fast look at the tail, a flash of dull lemonish-brownish-yellowish breast they decided their bird was a young Baltimore oriole.

Oops, Marda, according to the new and accepted terminology the name is northern oriole not Baltimore oriole.

What else might have gone on outside we can only guess at and wonder about because this is where the doorbell began ringing. The expected inside rush started and we found ourselves enjoying another, though completely different, busy hour or so.

DICK GOODALE AND CREW BY NEW ADDITION

Expands to Largest in Area

After nine full years of servicing the Tecumseh area with automotive body repair service, Dick's Body Shop has expanded its present facility to include four new bay areas.

Dick Goodale, owner, can now boast the largest body repair facility in Tecumseh, as well as the longest established body shop in town.

The new addition, measuring 30' x 40', handles a new area of automotive service for Dick's shop. It includes a new alignment service, wheel balancing, suspension and frame service.

The shop had previously handled rustproofing, paint refinishing, and complete collision service.

Dick's Body Shop is located at 3355 Russell Rd.

Auxiliary Joins In Fund Drive

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary joins the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary in conducting a year-long fund raising drive to purchase an Echo Cardiograph for the Children's Hospital at the University of Michigan.

The Jaycettes have arranged with the Gerber Baby Products Co. to collect labels from any Gerber baby food, cereal or juice product which will be redeemed by the company up to a maximum of $15,000.

Gerber will allow one-fifth of a cent per label, plus a bonus of $50 for each $1,000 worth of labels collected by the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary.

The Echo Cardiograph is a machine which monitors the heart and chest cavity. It is a non-traumatic approach, which enables physicians to "view" the chest cavity functions in infants and children without performing surgery or catheterization.

This equipment is greatly needed, but has not yet been purchased because of high cost.

Collection points in the Tecumseh area are Krogers, United Savings Bank branches - Herrick Park, and West Chicago and Occidental, Airport Bowl and the Clothesline Laundry.

Anyone with Gerber labels may donate them. Labels will be counted toward the purchase of the cardiograph machine for the children's hospital.

Musical Comedy To Be Presented

"Guys and Dolls," the musical comedy fable about toughs, touts, and tramps on Broadway that won the New York Drama Critics' Award as the best musical comedy of the 1950-51 season, is the presentation at the Croswell Opera House for the 10 nights beginning Wednesday, July 28.

Quiet Dinner Has Surprise

By BILL WHITING

Maybe lightning doesn't strike twice in the same spot but don't tell that to the Wallace Whitings.

To celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary Saturday, Wally pulled off a surprise party for his wife a repeat of a tactic used successfully for their 25th anniversary.

Without his wife Ruth's knowledge, he contacted relatives and friends in Tecumseh and the area to arrange a meeting at Gilbert's Restaurant in Jackson.

Somehow everyone kept the secret and the Whitings left for an ostensibly quiet dinner with their son, Bill, of Key Biscayne, Fla., however, when Ruth walked in 40 people began singing "Happy Anniversary."

"Oh, that Wally," Mrs. Whiting sputtered in surprise. "I get so mad at him and then he goes and does this."

"It's pretty easy to pull something like this over on my wife," Wally told the guests.

He eonceded, however, that he had to resort to waiting for his wife to turn on the garbage disposal, then tuning up the volume on the TV and sequestering himself by an upstairs phone to complete some calls.

At other times, he simply disappeared with the car for furtive visits. In fact, he had been warning relatives for at least six months.

The Whitings — Wally, retired from the Tecumseh Products Co., and Ruth, a former Tecumseh school teacher — were feted with small gifts from the guests and a hearty dinner, complete with a strolling violinist.

What made the occasion a special success, however, was the gathering of friends and relatives, including;

Their son-in-law and his wife, Jim and Virginia Fielder, and their daughters, Jennifer, Kathy, Jacqueline, Jill, Linda and Tammy, of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Whiting's sister, Georgia, and her husband James Munro, of Ann Arbor.

Other relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowen and son, Mark, and Barbara Droulliard of Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowen of Montpelier, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowen of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Papp of Britton; and Mr. and Mrs. John Finch of Adrian.

Other friends included: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beck of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weber of Grass Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Haselwerdt of Cavanaugh Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Hans Grossman of Chelsea; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Simpson of Saline.

From Tecumseh, were Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Van Winkle and Mr. E.J. Crawford.

Wally isn't saying what he has in mind for the couple's 50th anniversary.

Couple Buys Car Wash

The new owners pruchased the business Jan. 1 from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newlin Sr. of Blissfield. The business started in 1968.

This is the young couple's first business venture. They reside at 2915 Burwyn Dr. in the Burwyn Hills subdivision off Union St. They have a 23-month old son, Joshua. The family moved from Adrian two years ago.

The year around business offers total car cleaning.

The car wash features one automatic bay with wax and three do-it-yourself bays, one of which is a truck bay for washing semis with trailers. A unit called the "grime buster" aids in removal of grease and tar.

Other services are two vacuums, and vendors with car cleaning products for complete car care inside and out. The business also retails gas.

Summer hours are Sunday through Thursday, 8-8; and Friday and Saturday 8-10.

Splash Party For Local Club

Welcome Wagon Club members and children enjoyed a pool party at the home of Mrs. Anthony Ferraro recently.

The pool party was one of several social events planned for the club members and families this summer.

Light refreshments were served.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Myrna Tingley would like to thank all those persons who took time from their own busy schedules to pay their respects to our mother and to assist us at the time of her death. You have helped relieve our sorrow and we are grateful to you and wish to recognize your efforts with our warmest regards. The family of Myrna Tingley. 7-29c

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for the beautiful cards, gifts, and flowers we received on our golden anniversary and a special thanks to our children and grandchildren who made our golden anniversary such a memorable one.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvie (Jim) Reitz

The family of Mrs. Zelma Spalding would like to express their sincere thanks for all the many flowers and cards sent during her recent stay at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

McKinley Spalding & Family

Many thanks for the cards, flowers, visits, and prayers during my four weeks at Herrick Hospital. A special thanks to Dr. Fabok, Dr. Moller, Father Howard, Father Lee and Father Paul Lynch of Jackson. The nurses and aides in charge of intensive care unit and the nurses and aides on second floor. God bless all of you.

Irene Corkery

The family of the First United Presbyterian Church wish to thank the nearly 1100 who came together and enjoyed ice cream, cake, and beverage, celebrating our nation's 200th birthday, July 4th. We want to thank the Bicentennial committee for inviting us to share our town with friends and neighbors. Our thanks also to the Blumericks of Meadowridge Dairy, Don Smith of Don's Beef Buffet, and Gil Purse of Purse Funeral Home for their assistance.

Sincerely,
Russ and Betty Hyatt for the Ice Cream Social Committee

Clinton Township Candidate Resumes, Polling Place Is Clinton Middle School

CLINTON — Clinton residents who haven't voted since the last General Primary Election are reminded polling place is now at Clinton Middle School. Polls are open Tuesday, Aug. 3 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

There are only two contests for positions to be determined in the General Primary Election in Clinton Township.

Republican candidates Frank Gignac and James Wilson are vying for the position of Clinton Township Supervisor. Present supervisor, Harry Comstock is not seeking reelection.

FRANK GIGNAC

Frank Gignac is married and resides at 118 W. Franklin St., and has lived in the area all his life. He has two daughters, one in college, and one in Clinton High School.

He served three years on the Board of Review and one year on the township zoning board.

He operates Frank's Machine Shop in Clinton.

Mr. Gignac said, "In the years ahead I envision many challenging programs, some of which will be (1) a street and road improvement program, (2) broadening of fire and police protection, (3) improvements in our cemeteries, street lighting, our library system and our educational system. "Citizen participation in local government is essential in working out these needs. A delicate balance and control of expenditures in these areas is extremely important if we are to gain the most from our efforts."

JAMES WILSON

He is an Adrian High School graduate, attended the US Coast Guard Electronics Institute, Conn., and two year employee-management labor relations course at University of Michigan. He is an electronics technician at Chrysler Proving Grounds, Chelsea, where he has been employed for 18 years.

Wilson is president of the Clinton Athletic Development program, chairman of the Clinton Township Zoning and Planning Board and chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals. He was elected to Clinton Village Council in 1971 and served until he moved to the township in 1973.

He then became active in township land use plan and zoning ordinance.

Wilson said, "There is a lot of unfinished business in the township. That is my interest. I would like to see township and village work closer together, mostly in zoning and planning."

JANET WELCH

She has lived in the Clinton area for 20 years and is a graduate of Tecumseh High School. She resides at 115 W. Franklin St. She is the mother of four children, all grown.

She served as a Clinton school bus driver for nine years and has been Clinton Township Librarian for 10 years. She is completing her fourth year as the elected clerk of Clinton Township.

MARY HULL

Mary Hull, who seeks reelection to the treasurer's position, resides at 126 Brown St., where she has lived for 35 years. She has two grown daughters and three grandchildren.

She was appointed in 1973 to fill the unexpired term of Robert Braden, then was elected to the office in 1974.

She is a member of the United Methodist Church, former treasurer of Band Boosters and former secretary of PTA. She was a treasurer of the United Fund, past matron of OES, and past president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

She was employed for 30 years as secretary-bookkeeper in three local businesses.

JAMES MEEKS

James Meeks, who has served on the Clinton Township Board for 12 years is seeking re-election as a trustee. He is unopposed.

Meeks resides on a farm one mile west of Clinton and operates a farm produce market. He is married and has four grown children.

He has also served on the township board of review for 12 years and is on the Clinton Fire Department Commission.

He has served on the Hillsdale County Fair Board, and the North Adams and Clinton School Boards. He is a member of the Clinton United Methodist Church and a member of its official board.

LEO SMITH

Leo Smith, constable of Clinton Township for the past six years seeks re-election. He resides with his wife, Ilah, at 116 Litchfield, where he has lived for the past nine years. Except for 20 years, when he lived in Tecumseh, he resided most of his life in Clinton.

He was chief of police in Tecumseh for over four years, and a plant guard at Tecumseh Products for 14 years.

Library Board

John Colton and Harry Comstock are seeking election to the two, six-year terms on the Clinton Township Library Board.

JOHN COLTON

John Colton, a retired civil engineer, resides with his wife in Water Wheel Estates. They have lived in Clinton for six years.

He was appointed to the library board in 1975 to fill a vacancy when Marilyn Louwerens left. He also served two years in a previous appointment to fill another vacancy.

HARRY COMSTOCK

Harry Comstock, who has served as Clinton Township Supervisor for two terms, four years, is seeking a six year position as trustee on the Township Library Board. He is unopposed.

Prior to the supervisor position, Comstock had served on the board of review.

Two persons are seeking the two-year term position on the Clinton Township Library Board, Dennis Spina and Karen Bolgos.

DENNIS SPINA

Dennis Spina has served as an appointee on the library board for nearly a year, filling a vacancy.

Spina resides with his wife and five children at 6 McCombs Ct., where they have lived for four years.

He operates Spina Nursery there and is also employed at Micro Measurements in Romulus.

He is a high school graduate and attended college for two years.

KAREN BOLGOS

Karen Bolgos resides at 11926 Matthews Hwy. with her husband, Gerald, and two children, who attend Clinton schools. They have resided in Clinton six years and Mr. Bolgos is employed at Bolgos Dairy, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Bolgos is a graduate of Central Michigan University and is employed at Express Printing, Dundee.

She said she would like to serve on the Clinton Library Board because she feels, "it is important for persons in the community to take their turn at volunteer jobs. One person cannot take on all the volunteer work."

Assign Helicopter

CLINTON — Army Spec. 4 Timothy A. Zick, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy L. Zick, 3848 Pennington Road, Clinton, was assigned as a helicopter crew chief in the 1st Battalion, 17th Cavalry of the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., on June 16.

He entered the Army in Jan. 1975 and completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

His wife, Karen Kay, lives in Fayetteville, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Corwin and daughter, Fran have returned from a two week visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Judge in New Town, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and family have returned from a two week camping trip to Colorado, where they visited the gold mining towns of Cripple Creek and Victor, and the Montfort Cattle Feeding Yards at Greeley.

Dr. Richard Dixon and Terry Calhoun participated in a performance of the Jacksonaires barbershoppers at a Bicentennial program in Manchester High School Saturday night. Also appearing were the For-Tune Tellers and Pitch Blenders quartets.

Reports Record Net Earnings

CLINTON — The Budd Co. reported record net earnings after taxes of $10.3 million for the second quarter of 1976, on record sales of $298.2 million. Second quarter earnings per common share were $1.60.

Gilbert F. Richards, chairman and chief executive officer, said the $191.8 million rise in sales for the first six months over the same period of last year resulted primarily from increased production by the automotive industry, which had a first-... increase of 37 percent over the first half of 1975.

Voters Need Pink Cards

A pink one entitles the resident to vote in state, national, township and school elections. They may be obtained from Clinton Township Clerk Janet Welch.

If you only have the green voter card issued by John Fox, Clinton Village Clerk, you are only eligible to vote in village elections.

In order to vote in the Nov. 2 national election voters must be registered by Oct. 4.

Absentee ballots may be picked up by calling at the Clinton Township Library, or at the clerk's home, 115 W. Franklin St.

Deadline for absentee ballot application for the Primary Election Aug. 3 is, Saturday July 31, at 2 p.m.

Emergency ballots can be taken care of in the presence of the clerk up to 2 p.m. the day before the election.

Girls Collect Old Newspapers

CLINTON — Members of the Clinton Girls Varsity Club will pick up old newspapers, July 31 from 10 a.m. to noon.

Village residents may tie or bag newspapers and place on the curb in front of the house.

Out-of-town residents may call 456-4435 for pickup or papers may be left at 217 W. Church St. anytime.

Next pickup is Aug. 28 and each last Saturday of the month thereafter.

Livonia Couple Buys Lanes

CLINTON — Mrs. Roy Bower and Charles and Ilene Carlton have sold their interest in Colonial Lanes Bowling and Snack Bar to Robert and Jean Buck of Livonia.

Robert Buck taught high school naval science in Livonia and has bowled since 14.

The retired naval officer and his wife, Jean, and five children will move into the Way house on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., formerly occupied by the Joseph Pfaffinger family.

Children are David and Dan, who will be helping in the lanes, Paul, who is in Illinois now, and twins Janet and Carol who will lend a hand with the snack bar.

The Bucks plan to do some re-decorating, but no specific changes are planned. They will get moved in Aug. 1.

Roy and Barbara Bower co-owners of Colonial lanes managed the business since 1969, and since 1971, when Roy died, Barbara has been managing it alone.

She has no immediate plans except to enjoy her cottage on Dewey Lake.

New Owners Jean and Robert Buck

Tecumseh Slo-Pitch

Tuesday League

Clinton Merchants dropped Underwood Chevrolet into the league basement by dealing them a 16-9 loss. Dave Ward hit a homerun for Clinton as did Jim Stevenson for Underwood.

B & W West tightened up the league race by beating the leader Tecumseh Merchants 8-5. Charles Fitch and Dave Gramling got homeruns for the losers.

United Savings Bank and Handley were rained out.

Wednesday League

Tom Ashley hit back-to-back home runs and Gordie Whelan added another as VFW beat DST 10-9. Ron Blumhardt hit two singles and a triple for DST.

Terry Ranta homered in the sixth inning for Beglinger-Reid but Irish Hills Merchants won the game 8-6. Tom Collins hit safely three times for Beglinger-Reid while IHM ... while Wagon Wheel managed six. Chuck Warner hit a two-run homerun for Wagon Wheel.

Thursday League

Mike Clement hit a lead off homerun to start Tecumseh Plywood off on a 19-4 rout of American Legion. The game was called by the 15-run rule in the fifth inning. John Merz added a triple, double, and two singles for Plywood. American Legion, dropping their eighth straight game, managed only six hits.

Darrell Bozeman's grand slam homerun paced an eight-run rally in the third inning as Leisure Time Sports Center beat Protco 16-4. The loss dropped Protco out of the first ... spaced their hits out with eight different players scoring runs.

Tri-County Loggers scored five unearned runs to beat Wagon Wheel Bar 6-3. Tri-County collected only four hits ... place tie. Chuck Locker added four hits for LTSC.

GM's 5-year/60,000-mile guarantee on its 140-cu.-in. engine is the toughest in the business.

How tough is tough? Well, the 140-cu.-in. engine you can get in the following GM small cars is so tough that it's backed by a 5-year/60,000-mile guarantee. No foreign car even comes close to it.

And it's a very simple guarantee. It covers all 1976 Chevrolet Vegas and Monzas, Pontiac Astres and Sunbirds and Oldsmobile Starfires equipped with 4-cylinder 140-cubic-inch engines for 5 years or 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

It means that should something go wrong with the engine, your Chevrolet, Pontiac or Oldsmobile dealer will fix it...free.

The guarantee covers repairs to the cylinder block, cylinder head, all internal engine parts, intake and exhaust manifolds, and water pump, made necessary because of defects in material or workmanship.

This guarantee, an added value feature on these GM cars, is in addition to the New Vehicle Warranty but naturally does not apply to repairs required because of misuse, negligence, alteration, accident or lack of reasonable or proper maintenance.

Complete Scrimmage

Potential players for Tecumseh's varsity basketball team recently completed a summer scrimmage season which began a week after school was out.

The players — mostly juniors and seniors — had a chance to get used to a new head coach, Jim Curth. And in turn, Curth was able to note weaknesses and strengths.

Tecumseh teachers and coaches helped with the officiating including Rick Montcalm, Greg Allen, Ed Oxley, Dan Gunder and Bob Lawson. Manager Larry Lisenbee also participated in the program.

65 Attend Guest Day

Kathyrn Champanois, Arline Thoss and Gertrude Miller were in charge of the committee and presented prizes to the following guests:

Barb McCallum, 1st low gross; Ginny Blaker, 2nd low gross; Mary Verrier, 1st low net; Jean Nettleman, 2nd low net; Isobelle Santori, Marion Garrison and Carrol Scheuerman tied for low points.

For the members Maurine Hannibal won low gross and Kathryn Champanois and Ginger Burrington tied for 2nd low gross.

Marty Owen and Barb Blanden tied for low net and Ruti[illegible] Gloria Schwartz tied for low putts.

Completes Tour

The tour began and ended at the State Capitol in Columbus, and traveled 105 miles south to Portsmouth on Ohio River Saturday and returned Sunday.

Minor, Major, Pony Leagues Conclude Regular Playing Season

The Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Baseball Program has concluded the regular season and all that remains are the Pony and Major League Tournaments. They are to be played next week.

MINOR LEAGUE

Dundee Girls Take 1st

At the outset of their contest, Airport Bowl and Tecumseh Products were in a 3-way tie with Deerfield Merchants for last place.

Airport Bowl gave up their portion of last place by striking down Tecumseh Products 13-10.

Montcalm led Airport with a homerun. Bohannon had a homerun for the losers.

Beglinger-Reid retained its portion of first place by defeating Deerfield Merchants 14-10. Deerfield came on strong with five runs in the [illegible] but was unable to catch up. Zimmerman had a homerun for Beglinger and Corwin collected four singles.

Both Store Bar and Dundee Products were tied for first place when they met for their match Monday night. Dundee proved to be too powerful for Store Bar as they defeated them 24-17. It was a hitters game as both teams were sending the ball all over the ball park.

Slo-Pitch Tourney Is Planned Here

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a slo-pitch softball tournament August 23-29 in Tecumseh. Tourney is a 16 team, double elimination match.

All team members must be residents of Lenawee. The roster must be signed by the league director and accompany entry by Friday Aug. 2, 5 p.m. Entry fee is to be paid at time of entry. No entries by phone.

All-star teams are not allowed to enter. Tecumseh team rosters may be increased to 18 players to match those of other teams in the contest.

A manager's meeting and drawing will be announced at a later date.

Contact Terry Lighthall at the Tecumseh Recreation Dept., 423-5602, for further information.

VOL. 125 OUR 126th YEAR — NO. 47 | THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1976 | FOURTEEN PAGES — 20¢

Few Upsets Recorded in Tuesday Primary

Approximately 17 percent of the registered voters of the city of Tecumseh turned out for the congressional primary Aug. 3.

Following the outcome of the state wide primary election, Tecumsehites nominated Republican Congressman Marvin Esch and Democrat Donald Riegle. Both overwhelmingly outdistanced their opponents and will oppose each other on Nov. 2.

In the Townships where voting in the summer primary was also light, two incumbents were turned out of office.

In Raisin Township Eugene Vaughn-R overturned incumbent Lee Coffey-R with a five vote lead, 117 to 112. Another primary challenger John Ruggirello-R received 95 votes. Vaughn will face David Irwin-D in November.

Fred Bryan-R, former Britton Councilman, defeated incumbent Ridgeway Township trustee Walter Denny-R, by a 49 vote lead, 81 to 32. Bryan is unopposed in November.

RAISIN

In other Raisin Township races, Trustee Richard Gallaway-R clinched the supervisor seat by 72 votes over Clarke Wilson-R with a vote of 198 to 125. Gallaway is unopposed in November.

Marjorie Comfort, incumbent Republican treasurer of Raisin Township retains her office. She received 185 votes in the primary contest. Lynette Sayler followed with 105 and Greta Isley had 57.

Harry A. Withrow Jr. incumbent, and newcomer, Kenneth Kendall, both Republicans, were elected to the two constable offices. Respective vote was 221 and 213.

MACON

In Macon Township Charles Bigelow-R incumbent supervisor, easily defeated challenger Otto Miller-R. Vote was 101 to 45. Bigelow is unopposed in November.

Other unopposed incumbent Republicans are Beatrice Gilmore, 126, clerk; Sandra Bortel, 123, treasurer; Lawrence Hoagland, 121, trustee.

Ed Clark and Dean Moore, both Republicans, were elected constables. Each had 108 votes.

RIDGEWAY

In the primary contest for supervisor in Ridgeway Township incumbent Republican Robert Auten is headed for another two-year term. He is unopposed in November and defeated primary challenger Gerald Filter by 29 votes in a 76 to 47 vote.

Other unopposed incumbent Republicans are Arlyne Banks, 106, township clerk; Russell Spalding, 105, township treasurer.

FRANKLIN

In Franklin Township, where only 237 voters turned out to vote out of the 1,015 registered voters, Kenneth Koons-R led in the trustee race with 75 votes.

In the fall election incumbent supervisor Richard Platt-R will face Jay Osburn-D.

Unopposed Republican incumbents in the primary were Wesley Whelan, 151, clerk; Donal Daniels, 146 trustee. Thomas Nortley, 112 and David Whelan, 132, both Republicans, were elected as the two constables.

CLINTON

Only 405 voters turned out for the primary election in Clinton Township, 371 by machine and 34 absentee ballots.

Two positions were contested among the Republicans.

For township supervisor, Frank Gignac with 167 votes defeated James Wilson with 80.

In the race for a two-year term on Clinton Library Board, Dennis Spina, incumbent, narrowly defeated Karen Bolgos 112 to 107.

Other positions, uncontested, are: clerk, Janet Welch 251, treasurer, Mary Hull 252; trustee, James Meeks 245; and constable Leo Smith 230.

Two six-year terms on the Clinton Library Board were secured by incumbent John Colton 179, and Harry Comstock 226.

Up Coverage to $5 Million

Tecumseh City Council awarded a $5,610 insurance policy contract to F.C. Hanna Agency, Inc. for excess liability umbrella insurance.

City will be covered up to $5 million dollars. Cost of the umbrella insurance is above and beyond what the city is already paying for fleet insurance, police liability and general liability.

Umbrella insurance is to handle expenses over those handled by basic coverage.

City Backs $100 Reward

Tecumseh and City Council voted Monday night to contribute half of a $100 award, jointly sponsored by the city and Chamber of Commerce, for information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons involved in acts of vandalism in the city.

The reward was prompted by recent acts of vandalism, particularly aimed at the downtown merchants and city property.

STAN BRION

Brion's Drive Wins Berth in PGA Finals

Stan Brion, Tecumseh Country Club golf pro, gained the finals Sunday after winning the North Central Regional Open long driving contest at Chicago.

His winning drive of 314 yards and 22 inches earned him a spot in the finals that will be held next week before the PGA Championship tournament at Congressional Country Club, Bethesda, Md.

Brion, former touring pro in his first year as the TCC pro, has driven the club's No. 2 hole here, cutting the corner with a drive well over the 300-yard mark.

He is currently playing in the $20,000 Chevy Tournament at Red Run in Detroit and has posted rounds of 76-76, disappointing scores for the long driving pro although good enough to qualify for Wednesday's final round.

Information To Be Given At Meeting

A public meeting is slated for Aug. 17 at 2 p.m. at Tecumseh City Hall for the purpose of providing citizens in the Tecumseh area with information about a wastewater facilities study, to determine the best way to handle sewage in what the state has defined as the Tecumseh area:

Raisin, Ridgeway, Tecumseh, Macon, part of Clinton Townships, the village of Britton and the city of Tecumseh.

Representatives from the County Drain Commission and two engineering firms chosen for a co-op study are expected to be present.

Public comment is desired.

Appointments Are Delayed

Two appointments to the Board of Appeals have been postponed until Council can confer with new prospects.

Richard Creswell's term has expired and Marvin Watkins has asked to be relieved of his board duties due to eyesight.

JAMES ANDERSON NEW OFFICER

Approve Trust Dept. for Tecumseh Bank

Approval of a Trust Department and appointment of a new Trust Officer for United Savings Bank of Tecumseh have been finalized, Kenneth C. McElroy, bank president, announces.

Financial Institutions Bureay at Lansing and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation notified the bank Monday of their approval, a decision that bank officers here were confident of receiving after applying for trust powers last February.

Although approval has been received and the department's officer appointed, it will still be a few weeks before the Trust Dept. will be ready to handle trust accounts. Some preliminary work must be completed along with some interior remodeling at the bank's home office. Sept. 1 is the approximate date that the department will be completely organized and ready.

It will mark the first and only locally owned and controlled Trust Dept. in Lenawee County.

JAMES ANDERSON

Mr. Anderson, 53, a native of California, has 21 years experience as a Trust Officer. He is highly recommended and was selected over a number of other applicants.

He began in 1955 with the First National Bank of Minneapolis, where he was involved in trust operations and account administration. He was a bank officer there for nine years.

He joined the Third National Bank & Trust Co. of Dayton in September 1968. Trust accounts first numbered 150 and then grew to 400, with trusts varying from $50,000 to the multi-million dollar level.

His education includes a Bachelor of Arts degree, a major in economics and a minor in personnel administration, from the University of California at Berkeley, where he was also active in campus activities, including being a member of the varsity track team.

Special education includes the American Institute of Banking, majoring in trusts and in which he was an honor student, and the National Trust School at Northwestern University.

He was a Navy pilot during World War II and was honorably discharged after serving from February 1943 to December 1945.

He was president-elect and a past vice president and treasurer of the Kettering Kiwanis Club; past president of Kettering Kiwanis Foundation, board member of the Dayton Chapter of the American Red Cross, former board member of Central Pharmacal Co., Seymour Ind., and a member of the Estate Planning Council for Montgomery Co., Ohio.

Mr. Anderson also is a past president of the American Institute of Banking for the Minneapolis Chapter and the Dayton Chapter.

He and his wife, Emily, expect to move to Tecumseh in the near future. They have three children, James L. Anderson Jr., 24, and Kimberly, 20, both students at Ohio State University, and Jeff, 16, at home.

Sewer, Water Lines to TCC Present Some Problems

The answer to whether or not Tecumseh Country Club will get city sewer and water is muddled by conditions.

Monday night, Fred Randall, a director of the Tecumseh Country Club board, stated that it would like to proceed with the project for city services, for which it intends to pay, but it prefers to have the Country Club remain in Tecumseh Township, primarily for tax purposes.

Apparently it also wants to preserve good relations with its neighbors and officials in Tecumseh Township.

Tecumseh City Council put out feelers on annexation of at least that portion of the club's property which would just barely include the club house and pro shop, roughly 20 acres.

At present time, about 300 feet of club property is within the city limit.

If the township would not allow annexation, then permission would be needed from the township and the county roads commission to use the right-of-way to lay sewer and water.

Council will discuss the matter again when information about these options is gathered.

At the present time, the city has extended water to Kingdom Hall, the former health study building north of the city on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., Tecumseh Friends Church and parsonage and a house on N. Union St. In most cases this was given for easement rights.

Sewer has been extended to only Fisher Body Plant and was paid for by the company through bonds.

In the case of the Country Club, city sewer stops at the city limits and city water stops about 300 ft. inside the city limit. It would take about 1,250 feet for the sewer line and 2,300 feet for water line hook-ups.

Cost would be born by the Country Club, an estimate is $28,000.

Good News and Bad News for Seniors

There is some encouraging news and discouraging news for senior citizen housing in Tecumseh.

The encouraging news is that Tecumseh City Council has set Sept. 7 at 8 p.m. at City Hall as the date for rezoning hearing on seven acres donated to the city for senior citizen housing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Touborg are donating seven acres west of Adrian St. and north of Tecumseh Park for senior citizen housing only.

Property must be rezoned from single family to multiple. An average of 10 units per acre is estimated. Building would be one story.

City manager Cal Zorn pointed out that these requirements vary with funding programs available and availability of shopping facilities is always required.

The discouraging news is that the city may be behind in its bid for new federal money for senior housing because the paperwork is "astronomical," said Zorn.

"I personally don't think we'll ever make it. . .we're just getting started too late." said Zorn.

However the city continues in its efforts.

3rd Addition Is Scheduled by Company

Third addition in the past 13 years will be added this fall for Tecumseh Corrugated Box, James Robideau, president, announces.

The new construction, totaling 13,475 square feet, will be built along S. Evans St. and will replace a present, old section of the plant which will be torn down. About 6,000 additional square feet will be realized.

Puprose of the addition, according to Mr. Robideau, is for installation of new automatic equipment. A slight increase in employment is probable.

After this work is completed, offices of the box company will be remodeled, and company drive and parking lots blacktopped.

THS Physicals on Aug. 17th

Physical examinations for Tecumseh High School boys and girls in all sports will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 17 at 9:30 a.m.

Local physicians will be in charge of the examinations, which will be held at the high school.

Council Adds $200 for City Protection

In effect, Al Meyers Airport Inc. isn't going to receive any more than $900 as a donation from the city of Tecumseh. However Monday night Council decided to increase the donation to $1,100 which will cover the city as a party to the Airport's insurance.

Debate on the donation and its origin began in May when the airport first requested an increase of the $900 annual donation Council enacted several years ago.

The city's inclusion on the airport's policy does not exempt the city from liability, but the insurance company would pay for defense costs.

City Attorney Greg Forsthoefel argued hard to make his point with Council. A few members believed the city could not be held liable for a "donation" to the airport any more than an individual could be held responsible for a donation to charity.

"You bet I'm concerned," Forsthoefel exclaimed to Council. "At least give them (the) extra and have yourselves covered (by insurance).

Henry Newlin, attorney representing the Al Meyers Airport Inc. underscored Forsthoefel's concern and opened the discussion by recommending the city be added to the airport's insurance coverage.

Council approved the $200 increase in a five to one vote.

Councilman Raymond Puffer was absent.

Lone dissentor was Councilman Len DeMoss who was convinced, "we're missing a point. I can't see giving money. . .to a corporation, even if it is open to the public."

"At no charge," interjected Mayor Harold Easton. He and other Council members agreed with Councilman Aden Mead that the airport is "a utility beneficial to the city" and "should be thought of as an assist to the city," for public safety.

Rudy Clum Is New VP at Tecumseh Box

...dolph J. Clum, sales manager of the Ohio Van Wert Division of Tecumseh Corrugated Box, has been appointed vice president of the company in charge of box operations, James Robideau, president, announces.

Clum, a resident of Monroe for 28 years, has been associated with the Tecumseh firm since May 12, 1968. He has purchased a home at 8770 Hawthorne Dr., across from the Tecumseh Country Club.

In Van Wert, he was a member of the Van Wert Sertoma Club, YMCA, Knights of Columbus, Elks, Willow Bend Golf Club and St. Mary's Catholic Church. Since his promotion here, he has joined the local country club.

He and his wife, Marie, have three children, Kevin, 17; Sharon, 16, and a married daughter, Mrs. Susan Beckman.

COMPLEX TAKING SHAPE — Apartment complex at the Tecumseh Country Club is taking shape with the developer, William M. Powell, hoping to have 20 apartments completed in November. Above photo shows one unit for eight 2-bedroom apartments with floor space of 1,250 square feet each. Two six-apartment units will be built to the north, or towards Burt St., hopefully yet this fall. These will include one, two and three bedrooms. An additional 18 apartments are scheduled for 1977. Jess LaVoy is general contractor. (Photo by Kent Downing)

Pre-planning:

Are your finances in order?

Financial planning is part of your future security program. You may have thought it out well in advance — planning for retirement income, college trusts for children and grandchildren, and many other important events to come.

But if you were to die tomorrow, would your financial matters be in order?

Would your wife or immediate family members know where everything is? Unfortunately, most of us do not even think of such things or talk about them —let alone plan for them!

Here are some tips in the form of questions you may wish to use as a check list . . . some things, perhaps, you may not have thought of attending to till now.

Is you insurance coverage up-to-date? Payments on schedule, beneficiary or beneficiaries designated according to your wishes? Are your insurance policies, Social Security and Veteran's Administration papers all together and in a safe and accessible place. And does your wife (or husband) know where they are?

Do you have your will updated?

Do you keep a list of names, addresses and phone numbers of your broker, agents, savings account numbers, etc. in a safe and accessible place? Does your wife know where that list is? Who besides you wife? And do they have the necessary access to it?

There are many other pertinent financial and personal details that became extremely important to your family should you die. You really should make a personal check list of your own. Give a copy to your wife and/or other members of the family.

(This is one of a series of short article I hope will be helpful. We welcome your questions — in private or publicly.)

Only Two Accidents

Police investigated two accidents this week. A bicyclist was hit in one, but the seven-year-old was only bumped in the accident.

Saturday, James A. Collins, 25, of Somerset was traveling south on Adrian St. when he observed a child on a bike to his right. As he approached the child, the seven-year-old swerved onto the street in front of the car.

Collins was able to break soon enough so as to only bump the child. Clifford Wessling, 7, 600 Spafford was taken to Herrick Hospital for observation only.

Thursday, Aug. 2, Claudia A. Simpson, 22, of 1000 E. Chicago pulled away from a parking spot along N. Evans and collided with John W. Guy, 24, of Toledo.

Simpson was cited for failure to yield from a parking position.

6 Complaints Investigated

Police investigated only six complaint reports this week. Two did involve alcohol. One Tecumseh man was arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor, while the other was arrested for having open intoxicants in the car.

July 29 - David M. Richardson, 30, of 4397 Comfort Rd., was arrested for driving under the influence when he was observed by police at 3 a.m. Richardson was reportedly driving erratically along E. Chicago and made a sharp turn onto Rogers Hwy. when he was stopped by police and arrested.

Robert D. Williams, 206 W. Kilbuck, was arrested for having open beer in a vehicle after police found him with liquor in the alley behind Lawson's Appliance.

July 31 - William Weirch, 806 Shady Ln., reported a larceny from his auto. He had washed and locked his car in the back yard. When he returned to his vehicle, a $189 CB had been removed.

Aug. 2 - Baldwin's Hardware recovered a bicycle that had been stolen earlier. Tecumseh police received a call from the Clinton police of a recovered bicycle. Owner William Feight Sr. was able to identify the bicycle as one that had been wheeled out of his front door earlier.

Aug. 3 - Royal Welch reported malicious destruction to his front window on E. Chicago. When he opened his business in the morning he found the front window of Welch Cleaners broken and a large stone inside. Estimated damage was $225.

Larry Sebring, N. Evans, reported malicious destruction to his car in front of 133 W. Brown. Sebring was inside the Brown St. house when he heard a crash. He found a grocery cart had been pushed into the rear of his vehicle outside.

Couple United in Clinton

CLINTON — Melanie Sue Way and Dan E. Dowling were united in marriage in a Saturday afternoon ceremony performed by the Rev. James Rupert in United Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Way, 207 W. Church St. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Dowling, Hogan Hwy.

The bride wore a traditional organza gown with Alencon lace accenting the high necked bodice and full bishop sleeves. The lace trimmed skirt was complimented by a chapel train. A lace and pearl cap held her finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of daisy pompons and baby's breath.

Maid of honor Valerie Way and bridesmaids Julie Way, sisters of the bride, and Linda King were attired alike in sheer cotton, blue on white, floral printed gowns styled with standing collar, tucked bodice and short flared sleeves.

The long full skirts were tied in back with large, self bows. Their white picture hats were trimmed with blue satin ribbon and matching dress material. Daisy pompons formed their bouquets.

David Prichard, Tecumseh, was the best man. Ushers were Doug Dowling, brother of groom; Tim Marcum, cousin of groom; Dan Bristle and Carl Humble.

Both are graduates of Clinton High School. The bride is employed at Lenawee Dental Lab, Inc., Adrian. The groom is employed at Faraday, Inc., Tecumseh.

They are living at 613½ Jackson St.

MRS. DAN DOWLING

Daughter Accepted

Lisa Ann Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Willie Baker, 5762 Rogers Hwy., has been accepted for admission at David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn.

A graduate of Tecumseh Senior High School, Miss Baker plans to enroll in the fall quarter and will follow a major program in pre-nursing.

Lipscomb is a senior liberal arts college with approximately 2200 students expected in the fall, each one of whom will be required to attend a Bible class every regular school day.

A private, church-affiliated college, Lipscomb offers major programs leading to a bachelor's degree in more than 30 fields of study.

Graduates from College

Donald Belcher, son of Mrs. Audrey Snyr and Curtis Belcher of Tecumseh will be among the 27 members of the first graduating class of the Christian Communications Program of Harding College when commencement exercises are held July 31 on the Harding campus in Searcy, Ark.

The members of the Alpha class will receive diplomas certifying that they have satisfactorily completed the requirements of the concentrated, in-depth two-year program of Biblical studies and preacher training.

Belcher is a 1969 graduate of Tecumseh High School and a 1974 graduate of Harding College. Upon graduation he will be an associate minister and youth director for the church of Christ at McKinney, Tex.

Gloria Dei Schedule

While the pastor is vacationing the following schedule will be at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church:

Sunday, Aug. 8, a Laymen Sunday will be held. Participants are: Mrs. Richard Heglin - sermon, Jacob Becker - liturgy, and Paula Macbeth - scriptures. The Matins Service will be used.

Sunday, Aug. 15 the Rev. Ned Newlin, ALC pastor will conduct the service and will take the pulpit.

The Rev. Newlin served in Bethlehem, Pa., and Defiance, Ohio. He is now serving as director of the Tecumseh Woods Lutheran Camp.

Ted Meyer, soloist will be accompanied by Mrs. Earl Mason, organist.

Both services start at 9:30 a.m.

Public is invited to attend.

MR. & MRS. DANNY BROOKS

Vows Spoken at Lawn Wedding

TIPTON — An arch of yellow chrysanthemums on a white trellis formed the setting for the lawn wedding of Dawn Karen Daniels and Danny H. Brooks at the home of the bride, Saturday evening, July 24.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donal Daniels, 3585 Munger Rd., Tipton and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brooks, 206 Park St.

Mrs. Lester Munger was the organist.

Pink flowers on pink ribbon formed streamers at the waistline. Her fingertip veil was edged in matching lace. Bridal bouquet was formed of white daisies and baby's breath.

Maid of honor Debra Richmond wore a yellow halter dress with a floral print jacket, a white picture hat and carried a straw basket of daisies and baby's breath.

Wearing matching costumes, the bridesmaids were Darlene Wolfe of Tipton, the bride's sister; and Mrs. Stephen Daniels, Tipton, sister-in-law of bride.

Bill Knapp of Corvallis, Ore., was best man.

Reception at Peerless Gear Union Hall, Clinton, was attended by 400 guests, with hosts Mr. and Mrs. Fred Feight and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brooks.

Bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is a teller at Clinton State Savings Bank.

Groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Saginaw Valley College. He is employed on Fred Feight dairy farm, Tecumseh.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brooks at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks are at home at 2401 Dinius Rd., Tecumseh.

Pam Jacoby Weds Rick Bunch

Pamela Jean Jacoby and Rick L. Bunch were married July 31 at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh with Pastor Edmond I. Watkins of the First Presbyterian Church officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Jacoby of 703 Ternes Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Bunch, 205 E. Pottawatamie.

Betty Flanders was organist.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza gown with full skirt. The gown featured a stand-up collar of peau-d'ang lace eased into a sheer English net yoke adorned by pearls.

Tiny cap sleeves and a fully lined bodice were also of peau-d'ang. The A-line shaped skirt was sprinkled with lace appliques and was fashioned with a chapel train. A narrow, accordian pleat ruffle bordered the hem. The Juliet headpiece was of matching lace.

A full, double tier of imported illusion net of elbow length was adorned by appliques repeated across the veil.

Martha Peterson of Ann Arbor was maid of honor wearing a light weight, polyester, peach knit. The gown featured short, standout sleeves, stand up collar and plackated slit neckline. The waist had a set in, self-belt.

She wore a white picture hat with peach ribbon, adorned with flowers matching her bouquet. She carried a crescent bouquet of peach carnations, white daisies and blue statice, enhanced by baby's breath.

Doug Bunch, the groom's brother was best man. Dennis Bunch, also the groom's brother and Kent Jacoby, the bride's brother, both of Tecumseh were ushers.

Tables were decorated with hurricane lamps trimmed with peach, white and blue flowers. Two silver candelabra adorned the cake table.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Tecumseh High School and Michigan State University. The bride has a degree in elementary education and the groom has a degree in electrical engineering. He is employed by Tecumseh Products Co.

After a honeymoon in Ontario, Canada, the couple will reside at 207 E. Shawnee St.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Country House restaurant.

One-Half Million Reached by FFA

Paul Burns, local Agriculture Teacher and FFA advisor reports that for the first time national FFA membership has reached one-half million.

The count for the 1975-76 school year in the United States was 500,385.

There has also been an increase in FFA's involvement in chapter, state, and national activities.

However, vocational agriculture is graduating only enough students to fill about 27 percent of agriculture's replacement needs in the United States.

This indicates there are many opportunities in agriculture in addition to farming or the production phase.

The local agriculture department had 73 members this past year, and the FFA which is an integral part of the program, had 70 members who were also members of the state and national organization.

Some of the important local activities this past year included:

Farming 20 acres, operating the greenhouse, raising and marketing 300 broilers, entering the state broiler contest, the speech, parlipro, and interview contests.

The chapter also attended the state convention and had a deep sea fishing trip out East.

Kiwanis Club News, Activities

Kiwanis Club will convene for its regular business meeting at the Aug. 10, 7 a.m. meeting at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

Aug. 17 Ed Walters will be program chairman. Mrs. Alex Hanson, R.N., project manager for Lenawee County's swine flue immunization program will explain the program, her role and the role of volunteers which are still needed.

The Michigan 59th district Kiwanis convention will be in Kalamazoo on Aug. 20-22. Club delegates are the Rev. Allan Gray and alternate, Russell Scott.

At the Aug. 2 meeting, Jim Daly, program chairman, introduced Judge Yale Kerby and Judge Kenneth Glaser who are running for circuit court judge and Henry Crudder and Harvey Koselka who are campaigning for the office of county prosecuting attorney. Candidates presented their backgrounds and platforms.

Rapin, "Sailor of the Quarter"

Ship Serviceman Seaman Frank J. Rapin, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Rapin, 116 Maple St., has been selected among 180 men aboard the destroyer U.S.S. Dyess DD-880 as "Sailor of the Quarter".

This award, presented by the captain, recognizes the most outstanding sailor of a four month period.

The Dyess is home, ported out of an ex-naval shipyard in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The ship plans to leave for Florida and head south to Cuba and the Caribbean Islands.

Take Advantage of Free Program

Assistant House Republican Leader John Mowat Jr. (R-Adrian) 40th Michigan district, encourages Michigan residents to take advantage of the free swine flu mass immunization program.

"The program is being sponsored this fall by the federal government," Mowat said, "to immunize people against the flu which is expected this winter. The goal is to immunize 90 percent of the state's population which is more than eight million people."

Mowat earlier this year sponsored legislation in the Michigan legislature to protect those involved in the program from malpractice suits. Governor Milliken signed the bill recently providing the needed protection for primarily doctors and nurses who will be donating their time to the program.

"It's unfortunate that such legislation is necessary," Mowat said, "but health professionals are fearful of being sued for malpractice. This would certainly be an injustice to them after they volunteered their services."

Swine flu is related to the influenza which was responsible for thousands of deaths in the World War I era. Because of the expected epidemic, the federal government moved swiftly to establish one of the largest national health programs of all time, working through state and local health departments.

The bill signed into law recently stipulates that those involved are relieved of civil liability only when participating in a mass immunization program approved by the Department of Public Health. It says they are not liable for damages as a result of an act of omission which causes illness, reaction or adverse effect from the use of any drug or vaccine in the program, except in cases of gross negligence or misconduct.

"This is a good example of how government is intended to work," Mowat said. "We are doing for the people what they could not possibly do for themselves.

"I certainly hope Michigan residents avail themselves of this service."

13 Camp in Indiana

CLINTON— Thirteen Boy Scouts attended Camp Little Turtle at Pleasant Lake, Ind. the week of July 25. They were accompanied by the Scoutmaster Joe Rockwell and assistant scoutmaster, Jerry Bolgos.

On July 26, the group took a canoe trip to the Pigeon River and the boys stayed overnight in the tree houses. During the night the boys enjoyed having raccoons sleeping with them and trying to eat their food. A special patch was earned for this trip.

On July 27, Tom and Kevin Nighswander joined the troop as they paddled their bicycles the 95 miles to camp. They returned to Clinton on Friday morning via the same means of transportation.

On July 28, Wednesday night, the troop had the following visitors: Shirley and Tony Caruso; Mary and Don Houghton and family and Mrs. Houghton's mother, Mrs. Marjorie Service.

Reptile study, Jim Nighswander, Vaughn Shaffer.

Swimming, David Kussmaul.

Leatherwork, Mark Caruso, Darn Cates, Gary Houghton, Tom Nighswander, Eric Rockwell, Richard Kussmaul, Doug Busch, Jason Bolgos.

Basketry, Daren Cates, Doug Busch, Gary Houghton, Mark Caruso, Eric Rockwell, Jason Golgos.

DEALER IN NOSTALGIA — Ken Nelson has assembled a collection of reminders of early days to be offered in his newly opened shop Ken's Antiques in Clinton.

Opens Shop

CLINTON — Newcomer Ken Nelson of Northville has opened a new business, Ken's Antiques in the double building at 125 W. Michigan Ave.

Nelson was associated in business with his father, in the Village Pump antique shop at Northville for 18 years.

He plans to carry a complete line of antiques including furniture, brass beds, glassware, china, clocks and lamps.

He specializes in campaign buttons and will carry replacements for antique lamps. He also has a line of doll house furniture reproductions.

He'll be refinishing much of the furniture he sells, and will have the shop open Thursdays through Sundays.

Questions Answered

CLINTON — Four visitors were present for the meeting of the Clinton Township Board, Monday night.

Supervisor Harry Comstock answered the visitors inquiries about the work of the board and about zoning ordinance which is being considered by the Zoning Board.

Building inspector Charles Wilson reported on $98,120 in building permits for the month, which were approved.

A communication was read from the Lenawee County Road Commission stating that the second application of chloride had been placed on the roads.

Pig Roast Planned by Jaycees

CLINTON — Clinton Area Jaycee committee met at the home of Gary Ingraham, Tuesday night, to make plans for participation in Clinton's Fall Festival, in late September.

Jaycees will have a pig roast again, and will roast five large pigs as they did last year. Pork roast will be served on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 25.

Another feature, which was successful last year was the Kielbasa and sauerkraut lunch. They plan to double the number of sausages from 300 to 600 links and to begin serving earlier in the day.

Jaycees will also have a beer tent during the festivities.

Prepare for Band Camp

CLINTON — Rehearsals will begin Monday, Aug. 9 at the Clinton High School for the band in preparation for band camp later in the month.

Percussion rehearsal will be at 6 p.m. and the entire band at 7 p.m.

Tuesday, Aug. 10, the entire high school band will spend all day at Pontiac Stadium where it will see the International Drum and Bugle Corp competition.

The band will rehearse almost every day until the week of Aug. 23-28, when 40 members of the band and their director Mark Schnizlein, will go to Alma College for band camp activities.

There is still a need for adult chaperones at band camp. Anyone interested may call Mark Schnizlein, 456-4544.

Benefit from Ticket Sales

CLINTON — Joe O'Donnell, chairman for the car ticket sales for the Clinton Fall Festival, announced that the sales program is open for participation by all local clubs and organizations.

All participating groups can earn 20 cents per ticket for all stubs turned in by Sept. 20.

Arrangements can be made to take the three cars to special events. Banners, tickets, and posters for promotion will be provided.

For ticket information call 456-7355.

A special sales promotion by the four local churches helped to bring ticket sales to over $6,000, O'Donnell reported.

Holder of the winning ticket will have a choice of three automobiles, a Chrysler New Yorker, Lincoln Continental or Toronado Brougham.

Save Coupons for Jaycettes

CLINTON — Clinton Area Jaycee Auxiliary is again saving coupons and labels. These items may be dropped at the Clinton Local or phone Judy Bauer 456-7377.

Campbell labels go to the Clinton Elementary School for much needed equipment.

Gerber Baby labels from juice, cereal and food are given back to Gerber, and through a state Jaycette collection project may earn a heart machine for Mott Children's Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Collection points in the Clinton area are the State Savings Bank, J & C Family Foods and the Clinton Local.

Cancelled postage stamps are taken to Jackson Prison to be cleaned and packaged, then sold. Money earned is then donated to St. Francis Catholic Church in Detroit.

Jaycettes are also sponsoring a $50 grocery raffle with proceeds to be given toward a high school senior scholarship.

This year's recipients were Sandy Marion and Elizabeth Wolf.

Tickets may be purchased from any Auxiliary member or from the J&C Foods upstairs store or Clinton Local. Drawing is Sept. 11; winner need not be present to win.

Discharged from Air Force

CLINTON — Major David Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Olson, Clinton, recently received his discharge from the Air Force at Homestead AFB, Fla.

Dr. Olson will locate in Gaylord where he will be associated with other physicians in a clinic.

His wife, Karen, who is also a pediatrician will begin a family practice early next year. The couple has two children, Derek 2 and Heidi, five months old.

Dinner guests were sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Couture, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dinse, grandparents.

Church has Camp Weekend

CLINTON — Several families of the United Church of Christ will share a camping weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Four Seasons Campgrounds, Grass Lake.

Other members of the congregation are invited to visit the camp, Sunday for a 2 p.m. potluck picnic and fellowship.

Mrs. Fred Miller is in charge of arrangements.

Main Street Gets Changes

CLINTON — Several changes are taking place on Clinton's main street.

Last week, Jane Cole moved her Jane's Flowers business from the Vandegriff building on the south side of the street across the street to 116 W. Michigan Ave., the McGee building. The Vandegriff building is for sale.

Jean Magee's Antiques has been phased out and Jean is now devoting her full time to the Clintonian Inn restaurant and apartment rental business. She operated the antique business since December 1972.

McGee building will be vacated as owners of the Stuff and Things novelty store are closing out their business.

Join Staff of Assembly

CLINTON — The Rev. and Mrs. Mark Hedges of Saline have recently joined the staff of the Clinton Assembly of God as youth and music director.

The family moved from Bethany, Okla., two years ago.

The Rev. Hedges attended Southwestern Bible College, Oklahoma City, Okla. and has sung with the Servants Quartet. He is employed at Peerless Gear, Ann Arbor.

Vacation Bible School is being held this week, to be climaxed by the Sunday School and Bible School picnic at Carr Park, Manchester, Aug. 7 at noon.

There will be a program of music and hymn sing, games for the children and an old-fashioned ice cream social.

Women's Missionary meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 10 at the home of Erie Pease, Lot 163, Water Wheel Estates.

Agreement Is Reached

CLINTON — Tentative agreement has been reached in negotiations with the Clinton Education Association on a contract for the faculty according to Richard Wegner, superintendent of Clinton Community Schools.

Ratification meeting for the faculty will be held after Labor Day.

Tentative agreement has also been reached with the AFL-CIO Operators Union for a contract for the bus drivers and maintenance.

School board negotiating team is meeting with the representatives of the secretaries and cafeteria staff, Thursday evening, for further discussions on their contract.

We've moved across the street to 116 W. Michigan Ave.

Participates in Exploration Day

Dawn Johnson of Tecumseh participated in the Exploration Days at Michigan State University last month. "Exploring Michigan Government," was one of the 146 options organized.

For a day and a half, the 4-H members learned more about Michigan government through discussions with resource people from the Governor's office and the League of Women Voters.

During the Salute '76, 150 students registered their opinions. Their preference for president showed Ford (49), Carter (22), Brown (18), Humphrey (5), Udall (4), Reagan (3) and several others one each.

Ninety-four people favored legislation raising the legal drinking age while 56 opposed it. Most stunning of all, 156 out of 161 people responding supported legislation requiring returnable bottles be used for soft drinks and beer.

Completes GT Course

Bob Ferguson, switchman for General Telephone Co. at Ida, recently completed a course in step-by-step switch and relay adjustment at the company's service training center in Muskegon.

Ferguson will be able to adjust electromechanical switches and associated relays. He will also be able to inspect and adjust rotary switches and perform failure analysis tests.

My Year In Sweden

By Valerie Egli
Exchange Student

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Valerie Egli returned from her year in Sweden on July 16. Although she was not able to be home for America's celebration of the Bicentennial on July 4, she shares with us an adventure in Sweden which qualifies as an equally joyful, but tiring celebration.)

May 1st is a big holiday in Sweden. Like most Swedish holidays the celebration begins the night before. Where I lived, in a little town called Astorp, the celebration started with a big get-together in the park beside the windmill.

The music school's band, of which I am a member, started off with a few Swedish spring songs. A speaker gave a talk something like our American 4th of July talks. Everybody else (the whole town must have been there) was greeting one another and talking while children played.

A huge bonfire on the other side attracted a crowd.

The fire was warm and beautiful. A fireworks display was accompanied by the usual "ooohing" and "aaaahing", no language barrier there.

My Swedish "brother," Peter, is crazy about photography, and he took some double exposures. I felt like I had my 4th of July early.

After the fireworks, Peter, Susie, my Swedish sister, and I got dressed up at home to go out with two other girlfriends.

Kristina, my Swedish "momma", baked a delicious cake with whipped cream and pineapple, which we couldn't resist. After consuming those 1,000's of calories, we picked up the two other girls and left for Helsingborg, the closest city, ½ hour drive from Astorp.

The eve of May 1st is a typical party night, and we planned to join the tradition. First we went to a pub called "Dickens," named after author, Charles Dickens. Decorated to resemble an old English pub, it was slightly expensive. A glass of orange juice cost $1.50.

Two singers-guitarists entertained that night.

Next stop was a discotheque called "Avenyn," the Avenue, on the sixth floor of an old building. It was jam-packed with people, most of them regulars.

Although in Sweden it is fairly typical for a girl to ask a guy to dance, I'm too shy to follow the custom. But luckily the guys aren't, so I danced quite a lot. Another nice custom here is to dance no less than two dances in a row with someone. This way you can get to know somebody a little better.

Whenever anyone finds out that I'm American, they try their English on me. It's fun, but sooner or later, they lapse back into Swedish.

Since the pub closed at 3 a.m. and I had to be up by 5 a.m. to play in the band to welcome May and springtime, I decided to stay awake all night.

It was easier said than done, after all that dancing. Once I got out in the fresh, cold air, I felt wide awake again.

The band marched the whole length of one block and back again, plus 200 yards to show off for the elderly in a home.

We hopped into cars and traveled to 15 different places to play. Each time we played half of a song more if the audience applauded. Each time we got out of the cars, our hands froze and the trip to the next place was spent trying to warm them up again.

When we finished playing, a representative of the town, Nyvang, invited us in to the community center for coffee or soda and sandwiches.

Someone stood up and gave a speech. He swore that as long as he had any say about it, the members of that band would get everything they wanted. He offered us beer, whiskey, cigars, cigarettes, and even snuff! Well, the thought was nice.

When we got home we had four hours to rest before we would play again, this time in a parade with real marching. At 1 p.m. we met in the town square. The parade consisted of the band, a lot of flagwaving, sign-carrying marchers for the Social Democratic Party. We marched through town and up a hill where the party was having a carnival-convention. I was too worn out to stay.

When I got home, I decided to sleep for a few hours. I planned on getting up later to see two American television shows: "McCloud" and a movie called "Danny"... but I fell asleep at 6 p.m. and didn't open my eyes again until 5 a.m. the next morning.

Next May 1st, I think I'll take it easy.

Five Take 4-H Citizenship Tour

Susan Bless, Sharon Fritz, Barbara Rebottaro and Dawn Johnson of Tecumseh and Mary Ann Moll of Britton were five Lenawee County youths who were part of a 38-member delegation from Lenawee, Monroe, and Washtenaw counties which recently returned from a nine-day trip to Washington, D.C.

Besides a week-long living experience with 4-H youth from 12 other states, the girls took part in an intensive program designed to help young people understand the structure and function of our governmental system.

The program theme for the week was: The Electoral System and Citizens Involvement in it.

Using the capital as a "classroom" the program included a day on Capitol Hill. The Lenawee group toured the Capitol, the Supreme Court, and the Library of Congress.

High points of the day were meetings with Sen. Robert Griffin, Rep. Edward Hutchinson and several staff aides.

The youth asked questions about the legislators' roles and about how youth could become involved in the process of government.

Field trips to historical and cultural sites were among the most exciting events of the week.

The group visited:

The Kennedy Center, The Arlington Cemetery, The National Cathedral, Mount Vernon, The Lincoln, Jefferson and Washington Monuments, The Smithsonian Institute, The National Archives, The National Gallery of Art, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, The White House, Ford Theatre, the Folk Life Festival on the Mall, and the Pentagon.

A special heritage field trip found the group at Wolf Trapp Farm to see the presentation of the Scottish Military Tatoo to the United States by Prince Phillip of England.

On the return bus trip home, the 4-H'ers stopped for half a day to tour the Gettysburg National Battlefield.

Citizenship '76 is being conducted by the National 4-H Foundation on behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service of the several state land grant universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In addition, the 4-H facility is open all during the year to families and other groups interested in visiting the Washington area. Preregistration is required.

Members of the Lenawee 4-H group were sponsored in part by donations from the 4-H Council, the Project Parents and the Lenawee County Bankers Association. Selection is made each year on the basis of leadership-membership qualities, citizenship committments and other factors.

Other Lenawee youth interested in this program should contact the 4-H Youth Programs Office at 263-8831, ext. 333.

Host Ohio 4-H Members

Two Tecumseh area families, the John Vincent Family of Tipton and the Arthur Fritz Family of Tecumseh hosted Ohio 4-H members from Greene County.

For a week Ohio youth shared the life of a new family — learning more about themselves and others by comparison. Much of the youths' time was spent at home with the host Lenawee 4-H member and his family. Trips were made to area sites of interest, including Greenfield Village.

In addition, all the Michigan and Ohio youth were invited to attend a "Lock-In" hosted by the Washtenaw 4-H Officer at its Fairgrounds and to share a potluck picnic, strawberry social and visit to the Monroe Bicentennial Fair.

Any youth interested in inter-state exchanges should write or call the Cooperative Extension Office, 263-8831, ext. 333.

Wayne & Burton Wright - Owners

There comes a time in each married couples life when they decide that they no longer want to live in an apartment or pay rent to someone without getting any return on their money.

When that time comes and they start looking into buying a home, they often realize that the pre-built homes available are not just what they have been looking for.

Many people have felt that building a home of their own to their own plan on their own lot would be too involved and too costly; and have compromised on what they really want.

If this is your situation then you really do not have to compromise. Wright Builders located at 2736 Burwyn Hills in Tecumseh, phone 423-7274 or 423-7315, is one of the finest custom home builders in Lenawee County. They know the home building business completely and can help you with the entire project; from the discussion of what you want in your home - through the drawing of the plans - into the actual construction. Some of the finest custom built homes in this area have been built by Wright Builders and you can rest assured that when you contract this firm you will be treated fairly and your home will be what you expected it to be in every detail!

We, the editors of this 1976 Review would like to take this opportunity to highly recommend the Wright Builders to anyone interested in building today.

We take this time to endorse this fine wrecking yard of fair and honest dealings with the public, and we commend them on their ecology minded business.

Breaks Stereotype of Newsman

News Editor Adopts Tecumseh as Home

By Kathy Brown

Few would cast a newspaper man in the light of good.

After all, the life of a newsman has been historically associated, justifiably or not, with all-night poker games, libation, profanity and life's dark side.

After a 30-year newspaper career that has spanned one-half of one of the most dynamic centuries of history, it is surprising to find an optimistic newsman. Newspaper reporters only see the bad side, right?

If that is the case, what account for Harry's religious attitude toward life and the order of the universe?

Self-determination to overcome his early family life and a physical handicap.

He credits God as being his "Invisible Helmsman."

Harry Lucas was born hard of hearing in 1892 on a tobacco farm in Ohio. At 3½ his mother divorced his father for cruelty to children. She supported her children as a dressmaker.

Harry struggled through school because hearing aids were not invented until 1917. But he recalls many teachers who sympathized with his difficulty, yet did not pity him.

"People who give are often giving more than they realize," Harry told of them. He himself is a strong advocate for the handicapped.

At age 12, Harry became a printer's "devil" after school. A Civil War Captain John S. Adair owned the only bookstore in town. He let Harry borrow books so the young man, wouldn't "develop curvature of the spine," stooping over the books in quiet corners of the bookshop. This started a habit of bookreading that influenced Harry's philosophy and career.

He read books uncommon for a youth. His questions unanswered, he quit high school at 16 because of his difficulty hearing.

At age 17, he read Harold Bell Wright's "That Printer from Udell's" and he became a printer. After a near miss in an accident at home, Harry began to ponder life. His alertness for survival was sharpened. He dedicated his life to God, which he synonimously refers to as Good. Influenced by his family's tumultuous life, Harry made world harmony his life objective at 17.

At age 18, Harry experienced a case of spiritual indigestion. He read Plato's "Republic," Nietzsche, Schopenhauer, etc. After more reading, he finally recognized God as his "invisible helmsman."

At age 21, Harry married and the couple had a daughter. Shortly after a move to Akron, He "wrote, fished and learned more about life and the infinite world created by God."

At 26, he met established journalists who coached him. Finally he joined an old school he was critically injured. His lifestyle changed.

Doctors told him he would have to earn his living with his head. He began to study words and learned to write essays, short stories and poetry. He proved he could walk again and "climb mountains of selfpity."

"While trying to find myself (in Colorado), I found beauty and truth were everywhere — indigestion. I read Plato's "Republic," Nietzsche, Schopenhauer, etc. After more reading, he finally recognized God as his "invisible helmsman."

For Harry, these were miracles, not coincidences. Until he was 25, he lived in the remote Colorado mountains.

For Harry, these were miracles, not coincidences. Until he was 25, he lived in the remote Colorado mountains.

Harry has seen many changes in the business, including operational changes in presses, typesetting and news transmission, such as facimile, electronic transmission of pictures on wire services.

Special sections on home economics, business, religion, medical, social and financial advice, have required journalists to specialize.

Are newspapers going too far in doing such things as printing advice on sex?

"It's long overdue. Society's foundation depends upon proper information," said Harry. He views proper information as one way to hault the declining social values.

Are people becoming alienated by Watergate? and Capitol Hill sex scandals?

Harry thinks not. He sees society preserved by "the grass roots which have firm grip," on society. "And those roots are damn good. They are holding on not because they have to do it, but because they enjoy doing it."

He said there is still "remaining beauty in America," especially in small towns as Tecumseh, his newly adopted home.

About local people Harry explained, "You can know 'em and trust 'em. They'd rather die than betray you."

Harry believes "society can recover with intelligent direction, with sensitivity and a will to cooperate with God and nature."

THE HISTORY of CHIROPRACTIC

Chiropractic is the science of health and disease viewed from a structural standpoint with special consideration given to spinal mechanisms and neurological relations. Chiropractic, now over 80 years old, is the largest drugless healing profession in the world today. The Chiropractor knows that a misaligned vertebra can cause excruciating pain in the immediate back area. It can also interfere with the nerves leading from the spine, thereby affecting other portions of the body. The Chiropractor is especially skilled in treating neuro-musculo-skeletal problems such as disc and other back disorders, neck problems, whiplash and conditions of the knee, shoulder, elbow, hand and foot joints. But the chiropractor can treat much more as millions of American can testify. The satisfied patients prove the success of chirpractic itself and have definitely established the merits of this primary health care profession.

The Doctor of Chiropractic has at his or her disposal advanced technics and equipment in modern x-ray, laboratory and diagnostic instruments, and is throughly trained and skilled in orthopedic and neurological procedures. The Chiropractor's examination and diagnosis seek to determine what may be causing the patient's body not to function properly. If the problem is one for which recognized chiropractic methods of treatment are applicable, the chiropractor will recommend a course of treatment. Dr. Walter Elwartowski is located in Tecumseh at 101 South Pearl, phone 423-7360 for an appointment.

Forum Intended for Likes, Dislikes

Residents of Lenawee County will have an opportunity to learn more about the Michigan Department of Social Services at a public forum from 9 a.m. to noon Aug. 17 at the Cleary College Auditorium, 2170 Washtenaw Avenue, Ypsilanti.

The forum is intended to give area residents an opportunity to tell DSS officials what they like and don't like about Michigan's existing welfare systems.

Social Services Director John T. Dempsey, who will be among the panelists, emphasizes that "we want to hear from you, the taxpayer, the citizen."

Participates at Camp

Mary Heglin, 1103 N. River Ct., participated in a parent panel at the YMCA Storer Camps recently to help the camp counselors determine, "What I want my child to get out of Camp."

Panel consisted of current and former campers' parents, including residents from Ann Arbor and Toledo. Having fun, making new friends, getting along with others of different backgrounds, learning new skills and self-worthiness, were goals they decided upon.

New camp sessions start July 5, Aug. 9 and Aug. 21.

PETUNIA EATERS AND SO ON

One of our favorite trees is the tall sentinel of a walnut tree which stands guard near the southwest corner of my room and, carrying this talk of favorites a bit further, I even have a special feeling for one particular limb of this tree.

It is the lower limb and shortly after splitting from the main trunk it divides again. The main limb is almost trunk size itself but the secondary branches are much smaller and, of course, as they braneh out the size decreases again. These smaller limbs twist and turn forming picturesque shapes. Interesting to see.

Fortunately there are some birds who seem to share my fondness for the cricks and bends of this walnut limb. A few young robins, just old enough to have almost lost their speckled breasts, use it for a resting spot between frantic sessions of mulberry eating.

Some of the young bluejays do the same thing. The robins are quiet but never will the same be said about the jays, their rest periods are noisy affairs and I just know that some of the screaming is a 'discussion' of what they can do next.

Either that or some of the hollering could be nothing more than trying to drive the 'other' bluejay away.

And speaking of bluejays, we know of two who enjoyed an exotic ending to their rather ordinary Wednesday lunch of mulberries and choke cherries.

Mom looked out just in time to see a pair of fluffy feathered youngsters sitting on the porch railing and nibbling her petunias.

The bicentennial theme of red, white and blue did not quite work out — the white petunias seem to be taking over, the red ones are doing only fairly well and the blues are struggling.

The planter of petunias is in the corner of the porch and, when Mom saw the bluejays, they were standing near the corner, one on one side and one on the other.

With no stretching at all they leaned over and neatly bit the white petals. My, such fancy appetites.

This summer has just been full of quick little adventures such as resting robins and petunia eating bluejays.

Two young song sparrows spent several days investigating the near-my-window feeders and surprised us by being quite belligerent.

The adult winter version of this bird is round and fat bodied but the summertime juvenile is quite slender.

Our two have the pretty striped breast and the stick pin marking, the striped heads and backs, and the happy melodic song for which their clan is famous, but one of the birds looks as though he had his tail out in the sun too long.

It is faded — for approximately three fourths of its length this songbird's tail is a light washed-out looking tan instead of the rich brown that it should be. Very strange.

Also strange is the behavior of the wrens. All summer they have entertained us with their lovely serenading. It was obvious that they were nesting nearby and one batch of fresh-out-of-the-nest youngsters afforded article material several weeks ago.

Well, when the next round of family rearing began it was more than a surprise when we discovered where the couple was setting up housekeeping.

These birds are notorious for the unusual places in which they build nests but this pair almost out did themselves. We watched them busy at constructing their 'home sweet home' in our neighbor's martin house!

Going from a tiny musical bird to a big noisy one brings me to the flicker. In fact, two flickers. They spend much time on 'my' limb of the walnut tree talking to each other.

Actually, since to me flicker noise sounds like loud maniacal laughter, perhaps I am justified at saying the birds laugh at each other.

The other day I had a good laugh at one of them. He flew to the mulberry tree and then reached out so far to nip off a choice berry that he actually fell off the small branch. How embarassing!

Marketing Conference

Local Investors Diversified Services (I.D.S.) representative Dale W. Perry and his wife Linda attended a special marketing conference in Honolulu.

The Perrys live at 3791 Loveless Drive.

Dale qualified for the conference by selling more than one million dollars in I.D.S. financial services which include mutual funds, investment certificates, pension and profit-sharing plans, annuities, and life, business, and disability insurance.

Pleads Guilty to Larceny

Patrick R. Stoddard, 18, 207 S. Occidental, pleaded guilty recently to a charge of larceny from a motor vehicle in connection with a July 18 radio and tool box theft from a car.

He entered the plea before Judge Kenneth B. Glaser Jr. He will be sentenced at a later date pending a pre-sentencing investigation.

The arrest took place after police investigated a reported larceny in progress at Town and Country Apartments.

Officers spotted the suspect walking across a field to the south of the apartments and pursued on foot. The suspect dropped the items and kept running until police fired a warning shot.

Stoddard reportedly opened the passenger door of an auto belonging to Sherry Alvardo, of Mexico to take a television and tool box belonging to Gary Harper, Tipton.

Employees Are GMI Grads

James H. Wehrle, industrial engineer, and Gerald A. Schoen, superviros-maintenance, both of Fisher Body Tecumseh Plant, were among the graduates of General Motors Institute receiving bachelor degrees in commencement exercises held Thursday, July 27 at GMI in Flint, Michigan.

JAMES WEHRLE

GERALD SCHOEN

Mr. Wehrle received a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and Mr. Schoen a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering.

Wehrle, a 1970 graduate of Adrian High School, began employment with the Tecumseh Plant in June, 1970 as a locally sponsored cooperative student in the GMI Program. In January 1975, he entered the University of Michigan to pursue a master's program in the area of human factors engineering. He completed degree requirements for a master's science in engineering degree through the U of M's Occupational Health and Safety Engineering Program in January, 1976.

While at GMI, he was selected for membership in Tau Beta Pi and Alpha Pi Mu, both of which are honor societies in engineering and industrial engineering, respectively. Wehrle is also a member of the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Engineers, Inc., and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Wehrle, 3363 N. Adrian Hwy., Adrian.

Schoen, a 1971 graduate of Mendel High School, Chicago, began his employment with Fisher Body Chicago Plant in June 1971, as a plant sponsored GMI cooperative student.

He was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, social fraternity while at GMI and following completion of degree requirements was transferred to Fisher Body Tecumseh in March 1976, in the capacity of supervisor-maintenance, Plant Engineering Department. Schoen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schoen, Calumet Park, Illinois, is married and resides at 3338 W. Maumee St., Adrian.

General Motors Institute, founded in Flint (1919), is a private college owned and supported by General Motors Corporation. It is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and offers bachelors degree programs in Mechanical, Industrial, Electrical Engineering and Industrial Administration.

Surprise Party Honors Birthday

BRITTON — A surprise birthday party was given for Mrs. Charles (Ivalee) Roggemen at her home near Dundee by her husband and two children, Earl, 18 and Charlene, 16.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blakeman of LaSalle; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Pickford of Macon; Mrs. James Killey and her children, Jason and Jill of Dundee; Sam McCarty Jr. and Tom McCarty of Britton; Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers and Tom and Arlene, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dart, Mr. and Mrs. Denny LaVoy and children, and Richard Guldi and son, Charlie all of Petersburg and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Breitner and children of Deerfield.

The refreshments featured two cakes made by Mrs. Rogers; a ham furnished by Mr. Guldi and a fruit salad and ice cream furnished by the Breitners.

Approve Inspector

BRITTON — Village Council met Monday evening and approved the hiring of J. Davis as new building inspector for the village. Mr. Davis lives at 9285 Smith Rd., 451-8578.

It was announced that Mike Bearinger, village employee, received his D-2 water operator's license from the Lansing Dept. of Health.

Next meeting will be held Monday, Aug. 16 and the September meeting will be changed to Tuesday, Sept. 7, due to Labor Day falling on the first Monday meeting date.

Open House Honors Couple on 40th

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Champanois of 403 Outer Dr., were honored on their 40th wedding anniversary with an open house at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Champanois of 2735 Burwyn Hills, Aug. 1 from 2 to 5 p.m.

The open house was given by the couple's children Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Margaret) Peterson, Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin (Beverly) Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. David Champanois, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Champanois, Jr. and their 10 grandchildren.

A buffet luncheon was enjoyed by approximately 55 relatives from Tecumseh, Clinton and Brooklyn. Cakes for the occasion were baked and decorated by daughter-in-law, Mrs. David (Janet) Champanois and two teenage granddaughters, Peggy Lewis and Renee Peterson.

Clarence Champanois and Kathryn Derimyer were married on July 26, 1936 in Angola, Ind.

Selected for Training

BRITTON — Airman Samuel W. Bates, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Bates of 235 W. Chicago, has been selected for technical training at Chanute AFB, Ill., in the Air Force avionics systems field.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Airman Bates is a 1972 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and attended Grand Valley State College in Allendale.

Budd Has $4.5 Million In Reserve

The Budd Company has established a $4.5 million reserve to cover costs of closing an older unit, unit five, of its Hunting Park, Philadelphia, automotive stamping operations.

The costs of closing the unit will be charged against third quarter earnings. Third quarter operations are still expected to be solidly profitable.

Discontinuance of the older stamping unit will not affect other operations at the Hunting Park plant.

Production currently being conducted at the unit will be moved to other existing Budd facilities.

A dividend of $.20 per common share was declared by the Board of Directors of The Budd Co.

The Board also declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 on the $5 preferred shares of the company.

Both the common and preferred dividends are payable Sept. 1, to shareholders of record at the close of business Aug. 12.

Return from Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bunge returned last Thursday from a 10-day vacation. They visited Mr. and Mrs. George VanCamp and Mike and Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Lord at Tupelo, Miss. and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Austin Barnett of Princeton, Ky. The Barnetts are cousins of Mrs. Bunge and were residents of Adrian moving to Princeton.

Cooks Move to Ohio

BRITTON — Orville Cook family of 7648 Ridge Hwy., will move to Bainbridge, Ohio Sept. 1, where they will operate their 2,500 acre farm.

The Cooks purchased the land (which includes seven farms) six years ago, and plan to crop 800 acres of corn and soybeans, as well as 600 acres of oats, wheat and alfalfa. They also plan to raise three acres of tobacco for the open market.

Grazing on their 1,000 gently rolling pastures and hillsides will be their 250 registered Angus cows and a flock of 100 heads of Suffolk ewes. They plan to farrow 50 sows yearly, also.

Ohio is not an unfamiliar place for Mr. Cook as he was raised in Findlay, Ohio. Reasons for moving to the Buckeye State is because of its ideal climate for raising hogs, cattle, sheep and for the fertile farming land.

Bainbridge is 60 miles east of Cincinnati and about 50 miles north of Kentucky.

The Cooks have four children, Dennis, who will be attending MSU in September; Vickie was a junior at Tecumseh High School and Scott, a freshman there; Kendra attended the 6th grade at Ridgeway school.

The whole family is active in social and community activities.

The children are all members of the Britton-Macon Community 4-H Club and all have won blue ribbons and trophies for their Angus cattle and Suffolk ewes at local and state fairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook and children are members of Grace United Methodist Church in Britton. Mr. and Mrs. Cook are both 4-H leaders and youth counselors at the church.

Mrs. Cook was the originator and served as first president of the State of Michigan Angus Auxiliary. She does part-time specialized work for Stauffer Chemical and Tecumseh Products Co.

She is a past president of Ridgeway PTO; National secretary judge for three years for Angus cattle, judging in Kentucky.

Mr. Cook is chairman of the board for State Angus Association and last year was president of Lenawee County Sheep Producers. He was coach of Lenawee County lifestock judging team that won a trip to Missouri last year to judge in the national contest in Kansas. He served on agricultural boards around the state.

The Cooks operated the Kitty Kurtis Angus, Inc. farm on Ridge Hwy for the past 12 years, maintaining 400 cattle. The farm will be taken over by the three sons of the late Bill Brown and son of Jack Brown.

Men's Slo-Pitch Season Nears End, All First Place Contests Are Close

MAKE-UP GAME

United Savings scored four runs in the first inning and held on to beat Handley Equipment 5-4. The two teams combined for only 12 hits.

TUESDAY LEAGUE

Underwood Chevrolet took a 8-0 lead into the third inning only to watch Handley score nine straight runs to take the lead and eventually win 13-9.

Every player reached base safely at least once for Handley. Underwood got a three run home run by Greg Cook and a two run home run by Earl Cook.

League leading Tecumseh Merchants had little trouble posting an 11-0 win over the Clinton Merchants.

Clinton had only 5 hits with three coming from Robert Ehnis. Richard Schimmel hit a three run home run in the first inning for Tecumseh to start as six different players got two hits.

Don Baxter hit three singles as United Savings Bank beat B&W West 13-8. Joe Stoddard collected four hits for West and Louis Gonzalez hit a solo home run.

West lead 6-5 going into the fourth inning, but USB took the lead with two runs and never trailed again.

With one game left, The Tecumseh Merchants hold a one game lead over Handley Equipment and United Savings Bank. Handley plays Tecumseh Merchants in the final and a Handley win would force a three-way playoff should USB also win in their last game against Underwood Chevrolet.

WEDNESDAY LEAGUE

Don Eaton hit two home runs and Dennis Kime hit one as Tri-County Loggers beat Irish Hills Merchants 13-2. Larry Henning homered for IHM, who were dropped out of a first place tie by the loss.

Beglinger-Reid nearly upset VFW, but fell one run short as VFW won 10-9. Gordon Whelan's home run in the top of the seventh proved to be the difference. Beglinger-Reid had the tying run in the seventh with no outs but couldn't score.

Tom Ashley had four hits including a home run for VFW and Clair Maynard had three hits for Beglinger.

Wagon Wheel Bar took a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning but could not hold on as D.S.T. Industries posted a 9-4 win.

Daryl King hit safely three times for the winners, who got hits from 10 different players. Wagon Wheel Bar managed only seven hits.

These results leave Tri-County Loggers and VFW tied for first with 7-2 records. These two teams play each other Wednesday at 7:30 for the Wednesday League title in the regular season finale.

THURSDAY LEAGUE

Mike Corley hit a lead-off home run in the first inning as Protco went on to beat American Legion 16-7.

Bart Barteis also homered and Barry Conklin added four hits. Protco actually put the game away with five run rallies in the fifth and seventh innings.

In the battle for first place, Tecumseh Plywood beat Ember's Bar 9-7.

Plywood held a 9-1 lead in the sixth, but Ember's rallied for five runs in that frame and added one more in the seventh, leaving the tying run on base.

Doug Fowler and Tim Komon each had four hits for Plywood and John Merz added three. Bill Tubberville and Ken Pieh each had three hits for Ember's. The win gives Plywood a one game lead with just one game left.

Goble Lumber scored three first-inning runs but got only two more hits the rest of game as Leisure Time Sports Center posted an 11-3 win. Six different players got two hits each for LTSC with Darrell Bozeman hitting home run.

MERCHANTS SCORE—But the team didn't score enough as it lost the Tuesday night league game last night to Handley 15-6. The loss puts Tecumseh Merchants, Handley Equipment, and United Savings Bank in a three-way tie for the Tuesday night championship. This Friday, the Merchants will play the Bank at 6:15 p.m., with Handley playing the winner at 7:30 p.m. to decide that league's winner. (Photo by Mike Sunderland)

INSPIRED POET — Charles C. Beland, 717 S. Occidental, who retired from Tecumseh Products in March has recently published a booklet of his original poetry, "Inspirational and Memorial Poems." A portion of sale proceeds will be donated to First Baptist Church. Charles and wife, Helen have begun traveling since retirement, and the travel has stimulated his poetry, begun just in recent years.

Beglinger-Reid Is Knocked Out of 1st, Dundee Takes Lead

The lead changed hands five times throughout the game with Dundee emerging the victors 23-18.

For the winners, P. Below hit two homeruns, M. Mueller and three hits including a home run, and S. Raymond had three hits. N. Hamilton hit a grand slam home run for Beglinger-Reid and Mary Wood added three hits.

McMahon hit a two-run home run to pace Deerfield Merchants over Airport Bowl 14-5. Rothfuss and McWilliams each added three hits for Deerfield.

Airport Bowl had only six hits and could not capitalize on seven Deerfield errors.

Store Bar scored eight runs in the second inning, but Tecumseh Products came back to win 18-14. Snyder and Richardson each had four hits and Kennedy added three singles for the winners.

Deb Bush homered in the second inning to ignite the eight-run Store Bar rally. Tecumseh Products had a total of 23 hits.

Two Recognized for Parachuting

Two young men were recognized for their jumping records by Harold Lange Parachute Service of Tecumseh.

Lynford Beard was named Rookie of 1975 for making 190 jumps. Paul Briggs is runner-up with 105 jumps.

Both are Tecumsehites employed by the service.

These men have excelled over the 800 students enrolled last year.

Lange Parachute Service of Tecumseh is located at Meyers Airport and is not a private club. Public may enroll in instruction classes.

Girls Win Two, Drop One 13-5

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department's Senior Girls' team sponsored by Hanna's Insurance, won two games last week.

They defeated Toledo Thursday night 9-6. Janet Williams had a home run in the contest. LuAnn Harvey picked up another win.

Friday night they picked up another win by defeating Blissfield 18-13. Gloria Fosbender hit her first home run of the year.

This week, Toledo No. 1 team got only seven hits but took advantage of 11 Tecumseh errors to win 13-5.

P. Scheanwald hit a grand slam home run in the first inning for Toledo. Gloria Fosbender homered for Tecumseh in the sixth inning.

By Sharon Connors

If every week is as fun and interesting as this week, I am going to enjoy bringing you the Macon news.

The suggestions for naming the column are coming in, and what fun reading them! The Herald staff is going to have their work cut out for them, picking a winner, because some super ideas have been submitted.

Remember the prize is a year's subscription to the paper. Deadline is Aug. 8. I will then submit just a list of the titles minus the entrants name and after the winning title is picked I will match it back with the entrant and the winner will announced. Hurry and get your suggestion in if you haven't already.

I enjoyed a letter from a resident who has moved away and took the time to drop me a note when she saw my new column. Thank you Frances Pennington! I'd love some news from you too.

CHRISTMAS IN JULY — 90 children in the Tecumseh Park's playground program enjoyed a Christmas in July party last Wednesday. A Christmas tree, exchanging gifts, breaking pinatas, and Santa Claus highlighted the two hour party. Above, girls raced to put on bib overalls and boys raced to put on skirts as the groups then ran a foot race to the finish line. At right, Melanee Smith tried her best to pin on Bambi's nose with the help of playground worker Laurie Hite. (Photos by Mike Sunderland)

New Books for New Readers

There are so many picture books at the Tecumseh Public Library for young animal lovers. Three take place on the farm: THE BARN (a story without words) by Thom Roberts; MY BIG BOOK OF FARM ANIMALS by Jane Carruth is excellent for early learners; for acres of fun, join OUR ANIMAL FRIENDS AT MAPLE HILL FARM, a delightful book by Alice and Martin Provensen. Another funny book is Marci Ridlon's FROG SANDWICH; RIDDLES AND JOKES for beginning readers.

Also good for new readers is BIG BOSS, Ann Rockwell's story of a smart frog who stays alive by outwitting a tiger and a fox. Many of Tecumseh's young readers like to write their own stories. Berthe Amoss helps them do both in THE GREAT SEA MONSTER OR A BOOK BY YOU. The always easy reading and funny James Marshall instroduces a new character, Mona the Moose, who is joined by THE GUEST, a snail named Maurice.

Some unusual animal friends are MARIE LOUISE AND CHRISTOPHE (a mongoose and a green spotted snake) . . . Natalie Savage Carlson's story of the ups and downs of friendship, mirrored in the pictures by Jose Aruego and Ariane Dewey. Another stormy friendship is Ruth and Latrobe Carroll's HULLABALOO THE ELEPHANT DOG.

Graham Oakley's Church Cat and Mice are off on a new adventure in THE CHURCH MICE AND THE MOON. For a final quiet adventure follow the simple journey from one animal to another called GOODBYE, HELLO by Robert Welber.

Getting to know different people and different times is one of the best things about fiction, and the children's section of Tecumseh Public Library have some that we'd like to recommend to everyone.

SOMEBODY GO AND BANG A DRUM tells of the fun and excitement of a family that grew in many ways with its international adoption of ehildren from Hong Kong, Korea, Vietnam, as well as Mexican-American to form a family that's yellow and brown and black and white. Rebecca Caudill based her story upon a real family.

Find a mixture of the old and new ways of Eskimo living by reading Tom D. Robinson's AN ESKIMO BIRTHDAY. The author and his family live in Alaska where he teaches with the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

A young Vietnamese girl meets with a world of difference upon arriving in America. This includes an acceptance of death as a natural part of life in THE FIRST SNOW by Helen Coutant.

For visits to the past, the following books serve young readers as a "time machine." ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE GATE by Yuri Suhl enters the Polish ghetto of World War II. There a young Jewish couple tries to find a safe home to shelter their infant son.

Earlier days of simpler childhood fears and joys are entered in THE SPELL OF THE NORTHERN LIGHTS. It's Lucy Johnston Sypher's view of the ordinary and courageous acts needed in a North Dakota prairie town in 1916.

For a fantasy with a difference, don't miss TUCK EVERLASTING by Natalie Babbit. In what is one of the past year's best books we join a girl in the rough 1880's who makes friends with the Tuck family. They have found the secret of never aging — a secret that proves dangerous.

Another look at the last century, HOW THE TRUE FACTS STARTED IN SIMPSONVILLE AND OTHER TALES OF THE WEST, is wild, and even a wildly funny assortment of tall stories by William D. Hayes.

For the Bicentennial readers there's THIS TIME, TEMPE WICK?, a story based upon a real colonial girl who singlehandedly defeated two horse-stealing British soldiers. The humor in Patricia Lee Gauch's writing is well matched by Margot Tomes' sly drawings.

The older readers have Mildred Lawrence's TOUCHMARK. This is the narrative of a 14-year-old girl's hope for a career as a pewterer — a career that is closed to females. She witnesses the Boston Tea Party and later diverts British attention from Paul Revere's ride. Whatever period or place interests you, Tecumseh Public Library has the book that can take you away to a different world.

SERVING TECUMSEH AND AREA SINCE 1850

VOL. 125 OUR 126th YEAR—NO. 48 THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1976 TWELVE PAGES—20¢

Council Making Strides toward Senior Housing

Right now, there is no answer as to how long it will be before Tecumseh has senior citizens housing.

"We've come a long way already," said City Manager Cal Zorn.

Two strides were made at the Aug. 2 Council meeting, first was approval by HUD and adoption by Council of the City's Housing Commission, a necessary step for eligibility for one of the new federal money programs for senior citizen housing.

Second, Council set a zoning hearing for Sept. 7 at 8 p.m. for the purpose of hearing any objections to rezoning seven acres of land to multiple housing.

The land north of Tecumseh Park and west of Adrian Street, was a gift to the city from Mr. and Mrs. Jens Touborg for the purpose of senior citizen housing.

This could be a building site if federal money is approved.

According to Zorn's information, $18 million was apportioned for the State of Michigan.

Sixteen projects are expected to be approved. Nine have already been approved and approval of four others is pending.

Tecumseh hopes to be one of the remaining three and continues in its efforts to get a share of the money this time around.

Money is given on a first come, first serve basis once eligibility is established. Approval of projects funds came faster for other communities which already had housing commissions.

Eleven documents and two trips to Detroit were necessary just for founding Tecumseh's Housing Commission. The red tape is burdensome, still the manager feels, "approval this fast is great."

The commission has met several times informally and will meet again later this month. Paul Fackler is chairman and Nancy Nichols is temporary secretary.

Other members are: R.H. Moore, Richard Eggleston, and Jens Touborg.

The Tecumseh Housing Commission has been in contact with Lake States Association, a developing company selected to build the next senior citizen housing complex in Adrian.

Talks with the developer are preliminary. There is no contract yet. Once the commission declares intent to do business with a contract, it will apply for funds.

Application must include an option on the property or proof of control of it, sketches, cost estimates, and other related factors.

Rip-Off Artists Are Working Community

Rip off artists have made their debut in Tecumseh this summer.

Their repertoire is the same old song and dance you've read about in the Detroit and Toledo newspapers.

Recently Tecumseh police officer Gerry Green arrested three men for pulling a job on a 73-year-old widow.

Her daughter related the story to the Herald "to warn all Tecumseh residents, especially the elderly, don't fall for this gimmick. Its crooked and they prey on retirees." The victims' names are withheld by the editor.

Three years ago the older woman purchased a precast stair. Aug. 3 three men pulled up in a yellow truck with Ohio license plates and intimidated her until she agreed to have them "winterize" her porch steps.

The woman has cataracts and wasn't aware of the trickery.

They proceeded to spray the threshold with black asphalt and were ready to spray the steps when officer Green arrived.

Suspicious of the trio, Green asked them for their business license and city permit. They had neither. He arrested the two men in their early 20's and a 58-year old man, all dark complected.

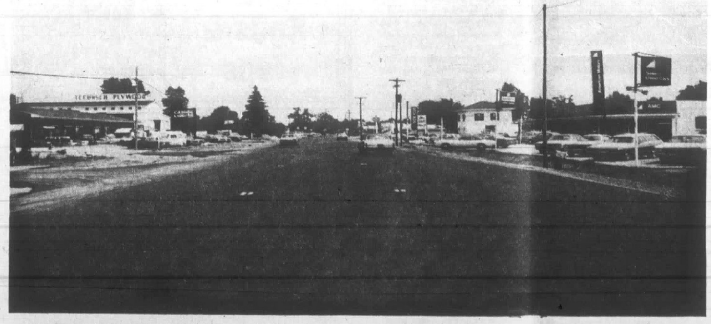
They were placed under $30 bond each, which someone paid, and they are scheduled to appear before district court. Maximum sentence is 90 days in jail and $100 fine plus costs.

"It took two gallons of gas and a lot of hard scrubbing to remove the tar," said her daughter.

Police have knowledge of one other attempt by a suspicious group which was unsuccessful.

To make sure you are not pestered by fraudulent contractors remember to first ask to see a business license and Tecumseh city permit to solicit.

Call the police with information of suspicious persons. Don't allow yourself to be intimidated.



WORK NEAR COMPLETION — Widening of W. Chicago Blvd. is nearing an end, and view here at the west city limits shows exactly how wide the street was made. Although this portion, east to Sunset Dr., will be lined for three lanes of traffic, four lanes could easily be marked off. Some work remaining is at the Maumee and Union Street intersections.

300 ATTEND SERVICES

Chuck Butler Was Top Businessman, Citizen

Services were held Monday morning at St. Peter's Episcopal Church for Charles O. Butler, 82, who died suddenly last Friday afternoon at his home on S. Union St.

Death has been attributed to a heart attack.

A regular golfer - and an exceptional one, especially for his age - he had played the previous day at the Tecumseh Country Club. Friday morning he had an electrocardiogram at Herrick Hospital and returned home, where he died about the middle of the afternoon.

Chuck was the grand-daddy of the area's car dealers, perhaps in the state. Several local dealers - George Underwood and Harvey Wilson are examples of two - began with him when he operated the Ford agency here. He was twice president of the Michigan Auto Dealers Association in 1956 and 1957.

He was the Tecumseh Ford dealer for nearly 30 years, buying out the Greenwood Motor Sales agency from Gerald E. Greenwood on March 1, 1930. When he sold the agency on May 1, 1959 to E.L. "Spec" Simmons of Tipton, his dealership had sold over 10,000 new cars and over 15,000 used cars.

His retirement marked the end of 39 years in the business. He had started in 1920 in his native city of Battle Creek, and before coming to Tecumseh, he was sales manager for Cushman Auto Sales there.

Few were bigger boosters of Tecumseh than Chuck Butler. He probably organized and promoted more commercial and civic functions than any other person. He was three times president of the Chamber of Commerce here.

He was a charter member and past president of the Tecumseh Country Club, and also a former club champion; a past president, officer and song leader of the Rotary Club; a long-time member and vestryman of St. Peter's; and was a member of the Tecumseh Masonic Lodge.

Chuck was equally enthusiastic about Michigan State University, its alumni association and football teams. He played two years of varsity football there and was an outstanding lineman when MSU thumped rival University of Michigan, 24-0, in 1917.

Before transferring and graduating from MSU, he had attended Olivet College for two years.

He was a member of the Michigan State University Alumni Association and a former president of the MSU Alumni Association of Lenawee County.

He was a second lieutenant in World War I, serving two years with the Army Air Corps.

He was born in Battle Creek on April 13, 1894, the son of Phineas and Julia Butler.

On June 16, 1923, he married the former Mildred Eaton. For their 50th wedding anniversary in 1973, they hosted a large group of their friends at a reception at the Country Club.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Butler, are a son, James Spooner; sister, Mrs. Florence Gorham, Battle Creek; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Two brothers and two sisters preceded him in death.

The Rev. Russell Cooper officiated at the service, attended by approximately 300.

Purse Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and burial in Brookside Cemetery.

CHARLES O. BUTLER

Memorial Fund

A Charles O. Butler Memorial Fund has been established according to Jim Hughes, the president of the MSU Alumni Association of Lenawee County.

Butler, who died last Friday, was president of the Association for "many, many years" according to Hughes.

The Local Alumni group will administer the fund and checks should be sent to Adrian CPA Stanley Robertson, 121 N. Main St., Adrian. His phone number is 265-6154.

Hughes added that many people had expressed a desire to do something in Butler's memory, consequently the Fund was set up. Contributions have already been received.

10 Investigations Handled by Police

Ten incidents, ranging from vandalism and theft to a dog bite, were investigated the past week by Tecumseh police. A resume is:

Aug 5 - Jim Harris, 415 Wildwood Circle, reported his bike stolen at Patterson School while he was taking a driving lesson. Loss reported at $130.

Aug. 5 - Don Friday, 463 Pentecost Hwy., reported his automobile damaged while parked at 816 S. Maumee. Police believe sledge hammer and concrete block used to smash all windows and dent hood and roof of the vehicle.

Aug. 6 - Jeffery Shirk, 17, of 1000 River Acres Dr., was arrested for possession of marijuana. Patrolling officers observed Shirk and a juvenile near Ken-Rays on N. Evans about 1:30 a.m. After Shirk handed over the marijuana, he reportedly fled only to be caught in the 100 block of N. Ottawa. He was taken to the county jail and later released on $100 bond.

Aug. 6 - Roger C. Fraizer, Akron, Ohio, arrested on W. Chicago Blvd. for driving under the influence of alcohol.

Aug. 6 - Jason Brooks, 712-D Waskin Dr., was bitten by a dog while visiting at 609 S. Evans St. Owner advised to keep dog confined for 10 days.

Aug. 7 - Sheila Elliott, 712-B Waskin Dr., reported bike stolen from backyard at 1102 Murray Dr. Loss estimated at $75.

Aug. 8 - Vernon F. Sarver, Toledo, arrested for DUIL on W. Chicago near Maumee.

Aug. 9 - Robert L. Stevens, 38, Union Lake, arrested for being drunk and disorderly in downtown Tecumseh.

Aug. 9 - Gary L. Alcock, 3905 Kaiser Rd., told police a tape player was taken from his van while parked behind Wrong Way Pub. Rear door of van was pried open. Loss reported at $150.

Aug. 10 - Larry Wilson, 511 W. Cummins, reported CB radio taken from his pickup while parked in front of his home. Loss was $114.

Need Help in Sending Out Meals

Meals for the homebound elderly are in the planning for Tecumseh Senior Citizens however volunteers are needed to deliver meals before the program can get off the ground.

Christine Sliss, director of the Lenawee Council on Aging Tecumseh Senior Citizens center encourages individual volunteers and clubs, groups or churches to volunteer on a monthly basis. She can be reached from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. weekdays at the Community Center 423-2107, ext. 25.

Meals are now being served weekdays at 11:30-12:30 at the Community Center. Many of these seniors are in good physical health and enjoy the social activities as well.

However the homebound program is directed to reach those senior citizens who are unable to prepare meals for themselves or come to the Community Center.

Senior citizens who are physically impaired, convalescent, unable to shop for groceries, temporarily ill or financially unable may qualify for the homebound meals. The Lenawee Council of Aging outreach volunteer will determine eligibility on basis.

Meals will be delivered to senior citizens within a 10-mile radius of Tecumseh. These balanced meals contain 1/3 the daily adult diet.

Meals are temporarily prepared by the Lenawee Council on Aging staff at the Piotter Center in Adrian and transported in bulk to the Tecumseh site.

As soon as the remodeling of the Community Center is completed, meals will be prepared at the Tecumseh site.

Donations of kitchen equipment will be appreciated. Kitchen accessories needed include pots, pans, baking dishes, and other utensils.

The regular Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday schedule of activities will remain as they are now at the Tecumseh Community Center. The Council on Aging will supply additional programs including outreach, health screening and transportation.

The first health screening service will be offered to senior citizens free at the Community Center on Aug. 23 from 1-3 p.m. A blood pressure clinic and glucose tolerance test are scheduled. These are simple tests. Senior citizens who have an abnormal reading will be advised to contact a doctor.

Driver Is Injured in 2nd Accident

Only four accidents occurred here on city streets the past week, local police report, but one driver suffered minor injuries and was taken to Herrick Hospital.

Sunday afternoon, Ward F. Smith, 16, Morenci, backed out of a drive on Murray Dr. and reportedly sped away at an excessive speed. He lost control and struck a Consumers rear pole, suffering minor injuries. Police ticketed him for reckless driving.

About 45 minutes earlier, he backed into Vicki L. Bacon, 21, of 1210 Murray Dr., at Meadows Market. She was later a passenger with Smith when he struck the pole.

Other accidents were:

Aug. 4 — Pamalynn E. Bryant, 29, of 515 S. Occidental Rd., told police another driver cut in sharply and forced her to run into the curb on W. Chicago Blvd.

Aug. 9 — Fred Clark, 12, of 416 Adrian St., rode his bicycle out of a private drive on Shady Lane and ran into the side of a vehicle driven by Charles A. Staples, 69, Lee Villa Trailer Park. Young Clark sought his own treatment for minor injuries.

Major Construction Is Now Completed on Burt Street

All scheduled, major construction on Burt St. has been completed, city officials report.

This includes sewer lines and installation of a lift station. Only electrical wiring remains to be completed.

Although the street was considerably torn up for the work — and closed during the day for several weeks — a new street there is not planned until next year. It is still not known whether additional work will be done in the area.

Tecumseh Country Club officials are expected to attend Monday night's Council meeting relative to the installation of sewer and water lines to the club house. Estimates for the work have been received and both Tecumseh Township and the County Road Commission have been contacted about the proposed project.

CORNEA AND OTHER TRANSPLANTS

Medical science has perfected the techniques of transplanting organs, providing sight to many blind people and prolonging life to others--thanks to the magnanimous donations of vital organs for transplanting. Needless to say, there is an urgent need for organ donors.

Such humanitarian donations are the very essence of charity and love. While living donors, related to the patient, may be selected for kidney transplants, some organs which are not present in pairs must come from non-living donors. These organs, when removed immediately after death, function just as well as those from unrelated living donors.

You may have wondered if you could offer your own body and/or organs upon your death, yet you wished a full funeral service. Let me point out that in most cases the normal funeral customs and procedures may be observed. I am a certified eye-enucleator and would be glad to discuss this or any donation in confidence with you should you be interested.

One must give permission before organ donation arrangements can be completed. In the case of a relative who has died, the family, knowing of the relative's expressed opinions on the subject, may give permission.

If you should decide to be a donor, you will be in good company. Over 10,000 corneal transplants have been made in the world. There are some 120 medical centers in United States engaged in major transplantation programs with many thousands of patients awaiting such charitable contributions.

"Gigi" at Croswell

"Gigi", the musical comedy hit of Broadway will be presented at the Croswell Opera House for 10 nights beginning Aug. 18 through Aug. 29.

Derived from one of the best known novels of the illustrious French author Colette, "Gigi" is the story of a young girl who has been trained from childhood to catch a man — but not matrimonially, as she is the daughter of a long line of "grand cocottes" who are not the marrying kind.

The joke is on them when to their horror, these good ladies who have taken such care to bring their charge up "right," find that she would rather be a rich man's wife than his mistress.

In the role of Honore (remembered as the Maurice Chevalier role) will be John Michael King.

Mary Ann Pullella will be seen as the 16-year-old Gigi, whose values (in the eyes of her courtesan relatives) are scandalously inverted.

Barbara Kondalski will have the role of her aunt — the expert who carefully grooms her niece. Helen Joseph will portray Gigi's grandmother, whose love affairs have been discreet and rewarding and Bill Fowle will be the wealthy rake who finds, to his surprise, he must offer marriage, to win Gigi's favor.

The music and lyrics were written by Lerner and Loewe, the team famous for "My Fair Lady," and "Camelot."

Audiences will hum along with favorite selections "Thank Heaven for Little Girls," "I Remember It Well," and "The Night They Invented Champagne" as well as new songs written especially for this stage version like "The Contract" and "Paris is Paris Again."

Seth Weston, John MacNaughton, Lance Tucker, Dick La Rowe and Myszla Reeck will be some of the other cast members under the direction of Steven C. Reynolds, and Robert Soller who is designing the scenery. Michael Lorenz is musical director.

"Gigi" will have a 10 night run, Wednesday through Sunday for two weeks beginning Aug. 18, except Mondays and Tuesdays.

For reservations phone Croswell Box office from 11-5 daily, except Sunday, at (517) 263-5674. Curtain is at 8 p.m.

Historic Meeting

Tecumseh Historic District Study committee meetings will be held every Wednesday in August from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church in the fifth and sixth grade Sunday school room.

All residents in the 93 properties located in the proposed historical district are urged to attend the meetings when the committee will be working on the ordinance.

Engagement of Marilyn Marie Sisty to Airman 1C Daniel W. Heard is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Sisty, 6870 Green Hwy. Airman Heard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Heard of Mio. A December wedding is planned.

Knisely - Huber are United

Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church was the setting for the marriage of Pearl A. Knisely and Thomas A. Huber at 3 p.m. on July 31. The Rev. A. Dane Ruff officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. C.L. Knisely, 106 S. Maumee. The groom's parents are the late Charles and Marilyn Huber. The groom resided at 515 S. Pearl St.

Mrs. Ashley Chase was organist and Jackie Chase was pianist.

Mrs. Richard Scheer, the bride's cousin and Clark Pearson were vocalists. The bride sang the song "If" to the groom before walking down the aisle, escorted by her father.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ivory gown of cotton and polyester with a wedgewood blue flower print. The sweetheart neckline and long full sleeves were edged with ecru lace. The waistline was empire and the skirt fell into soft pleats accented by tiers of lace ruffles. A large bow accented the waistline at back. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and blue star flowers.

Mrs. Douglas Huber of Tecumseh was matron of honor wearing an A-line ivory gown with wedgewood and pale tangerine flower print. The dress was styled with a V-neck and turned down collar. The waist and bodice were shirred and finished with a large bow in back. The long sleeves had shirred cuffs.

She carried a small cascade of statice and tangerine roses of silk accented with star flowers.

Douglas Huber of Tecumseh, the groom's oldest brother, was best man. Ronald Huber, the groom's brother and Daniel and Michael Knisely the bride's brothers were ushers.

A reception for 200 was held in the church parlor. Wedding cake and punch were served by Pat, Pam and Paula Knisely, the bride's sisters, and Merry Huber, the groom's sister.

The couple graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1972. The groom is an electrician mate 3rd class in the United States Navy and is stationed in Norfolk, Va.

The couple will live at 411 Ft. Worth Ave., Apt. 2, Norfolk, Va.

MR. and MRS. THOMAS A. HUBER

3 Tecumsehites Selected Winners

Three Tecumseh area 4-H youth were recently selected as winners of the District Tel-Awards for 1976.

They are Carol J. Sellers of Tecumseh for a clothing project; Pat Karpo of Tipton for a home environment project and Cheryl Long of Tecumseh for a food and nutrition project.

Youth 15 through 18 are selected in various project areas from Lenawee County and then compete with youth from other nearby counties in Michigan.

Each of the girls were then interviewed at Michigan State University with other district winners from the state.

Carol Sellers was selected one of two Lenawee youth alternates for the 1976 State Tel-Awards. This week she submitted extensive reports on her 4-H activities to the State 4-H office.

As a first alternate, she may be eligible to win national awards and scholarships as well as to attend the 4-H National 4-H Congress in November.

Carol Sellers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Sellers. She was named for her participation and learning in clothing.

She was graduated from Tecumseh High School in June and plans to major in social work and psychology at Anderson College in Indiana.

She had been a member of the Round Top 4-H Club. In addition to eight years in clothing projects, including honor roll for four years at the County Clothing Revue, Carol has been active in biking, teen toastmasters, the 4-H Awareness Team, the State Older Youth Committee as well as many other project areas in her club.

Bicentennial Committee Holds Meeting

TIPTON — Final bills were settled at the last meeting of the Franklin Township Bicentennial Committee Aug. 9. Meeting was held at Tipton Grange hall after a potluck supper.

Over 600 of the township history books have been sold.

Anyone wishing to purchase additional books should contact Richard Platt.

The group decided that a Franklin Township Historical Committee should continue. Things of current historical interest should be recorded and items of past interest saved.

Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Grover Swarts or the Rev. Max Bailey.

A gift of appreciation from the Bicentennial committee was presented to the chairman, Mrs. Swarts.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

This is an election year. Politicians will be politicians, and in election years they all of the sudden reappear as newsmakers. It seems quite fair to cover "real" news in which they are involved, but highly unfair to grant them newspaper space for political propaganda which is of no consequence.

Lately we have been reading in both major Lenawee County newspapers of Rep. Jack Mowat and his vital opinions. We have read with high interest of his impressive talks before the Garden Clubs. We have watched with equally high interest as he expounds upon his tremendous record-even though nobody seems to agree with it, or even to have noticed it in Lansing.

Last week we reached the peak of excitement as Mr. Mowat was quoted at length in both newspapers about his opinions about the swine flu. I am especially pleased to read that through this innoculation program he is "doing for us what we cannot possibly do for ourselves." (Even though this is a federal program and he is still a state official, unless I have missed something.)

As long as he is telling everything he has done, would like to remind your readers that Mr. Mowat is the main sponsor of legislation that would grant minors the rights to birth control, abortion included, without parental knowledge. He has furthermore represented our district in Lansing by sponsoring other legislation, of the same subject matter, that would teach it in our public schools. He has consistently voted against consumer legislation, too, but it hasn't been mentioned recently in his sudden re-appearance in this area. (Maybe that information was misplaced when he sent out his Bicentennial message!)

I would suggest that Mr. Mowat's Democratic opponent is equally in favor of and more knowledgeable about this swine flu program, as he is a County Commissioner directly involved in the local innoculation program. If your newspaper is interested in the real story, politics aside, I would suggest that you go one step further and ask a qualified medical expert and a qualified insurance man to render factually-based opinions about the flu situation.

Also, in the future, I would hope that you would recognize political maneuvering for what it is and be fair to candidates of both parties.

In the interest of fairness,
Jeffrey R. Ely

Board Ratifies 3 Contracts

CLINTON — Clinton board of education voted to ratify contracts with maintenance workers, bus drivers and secretarial staff, at the meeting Monday.

All three contracts are with the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 547. All contracts are fairly consistant at three per cent and are for 1976-77 school year.

Teachers contract was presented for study. It was not ratified by the board, because agreement was made with the CEA not to devulge the contents of the contract until after the teachers have ratified it. This will be done at the September board meeting.

Superintendent Richard Wegner has interviewed two persons for the maintenance engineer position. Other selections will be considered in the next few weeks. Board authorized Wegner to hire a maintenance engineer.

Plans were submitted to the board on a tentative basis for the FFA barn. Key issues concerning location, water and electricity will be discussed at the September board meeting.

Board voted to implement the free and reduced price meals to students for the 76-77 fiscal year as per the USDA guidelines.

Update on the track project was given by Superintendent Wegner. Asphalt has been poured. Perm-track is not yet down, but will be forthcoming after settling of asphalt. Fence is up and gates are kept locked.

Reading Consultant Barbara Spahr discussed the new development K-12 reading program, which is planned for implementation in September. Goals were outlined as well as teacher in-service training programs and the method of student identification.

Board authorized the borrowing of $280,000 to meet September, October and November obligations, after reviewing the estimated cash flow chart.

CB Helps in Heifer Rescue

CLINTON — When a pair of local cattlemen heard a call on their newly installed CB radio, that a motorist had spotted cattle falling out of a blue van on US-12, 1½ miles east of Clinton, Monday afternoon, wild horses couldn't have kept them from hurrying to the scene.

By then, the van was headed back eastward in search of the missing cattle, and bits of straw beside the road gave a clue to where the cattle had leaped from the vehicle. They apparently pushed against the van's sliding side door.

The local men followed one Holstein heifer which was high tailing along the Old Sauk Trail.

As they passed the former Bohnenstiehl farm, they saw another heifer had been rope tied to a tree by four other men.

It took all six fellows to round up the skittish critter from a scrub brush field and corral her into a shed at the former Goose Hill farm near the big curve.

With a bit of manuevering, the two cows were ushered back into the van and the young couple who owned them were on their way again.

Did someone say CBs are where the action is?

Fox Resigns as Village Clerk

CLINTON — Village Council accepted with regret the resignation of John Fox as clerk for health reasons. He has served as village clerk for 21 years.

President Clayton Strolle appointed Evelyn Harrison as clerk to complete the year.

Council voted to discontinue the mailing of traffic tickets because of the new postal regulations. Mailing permits will no longer be used on the tickets. Those receiving tickets will have to mail them at their own expense or bring them to the office.

Named to a committee for the proposed budget for parks for the next five years were Richard Peterson, chairman and Clifford Cobb and John Jansen.

RECEIVES GRANT — Pam Watters, 1976 graduae of Tecumseh High School, was awarded a $300 tuition grant from Siena Heights College. Pam, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Watters, will enter Siena this fall majoring in Music.

BOOK MARK

News from the Tecumseh Library

The Tecumseh Public Library has received a number of new biographical books. Here are some of the books you may expect to find on the shelves:

SUCH A STRANGE LADY, by Janet Hitchman is the story of authoress Dorothy L. Sayers.

She is a most unusual lady - plain and dumpy, she always had hopeless passions for men who weren't interested. When she was six months pregnant, she rode a motorcycle home over rough roads to save cab fare. Quite a feat for a lady in the early 1900's.

Larry Swindell has written about another strange lady as one can tell by the book's title SCREWBALL. This is the story of Carole Lombard, actress and wife of Clark Gable. She became one of the greatest of the Hollywood stars but was killed in a plane crash at the height of her popularity.

R.W.B. Lewis has used collections of letters, manuscripts and scores of new material, plus interviews on both sides of the Atlantic to write a biography of a magnificent woman, EDITH WHARTON: A BIOGRAPHY. It is an excellent description of her works, personality, love, and marriage.

Tom Prideaux, born in Hilladale, Mich. is author of LOVE OR NOTHING, the life and times of Ellen Terry. She was the first feminine star for all seasons and all classes. Married three times, but never to the man she loved, who was the father of her two children. She had a close relationship with George Bernard Shaw based entirely on letters. They corresponded for five years before they finally met.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY by Margot Fonteyn. Her book is, of course, about dancing but there is much more to it than that. There is another part that tells of not finding love until in her 30's, when she met again (via 100 red roses sent to her dressing room) a man she had cared deeply for in her teens. Their marriage day was a shambles, - she couldn't bear the service and furthermore couldn't understand Spanish.

A bride at 13, the mother of four by the age of 18 - this is the story of LORETTA LYNN - COAL MINER's DAUGHTER BY Miss Lynn with George Vecsey. Life is completely different for her now. There are no dishes to wash as she has a dishwasher, no dusting as there are maids. She travels by bus with a C.B. radio and used to think the driver was trying to stop forest fires when he talked about the Smoky Bears. She still has a little of the naive coal miner's daughter in her, although the rough edges have been polished.

An appropriate title for a book is the one by Marion Davies, THE TIMES WE HAD. It's about her life with William Randolph Hearst, who took a beautiful girl and made her the best-known, kept woman in America. You will see how it was possible to meet the queen and not acknowledge it - or how to spend the dinner hour with Mussolini's son-in-law when she didn't speak a word of Italian while he couldn't speak English.

Problems with Business Tax?

State Representative John S. Mowat, Jr. (R-Adrian) encourages businesses having problems as a result of the Single Business Tax to forward information to either of two Lansing addresses.

Information should be forwarded to Jonathon E. Edelman, Economics Consultant, Office of Economic Expansion, 4th Floor, Law Building, Lansing 48901, or John Hanieski, Chief of the Development and Programs Section, Office of Economic Expansion, 4th Floor, Law Building, Lansing 48901.

Representative Mowat said the Governor's Special SBT Committee is evaluating information sent in by business people throughout the state in an effort to correct the problems.

THE GROWING-UP BARBERRY CLUMP

The decision was painful to make; however, last fall we all decided that the barberry clump by the driveway was in dire need of drastic surgery. It was a tall bushy tangle and I had to admit that Mom and Dad were right.

By blocking the driver's view of the road it did constitute a safety hazard. After all, being able to see the street in back of a backing-up car is a good idea.

But oh my, how the birds did enjoy those large bushes. I was just sure that they would miss them — and therefore I knew we would be missing all sorts of good looking.

Well, the barberries were cut down almost to ground level last fall and indeed both birds and people have missed them this summer. But Dad said they would grow up again and that is exactly what has happened.

Also I must confess that although the bird watching has not been quite as good as usual, just lately there has been a surprising amount of action in and around the growing-up barberry clump.

The other morning Mom and I had entertainment with our prebreakfast coffee. A small rabbit, he could not have been even half grown, contested the front yard with a starling.

No, not the entire lawn only the area close to the west end of the barberries.

When the stubby tailed bird waddled too close to the rabbit's bushes out came the bunny and chased the intruder away. The starling was young too and, for some reason, instead of flying away he merely ran.

When the ugly bird was far enough away the rabbit stopped, looked around, and then, as if surprised and perhaps even a little frightened at his audacity, dashed back to the safety of the bushes.

As the shrubs grow up they are, of course, also growing out and it is beneath the lower branches, the ones which arch to the ground, that the bunny found perfect shelter.

Time and time again the starling had to be driven away. Sometimes the little rabbit jumped at him and often the bird hopped rather than ran out of the way.

Always though, when the bunny dashed back to the bushes, he went at top speed. And it was surprising how fast the little guy could go. He was just a streak.

Another day Gertie T. and I watched catbirds at the barberry clump. Puzzled, confused, and bewildered catbirds. When the bushes were large and out of control these birds often built nests in the thickest part. An ideal site.

The pair we saw was flying back and forth about a foot above the tops of the shrubs and obviously wondering what in the world had happened. Their actions spoke as plain as words — we could just see them questioning.

Yes, they assured each other that indeed this was the place they had raised last year's second family but something had happened. Things were different, changes had been made. Those bushes simply could not have been so small last year.

There are two fence posts in this clump, one at the corner and the other at the north end. After flying back and forth the pretty grey catbirds each lit on a post.

They continued to look the situation over — they cocked their heads, exchanged a few choice remarks, and continued to wonder. Then they took off and flew towards the creek bank.

In a little while they were back and going through the same routine. It was as if they just could not accept this 'new order'.

Hope they come back next year for by then the bushes should be big enough to hide and keep secret their nest.

By the way, these two fence posts have turned out to be super sunbathing spots. Both the young flickers and cardinals like to take their mid-morning sun baths there.

They crouch down, ruffle out their feathers, and as the warm sunshine penetrates 'deep down' I am sure that if they could, the birds would sigh with contentment.

Report from MLA On Recent Meet

Vern Manwaring of Tecumseh has been a board member of the Huron Valley Regional Board of the Michigan Lung Association for about three years.

That group met recently in Hillsdale to outline its programs for the 1976-77 fiscal year.

The Huron Valley Region is comprised of Washtenaw, Lenawee, Jackson, Hillsdale and Monroe counties.

The MLA, also known as "the Christmas Seal people" has funded four smoking withdrawl clinics in Ann Arbor since November of 1975.

In June the regional board provided free pulmonary function testing in Monroe for 100 senior citizens.

A teacher education workshop on smoking, with fourth through eighth grade teachers from Hillsdale Intermediate School District, will offer inservice training to teachers for educating their students about smoking and health.

Patient transportation for those in need in Washtenaw County has been offered for the County health department's tuberculosis clinic.

Training sessions for visiting nurses as well as pulmonary seminars for doctors and respiratory therapists are being planned for each county in the region.

Lenawee County will participate in a "pulmonary outreach" program to provide on the job training for doctors, nurses and therapists in five hospitals in the region.

A study of respiratory care facilities in Michigan is being conducted. The committee will pose remedies for the health care problems encountered by the chronic pulmonary disease patient.

Persons interested in the MLA's Huron Valley Region call (313) 995-1030 or write Mark Reinstein, regional director, 1925 Pauline Plaza, Suite E, Ann Arbor, 48103.

Sons Participate In Evacuation from Lebanon

Navy Fireman Apprentice Patrick A. Marion, 17, and brother Navy Fireman Apprentice James M. Marion, 20, sons of Mrs. Belva I. Bates of 1325 S. Western, participated in the rescue of more than 300 American and foreign evacuees from Beirut, Lebanon as a crewmember of the frigate USS Koelsch in support of "Operation Fluid Drive."

The refugees boarded unarmed landing vessels and were ferried to the amphibious transport ship USS Coronado. The extraction of the civilians from the beleaguered Lebanese capital was accomplished without incident and the evacuees arrived safely aboard the Coronado for transport to Athens.

In a message from President Gerald Ford, the task force was commended for its high degree of professionalism which contributed to the success of the operation.

His ship is homeported in Mayport, Fla., and is currently deployed as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

All The Way

When Pat was younger, he used to think I was a superman. He's older now, and he knows that I'm not. But he still has that special kind of confidence kids have in their parents . . . and more than anything else, I want to merit that trust.

There was a time when I seldom went to church. Then, one day I realized that if I were going to be the kind of father Pat needed, I had to have help — God's help. I went to church, and I prayed. At first, it wasn't easy to pray. But gradually the words came stronger and clearer.

Maybe I'll never be able to give Pat everything I'd like to give him. But he can always depend upon me for the most important thing of all: truth. I found truth in the Church.

Best Ball Tourney at Raisin Valley

Eighteen hole best ball tournament at Raisin Valley Golf Club was shared by 43 women.

First two teams tied with 69 and next two teams tied with 70.

First two teams automatically earned first and second in sudden death playoffs and went four more balls.

Second place was earned by Carolyn Baker, Ivie Arbuckle and Tracy Roe.

To determine third place Mary Jo Rosacrans, Gloria Barrett, Pat Stanley, Norma McDonald played three more holes till sudden death against Norena Dermyer, Faith Cote, Vi Frost and Florence Winstanley.

Team with low putts was Selma Kennedy, Karen Bruce, Betty Bakucz and Mary Zettel. They had 22 putts.

TCC Hosts Tourneys

A "choice of shot" tournament was held at Tecumseh Country Club with Julie Mullaly and Margaret Finley heading the committee.

In first place was the team of Mary Hanna and Jean Merz.

Tied for second place were the teams of Gloria Schwartz and Barbara Wheeler, Shirley Smith and Marty Owen, Julie Mullaly and Margaret Finley. Joyce Manwaring won chip-ins.

T.C. Roekle and Millie Butler comprised the winning team of the Best Ball Twosome Tournament held at Tecumseh Country Club recently.

In a three way tie for second place were the teams of Mary Hanna and Jean Merz, Allee Collins and Ruth Jobes, Ruth Temple and Arline Thoss.

T.C. Roekle won chip-ins. June MacBeth and Jean Merz were in charge of the tourney.

by Kathy Brown

Mrs. Jens Touborg and daughter, Mrs. Frank Klapperich of Winnetka, Ill. and two granddaughters, Margaret and Susan, have returned from a two week visit in Denmark.

While away, Mr. Touborg spent two weeks in Jackson Hole, Wyo. fishing and panning for gold with his 14-year-old grandson of Winnetka, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Cap W. Orr of Wyckoff, N.J. are visiting his mother, Mrs. Alice G. Johnson of Tecumseh.

Nyra Teufel, who for years cared for many people as the owner of a nursing home in Tecumseh, is now recovering at 505 S. Main St. in Adrian, from a recent illness. Mrs. Teufel, 87 is the sister of Harry Lucas, former Detroit news exchange editor whose story you read in The Tecumseh Herald last week. Tecumsehites will also remember Harry's daughter and son-in-law, Shirley and Voyle Teets. Mr. Teets was retired about two years ago from the Tecumseh Post Office, having worked there many years. The couple now have a cabin up north.

Four Tecumseh students have completed freshmen orientation at Western Michigan University. They are Timothy Eggleston, Kathleen Underwood, Thomas Halasz and Jayne Broderick. During their three day visit, they conferred with faculty advisors, registered for classes, took a series of tests and visited many campus buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee and Anna Blessing hosted visitors from Alsace, France for five days recently. They are the Rev. Fr. Fernand Koenig and his brother, Jean Koenig and Lucien Leber. The McKees took the visitors to Greenfield Village, Dearborn, toured the Ford Rouge plant, and to Hidden Lake Gardens. The three men plan to visit Colorado, California, Washington D.C., Philadelphia and New York before returning to France.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller and son, James have returned from a week in Ewa Beach, Hawaii, where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Leonard (Beverly) Lendon and sons, and toured the Islands.

Mrs. Clyde Seay of Miami, Okla., and her sister, Mrs. Delores Wood of Maquoketa, Iowa, are visiting for two weeks with sons, John Seay and family and Sam Seay.

VFW Wins Wednesday Championship

Tuesday League

United Savings Bank broke up a close 2-1 ball game by scoring ten runs in the fifth inning, adding 14 more in the sixth to blast Underwood Chevrolet 26-4. Don Baxter and Ed Oxley each had three hits, including home runs. Roger Proctor and Jim Brown added three hits each. Jim Schulz homered for Underwood. United Savings Bank was assisted by 11 Underwood errors.

Handley Equipment forced a 3-way tie for first place and a playoff by beating Tecumseh Merchants 15-6. Paul Lemanski and Pat Murphy each homered for the merchants. The winners were led by Tom Grounds with four hits and Larry Sanborn with three.

Clinton Merchants got a 2-run home run by David Spillman en route to a 14-6 upset of B&W West. West team contributed nine errors to help the Merchants. David Slusher added three hits for the winners.

Wednesday League

Irish Hills Merchants finished in a second place tie by beating Wagon Wheel Bar 12-7. Five runs in the bottom of the sixth provided the winning margin. Bill Piotter had four hits including a home run and Scott Edwards had three hits for Irish Hills who finished the season at 7-3. Wagon Wheel Bar, finishing with a 2-8 record, was paced by Bob Bivins with three hits including a home run and Chuck Warner with three hits.

VFW scored five runs in the top of the seventh inning to post a come-from-behind 10-7 win over Tri-County Loggers and win the Wednesday League Championship. Bill Smith paced the way with three hits as VFW ended up with an 8-2 record and Tri-County Loggers ended at 7-3. Dennis Kime hit a two-run home run for Tri-County.

Beglinger-Reid scored five runs in the seventh inning but it was too little and too late as D.S.T. posted an 11-8 win. Beglinger-Reid out-hit the winners 15 to 9 and Terry Ranta hit a home run but D.S.T. capitalized on walks and errors in the fourth and fifth innings. D.S.T. enters the City Tournament with a 4-6 record and Beglinger-Reid with a 2-8 mark.

Thursday League

Protco dropped Tecumseh Plywood out of sole possession of first place by winning 8-5. Protco scored five runs in the first inning and three in the third, then stopped a Plywood rally in the seventh. Tim Riley hit a home run for Plywood. The Protco win, coupled with the Ember's win, forces a tie between Plywood and Ember's for the championship.

American Legion won the first game of the season beating Goble Lumber 9-8. Legion scored six runs in the third inning to take the lead for good. Every player in the line-up got at least one hit for American Legion, paced by David Newman with three hits. Both teams finished their regular season with 1-9 records and play each other in the opening round of city tournaments.

Ember's moved into a first place tie by beating Leisure Time Sports Center 9-2. Roy Schlegal had three hits for Ember's, while defensively holding LTSC to five hits. C.J. Locker homered for Leisure Time.

Tigers Take Baseball Title

For the first time, Tecumseh Parks and Recreation held a youth baseball tournament. Teams were not all-star teams, but squads who have played together all year. The teams participating were, five from Tecumseh, two from Addison, and one from Deerfield.

Results are,

Tecumseh Plywood forfeited to Tecumseh Police.

Addison Tigers beat Tecumseh Area Credit Union 9-2. Ricky Kane got two hits for C.U. and Craig Rickard got four hits, including a home run for the Tigers.

Tim Banks and Andrew Heglin held Deerfield to just one hit as Tecumseh JC's posted a 12-1 win. The Tecumseh League Champions were helped by six Deerfield errors.

The Addison Pirates scored four runs in the first inning en route to a 10-9 win over Tecumseh Rotary. Rotary played catch up the entire game and left the tying run on base in the final inning. Pete Graham and Scott Stubbs each had two hits for Rotary.

Addison Tigers combined eight hits with eight walks to beat Tecumseh Police 14-4. The Tecumseh team got only four hits while the Addison League Champs got four hits by Craig Dilyard and a home run.

JC's moved into the title game by beating the Pirates 4-3. Pitching dominated the game as the Pirate pitcher, Kirk Tidwell hurled a 2-hitter, while Tim Banks and Mark Walters held the Pirates to five hits. Among these were home runs by Tidwell and Comwell.

In the championship game, Craig Dilyard of the Tigers and Mark Walters of JC's locked in a pitcher's dual with the Addison team winning 3-2 on a no hitter by Dilyard. Walters gave up only four hits in taking the loss.

The contest was one of the best-played games for the age group, 11-12, for the entire season.

Merchants Victorious

It was a fight to the finish, but Deerfield Merchants outscored Store Bar of Irish Hills in the seventh inning to beat them 21-18. Rothfuss hit a 3-run homerun in the seventh inning to pull out the victory for Deerfield.

Beglinger-Reid added another victory to their slate by easily defeating Airport Bowl 23-8. Anderson and Zimmerman each had a home run for Beglinger-Reid. Mannino went 3 for 3 in a losing cause.

Girls Whip Dundee, 15-12

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department's senior girls' softball team came out victorious in their last game of the season by defeating Dundee 15-12.

Hamilton and Fosbender each had three hits for Tecumseh. Harvey was the winning pitcher. The senior girls finished the season with a 9-3 record and in second place in the Southeastern Girls League.

Dundee Product remained in first place by tromping Tecumseh Products 27-4. Vick and Owens had home runs for the victors. Bohannon had a home run for Tecumseh Products.

Going into the final week of play the standings are:

Dundee Products, 8-1; Beglinger-Reid, 7-2; Store Bar, 5-4; Deerfield Merchants, 3-6; Airport Bowl, 2-7; Tecumseh Products, 2-7.

Fair Events Scheduled

Entry deadline for the County Western Vocalist Contest at the 1976 Lenawee County Fair is Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 5 p.m.

Entry forms are available at the Secretary's office and at the fairgrounds or at Nixon Marbros in downtown Adrian.

Individual season passes are now available for the 1976 County Fair at the Secretary's office weekdays from 8-5 except from noon to 1 p.m.

A pass allows you both admission and parking any day during the Lenawee County Fair, and saves money.

Events for the entire family include the Michigan Breeders Futurity Harness Race, Kid's Day and grandstand shows.

Ken Curtis, better known as Festus Haggen, Marshall Dillon's sidekick, of the long running television series Gunsmoke, will make two grandstand appearances at the fair.

Shows are Aug. 22 at 7 and 9 p.m. The vocal and instrumental ensemble, The Everyday People will perform.

Sixteen young students from Anderson College of Indiana compose the group which expresses a positive stand regarding God and Country in their music.

Director Chosen

Christine Fliss, 505 Sutton St. is the newly selected director of the new Lenawee Council on Aging satellite at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Mrs. Fliss will organize the hot lunch program for senior citizens weekdays at the Tecumseh Community Center.

She will also coordinate other activities for seniors including home-bound meals, limited health services for seniors, more trips and social activities and of course, arts and crafts.

Mrs. Fliss and her family have lived in Tecumseh four years. Her husband James is a sales representative for Huron Cement, and they have two children Jimmy, 8 and Jennifer, 5.

Originally from Buffalo, N.Y., Mrs. Fliss received her bachelor of arts degree in secondary education and home economics from State University College in New York. She taught in New York. In high school she had a general business background.

She has been a volunteer working with senior citizens, is a member of the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary and Tecumseh Acres PTO. Arts and crafts is her favorite pastime.

Mrs. Fliss is available at the Tecumseh Community Center every weekday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Call her at 423-2107, ext. 25.

Holloway Happenings

By Helen Smoll

Holloway-Holloway-Palmyra Presbyterian Churches had an evening of fellowship and short program preceeded by a potluck supper in appreciation for the work the young people had accomplished from the Presbyterian Churches in Toledo, Erie and Monroe.

Holloway-Palmyra Churches are merging for the morning worship service through August at Holloway at 9:30 a.m. Last Sunday Steve Gorman was the speaker. Lance Wiesmann sang, accompanied on piano by his sister, Lisa. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiesmann.

The Raisin Slickers 4-H Club had its annual tour which will take the place of the August meeting. The tour began at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Wilson Sunday afternoon and concluded at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Irwin where the picnic was held.

Fair passes were distributed. Individual project groups are meeting at various times, for instruction regarding Fair entries.

The parents and leaders of the Club visited Cedar Point with the members recently.

The Main St. Extension Club toured three factories recently, Ohio Arts and Crafts, Pet Milk Co., and Spangler Candy Co.

Harry M. Curry has returned home after spending a month in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Glenn and family of Traverse City, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Gritzmaker and Mrs. Mamie Gritzmaker were callers of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sawyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stutzman and family of Fort Pierce, Fla. were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stutzman of Blissfield. Others attending were Mrs. Sarah Lowery, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Garrison of Onsted, Mr. and Mrs. John Halchishak of Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Stutzman and Heather of Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lowery of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stutzman of Palmyra and Mrs. Cleo Stutzman of Adrian

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Mitchell, Lois Ventz, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Johnston and Angela, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osterhout, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mitchell, Mrs. Elmer Kovack and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell, Mrs. Kenneth Mitchell and three children and Mrs. John Mitchell attended the Mitchell reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mitchell of Addison. Others came from Jackson, Hudson, Britton, Adrian, and Tecumseh. The group were invited next year to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Forb's in Hudson.

Mrs. Harold Robertson of Metamora, Ohio entertained at a luncheon for her cousins: Mrs. Carol German, Mrs. Dorothy Kopke, Mrs. Earle Hoffman and Mrs. Edith Palmer of Adrian.

The Friendly Neighbors Farm Bureau group will have a picnic Aug. 17 at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Hester Wooster. Bring a guest.

Mrs. Paul Kopke is a surgical patient in intensive care in Bixby Hospital.

Home Tour In Marshall

The 13th annual Marshall Historic Home Tour is Sept. 11-12, and will feature six "first-time" houses, four in process of restoration.

Started 28 years ago as a kitchen tour, the home tour last year drew more than 9,000 people to the city of 7,250.

Because of the tour's increasing popularity, it has been convicted for two days over the past seven years.

The event is sponsored by some 35 community groups and the Marshall Historical Society, a non-profit organization intent on preserving the worthwhile 19th century ambience of this small Michigan city.

Proceeds from the home tour are used to support the historical society's properties and enhance the Marshall community.

The tour also recreates the atmosphere of the last century with church luncheons, bake sales, antique sales, an arts and crafts fair with over 110 crafts people, band concerts, and ice cream social, a Civil War encampment, barbershop quartet singing, and numerous other events recalling the past.

Large free parking areas have been set aside and there are free shuttle buses along the tour to the parking areas.

Final Film To Be Shown

The final film to be shown at the Devils Lake Drive-In this summer is "The Cross and the Switchblade", on Sept. 3, 4, and 5.

This is the true story of New York gang leader, Nicky Cruz and the events that changed his life. The film stars Pat Boone as David Wilkerson and Erik Estrada as Nicky.

There is a charge for this film only.

The Devils Lake Drive-In is located on the south end of Devils Lake at Manitou Beach. Programs begin at 8:30 p.m. or dark on Friday and Saturday and 9:15 p.m. on Sunday.

Completes Switch Course

This course enables the student to inspect, test and adjust specialized switching equipment.

The course includes theory and "hands on" training, adjusting rotary switches, and performing functional tests.

Busato, his wife, Nan, reside at Tipton.

Mary Kathryn Records graduated Aug. 7 from Northern Michigan University with a bachelor of music education degree. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Records, 110 N. Union St. Attending graduation were Mr. and Mrs. Records, Sally Records, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harper, grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dunny an aunt and uncle.

Third Annual Festival Held At Walker Tavern

Performances of dulcimer music, an 1850's patriotic oration, and demonstrations of firings of muzzle-loading weapons will highlight a weekend summer festival, Aug. 14 and 15 at Michigan's historic Walker Tavern in Cambridge State Historic Park at Cambridge Junction.

The third annual "Frontier Entertainment in Michigan" festival is being presented by the Michigan History Division, Michigan Department of State.

Nineteenth century American music will be presented by "The Pigtown Flingers," a Lansing group that has performed at historical festivals across Michigan and by Gene Cox of Byron Center, long-time performer on the dulcimer.

The tavern is located near the intersection of U.S. 12 and M-50 in Lenawee County with the entrance on M-50.

From the 1830s to the 1850s, Sylvester Walker operated the tavern, making it one of the more well-known rest stops on the Detroit to Chicago route.

The festival will also feature children's games, silhouette painting, quilting bees and other hobbies of early Michigan.

The Walker Tavern historical programs are the responsibility of the Secretary of State and are administered in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Bi-centennial Journey

Threshing Days
by Thelma Youngleve

BRITTON — Watching the huge modern harvesters at work in the fields of golden grain and observing truck load after truck load of grain moving toward farm storage bins or to elevators brings memories of harvest seasons before combines came into use.

In the first days of grain production in Michigan, grain was cut by manual labor with a cradle (scythe with a frame attached to it for laying grain evenly as it is cut) and then tied into bundles by hand.

The bundles of grain were then shocked and left to stand in the field until the grain was dry enough to shell easily before it was threshed (some said thrashed).

A neighbor owned a field that had a creek running across one corner cutting off a small triangular parcel. The little plot was too small to harvest with a grain binder without much of the grain being trampled by the horses and machine.

Whenever grain was to be harvested from that tiny space, the elderly grandfather wielded the cradle (a skill few of this generation could do without considerable practice).

For many years fields of shocked wheat, oats, or barley were common sights in Lenawee County. To see such a sight today is a novelty.

When the shocks of grain had dried sufficiently (determined by experienced farmer) preparations were made for threshing.

In the early part of this century custom threshing was done. That is the threshing outfit or rig (engine, separator, and tank wagon) was owned by one individual who was hired by farmers to thresh their grain.

The operator usually charged each farmer a few cents per bushel of shelled grain.

Each individual farmer obtained sufficient help. Neighbors with teams and wagons to haul the bundles from the fields to the area where the separator was located (in most cases near the barn) were needed, besides others with wagons with grain boxes to take the grain from the separator to the granary where it was stored.

Besides farmers with wagons, there were other men to pitch the bundles from the shocks onto the wagons, some to handle the grain, and at least one to stack the straw. (A distasteful dirty task, especially if barley or bearded wheat was being threshed.)

Usually three men accompanied the threshing rig, one to tend the engine to maintain sufficient steam to do the work, one to take care of the separator, and the third man drove a team on the tank wagon to keep the engine supplied with plenty of water.

In all from 15 to 20 men were needed for the threshing operation, especially if the grain had to be hauled any distance.

By the time all of the farmer's grain had been threshed, if it had been a good season and he had a large acreage, there was a huge straw stack (pile of straw) often as high as the barn and bins filled with grain.

Our modern harvesters cut and thresh the grain in much less time and with less labor.

Often only two men can handle the entire process - one operates the combine and the other handles the grain.

There are no straw stacks. The straw falls evenly over the entire field. Only farmers having livestock or needing straw for other purposes rake the straw, bale it, and haul it to the barn where it is stored for later use.

Wonder what the farmers of the early part of this century would think and say if they could watch our modern harvesters at work?

Hintz Wins Music Camp Scholarship

BRITTON — John Hintz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hintz, attended the Blue Lake Fine Arts music camp at Twin Lake for two weeks

He was awarded a scholarship by the Britton Band Boosters.

John played his clarinet in the White Concert Band Aug. 1, and his drums with a jazz ensemble there.

Mr. and Mrs. Hintz attended the concert their son played in, and also the Victor Borge and the Faculty Orchestra concert at the beautiful outdoor Stewart Memorial Music Shell at the camp that weekend.

Britton Briefs

Gary, Mike and John Hintz, and cousin Allan Hintz, are spending several days at Grass Lake, in Gladwin, enjoying water sports. Boys are staying at Gary's cottage, there.

Come on folks, the vacations is over, and your Britton-Ridgeway correspondent is ready to take calls of Britton (or Ridgeway) news of social events, meetings, engagements, weddings, etc. Call Mary Maska evenings or weekends at 451-2161.

Completes Training

BRITTON — Navy Seaman Recruit Terry D. Lundquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lundquist of 8262 Labardee Rd., has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Among the subjects he studied were seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

A 1975 graduate of Blissfield High School, he joined the Navy in April 1976.

Class Meets, 14 Hosted

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson were hosts to 14 members of the Britton Congregational Christian Church's Baraca Philathea Class recently. A bountiful co-operative chicken dinner was enjoyed by all.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt.

Next meeting will be Aug. 22 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Benedict.

Honored at Shower

BRITTON — Karen Purvis was the guest of honor Thursday at a shower given by the Ladies Missionary Society of Bethel Baptist Church. She received several useful items to be used at college.

Margaret VanVorst led in devotions with "Praising the Lord" as her subject. She also read a poem, "I'm Fine", a favorite of her mother.

Pat Kelley led in prayer and a love offering of $15.45 was received.

The group tied a quilt and worked on other projects.

Iva Caswell and Gladys Goodacre were in charge of refreshments assisted by Ruth Hayford. Karen's mother, Mrs. Purvis was among the 21 ladies present.

Next meeting is Sept. 2 at the church.

Two Straight Years for MD

For two years straight, Sand Creek High School has succeeded in raising the most money per student for Muscular Dystrophy.

This year, Tecumseh would like to change the record.

Another car wash will be held due to popular demand. It will be at the parking lot between Kroger and Checker on M-50. Donation is set amount.

Other fund raising events will be announced in the near future.

Another dance marathon is also expected to be set.

APRIL

NEARING COMPLETION — The $205,000 addition to the Britton-Macon High School which began April 21, is a week behind schedule due to a brick and mason strike earlier in the year. But Supt. William Saxton reports the new rooms will be useable in September, although not completely finished. Construction work, by Ostachonwics and Smith, Inc. of Toledo, Ohio, includes a multi-purpose room, band room, band office and two practice rooms. The total area is approximately 5,500 square feet. Photos above compare construction progress between April and now. (Photo by Frank Weir)

AUGUST

Complete Bicentennial Trip

BRITTON — Twelve boys and five leaders of Scout Troop 23 recently completed a Bicentennial trip to Washington D.C.

Paul Albring, Chuck Barron, Steve Gilbert, Barry Hall, Richard McWilliams, Chris Pickell, Bob Pratt, Bruce Raeburn, Steve Scholl, Gary Wilcox, Larry Wilcox and Don Zeemer all earned the privilege of going on the trip.

The group left July 24 and stayed overnight at Camp Guyasuta in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The second day was spent traveling to Fort Belvoir, Va., which was used as a trip center in Washington, D.C.

The scouts hiked to the Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials. They toured the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the new FBI building and the Smithsonian museums. They also saw Arlington Cemetery and the Custis-Lee Mansion.

One of the highlights of their visit was the Torchlight Tattoo. This program featured the army band, chorus and drill team and presented a program on the history of the United States.

On the return trip, the troop visited Mount Vernon and spent one day and a half a Gettysburg.

They returned July 31.

City Rejects Bids for Construction

Tecumseh City Council rejected all bids for construction of the new city hall addition Monday night. It decided to hold out for about two more months to see if the city can get federal public work funds to finance the project.

The three bidders and revised bids were Krieghoff-Lenawee Co. $108,609; Goodrich Construction, $110,093 and Dunbar Construction, $110,222.

Bids exceeded estimates of $40,000 made two years ago when the addition was planned. Main reason is a new heating and cooling system being planned for the entire city hall. Cost of new mechanical system alone is $34,050 according to the bids.

Council felt the city does not have the money to spend now. Cal Zorn, city manager suggested the city could acquire public work funds for either the city hall project or other development projects.

Last month Congress overrode a Presidential veto to allow $2 billion dollars for cities with public work projects aimed at solving unemployment conditions.

Zorn feels the city has a good chance of getting a share of the money considering unemployment in the area. The city will apply for funds for the city hall project and other work projects the city has waiting on the drawing board. Projects total $795,000.

The other projects are:

Russell Rd. (bridge section) cost $398,000; $183,000 presently funded, $215,000 needed; Russell Rd. (urban section) cost $263,000; $107,000 presently funded and $156,000 needed; Industrial park drive, $164,000; city hall addition, $110,000; Mohawk St., $102,000 and Mill Hwy. $48,000, both industrial areas.

David Siler, architect for the 20 x 40 foot addition to the east side of the city hall stated that cost of the alterations are not so much by themselves but together in one package, they total up. He told Council every effort has been made to cut costs where possible.

Basically what the city will be getting for its money is: two new offices, one for the engineering staff, the present one to be used as a conference room and administrative office, the present one to be used for clerical storage; a new vault, basement storage, a new mechanical system control, a kitchenette and a women's restroom. Insulation and ramps for the handicapped are also part of the package.

Siler also stated that putting off the project until fall is a less ideal time for construction. The new mechanical system could save the city 10-15 percent in utilities this winter.

TCC Probes Annexation

Tecumseh Country Club is expected to make formal requests to Tecumseh Township for release and to the City of Tecumseh for annexation of a portion of the club's property that will be served by Tecumseh city sewer and water.

City and club officials estimated this would be approximately 20 acres.

Tecumseh City Council decided Monday night it would not give sewer and water to the club pro shop and club unless these buildings were annexed.

Fred Randall, a Tecumseh Country Club director represented the club Monday night and told Council neither it nor the Township wanted the property annexed to the city, but it would cooperate with whatever Council decided.

Man Killed by Car; Rites Held Sunday

Services were held Sunday at the Purse Funeral Home for 27-year-old Douglas Higgins, 717 S. Union St., who was killed when struck by a car early last Friday morning.

Accident occurred on Shepherd Rd. when Higgins and Robert M. McKee, 22, of 2631 E. Monroe Rd., were hit by an automobile driven by Ava J. DeHaan of Adrian. The young Adrian woman told investigating officers she did not see either of the men on the road.

Prior to the accident, McKee's vehicle reportedly was forced off Shepherd Rd., just west of Tipton Hwy. McKee and Higgins waved down a passing car and were talking to the driver when the DeHaan automobile approached. They failed to move off the road in time.

McKee was seriously injured, first taken to Bixby Hospital and then to Ann Arbor, where he is still confined.

No charges were made in the mishap by county deputies.

Higgins was a lifelong resident of Tecumseh, born Dec. 4, 1948, the son of David and Frances Higgins.

He attended Tecumseh High School, served with the Army in Germany, and was employed at Peerless Gear in Clinton.

Survivors, besides the parents, are two brothers, Michael of Tecumseh, and Sgt. John Higgins, stationed in Texas; a niece, and nephew and several aunts and uncles.

Dr. Blair O. Bashore officiated at the services. Burial was in Ridgeway Cemetery. Graveside military services were conducted by the Underwood-Orr American Legion Post.

TODD HERRICK

New AC Trustee

Tecumseh Products vice-president since 1974, Herrick previously served as an executive trainee with the company.

He also serviced the Brunswick Corp. Glenn Trolz and Associates and Taylor Products.

From 1968 to 1972, Herrick was in the U.S. Army, achieving the rank of captain. As an Army aviator, he served in the Republic of Vietnam.

Herrick earned a bachelor of arts degree in management from the University of Notre Dame in 1967.

His wife, Linda, is a graduate of Western Michigan University. They have three children, Todd, 13, Lisa, 11, and Kent, 7.

Herrick is a member of the Tecumseh School Board and the Lenawee County Substance Abuse Council Board. He also is on the board of Sociodad Internationale Compressores (SICOM) in Sao Carlos, Brazil.

B&E Loss at Cemetery over $2,000

A B&E at the maintenance building at Brookside Cemetery was discovered last Thursday morning with a loss that could top $2,000.

A number of tools, including cutting torches, and a tractor for mowing at the cemetery were taken from the building. The tractor, less mower, was valued at $1,800.

Police were told that a pickup was seen leaving the cemetery via Brown St. shortly after midnight.

The city also was the victim of a theft the day before at the Tecumseh Community Center. Between $25 and $40 was taken from an office locker. Officers theorize that a person, or persons, hid in the building at closing time as no evidence of forced entry was apparent.

Other police action the past week was:

Aug. 11 - Roxann L. Johnston, 1316 Southwestern Dr., reported her purse stolen at the Cedar Shack. Papers, credit card and $20 were in the purse.

Aug. 11 - Bob Eardley, 1001 Park St., reported a mail box damaged at the residence.

Aug. 12 - Steven E. Drake, 21, of 511 W. Chicago, was arrested for being drunk and disorderly after attempting to hitch-hike in the downtown Tecumseh.

Aug. 12 - Gary Jones, 312 W. Patterson, told the police that a chrome stripe, valued over $50, was taken off his car.

Aug. 13 - Paul W. Whisman, 17, of 107 S. Union was arrested for possession of marijuana at Patterson Park. Two others were with him when officers investigated and made the arrest in mid-afternoon.

Aug. 14 - Bruno Florez, 24, of 611 S. Pearl, was arrested for DUIL.

Aug. 15 - Mrs. Donna Guire, 1107 Willow Court, was sitting in her living room when an unknown party hurled a beer bottle through a 4x7-foot thermopane window.

Aug. 16 - Rope, four pieces of plywood and a plank, valued at approximately $100, were taken during the weekend at the Presbyterian Church.

Aug. 16 - Michael H. Dunn, 30, of 6745 Gove, was charged with fleeing and eluding a police officer. He was seen leaving the Cedar Shack on a motorcycle, headed east of W. Chicago Blvd. Officers reported he was not wearing a helmet, had no tail light, no rear view mirror and no registration plates. Police attempted to stop him on W. Chicago Blvd. at Sunset, and later on Adrian St. at Kilbuck when they pulled the patrol car in front of his cycle. He told officers that he realized he was in violation and was headed for his home.

Aug. 16 - Kellious A. Williams, 22, of 135½ E. Chicago and Ray A. Heaton, 31, of 501 Occidental, were charged with being drunk and disorderly after fighting in front of the Quick Lunch on S. Evans. Williams was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment of facial injuries.

Aug. 17 - Timothy C. Patterson, 17, Manchester, was charged with shop-lifting after leaving Ken-Ray Drugs with two ice cream bars and a cone.

Replacing Principal

Supt. Robert Duhan told Tecumseh's Board of Education Monday night that Dr. Raymond Bandlow, assistant high school principal, has resigned to become superintendent of the Lawton School District in southwest Michigan.

Replacing him will be Mr. Robert Riemersma, a native of Holland. He holds a bachelors and masters degree from Western Michigan University. His undergraduate work was in history and psychology while the masters was in counseling.

He has taught at Comstock, North Chicago Community High School and was assistant principal and guidance director at Saugatuck High School.

Also announced was the resignation of Mary Long, junior high Spanish teacher and counselor. She is moving with her husband to Miami, Fla.

Replacing her will be Mrs. Dorothy Heinlen of Dundee. She taught for three years on the east coast and for three years at Dundee High School.

In addition, it was announced that Donald Brazee, presently assistant high school principal and athletic director, will become director of athletics and student activities.

McAran has a BA degree from Adrian College and a MA and Specialist degree from Eastern Michigan University.

A native of Petersburg, he taught in the Fraser Public schools from 1966-1975. Last year he served an internship as an administrator at the Henry Ford II High School in Sterling Heights.

He is married and has one son.

PC Member Quits Post

In a letter to Council he explained that he is moving to Berea, Ohio with his family where he will have a new job. A replacement will be named by Council.

In other Council action, Richard Creswell was reappointed to the Board of Appeals for another three-year term.

Same Rate Is Proposed by Council

Tecumseh City Council is prepared to offer Walker Landfill the same rate as previous year, $900 per month for use of the facility by all Tecumseh residents.

Landfill owners however want $2.16 per ton over 5,000 tons. Last year the Walker Landfill estimated Tecumseh dumped 3,690 tons at the landfill.

Council wants to meet with Walker Landfill representatives at a future council meeting. It will also seek another quotation from Lenawee Disposal for similar services, before any new contract is final.

Schools Complete Plans for Sept. 7th Opening

Tecumseh Public Schools will open for all pupils, except Kindergarten, on Tuesday, Sept. 7, 1976.

Elementary pupils, kindergarten-6, will be mailed assignment cards during the last week of August. However, if it is necessary to make some assignment changes after school starts because of class loads, these changes will be made as soon as possible.

Parents of children, who are new to the Tecumseh School District and who haven't registered their children, are asked to enroll their Kindergarten through sixth grade pupils immediately at the Board of Education Office, 304 W. Chicago Boulevard.

Children are eligible for kindergarten if they are five years old on or before December 1, 1976.

Junior High School (Grades 7 and 8) will be open from August 19; however, new enrollments can be best made on August 23-24.

Guidance personnel will be at the Senior High School from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, to confer, counsel and enroll pupils new to the Tecumseh High School.

The first day will be a full day of school for all pupils in grades 1-12. Kindergarteners' first day will be Wednesday, Sept. 8.

Kindergarten teachers will, however, be in their rooms from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (except lunch) on Tuesday, Sept. 7, to meet with parents and students.

If a child has been assigned to a morning session, parents should plan to meet with the teacher in the morning. If assigned to an afternoon session, they should plan to meet the teacher in the afternoon. Parents should bring their child's health record and birth certificate if it was not presented at time of the child's registration.

High School student schedule cards will be mailed to the enrolled students the last week of August. High School classes will begin on September 7 at 7:45 a.m.

Junior High School pupils are to report at 7:45 a.m. on September 7, the 7th grade to the boy's gym on the 1st floor and the 8th grade to the girl's gym on the 3rd floor. Regular classes will begin immediately following the distribution of schedule cards.

All new children to receive bus service will be contacted by bus personnel as to time and bus number for the pupils. It is planned at this time that bus routes and times will be the same as last year unless parents are contacted individually.

Children starting kindergarten will meet Wednesday, Sept. 8, with the morning session from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and afternoon session from 12:45 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. Kindergarten bus drivers will make home calls sometime before Sept. 8, to acquaint parents of their school bus routines.

Class Times Are Changed

School Supt. Robert Duhan told School Board members Monday night that starting and dismissal times — as well as lunch periods — have changed for the coming school year.

Tecumseh High School will begin at 7:45 a.m. with first lunch period from 10:40 to 11:15 and second lunch period from 11:40 to 12:15.

No hot lunches will be served due to the incomplete kitchen but milk will be available at all buildings.

School dismisses is at 2:20 p.m.

The Junior High will also begin at 7:45 and end at 2:20. First lunch will be from 10:35 to 11:26 and the second will be from 11:30 to 12:20.

Elementary students will start at 9 a.m. with lunch from 12:00 to 12:45. Afternoon session is from 12:45 to 3:15.

Backs TM Project

Tecumseh City Council threw its weight behind the Town Meeting 1976 project at Monday's meeting.

They join the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary, the Bicentennial Committee, Tecumseh Public Schools, Rotary and Kiwanis in supporting the program.

Next meeting is at the Tecumseh Public Library Aug. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Roger Proctor is coordinator.

Town Meeting 1976 is a day of reflection on which people of all factions of a community meet to discuss the challenges it faces and possible solutions. A document is produced at the end of the day to serve as a guide for the city and all organizations in implementing these solutions.

Districts Pay Costs

School Board learned Monday night that the intermediate school district will no longer be able to pay the special education costs of Type A mentally impaired and emotionally impaired students.

Reasons, explained Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, were increased costs, increased enrollments and a mandatory special education law.

Local districts will now be asked to pay part of the costs of their own students. Students from other districts participating in Tecumseh's program will be asked to pay full tuition.

RUNNING BEHIND — New $1.5 million addition at Tecumseh High School is behind schedule with opening of the 1976-77 year less than three weeks away. Students will have to bring their lunch or eat elsewhere as the cafeteria and kitchen will not be finished. Photo here shows construction facing N. Maumee St., and in the foreground, preliminary work for a new drive and visitor parking. (Photo by Jim Lincoln)

Addition Will Not Be Ready

By FRANK WEIR

Eugene Cooley, assistant superintendent, told board members Monday night that the high school addition is "not progressing as well as we would like to see it."

The main reason for building delays, Cooley elaborated, is due to shipping of various items.

The cafeteria will be completed by the start of school, but kitchen facilities will not be. Students must make other arrangements. Milk will be available.

School officials are hopeful that the kitchen will be ready for use 10 days after the start of school. In addition, it is hoped that the agriculture class area, guidance and counseling and administrative areas will be ready.

However, four new classrooms, music and art instruction areas will not be ready. Music students will be forced to temporarily use the cafeteria as they did last year.

The library will also have to be used as a study hall for the time being.

Supt. Robert Duhan remarked, "It's going to be inconvenient, and we will have complaints from staff and students. Some classes may be crowded But hopefully we'll have the same cooperation as we had last spring."

Duhan said that under the building contract, construction does not have to be completed until Dec. 1, but officials are hopeful that completion will be sooner than that.

Arrangements have been made with St. Elizabeth officials to continue use of three classrooms there for high school classes.

State Aid May Be Cut

At a meeting of Tecumseh's Board of Education Monday night, members heard a financial report from assistant superintendent Eugene Cooley.

Cooley told the board that — in order for the district to receive full state aid — the district must levy 27 mills.

State equalized value (SEV) for the district has been set at $88,156,000, which is approximately $3 million less than last year due to the removal of personal inventory of businesses from SEV.

Projected enrollment in the district is 3,700, only three more than last year. If state aid is fully funded, the district would collect $515.90 per pupil for a $1,908,830 total.

But that's a big "if." Cooley said after the meeting, "There is no question in our minds that state aid will be cut" as it was last year.

If a cut is made, the district will be forced to borrow against the loss of income. Last year the district borrowed $100,000.

Current total revenue for the district is $4,839,000.

In other action, the board voted in favor of the administration's recommendation to reduce the debt retirement levy from 2.34 to 2 mills.

The levy is used to pay off bonds which finance new buildings.

Tecumseh Invites Tecumseh

Mayor Don Lappan of Tecumseh, Ontario, Canada and the Kinsmen and Kinettes have invited the residents of Tecumseh area to their corn festival Aug. 27, 28 and 29 at Lacasse Recreation Centre in Tecumseh, Ontario, Canada.

4 Accidents

Although all four traffic accidents in the city were minor the past week, two mishaps occurred just outside the city limits and nine persons suffered injuries.

In the city last Thursday, Ronnie D. Poley, 23, Clinton was charged with careless driving after running into a parked car owned by Stephen P. Geishecker, 703 Russell. The Geishecker vehicle was shoved into another parked car, belonging to Kenneth Pieh, 200 E. Logan.

Friday, Ronald D. Stoddard, 17, of 207 S. Occidental, was headed east on Conklin Dr. when he lost control, skidding 150 feet into a ditch. He was cited for failing to have his car under control.

Saturday, Stephen R. Sowers, 27, of 209 N. Oneida, told officers he was riding his motorcycle on Sunset when a car forced him off the street at Pine. His bike jumped the curb and barely missed a pole. Sowers was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

Monday, Richard L. Becker, 38, Sylvania backed into a parked car owned by Andres G. Bodenlos, Plymouth, in downtown Tecumseh.

Also Monday, Donna M. Abraham, 32, Clinton was hit in the middle of the E. Chicago-Maumee St. intersection by Larry W. Hawley, 35, of 500 Spafford.

Last Thursday, just west of the city on M-50, Mark F. Mann, Redmont, Mo., attempted to pass but crashed headon with Jack D. Baughey, 25, Adrian. Mann and his passenger, William Gray of Tecumseh was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Baughey and his passenger, Paula Baughey, 26, of Adrian, were treated and released at Bixby Hospital.

Mann was cited for improper passing.

Late Thursday night, Michael L. Baldwin, 24, Clinton ran into two cars operated by James E. Smith 25, Tecumseh and Laverne Kurtz, 45, Monroe - on M-50 near M-52.

Baldwin and his passenger, James Baldwin, 36, of Tecumseh; Smith and his passenger, Joyce Smith, 26; and Kurtz and his passenger Betty Kurtz, 41, were treated for cuts and bruises at Bixby Hospital.

Tecumseh firemen were called to the scene to clear debris from the pavement.

Transportation Now Available for Seniors

The Lenawee Council on Aging (LCOA) transportation is now available for all Tecumseh area residents at least 55 years old, participating in activities or projects at the Tecumseh Community Center.

The days and hours of transportation will be limited to weekdays.

Pickup will be at your home 10-10:30 a.m. for a ride to the Community Center. Return home will be 3-3:30 p.m.

People wanting transportation to the Community Center should contact Christine Fliss, 423-2107, ext. 25 or LCOA Central Dispatch at 263-8996 for red van transportation.

Persons to be picked up should be ready and watching for the LCOA vehicles at the appointed time. The LCOA vehicles should be expected within 15 minutes of the scheduled pick-up time.

If you have a transportation cancellation please notify the Central Dispatch 263-8996 well in advance of your pick-up time to avoid unnecessary use of vehicles.

LCOA drivers will act as chauffeurs and assist persons using the LCOA transportation with packages and getting in and out of the vehicles.

There is no charge for the LCOA transportation but donations may be made. Drivers have donation envelopes or place coins in the collection receptacle in the vehicle.

Volunteers who can offer their own vehicles to assist senior citizens with transportation for short trips in town may also call Christine Fliss to volunteer service.

MR. and MRS. KENT DOWNING

Couple United in Matrimony

Cathy Lynn Ingles and Kent S. Downing were married at the United Methodist Church in Tecumseh Aug. 14 at 6:30 p.m.

The Rev. Donald C. Porteous and the Rev. Allan Gray officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Margaret and Dean Ingles of Westland and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Downing, 413 Seminole Dr.

John Dustin was organist and Donna Grunwald was soloist.

Candelabra and bouquets of peach and white flowers decorated the altar for the bride's approach with her father.

The unity candle which the couple lit after their vows, was encircled with sprengeri and baby's breath.

For her wedding the bride chose a summer gown of white bridal satin with Venice lace forming the cap sleeves and accenting the high neckline, V-insert of fine bridal netting and the empire waistline. Soft folds fell from the empire waist and the back of the gown fell into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was edged in matching lace and was secured by a Juliet headpiece. She wore a filigree engraved silver bracelet, a gift from the groom, and carried a cascade bouquet of Tropicana sweetheart roses, miniature white fuji mums and carnations with baby's breath.

Mary Lippert of Manistee was maid of honor. Tamara Downing the groom's sister of Tecumseh, Sheila Evans of Westland and Michel Oesterle of Northville were bridesmaids.

They carried bouquets of peach miniature carnations, Tropicana sweetheart roses, white daisies and baby's breath.

Jeff Downing, the groom's brother of Tecumseh was best man. Groomsmen were Dave Provost of Northville, Gary Kondratek of Roseville, Jeff Grabiel of Ann Arbor, Greg Ingles, the bride's brother of Hawaii and Doug Dillon of Tecumseh.

A dinner-dance reception was held at the Tecumseh Country Club.

The bride is a senior in education at Adrian College and is a transfer student from Alma College. She is a member of the Alpha Zeta Tau sorority.

The groom is a 1976 graduate of Alma College and affiliated with Delta Gamma Tau fraternity. He is an advertising salesman and reporter-photographer for The Tecumseh Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Downing hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Honor Roll Is Discussed

The idea of having an honor roll in Tecumseh was discussed at Monday's School Board meeting, and members agreed to refer the concept to its policy committee.

Supt. Robert Duhan said that the district has not had an honor roll, because it was felt that an honor roll put "undue" pressure on borderline students.

In addition, he said that such a roll might cause students to take easier courses to attain a high average or even cheat in order to make the honor roll.

Board member Todd Herrick voiced approval of the idea, as he has in the past meetings. He said, "I think it would give students something to shoot for."

Richard Heglin agreed with Herrick and made the suggestion that the concept be referred to the policy committee.

Spectator Carl Schmidt suggested that school officials make a permanent display, showing the academic accomplishments of THS graduates, similar to displays of sports trophies in the schools.

Bid Accepted

Tecumseh City Council accepted the low bid of Automotive Service Co. for a Swenson salt box and spreader. Bid was $3,260.

Present salt box has lasted for 10 years, told City Manager Cal Zorn. Average life is three years. He credited city crew's maintenance with saving the city money.

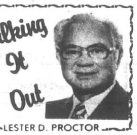
Talking It Out



LESTER D. PROCTOR

Decision-making under stress

It is difficult to realize the magnitude of emotional and physical stress that persons confronted with the loss of a loved one must bear.

After such a loss, people grieve. They feel pain. They have been shocked out of their usual pattern of living. In mourning, they are faced with the need to assume responsibility for duties that may be foreign to them. Religious arrangements. Legal inquiries and actions. Financial responsibilities. Social duties to be assigned, accepted and performed. All these responsibilities fall on the bereaved with actions which must be taken quickly, decisively.

An important example of the many matters to be attended to promptly is the funeral. Bearing in mind that the psychological value of the funeral has no relationship to its cost, the cost of a funeral is but one aspect of the many decisions to be made under stressful conditions. Caught up in the bewilderment of grief, the bereaved may be emotionally unable to arrange for social pressure. At the same time, in their desire to show their love, they may proceed with arrangements costlier than would have been wished for by the deceased.

If the deceased, however, had made his wishes known in advance, decisions would have been wiser. This is one of the main reasons why pre-planning is a sensible procedure.

At the family table, with the discussion of these matters before everyone, each individual's wishes can be acknowledge and pursued before there is an actual need.

Robert - Desmet Married

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Tecumseh was the setting Aug. 14 for the wedding of Janice Robert and Thomas Desmet.

Msgr. Vincent J. Howard officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Robert, 502 W. Chicago. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Desmet of 2125 E. Kilbuck.

The bridesmaids were Mellisa Mitchell of Adrian and Susan Telon of Oak Park.

Continuing the Victorian theme, the bridesmaids wore floral striped blouses, with lace edged Victorian necklines. Small pearl buttons accented the pleated bodice and the long sleeves.

The skirts were matching solid color gauze.

The best man was Jack O'Leary of Grosse Pointe. The ushers were Chris Desmet of Whitmore Lake and Jim Robert of Tecumseh.

Pat Patten was the organist.

A garden reception followed the ceremony, hosted at the home of Mrs. Olas Puffer.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the groom's parents.

Mrs. Desmet, a THS graduate, is a nurse at University Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mr. Desmet, a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, is employed at the Tecumseh Water Processing Plant.

The couple will live in Ann Arbor.

Generator Feedback Can Occur

Extreme care must be taken with standby generators to avoid feedback into the electric system of Consumers Power Company, K.L. Chichester, district manager of the South Central region of the company, advised customers today.

Without proper switching equipment to close off the power line, feedback from the generator could shock and injure Consumers Power linemen working on the company's equipment.

Many customers in rural and outlying suburban areas have standby portable home generating units for use during those infrequent occasions when regular electric service is interrupted because of severe storms or an accident, according to Mr. Chichester.

The March ice storm that paralyzed much of Michigan caused many more residents to consider installing home generators.

Mr. Chichester warned today that in all cases the company's supply must be isolated from the point that is served by the home generator plant during the time the home generator is in operation.

"We insist that the customer provide a double throw switch connected so that interconnection between the customer's generation and the company system is impossible," Mr. Chichester said.

Customers who have portable units already in place or are planning to add one are urged to call Jack Brandenburg, district supervisor of customer services, at 265-6141. Mr. Brandenburg will help the customer insure that his portable unit has the proper connection.

MRS. DAVID CUTHBERT

Couple United at Saline Church

United Methodist Church of Saline was the setting for the marriage of Laura Hintz and David Cuthbert, Saturday evening. The Rev. David Wallace performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hintz, 3991 Kaiser Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. William Cuthbert, Brighton.

Mrs. Larry Dicks played the organ and accompanied the soloist, William Heimerdinger, who sang "The Wedding Song" and "A Time for Us."

As she approached the altar with her father, the bride wore a white poly-sheer gown, styled with a princess lace yoked bodice trimmed with a flounce.

Daisy lace appliques trimmed the bishop sleeves and were strewn on the A-line skirt, which ended in a chapel train.

A matching Camelot headpiece held the bride's lace-trimmed, tiered mantilla. She carried a cascade of roses, daisies, miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Kenneth Parr of Manchester wore a blue floral, flocked sheer halter-top dress with matching cape. Her headdress was a single white rose with baby's breath. She carried a trio bouquet of white, yellow and pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Renee LaPearl, of Adrian, the bride's cousin and Nancy Cuthbert, of Brighton, the groom's sister, who wore similarly styled halter gowns in yellow and pink respectively.

Each wore a matching rose in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Bridesmaids gowns were made by Mrs. Shirley Gilmore.

Richard Cuthbert of Brighton was his brother's best man, and guests were seated by Ronald Hintz, of Belleville, the bride's brother, and John Welsh, Brighton.

Flower girl, Jamie Cuthbert, the groom's niece, wore a pink gown and carried a white basket of daisies and baby's breath.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald LaPearl, the bride's aunt and uncle and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cuthbert, the groom's brother and sister-in-law hosted the reception at Weller's Carriage House, Saline.

Buffet dinner and dance was attended by 200 guests.

Occasion also marked the 75th birthday of the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Roy Guest of Bay City.

White lace heart-shaped ornaments centered each table, trimmed with pink, yellow and blue ribbon streamers. Wedding cake featured a fountain.

Assisting at the reception were Kathy LaTocki, Debra Theurer, both of Saline; Cheryl Hintz, April LaPearl, of Adrian, and Trisha Hintz of Tecumseh.

Bride is a graduate of Clinton High School and Washtenaw Community College and is employed as a dietary assistant at Saline Hospital.

Groom is a graduate of Brighton High School and is attending Washtenaw Community College. He is employed at Red Bull Restaurant, Ann Arbor.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will reside in Saline.

Completes Course

He was trained in the operation and maintenance of military vehicles.

PFC English is a 1973 graduate of Thomas More High School, Clinton.

Wed at Siena Heights

Mr. and Mrs. Mohammad Hossein Yassaman are now living in Mt. Pleasant after their week long honeymoon in Niagara Falls, Ontario Canada.

The former Nancy Cameron Hodges and Mohammad Yassaman were married the evening of July 9 at Holy Rosary Chapel, Siena Heights.

The bride is the daughter of the late Ralph and Virginia Hodges and the groom is the son of Robab Yassaman of Taft, Iran.

Robert Sage, the bride's cousin escorted the bride to the altar. Sister Theresia of Siena Heights was organist.

For the wedding, the bride chose a white linen bridal gown designed with Cluny lace bodice and cap sleeves. The ruffled hemline fell into a brush train. An open crown, Juliet cap secured her mantilla veil.

Her diamond and pearl necklace was a gift of the groom. She carried roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Melissa Sage Booth, the bride's cousin of Belleville, Ontario Canada and Mehdi Moghadas of Isfahan, Iran were witnesses.

Summer bouquets and candlelight decorated the home.

The bride was graduated from Central Michigan University in May with a degree in education.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the Sages at the Hathaway House restaurant in Blissfield.

MR. and MRS. MOHAMMAD YASSAMAN

Honored at Shower

Jill Feight was honored at a miscellaneous shower, Aug. 10, at the home of Mrs. Roger Williams and daughter, Mrs. James Winzeler and daughter were co-hostesses.

Miss Feight's marriage to Rex Forsyth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Forsyth, will take place Sept. 10.

Among the 30 guests were Miss Feight's great-aunt, Mrs. Walter Titley of California; her mother and sister, Jan Feight, and Mrs. Forsyth.

Orange and yellow theme was used to decorate the umbrella shaped cake and for the flowers in the honored guest's corsage.

BOOK MARK

News from the Tecumseh Library.

The children's section of the Tecumseh Public Library has new books galore for kids from three to 13!

Children at Story Hour (Wednesdays at 1:30 p.m.) have enjoyed two delightful books written and illustrated by James Marshall. GEORGE AND MARTHA and GEORGE AND MARTHA ENCORE reveal the ups and downs of a friendship between two hippos which is sure to bring smiles to all.

THE VERY HUNGRY CATERPILLAR by Eric Carle contains a surprise within its covers as the caterpillar eats its was through fruit, cake, salami, cheese, pie, pickles, watermelon and finally a green leaf!

A CROCODILE'S TALE by Jose and Adriene Aruego is a Philippine folk story. Juan rescues a crocodile from a trap only to be faced with the threat of being eaten up! How Juan saves himself with the help of a slightly deaf monkey is a delightful story.

TIKKI TIKKI TEMBO by Arlene Mosel retells a Chinese folktale of how the Chinese came to give all their children short names. Tikki Tikki Tembo-no Sa rembo-chari bari ruchi-pip peri pembo along with his brother Chang and an old well prove how dangerous long names can be!

Do you hate math? Then the Tecumseh Public Library has just the book for you! Reading THE I HATE MATHEMATICS BOOK by Marilyn Burns is a funny enjoyable way to replace bad memories of story problems and fractions with enthusiasm for numbers.

With an effective sense of humor in both content and illustration, this book leads you right through addition, math riddles, subtraction, mathmagic, fractions, simple geometry, logic, probability, and much more. If you are allergic to math, then THE I HATE MATHEMATICS BOOK is the perfect cure!

Jean Fritz writes lively biographies which humanize the major figures of the American Revolution. WHY DON'T YOU GET A HORSE, SAM ADAMS?, AND THEN WHAT HAPPENED PAUL REVERE?, and WHERE WAS PATRICK HENRY ON THE 29TH OF MAY? are humorous and vivid biographies which highlight both the strengths and weaknesses of these heroes and also give a clear picture of the political situation of the young United States.

WOMENFOLK AND FAIRY TALES edited by Rosemary Minard is a collection of outstanding folk and fairy tales in which a girl or a woman is the moving force.

Intelligent, active and courageous women take the place of passive Sleeping Beauties and enslaved Cinderellas. Stories, old and new alike, are included such as "East of the Sun and West of the Moon," "The Husband who was to Mind the House," "The Chinese Red Riding Hoods" and "The Lass Who Went Out at the Cry of Dawn."

THE STORY OF THE DICTIONARY by Robert Kraske is a fascinating account of the second most popular book in the English language. It includes the history of the dictionary and shows how a modern dictionary is put together. The book also discusses the complexity of the English language, how it changes throughout time and how it differs throughout the country. Did you know that blizzard used to mean "sharp blow", that nice used to mean "ignorant", and that villain used to mean "farmer"? Many more interesting tidbits fill THE STORY OF THE DICTIONARY.

BACKPACKING EQUIPMENT is a guide to the essentials: frame packs, weekend packs, sleeping bags, tents, boots, and foods. Each section contains a brief guide to selection use, and care of a piece of equipment, followed by evaluations of a number of brands (e.g. 22 weekend packs, 22 goose down sleeping bags, 30 hiking boots.) There are also tips on related areas, such as breaking in boots and planning menus for a week on the trail.

If your bag isn't the outdoors, you might enjoy LOW-COST ENERGY-EFFICIENT SHELTER FOR THE OWNER AND BUILDER, edited by Eugene Eccli. Here is a good source of ideas for home improvements which will cut your utility bill, as well as how to install better insulation, and use heating and cooling equipment, appliances and lights more efficiently. This book is also helpful if your are planning to build a house. There are chapters on lowering the first costs of a home by using space and on-site resources more Efficiently. There is even a section on using solar energy to product heat and food.

A new book which could help cut the cost of young children's clothes is KIDS' CLOTHES, by Meredith and Gary Gladstone. Using only four basic patterns, the authors have developed a year-round wardrobe for boys and girls aged one to five. The patterns are simple but versatile and there are many designs for appliques, monograms, pockets, and other decorative touches for further variety. The results are charming and many of the projects could be accomplished even if you are a beginning sewer.

TM Gains Momentum

By FRANK WEIR

Plans to hold a town meeting in Tecumseh gained momentum Aug. 11 when four organizations pledged to support the project.

Representatives from Rotary, Kiwanis, JC Auxiliary and radio station WLEN made their commitments to Roger Proctor, one of the co-ordinators of the event. The bicentennial committee has already pledged its support.

The planning session was held in the basement of Tecumseh's public library with 21 people in attendance.

Ann Andrew, of Ann Arbor, is the new representative of the Institute of Cultural Affairs, a non-profit group that helps a community organize its town meeting.

She clarified the concept at Wednesday's meeting.

Former ICA consultant Jeff Roper has moved to San Antonio, Tex.

One of those in attendance at the session questioned the value of the meeting and whether any concrete solutions would come of it.

Andrew responded that the effectiveness of a town meeting varies with the community. "People have the feeling of wanting to do something afterward. Usually there is a group who wants to do something. Ann Arbor had a group that met for two months after its town meeting studying proposals. But its hard to say what will happen. It's up to you. You should plan now if you're conscious of carrying on afterward," she said.

And Proctor added, "It's a way to eventually take care of problems (facing the community). The first town meeting will get the ball rolling and get the leadership so it's not going to drop afterwards."

The next planning session will be Aug. 25, 7:30 p.m. again in the Clara Waldron Room at the Tecumseh Public Library.

It's an important one in that steering committee, promotion, enablement and practice teams be set up.

Although the tentative date for the town meeting is Oct. 23 a final decision on the date, facility and other details will hopefully be made at the next meeting.

Proctor concluded that all interested parties are invited to the planning session.

Evening Bible School

"In Christ We Trust" is the theme for the evening Vacation Bible School at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Program begins Aug. 23 and closes Aug. 27. Meetings are 6:30-9 p.m. Children age three and older are welcome.

Bible studies for parents and young adults are planned. Friends and visitors are also welcome.

Music, games and fun is planned.

Honored at Luncheon

Stephen G. Feko, senior engineer-production process, was honored at a luncheon Aug. 9 for his 25th anniversary with General Motors. William J. Polk, plant manager hosted the event attended by plant management staff. Feko received a watch inscribed with his service anniversary date.

He was transferred to Fisher Body, Tecumseh Plant as process engineer, industrial and production engineering department and received his promotion to present job title in Oct. 1972.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

THE NEAR-MY-WINDOW FEEDERS

This summer we have not tried to maintain much of a bird-feeding program. It simply is not fair. It is not right to fill feeders on a regular basis and let the birds form the habit of coming to the trays when such a program cannot be kept up during the cold weather months.

However, we have not let the two feeders closest to the west-facing window go completely unused. Bird-watching is too much a part of our lives.

A compromise has been that occasionally a few cups full of sunflower seeds are put on the trays. Thus we have had birds but no guilty feelings.

We know that none of the free-loaders will be in trouble when the cold weather comes and we head south.

Of course, the main reason for summer feeding is the pleasure of seeing young birds. To watch an adult stuffing dinner into a youngster's over-sized and always open mouth is great.

Often these kids look as large or even larger than their parents and frequently they are perfectly able to eat for themselves.

We have especially noticed that young cardinals and bluejays can put on superb helpless and pitiful acts — there is just no way they could possibly eat any of that hard to manage food — but the second that the adult bird flies away, the youngsters do very well on their own.

Con artists even in the bird-world!

Feeding sunflower seeds means that the feeder trays sometime look full when they really aren't.

The birds and squirrels eat only the meat and leave the tough outer shell.

The bluejays are the first to spot a feeder full of empty shucks. Spot and ignore. They can fly by a non-profitable feeder as if it weren't there.

Or, they can land and with a few loud shrill hollers announce to the whole neighborhood that Marda is not taking care of her visitors this summer.

Of course, bluejays are not responsible for the full but empty foodtray. Sometimes one will favor us with a session of eating right outside our window but usually it is a matter of picking up from one to eight seeds and flying away.

A jay with a full throat, mouth and bill can be quite a sight — he can work so hard at stretching and jerking his head around to make room for just one more seed that we laugh and then he looks so full we wonder whether he can take off. He always can.

The lovely cardinals are the ones who have good manners, they are not apt to eat and run.

In a slow unhurried manner one of the red beauties will pick up a choice seed and methodically grind it open in his heavy and strong bill.

It is amazing how they manage to crack the seed and drop the hard shell but never lose the nut itself. Very talented.

When one of the fox squirrels climbs up the feeder post and scrambles out on the flat surface of the trays — well, if a good supply of food is available the window-watchers settle back for a long session.

A hungry squirrel is not about to leave a bonanza of good eating until his appetite is well appeased. He simply sits down and arranges himself for a good session of eating.

One seed at a time and what fun to watch how cleverly his front feet act as hands.

A squirrel will quickly reduce a feeder full of sunflower seeds to a feeder full of empty sunflower shells.

Not completely though. Apparently they eat so quickly that there are many bits and pieces dropped. Fortunately there are many birds who are not fussy and who are, in fact, happy with left-overs.

Never before have we had them on the feeder so often during the summer months and, since we are only feeding sunflower seeds, it must be these that they are eating.

And being thoughtful little birds they sometimes say thank you by treating us to a burst of song before they fly away. What a thrill.

We are here all year around this hit-and-miss feeding program would not be satisfactory. To either us or the birds.

But as it is, they are happy with an occasional treat and we are pleased to have good watching.

An added bonus is that the numerous cats who roam the neighborhood are not finding easy bird catching at our near-the-window feeders.

VO-TEC ADDITION—A view from the rooftop of the Lenawee Vocational Technical Center shows the new addition to the building housing the Media Center and other work areas which were completed in 1975. The new addition was built at a cost of approximately $220,000. The interior of the building will have ample work space for the Auto Body Repair and Agriculture Power shops. (Vo-Tec Photo)

Facilities Expanded

The Lenawee Vocational-Technical Center will begin the 1976-1977 school year with changes in the staff, expansion of facilities and additional third session classes. More than 1,200 will arrive from the 12 high schools in the county for the first day of school September 8.

In September a new building will be open on the Vo-Tec campus. This 13,300 square foot building will house the Auto Body Repair, Agriculture Power and Machinery programs. As a result of this addition to Vo-Tec facilities, the Auto Mechanics area will be expanded, using the former Agriculture Power area.

Three two and a half hour blocks of time are available to Lenawee County students in the 11th and 12th grades: 9 to 11:30 a.m., noon to 2:30 p.m. and 3 to 5 p.m.

Third session enrollment includes several additional classes for the coming year. They are: Business Occupations, Printing, Welding and Horticulture, along with those previously offered, Distributive Education, Health Occupations, Data Processing, Auto Body Repair, Auto Mechanics, Building Trades and Food Service.

BICENTENNIAL PROJECTS—Maurice McIntosh, 4315 Dillingham Dr. displays the Great Seal of the State of Ohio and the American eagle and flag which he handcrafted from veneered wood. You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

I am looking forward to writing this column each week and especially looking forward to hearing from all of you. Please send me your favorite recipes, and I will share them with the readers.

You can mail them to Shrley Weekley, 1207 Russell Road, Tecumseh, or call 423-4848. Hope to hear from you soon.

I have chosen two salads for this weeks recipes, both ideal for warm summer days. They are easy to prepare, can be made a day in advance, and best of all, are delicious.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

1 can Eagle Brand milk
1 can cherry pie filling
1 20 oz. can crushed pineapple
¼ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon almond extract
2 cups prepared Dream Whip

Mix all ingredients in 9x13" pan, cover securely, and freeze. To serve, cut in squares and enjoy.

VEGETABLE SALAD

2 (3 oz.) packages lime Jello
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
2 Tablespoon vinegar
1 can (20 oz.) crushed pineapple, drained (reserve syrup)
1½ cups crushed carrots
1½ cups shredded cabbage.

Add boiling water to lime Jello and dissolve. Add cold water to the reserved pineapple syrup to make 2 cups and stir into Jello. Add the salt and vinegar. Chill until slightly thickened. Add remaining ingredients. Chill until firm. Serve on crisp lettuce, if desired.

Congratulations Lois Jordan! Lois submitted the winning title for the Macon news column. She will receive a year subscription free.

She and her husband, Truman moved to the Macon area in 1948. They live on Hack Rd. They have two married children, Lenora, married to Eugene Rathbun and live in Lansing. They have three children. Truman H. and his wife, Linda live in Mt. Vernon, Iowa and they also have three children.

The Jordans were in the egg business for 14½ years. Lois recalls they had as many as 1,000 hens at one time.

She is active in the Macon United Methodist Church where she is a member of the Faith Circle.

Runner-up was MACON PIPELINE submitted by Nancy Ross.

A few of the other suggestions were, Macon's Back Fence, Macon in Motion, Macon's Ole' Country Cry'r, Macon Moods and many more. Many thanks to all who took part in the contest.

A "small time rodeo" was held Sunday at the Dean Jones' farm on Pennington Road. The story really started on the Tuesday of the week before. A steer owned by Stewart Jones, son of Dean and Josie Jones, escaped and a five-day chase resulted. During the five days the steer was seen many times. Dean had a halter on it once, but it broke. They even knew where it bedded down at night.

Many friends and neighbors helped try to round the animal up. Finally Sunday morning, professional help was called. Three men on horseback lassoed the wandering steer and safely returned him to the Jones barn.

Friday night in spite of the "chase" a birthday celebration was held for Stewart on his 16th birthday. Thursday Dean's daughter, Monica Jones V. arrived from Mexico City to spend a month.

Harry Stanifer was the guest speaker at the Macon United Methodist Church on Sunday as the Rev. Raloff is on vacation. Carnations were placed on the altar for Kimberly K. Biskner, daughter of Larry and Judy Mueller Biskner, and Rebecca Lynn Kampa, daughter of Paul and Julie (Hewlett) Kampa.

Paul Kollar is a medical patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Harold and Jean Ruhl visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Temerowski in Brighton on Sunday. Earl was a graduate of one of the earliest Boysville classes.

Mrs. Edgar Clark's birthday was celebrated Sunday at the home of her daughter and husband, Jane and Dick Beal. The whole family was present for dinner and birthday cake.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tucker and family of Clare, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tucker and family of Detroit, the Fred Withrow family from Tecumseh and Ed and Wilma Clark and sons of Macon, Bernard and Pearl Tucker of Macon.

Coldwater Commissioner to Speak

Tecumsen Planning Commission Committee of 10, which is working on an Industrial Park plan for the city, has invited industrial director of Coldwater to speak to the commission, city council and committee of 10 on Sept. 8 at 7:30 p.m.

The Coldwater visitor will relate the industrial park plans of that city.

Burning Bothering Neighbors

Nuisance burning in the city has been bothering neighbors in some residential areas. Residents are reminded that the city does have an ordinance and will be enforced by the police department.

Be considerate of your neighbors who open windows for fresh air these summer days.

Under state environmental control guidelines and city code the backyard burning of household refuse including yard trimmings and leaves can be allowed if done in an appropriate container and burns completely; however, backyard burning is not a recommended practice and is discouraged.

In the city of Tecumseh, burning is not allowed on the public right of way, including streets and sidewalk. Burning damages the pavement.

Prohibitions on open burning have evolved because of the need to protect the health and welfare of the public and to properly manage disposal techniques of solid and liquid wastes.

Liberian Visits Tecumseh, Area

Patrick Farnga, 22, of Kolahun, Liberia is a guest in the home of Carl Schmidt until Sept. 6.

Patrick is on holiday in America from his studies in Novaya Kokhovka, a city in the Ukranian Republic, a Soviet satellite on the Baltic Sea. There he is a student in a six year agriculture engineering program.

Patrick an all "A" student is one of 25 students granted scholarships from the Soviet Union. However only 10 remain in the program. Because of homesickness, the others have dropped out.

Patrick came to the United States to visit Carl because his foster sister and Carl served field placement as social work students in Adrian.

Patrick received his scholarship after taking a necessary test. Originally the scholarship could have been used to attend one of the All African Universities (AAU). There are two majors universities in Liberia. Then, Patrick was invited to attend school in the Soviet Union and accepted.

PATRICK FARNGA

All his classes are in Russian. He has had an intensive year of training in the language and said it is difficult. English is the national language of Liberia, although his native language is Bandi. Since mathematics and sciences are more difficult in Russian, Patrick would like to pick up some American text books. Some of his classes deal with farm machinery parts.

While in the Tecumseh area, Patrick would like to visit as many farms as possible to become acquainted with American methods and people.

He cited differences between America and the Soviet Union, he has observed so far.

In the Soviet Union, he said some farms are cooperative but mostly they are owned by the government.

People in the Soviet Union are more interested in talking politics with him than in this country. He said he is not interested in politics of the Soviet Union and has gone there only to learn agriculture.

Liberia has been a free African nation since 1847. It was founded in 1816 by free slaves who returned to their continent. The capital Monroevia, was named after United States President, James Monroe.

Patrick said he does not think politics of the Soviet Union in Africa will influence his attitude or his country's toward Communism.

While in Tecumseh, Patrick has sat in on some campaign strategy sessions, as Carl is a campaign manager for Pilar Leon.

Patrick finds these interesting since in his country there is only one party. He said some people do not vote because of this. Some university students protest the one party system but there has been no significant movement to establish another.

The Liberian student thinks American conveniences such as gas stoves with pilot lights, private ownership of cars and American television are all great.

He told his host that Americans do not have an alcoholism problem compared to the Soviets who stand in lines "100-200" at a time for vodka after work. The Soviets stand in line for everything, said Patrick.

Patrick enjoys the friendliness of his American acquaintances. He would like to visit more places of interest but his host works days, so outings have been limited somewhat.

If any Tecumseh area family would like to meet Patrick, they may contact Carl Schmidt.

Patrick's father is a farmer in Liberia, which also has mining and chemical industry. Patrick has two brothers and a sister.

Wood Wizzard Is Wonderful

Maurice McIntosh, 4315 Dillingham Dr. presented a handcrafted Great Seal of Ohio of wood inlay to the Fulton County Historical Museum in July.

The native Wauseon man used 178 pieces of veneer from holly, caballo, blanco, sycamore, maple, pear wood, mahogany, gumwood, myrtle, burs and swirls, tamo, limba and cherry woods.

As a Bicentennial project of his own he executed an American eagle and flag.

Mr. McIntosh's work shows three-dimensional shading which denotes his training in art at Fort Wayne Art School. Now retired, Mr. McIntosh was a painter and decorator in Toledo.

Other arts Mr. McIntosh practices is carving birds and other small creatures for broaches and necklaces. He also does pen and ink drawings. He is illustrating the Tecumseh Garden Club calendar booklet.

Both he and his wife, Margaret enjoy the wildlife that daily visits their patio deck which doubtless serves as an inspiration for his art-work and her love of gardening.

Bi-centennial Journey

by Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — Many early settlers not only memorized many adages but put them into practice in their daily living.

Some common adages often quoted and practiced were: "Waste not, want not", "A penny saved is a penny earned", "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today", and "Make hay while the sunshines."

Living up to those wise old sayings, may in some small way, account for the accomplishments of the first settlers who left to us such a rich heritage.

Those early residents were by no means wealthy. They had little money and fun possessions. If they had owned much they wouldn't have been able to bring them to this unsettled forested region where there were no roads or other means of transportation.

Those first settlers did bring with them courage, a willingness to endure hardships, ambition, and a determination to succeed.

Few of the early settlers in northeastern Lenawee County wasted anything of value. Housewives didn't buy factory made wash clothes, dish clothes, or pot holders.

When cotton underwear had become so worn it was beyond repair, the better portions of the soft light weight underwear were cut into wash clothes.

Coarser under garments became dish clothes, scrub clothes, or mops. When men's work socks could no longer be repaired the tops were cut off just above the heel and folded into convenient sizes for pot holders.

Modern families may question how sanitary the wash clothes, dish clothes, and pot holders were. Housewives were particular with their laundry. White clothes were boiled and kept clean.

Those home made wash clothes were soft and kind to tender skin and removed dirt from little faces equally as well as the fancy expensive wash clothes sold today.

Sugar sacks (for years sugar was packaged in cotton sacks) were washed and saved to strain fruit juices used in making jelly.

Cotton flour sacks were washed, the lettering removed, and bleached. Then the stitching was removed and the material hemmed for dish towels.

Some thrifty housewives saved the sacks which were made from finer woven material and used them for making pillow cases, or items of wearing apparel.

Not too many years ago chicken feed was sold in 100 pound bags of pretty cotton print material. When the bags had been emptied the bags were opened out flat and the material washed and ironed.

From these pieces women made aprons, dresses, pillow cases and many other useful articles.

Many senior citizens will remember the hand-me-downs or second hand clothing they wore. Nothing wearable was discarded. Children often wore clothing outgrown by older members of the family.

Many mothers made dresses, suits, and other articles of clothing from the better parts of the garments no longer worn by older members of the family.

Scraps of material were not thrown away. Ingenious seamstresses made patch work quilts, pillow tops, and rugs from them.

Even tiny little bits of cloth were saved and stored in bags and then sold to the ragman when he came along.

(According to a recent newspaper article, four ragmen were still working the alleys of Yonkers, New York in 1970).

The housewife didn't receive much for the rags, but every penny counted. Again "A penny saved is a penny earned."

Belles, Bell Hoppers Still Parading

BRITTON — The Independent Belles and Bell Hoppers, who debuted in the Ridgeway Township Bicentennial parade are still "floating" around.

They have entered 14 parades and after 12,000 miles over Michigan, they will parade through September.

Aug. 14 marked the groups 13th parade at Almont. It's float, "Declaration for Freedom" won a trophy for best Bicentennial theme out of 156 units.

Trophy is displayed at the Britton Variety Store.

The chapter also traveled to Monroe, Dundee, Milan, Hudson, Fowlerville, Howell, Springport, Manchester, Pinckney, Erie and Decatur, where some members camped overnight.

Units paraded in the group's contingent are:

A Bicentennial parade car and floats entitled "Declaration for Freedom," "Meanwhile Back at the Fort," "Let Freedom Ring," and "You've Come a Long Way Baby."

John and Geraldine Keran have been made honorary members of the chapter. Mr. Keran has driven the parade car in every parade.

For their efforts, Mr. and Mrs. Keran were each awarded a gift, donated by Mrs. LaRue McWilliams.

Missionaries To Speak

BRITTON — Missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Perrine, on furlough from Bangledesh will be guest speakers at the 10 a.m. Sunday School service at the Bethel Baptist Church in Britton Sunday. They will also show slides at the 6 p.m. Training Hour.

Following the 7 p.m. evening worship service Jack Rendel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rendel, Missionaries to Nigeria, will show slides. The family is on furlough from Nigeria.

Britton Schools Open Sept. 7

BRITTON — School officially opens at the Britton-Macon Area School on Sept. 7.

A teacher's conference and organizational meeting is 9 a.m. in the school cafeteria on Sept. 7.

School starts for all pupils Sept. 8. All pupils will attend a full day of school on this day.

School begins five minutes earlier this year. Starting time is 8:25 a.m. and dismissal 3:10 p.m. Students should arrive no earlier than 8:10 a.m., when school opens.

Kindergarten children who did not register last spring may register in the afternoon on Sept. 7. All Kindergarten children living southeast of the Wabash Railroad tracks attend morning classes and those living Northwest of the tracks attend afternoon classes.

Mothers of Kindergarten children may put them on the buses the first day. Those who bring their children Wednesday are requested to leave them in the room with the teacher and not remain. This method is believed to make it easier for the child to adjust to school.

New students are asked to enroll at the principal's office Aug. 30 - Sept. 3, 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. in the afternoon.

Cafeteria lunches will be served Sept. 8, for all pupils and teachers. Pupils who carry their lunches are expected to eat in the school cafeteria.

Students are not permitted to drive motor vehicles during the noon hour. Permission must be obtained from the high school principal.

The staff for the 1976-1977 school year is as follows:

High School Staff

Elementary Staff

Attends Workshop

BRITTON — Mrs. Wesley Gilmore attended the music workshop held at Concordia Lutheran College, Ann Arbor, Aug. 9-11.

Dr. Paul Faelber introduced the new hymnal which was the highlight of the convention.

Dr. Donald Williams was in charge of the organ music sessions and Paul Bouman directed the choral lectures. "To God be the Glory".

B-M Schools to Borrow Money

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon Area Schools Board of Education authorized the superintendent to borrow sufficient money against anticipated State Aid to carry them through until the first of January.

The board will purchase Supplimental Insurance Coverage for all students in the Britton-Macon School. The policy covers Supplemental Coverage only, which means the program will cover any bills not covered.

The plan will pick up any shortage, and if no other insurance, pay the claim in full to the limits stated.

The coverage is in force on travel to and from regular school sessions, and any time the student is under school supervision.

Included would be accidents that incur in industrial arts, physical education, or just falling on the premises.

All the intramural sports are covered as well as extra-curricular activities, spectator sports and all of the intramural sports at all grades, including football.

The board adopted a policy that would require all non-teaching personnel to retire when they reach the age of 65. Employees will be allowed to finish that school year in which they turn 65.

Niblack Resigns As President

BRITTON — W. Stewart Niblack resigned as president of the Village of Britton, effective immediately, at Monday nights council meeting.

He also resigned from the Planning Commission.

Village Council accepted with regret his resignation.

STEWART NIBLACK

Mayor Pro-tem and Councilman, Elmer Bryan, will fill the post until the next election in the Spring of 1978. A new councilman will be appointed to replace Mr. Bryan at the September council meeting.

In other action the Council obtained an easement for a proposed drain project from Lowell Dunbar for $1 to cross his property and from Mrs. Agnes Sturtevant for $2,600 for laying the drain on her farm land. The property is located northwest of the village, 9th street west to the creek.

Council also approved the purchase of a backhoe for $7,500 for Village projects.

Slurrey-Seal Corp. of Toledo are are now in the process of seal coating the village streets.

Next Council meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 7, due to Labor Day falling on the Monday meeting day.

Cynthia Dean Weds Robert Buchanan

The honor attendants were Mrs. Randall Flinn of Bryan, Ohio and Randall Mealler of Defiance, Ohio.

The new Mrs. Buchanan is also the daughter of the late Mr. Dean. She is a 1970 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Delta College and Cleary College.

Mr. Buchanan is the son of Mrs. Waldo Kurtz of Stryker, Ohio. After graduating from that high school, he entered the United States Army for three years and served in Vietnam. Upon completing his tour of duty he entered Bowling Green State University.

The young couple are making their home in Bryan, Ohio.

CAN A BANK THAT HANDLES MILLIONS OF DOLLARS FIND HAPPINESS IN OPENING A SAVINGS ACCOUNT FOR $5.00?

YOU'D BETTER BELIEVE IT!

Most of our customers start small and over the years compound interest and regular thrift have turned average accounts into some of the largest on our books. So keep those dollars coming. They couldn't be more welcome.

Township Board Commends Committee for Bicentennial

TIPTON — At the recent August meeting of the Township Board a resolution was approved commending the people of the township for their successful Bicentennial.

The township board authorized the formation of the committee Aug. 12, 1975, and Mrs. Thelma Swarts was named chairman.

In other business at the meeting, the majority of the people present were concerned with the poor conditions of the roads and the hazzard brought on by the roadside mowing, which has not been done.

It was explained that the board established the priorities for road building but has a limited budget. All else is done by the county road commission.

The possibility of a warning siren in Tipton was discussed and Ken Koons was appointed to investigate.

Residents are reminded that they must have a permit from the fire department for controlled burning.

Soon... the Explosion

According to pessimists it won't be long before the world blows itself up. Now that man has the capability to wipe out civilization, they say, his unrestrained instincts will drive him to do just that.

But are man's instincts unrestrained?

The principles of law, morality, responsibility are the foundations of an orderly society. They have their roots in religion.

In the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, the life and message of Jesus Christ, the hopes and destiny of mankind are expressed. Earnest men have been channeling instincts and spiritual energies to positive purpose for generations.

Next time someone says "soon — the explosion" . . . invite that person to come to church with you and your family.

Cooks Served by Rotarians

CLINTON — Clinton Rotarians turned the tables, Wednesday night, and served a dinner to all the cooks who have ever served the weekly Rotarian dinners at the United Church of Christ. More than 60 women attended.

Charlie Cook was in charge of the kitchen detail with other Rotarians rolling up their sleeves to help.

More than 26 years ago, Rotarians, who had been meeting in local restaurants, persuaded the Women's Fellowship members of the church to serve their weekly dinners.

Eight volunteer circles were formed, each with a leader, rotating charge of the Wednesday meal at eight week intervals. The leader planned the meal, purchased necessary items, and solicited such things as desserts and salads from members of her circle.

Women who were employed, or otherwise unable to take a turn at preparing the meal, contributed money when their turn came.

The family style dinners are served to 22-25 Rotarians including an occasional guest. Three or four women can usually handle the kitchen preparation, and the men have always helpfully carried their dishes back to the kitchen.

Women's Fellowship used the funds raised through the years to promote their various projects, and to build and equip a most efficient kitchen at the church.

About 10 years ago the Women's Fellowship gave up the responsibility for the dinners and a new autonomous Service Group was formed; still composed of volunteers of the church women. There are only six circles now with about 10 women on each one.

Now nearly all the proceeds go directly into the church general fund.

Co-chairmen of the Service Group are Judy King and Janet Corwin and Nancy Cadmus is secretary-treasurer.

System apparently works out well, since the Rotarians are treated to a lot of new recipes, and frequent repetition is avoided since a record is kept of menus and quantities.

Someone once reportedly said that if Clinton ever had a major disaster occur — the women of the United Church of Christ would be already organized to feed the whole town if they had to.

Attending Music Camp

CLINTON — Darcy Ford is attending Interlochen Music Camp this week where she will participate in the Girls State Jazz Band. On Aug. 27, Darcy will go to Kalamazoo to begin rehearsals with the Bronco Marching Band of Western Michigan University, where she will be a freshman this fall. She'll major in dance and minor in music.

1235 Expected for Opening

CLINTON — An estimated student population of 1,235 pupils is expected for the 1976-77 school year at Clinton Community Schools.

Pre-school orientation for all professional staff members will be held on Tuesday, September 7, 1976, beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing throughout the day.

School will open for all students, kindergarten through 12th grade, on Wednesday, Sept. 8. Classes will be 8:30 a.m. until 12 noon. Elementary and Middle School pupils will be dismissed a few minutes early to allow time to board buses before picking up high school pupils at 3:20.

KINDERGARTEN

All Kindergarten children, both town and country, will attend the morning session, 8:30 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. Bussed students are to board the bus which will come to their home sometime between 7:30 and 8:15 a.m. Buses will return the Kindergarteners to their homes between 11:15 and 12 noon.

Beginning Thursday, Kindergartners who live in town are to come to the afternoon section, which meets from 12:15 to 3 p.m.

Transferring of students from morning to afternoon sections may be necessary after opening day enrollments are determined. All transfers will be made only after personal notification to their parents.

For the first two days of school be sure child wears a tag stating his name, complete address and a phone number. This will assist the teachers greatly if needed.

ELEMENTARY

At the Elementary Building, classroom doors will be opened at 8:15 a.m. Elementary class lists will be placed on the door outside each classroom. Students should check these lists to determine the room to which they are assigned.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Students in Grades 5, 6, 7, and 8 are to report to the Middle School at 8:15 a.m. Class lists for the 5th and 6th graders will be posted on the bulletin board in the main lobby. Students should check these lists to find out room assignments and report immediately to the designated room. Staff members will be available to assist students.

Locker assignments will be made by the homeroom teacher.

If schedule changes are desired, the students should discuss these with the homeroom teacher who will refer the matter to the counselor and principal for appropriate action. Schedule changes are made only with paternal permission.

Students who are enrolling in Clinton Schools for the first time and who have not pre-registered must report to the Principal's office for registration and grade placement.

HIGH SCHOOL

All students in Grades 9 through 12 will meet in the High School Auditorium at 8:30 a.m., September 8, (Wednesday). Students will be given their locker number and combination as they enter the Auditorium. Needed materials as well as schedule, class and room assignments will be in the student's lockers.

If schedule changes are desired the student must have a conference with the High School Counselor. The Counselor, Principal and parents must approve schedule changes.

Students who are enrolled in courses at the Lenawee Vocational-Technical Center will not attend the 8:30 a.m. assembly, but will attend the Vo-Tec Center. These students will have an assembly as soon as they get back from their morning class at the Vo-Tec School.

65 Booths Signed Up for Fall Festival

CLINTON — Fall Festival Booth Chairman, Mary Jane Richard reports folks are signing up sooner than last year and already 65 spaces have been reserved.

For the three-day event the last weekend of September, booths will line both sides of Clinton's main street and also the Tecumseh Street route to the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

Lost Arts display last year was so popular the display is being expanded to Saturday and Sunday and there will be many more crafts demonstrated and nostalgic foods prepared.

This year booths on the streets will remain open until 8 p.m. for the convenience of late shoppers.

Among the booths already signed up there will be apple flowers, fabric flowers, macrame, leather work, Indian jewelry and hand crafts, woodburning crafts, country paintings, and dried flower arrangements.

There will also be traditional American Folk instruments for sale and mountain dulcimers in another booth, hand painted jewelry, antiques, hooked rug raffle booth, stained glass art and quilts and quilted items, pine cone wreaths, and a local nursery will display shrubs and trees.

There will be food, too, much more of it available than last year. Many booths will offer snack foods on the street, and the Cinderettes firemen's auxiliary will have a tent at the main four corners featuring lunches.

St. Dominic's Altar Society will again have an apple pie and ice cream booth.

Annual food events to be repeated this year include the Friday night fish fry, family style this year, to be served at United Church of Christ; Saturday pig roast featuring five barbecued pigs by the Clinton Area Jaycees; Friday and Saturday noon luncheon beef barbecue at St. John's Episcopal Church; Sunday, Rotarians chicken barbecue and Methodist Church ice cream social.

New Students Register

CLINTON — All Elementary and Secondary students who are new to Clinton Community Schools are urged to register at the appropriate building Principal's office during the week of August 23 through August 27. The offices will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The school counselors, Ozzie Hashley at the High School, and Mrs. Stanley Gibbard at the Middle School, will be in their offices to advise new students on course selection and curriculum to pursue.

Mrs. Eugene Miller of Denver, Colo. is here to be near her mother, Mrs. Leon Van Deusen, who is a patient at Herrick Hospital.

More than 65 persons attended the annual picnic of the United Church of Christ at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Thomas, Sunday afternoon. A moon walk, swimming and fishing provided entertainment and a potluck dinner was served.

Balloon Ascension Just One Highlight

CLINTON — Clinton's Fall Festival, just five weeks away, is shaping up into an even bigger event than last year, when the largest crowd of parade spectators ever seen in the village climaxed the three-day event.

Forrest Haskell is general chairman of the event and last year's chairman, Kathy Thomas is handling the publicity.

Many new features are promised for this year's event, which will be Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 24-26.

A balloon ascension is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the high school area.

Clinton's Bicentennial Chorus, under the direction of Peg Geiger, will present a program Saturday evening.

Fifth Michigan Regiment Band of Howell will give Sunday afternoon concert after the parade.

Three groups of dancers will perform, a group of Tahitian dancers, a belly dance and twirling group on all three days, and the Sally Covell dancers of Tecumseh will give a performance.

Clinton High School Homecoming Parade will be featured on Friday afternoon.

Clown Ronald McDonald and a float will be a feature of the grand parade Sunday afternoon.

The popular tractor pull, sponsored by the Clinton FFA, will be held again on Saturday afternoon.

Three-day event will be climaxed by the drawing for choice of three luxury model automobiles, Sunday night.

Cafeteria to Continue Food Service

CLINTON — Cafeterias will be operated at the High School for Grades 9 through 12 and at the Middle School for Grades 1 through 8.

Students may carry their lunch or take advantage of cafeteria services. However, aal students, if they eat at school, must do so in the cafeteria.

Both cafeterias will serve Type A lunches in accordance with the State Hot Lunch requirements as well as soups, sandwiches, etc.

Prices for type A lunches for the 1976-77 school year will be as follows: Elementary grades 1 through 4, 45 cents; Middle school grades 5-8, 50 cents; High school grades 9-12, 50 cents; Adult school personnel, 85 cents.

Soups, sandwiches and seconds are priced according to the item.

Due to the misuse of the present charging system in the cafeteria, the new policy of the hot lunch program will be: A student may only have one charge and this must be paid before that student is allowed the privilege of buying another hot lunch or any ala-cart item, including milk.

All charges and payments in the future will be made at the cafeteria cashiers desk only during the time of the hot lunch period.

As per federal guidelines, Clinton Schools will serve free meals to those students who come from low income families.

TB Testing Is Required

CLINTON — As required by law, all students entering Clinton Community Schools for the first time must present an up-to-date immunization and tuberculin testing record.

Immunization and Tuberculin testing may be obtained from your family physician or from the Lenawee County Health Department. The Health Department Clinic, located in Adrian, is open on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 - 11:30 a.m. and from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. There is no charge for this service at the Health Department.

If for religious reasons, a child has not been immunized according to the above requirements, the parents or guardian must submit a written statement to that effect to the building Principal.

Reading Program Is Started in Schools

CLINTON — A new kindergarten through 12th grade reading program is being implemented in Clinton Community Schools this fall.

Goal of the program is development of reading proficiency, not remedial, Superintendent Richard Wegner explained.

An effort will be made to have every youth graduating from Clinton High School achieve a sixth grade level of reading.

Wegner explained that although this goal may seem a somewhat modest goal, it is not, when one considers that since all youth are now required to attend high school, general levels of reading ability must, of necessity, be lower than in the days when nearly half of those who completed grade school did not go on to high school. Then, only those who had better reading proficiency sought higher education.

Of course, there will be exceptions, he said, but reading proficiency will become a requirement for graduation.

Funded through Federal Elementary Secondary Education Act (ESEA) Title I and State Aid Reading Support Services, the program will be directed by Reading Consultant Barbara Spahr.

Identification of students needing special emphasis on reading will be determined by a series of several tests.

Barbara Spahr will serve on a part-time basis as reading consultant and at other times will be a classroom teacher in reading. She will direct the in-service training program of classroom teachers, who will implement the reading emphasis in their classes on whatever subject.

Pam McGahey will be full time reading teacher working with those elementary students identified as deficient readers, who will receive additional aid outside of the regular reading class.

Elementary principal, Margaret Bless will continue to function as a reading specialist, testing, analyzing results and prescribing reading materials.

Fifth and sixth grade will be divided into three sections for reading class, taught by a regular classroom teacher. In addition a full time reading specialist Barbara Spahr and Eva Swenerton will share full time responsibility to work with students, at the 5th - 6th grade level, who have identified reading deficiencies.

At the 7th and 8th grade level, English classes will be divided into four sections, taught by a regular classroom teacher.

Reading will be taught by reading specialists as a separate class in addition to English, to those students who are not reading at their grade level determined by Metropolitan Achievement Test.

Students will be encouraged to develop their own reading skills while in the elementary and middle school grades so that they will not have to be placed in remedial reading classes in later years, when they might prefer to be involved in sports, band or other extra-curricular activities.

Reading program will continue into the first two years of high school through regular classroom emphasis by teachers of all subjects, and with the part-time assistance of the reading consultants.

School libraries are considered "quite adequate" to supplement the new reading program, according to Wegner, who called the elementary school library "one of the best in Lenawee County."

Middle School and High School Learning Resources Centers are constantly being upgraded and are in good shape, he said.

Dundee Rallies to Victory

It was the bottom of the seventh in girls softball Monday night and Beglinger-Reid was down by two runs with one person on base and no outs when Ellen Zimmerman hit a homerun to put Beglinger-Reid ahead of Store Bar 11-0. This allowed them to remain in second place in the league. During the game, the score changed five times. Moore had three hits for Store Bar, who finished third in the league.

After a slow start at the beginning of the season, Deerfield Merchants ended the season with three consecutive wins, picking up their third victory Monday evening by defeating Tecumseh Products 21-1.

Cairo had a home run for the winners and McMahon collected three hits. Robertson scored the sole run for Tecumseh Products.

Airport Bowl was ahead until the sixth inning when Dundee took a two run lead. In the seventh, Airport scored once but was unable to circle the base pads again, making Dundee league champs with an 8-7 victory. Dundee picked up their ninth win against one loss, the best record in the league.

Allen led the hitting attack for Airport with a triple and a single. Mueller paced the winners with two singles.

A trophy was presented to Dundee Products after their victory by the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department.

Bowlers Capture YBA Title

Five local bowlers captured the Youth Bowling Association state championship recently held in Southfield.

Tom Eddy, Chris Streeter, Lee Russ, Jeff Porterfield and Bill Gerard started the season bowling in the junior bowling league at Colonial Lanes in Clinton.

They then entered competitive tournaments qualifying for the YBA tourneys at Chelsea Lanes May 5 taking first place with a 3095 tally. Bill Gerard took a second place in the singles tournament held at Lenawee Recreation scoring 653.

On May 23, the team traveled to Ark Lanes in Southfield capturing the state YBA title with a 3069. The boys averages ranged from 138 to 152, all are 16-18 years old.

The squad competed against 1000 Michigan bowlers through the tourney season.

Practice Begins

Practice for varsity and junior varsity Clinton football will begin next Monday, Aug. 23 with sessions at 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Players are asked to report by 8 a.m.

Junior High football begins the following Monday, Aug. 30 at 11 a.m. at the Middle School.

Those players who don't have physicals should have them before beginning practice.

Hockey Meeting Slated

All Adrian and Tecumseh area high school hockey players and parents are invited to attend the registration meeting Wednesday Sept. 1 at the Lenawee Intermediate School District office at 4107 N. Adrian Hwy. The office is just north of Valley Road.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to register for the high school hockey league played in Jackson. Information on tryouts, practice and league schedules will be available at the meeting.

Call 423-7468 or 263-7144 for more information.

No One 'Beat the Champ'

Aug. 11, was "Beat the Champ" day at Tecumseh Country Club. Maurine Hannibal is currently the ladies champion.

Judy Thompson and Pat Holmes were in charge of the tournament in which 36 ladies took part.

Although no one beat Mrs. Hannibal in low gross the following were low net winners: Arline Thoss, T.C. Roekle, Gloria Schwartz, Marty Owen, Annabelle Bock, Mary Hanna, Teddy Schindler, Jean Merz, Judy Thompson, Ruth Temple, Myrna Downing and June Macbeth.

There were four chip-ins by Barbara Wheeler, Pat Holmes, Allee Collins and Edna Smith.

Tourney Scheduled

A ladies slow pitch tournament will be held this Friday and Saturday.

USB Posts 15-3 Win Over Procto, VFW Scores 8-6 Over Clinton

CITY TOURNAMENT

Tuesday

Leisure Time Sports Center scored five runs in the first inning, added two in the third, then held on to eliminate Wagon Wheel Bar 7-6. Kevin Osburn and Scott Durkee both had three hits for Leisure Time as did Alan Hively and Steve Hathaway for Wagon Wheel.

Clinton Merchants scored three runs in the first inning, then went on to upset Irish Hills Merchants 8-4. Mike Creswell homered to pace the Merchants, who posted their third straight win. Irish Hills was led by Scott Edwards and Terry Filipek with three hits each.

Wednesday

Tecumseh Merchants singled home a run in the second extra inning to beat Leisure Time 9-8. Leisure Time had a 5-0 lead in the fifth inning when the Merchants exploded for seven runs. Leisure Time took the lead again with three runs in the bottom of the sixth, only to have the Merchants tie it in the seventh and eventually win. Paul Lemanski had four hits for the winners. Darrell Bozeman had three hits for Leisure Time.

Goble Lumber and American Legion split two games during the regular season and met in the first round of the City Tournament with Goble winning 8-5. Goble never trailed, taking an early lead. Eric Long had three hits for Legion, the only player in the game to do so.

Ember's Bar and Tecumseh Plywood squared off again Wednesday, but this time in tournament play. While Tuesday's game was a wide open contest, this one was a close defensive game with Ember's winning 6-5. The team played run-for-run except in the sixth when Ember's scored twice and Plywood once, which became the difference as both scored twice in the seventh. Ken Peih had three hits for the winners.

Thursday

B&W West held DST to five hits as they posted a 10-2 win. Lacy Smith had three hits with a home run and Jim LeBaron also had three hits for West. Tom Claus accounted for both DST runs with a two-run home run. DST ends their season with a 4-7 mark.

Clinton Merchants jumped off to a 6-0 lead over VFW but could not score again. VFW won 8-6. Tom Ashley hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning for the margin of victory. The Merchants got only six hits—all in the first two innings. Clinton ends with a 3-8 mark, while VFW advances to play United Savings Bank.

United Savings Bank continued their explosive hitting attack to beat Protco 15-3. United Savings Bank also played good defense committing only one error, while handling 14 of 21 outs in the infield. Clyde Gunder had three hits for United Savings Bank and Ron Baxter added a home run. Protco was eliminated with a mark of 7-4. Bart Bartels hit a home run for Protco.

Plywood Takes Championship

Tuesday Playoff

Tecumseh Merchants, United Savings Bank, and Handley Equipment all tied for first place in the Tuesday League. In playoff action to decide the champion, United Savings Bank scored eight runs in the first inning then went on to bury the Merchants 24-5. The winners pounded out 24 hits with Gene Cooley getting five, including a home run. Ron Baxter and Clyde Gunder added four hits each with one being a homer by Gunder. Rick Montcalm and Ed Oxley also homered. Every player had at least one hit. Richard Schimmel had three hits for the Merchants.

Handley Equipment drew the bye and faced United Savings Bank for the title with the Bank winning 13-6. Rick Montcalm had three hits, including a home run for the Bank, who captured the Tuesday title for the fourth consective year.

Wednesday Playoff

Tecumseh Plywood and Ember's Bar played-off the Thursday League title with Plywood winning 21-16. The teams combined for 32 hits and 16 errors. Nick Hebert and Doug Fowler each had three hits for Plywood and Gordon Henning added a home run. Tony Nykodym homered for Ember's.

NEW TEN PIN OWNER — Tim Richard, owner of Dearborn Lanes, has purchased Ten Pin Alley. The family plans to move to the area soon. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Alley Has New Owner

Tim Richard—who has spent most of his life associated with bowling—has acquired Ten Pin Alley.

The forty-one-year-old bought the alley three weeks ago. He has owned Dearborn Lanes in Dearborn for the past five years. Richard has been interested and involved in the sport since he was 12 years old.

His wife Elenora and five of their six children plan to move to the area in the near future.

Richard plans several changes. He has already switched from a urethane coating on the alleys to lacquer. He said of the change, "You have to be great to score on urethane. I don't like it and people were complaining about the sticky approaches with urethane. It's too hard."

Another innovation is the installation of seven phones on the concourse to facilitate communications. Patrons will be able to speak directly with pin boys or order a soft drink. In addition, a girl will serve iced beer from a serving cart for speedier service.

Live entertainment will no longer be featured at the alley's lounge. Richard hopes to acquire one of the six foot TV screens for the lounge in the near future.

The alley will open at 9 a.m. Richard has a special concourse license allowing him to remain open until 4 a.m. for bowling.

Other features include locker rooms, a full pro shop, a sandwich snack bar and a baby sitting service in the daytime. Naturally there is plenty of parking.

Crash Claims Life of Outstanding THS Grad, July Bride

Services were Aug. 23 at Purse Funeral Home for Rebecca (Barron) Allen, 18, who died at Flower Hospital Sylvania, Ohio, where she was rushed following a head-on collision which occurred on US-223 just west of Riga Hwy., in Blissfield Township just after 3 a.m. Aug. 20.

A truck heading west on US-223 attempted to pass other vehicles and smashed into the car in which Mrs. Allen was a passenger.

The Adrian woman was formerly of Tecumseh.

Also taken to Flower Hospital and listed in serious condition were her husband, Wilson, 21, driver of the car and sister, Beth Barron, 13, of 8981 Tipton Hwy.

Another passenger, Melody Hemstreet, 13, of 314 S. Madison, Adrian was first taken to Bixby Hospital in Adrian and then transported to Flower Hospital, where she was also listed in serious condition.

All three were in the intensive care unit there.

Wednesday morning the Flower Hospital listed Beth Barron and Wilson Allen in good condition. Melody Hemstreet was released.

According to reports from the Blissfield Post of the Michigan State Police, the accident occurred under foggy conditions.

The driver of the truck, Leith Friess, 51, of Holland, Ohio, was not injured.

State Police are still investigating.

Mrs. Allen was born Rebecca Barron on July 23, 1958 in Tecumseh.

She married Wilson Allen in Adrian on July 10, 1976. He survives. The couple resided at 149 S. Madison St., Adrian.

She was a life-long resident of the Tecumseh area, was a member of the Berean Baptist Church in Adrian, and was graduated from Tecumseh High School in June 1976.

Mrs. Allen was known as an outstanding student with many achievements.

She was recipient of two scholarships to attend Adrian College in the fall.

In high school, she participated in many clubs and activities.

She was vice-president of the student assembly in 1976, a delegate to the Lenawee County Youth Convention for four years, elected

Rebecca Barron Allen, married in July, was an outstanding June graduate from Tecumseh High School.

AMY SKINNER JUDGED LENAWEE CO. BEAUTY QUEEN

Amy Skinner Is New Fair Queen

Amy Skinner of Tecumseh was crowned the 1976 Lenawee County Fair Queen Aug. 24.

The 20-year old is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Dean Skinner of 312 S. Union St.

Amy also won first place in the talent portion of the Fair Queen competition with an interpretive dance on Aug. 23.

She is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is planning a career in law enforcement. She attended Northwestern Michigan College in Traverse City during the winter term and worked with youth until June 1976.

She received a certificate of merit as an assistant probation officer for the probate court for the County of Grand Traverse.

Amy's hobbies include skiing and modern dance.

She was a contestant in the Miss Traverse City Pageant and while a THS junior, she was one of the top 15 semi-finalists, in the Miss Teen-Age Michigan Pageant and one of the top 25 finalists in the essay portion of that contest.

As 1976 Fair Queen, Amy is the recipient of a $300 scholarship from Siena Heights College, gifts of jewelry and gift certificates from several Tecumseh and Adrian merchants. She was sponsored by Eggleston's Jewelry of Tecumseh.

Other fair candidates from Tecumseh were Elaine Mason, sponsored by Trickey's Department Store; Marta J. Garcia, sponsored by Gambles of Tecumseh; Carol Freeman, sponsored by Don's Beef Buffet and Sharon Fritz sponsored by the 4-H service club.

Board, TEA Negotiators OK Schedule

A tentative agreement has been reached by the negotiating teams for the School Board and Tecumseh Education Association on a new salary schedule for 1976-77 and 1977-78 school years.

Details of the agreement will be released after ratification. TEA plans to vote on ratifying on Sept. 2. School Board will likely hold a special meeting afterwards for its vote.

Negotiations have been held most of the summer.

Organizing for Mass Flu Immunization

The Swine Flu Organization for Tecumseh will have an organizational meeting Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

Purpose of the meeting is to find volunteers to man the mass immunization program which will be held later this year.

A representative from each local organization and interested individuals are asked to attend.

A type of human influenza, "swine flu" was discovered earlier this year. A nationwide drive is underway to immunize as many people as possible.

Providing vaccine for local people from Tecumseh within a three-month period will take the talents and initiative of volunteers throughout the community.

What can your voluntary organization do? The first responsibility is to keep informed and to keep other members of your organization informed.

The second need is for volunteer assistance.

There is a volunteer job for anyone who wants to take part in this community-wide public health effort.

To pledge your support or for more information, contact area co-ordinator Chris Fliss, 423-2107 Ext. 25.

Host for the Aug. 26 meeting is the Jaycee Auxiliary.

Off Critical List

Robert M. McKee, 22, is now off the critical list and can receive visitors and mail at Room 539, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

McKee was critically injured in a fatal accident that claimed the life of his friend, Douglas Higgins, 27 on Shepherd Rd. Aug. 13.

44 IN TRAINING — Coach Pat Connors opened the Tecumseh varsity football camp Sunday with 44 working out at facilities near Vineyard Lake. The Indians' conditioning camp will end Friday before starting regular drills. Tecumseh opens the 1976 season here in September against Chelsea.

Teachers Start Sept. 2-3

All teachers in the Tecumseh school system will start the 1976-77 school year next Thursday and Friday, Sept. 2-3, with a general meeting at the Sutton elementary school.

After a coffee hour Thursday morning, Supt. Robert Duhan will talk briefly to the teachers, who will then have a Tecumseh Education Association meeting relative to a new salary schedule.

Afterwards teachers will meet with their principals at their respective buildings.

In the afternoon, teachers will again meet with their principals before preparing classrooms for the new school year.

Friday's in-service day includes programs for both secondary and elementary teachers with Dr. Robert Mills of Central Michigan University, meetings with the high school guidance staff, plus a discussion on insurance.

Kindergarten Total Already over 300

New registrations for kindergarten have pushed the total over 300, and school officials expect even more for the 1976-77 school years.

Supt. Robert Duhan says the schools are planning on 10 kindergarten sections, but if the class enrollment continues to increase, another section will be required, meaning that three sections would have to be held at one of the elementary buildings.

Last year, official enrollment for Tecumseh's kindergarten totalled 268.

Parents who have failed to enroll new students are urged to do so before school starts with Mrs. Rosanne Vollmar at the Board of Education office on W. Chicago Blvd.

WILL TEACH COLLEGE STUDENTS HERE

Opens Stained Glass Studio

By KATHY BROWN

"Our church" has a new meaning for Richard and Sandra Marks of Adrian. They are opening Marks Studio and Gallery for stained glass in the old Catholic Church at 302 E. Chicago Blvd. in the heart of Tecumseh.

Marks, hailed as one of the top designers of stained glass art in the United States has been in the business for the last 20 years.

He and his craftsman wife have commuted to area colleges for the past four years teaching their art. When the remodeling of their studio is complete, they will begin teaching these credit courses to art students from University of Michigan, University of Toledo, Eastern Michigan University, Siena Heights, Adrian, Hillsdale and Albion colleges in Tecumseh.

Non-credit courses for hobbyists are also planned to begin this fall.

The downstairs will be the workshop where the four craftsmen they employ are now restoring the stained glass windows of the First United Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh.

The gallery planned for the former church sanctuary will display fine crafts. It will feature track lighting for special display effects. Marks plans to design a stained glass screen to highlight the gallery area. The Gallery opening is planned for December.

"Even though Toledo is the glass center, there are no other galleries in this area. Glass is exciting. The idea of stained glass in a gallery is new because it was never thought of as a gallery thing but strictly liturgical," said Marks.

But stained glass has really caught on as a flexible art medium in California and where ever there are tourists, he explained.

Marks would like to educate through his gallery that stained glass can be used creatively in homes, offices or wherever, as functional and decorative art.

In his own home he has built four stained glass screens into his workshop. Three were designed as a screen for a gallery show. Once the workshop is moved to Tecumseh, the one in the Adrian home will be converted to the master bedroom.

Marks, who has done 300 commissions for various churches, restaurants and others, describes his approach.

"When doing commissions you're trying to fit it to the building. Our work is classical, not expressionistic. Stained glass is an architectural art, you have to fit it to an environment. The best work has always been restrained, it doesn't look like candy shop colors."

Sandra Marks shares her husband's enthusiasm for the art and is an effective promoter of her husband's talent.

"Richard has a delicious background for his work.

"He graduated from the Detroit Center for Creative Studies, formerly the Society of Arts and Crafts. He was head designer for 10 years with Detroit Stained Glass and five years with the White Associates in Canton, Ohio, one of the largest companies in the United States. He has spent four years on his own with the Richard Marks stained glass studio before we came here."

Marks has also spent one year in study of art history at the University of Michigan and one year at Cranbrook Institute. He had a four year apprenticeship at McMahon Stained Glass.

Marks has shown his work in galleries and shows in Carmel and San Francisco, Calif., Chicago, New York, Detroit, Toledo and Ann Arbor.

He will show some of his furniture and other work at the Lenawee County Fair this week.

Opens Stained Glass Studio

In September, the Marks Studio is expecting a visit from the Picasso of stained glass, Ludwig Schaffrath of Germany. He will lecture and demonstrate his art at one of the first classes.

New windows will be designed to replace the existing church windows, as an example of the flexibility of the art. "Old glass isn't always better," explained Sandra Marks. "Almost any glass made years ago can be reproduced now and actually even better."

Chemicals are used in manufacturing colored glass. Cobalt is used for blue, pure gold is used for some red glass, which makes it very expensive, and sugar produces a rich brown.

Another method of producing colored glass is kiln firing painted glass. In this method facial features and three-dimentional shadowing can be achieved.

Sandra also cleared up a common misconception. Tiffany styled lamps do not use leading but a lighter joining material called copper foil.

Beveled glass, manufactured with etching in it or "acid etched" beveled glass, is another type of glass known for artistic beauty.

The Marks have four children, Richelle 14, Damien, 12, Lydia, 9 and Adrian, 5.

Three Operate Tri-State Wash

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gast, formerly of Ashland, Ohio and Henry Newlin Sr. of Blissfield are operating Tri-State Wash Equipment Inc. at 210 S. Evans, the former Servomation office building.

The company sells, services and supplies car wash equipment and pressure washers for cars, trucks, and machinery in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. It also consults with people interested in starting in the car wash business.

Newlin incorporated Tri-State Wash Equipment in 1969 and is president. Gast, general manager of Tri-State, joined Newlin at the new location in June, six months after Newlin sold the Sudzy-Duz-It Car Wash and Gasoline to Gary and Judy Hicks of Tecumseh.

Newlin operated the car wash business for seven years.

Now as a retiree he advises others interested in a business for themselves.

Gast and Newlin have designed a new pressure wash unit and plan to job out the manufacturing and assembly to local small industry. They believe strongly in supporting local businessmen.

Gast, was purchasing agent and service manager for a national car wash company. He and his wife, Lownita, who assists in the business are pleased to have moved to Tecumseh and reside at 202 Marlboro Ct.

Newlin said they decided to keep the business in Tecumseh because of "the wonderful people in Tecumseh we have learned to know in our seven years of operating the car wash."

A metallurgy engineer from Penn State, Newlin has about 40 years experience in engineering, and plant management and consulting. He started Newlin Engineering and Sales in 1953 in Blissfield. That manufacturing firm at one time made $1¼ million in sales.

He and his wife, Ruby reside at 226 River St., Blissfield.

A son, the Rev. Ned Newlin, is vice-president of the company, also works at Tecumseh Woods camp. Another son, Henry Newlin Jr. is attorney at law in Tecumseh.

The Condolence Call, some guidelines

When a close friend or relative dies, you may not even think twice about making a condolence call on the bereaved; you just do it. You do so simply to express your sympathy and console the bereaved, offering assistance however best you can.

There are some logical "do's and don'ts" of which you may or may not be aware. This check list may serve as a helpful guide.

1. If you're not really sure whether you should make the call or not, then do it. They're bound to appreciate it.
2. Remember, the purpose of the call is to express sympathy and offer assistance. Don't make it a long "social" event or a fashion showcase for your wardrobe.
3. Make the visit short. Fifteen minutes is enough, unless the bereaved wants you to stay longer.
4. Dress neatly, tastefully; not necessarily in somber shades or mourners' black.
5. If the bereaved wish to talk, fine. Be a good listener!
6. A simple "I'm sorry about (father, mother, etc.) is appropriate, accompanied by a firm handclasp or brief embrace.
7. Leave after offering to help or after performing whatever help you may have been asked to do.
8. Call back in a few days, again offering your aid. That's when the bereaved may especially appreciate your thoughtfulness.

This is one of a series of brief articles I hope will be helpful. We welcome questions in private or publicly through this column.

Couple Are United

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Trudy Marie Bordine to Nick Charles Rowe on Aug. 6 at 6:30 p.m.

Msgr. Vincent Howard officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bordine of Dundee and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rowe of 10649 Welch Rd., Britton.

Donna Spewock was organist and Judy Wielfaert was soloist.

Mixed bouquets of blue and white flowers decorated the church for the bride's approach to the altar with her father.

For her wedding she chose a white gown of polyester organza. The gown featured a square neckline, long bishop sleeves, an empire waist and A-line skirt with two panels of lace down the front and around the chapel length train.

The cuffs and bodice were trimmed in re-embroidered lace and simulated pearls.

Her chapel length mantilla was edged in matching lace. She carried long stemmed pink roses.

Becky Demmons of Dundee was maid of honor in a blue polyester knit gown with blue floral design jacket. The jacket featured ruffled cuffs and lapels in blue material of the gown.

She carried a long stemmed pink rose.

Bridesmaids were Judy Barnaby of Monroe, Sue Root and Kathy Harnica of Dundee, and Mrs. Sam Bates, of Champaign, Ill., and Becky Rowe of Britton, the groom's sisters. They were attired the same as the honor attendant.

Brad Rowe, the groom's brother of Britton was best man.

The groom's brothers, Robert of Britton, Les of Saline, John of Perrysburg, Ohio, William of Tecumseh and the bride's brother, Tim Bordine of Dundee were ushers.

A reception for 500 guests was held at the United Products Workers Union Hall. Blue candles and pink roses decorated the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Hamilton registered guests. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Friess, the bride's aunt and uncle, and Mr. and Mrs. James Rowe, the groom's aunt and uncle, were hosts at the reception.

Following a trip to Niagra Falls, the couple will reside at 10275 Ridge Rd., Britton.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Dundee High School and is employed at McDonald's in Monroe. The groom is a 1973 of Britton-Macon High School and is employed by the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rowe hosted the rehearsal dinner at their home.

MR. and MRS. NICK ROWE

MR. and MRS. MICHAEL C. MAYERS

Burch-Reich Married

The groom's father, the Rev. Gaither Reich of Rockhill Friends Church, N.C. officiated at the marriage ceremony uniting Audrey Ellen Burch and his son, James Clayton Reich on Aug. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Tecumseh Friends Church. The Rev. Dane Ruff, pastor assisted.

Mrs. Ashley Chase was organist and Mrs. Dennis Herris was soloist.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Larry Burch, 610 W. Pottawatamie and the Rev. and Mrs. Gaither Reich of Eagle Springs, N.C.

Escorted by her father, the bride approached the altar wearing a gown of white satin which she designed. Made by her mother, the gown featured peau d'ange lace appliqued over the empire styled bodice and bishop sleeves. Matching lace formed a panel on the front of the skirt and edged the chapel length train.

She wore a three-tiered fingertip veil banded in wide lace embroidery and held by a Camelot headpiece of satin, lace and seed pearls.

She carried a cascade of yellow rosettes, ivy and stephanotis.

Merry Huber of Tecumseh was maid of honor wearing an apricot gown of polyester knit with a square neckline and flared sleeves, accented with lace inserts.

Her beige picture hat was trimmed with brown ribbon and an apricot silk flower. She carried matching carnations, baby's breath and galax leaves in a sheaf.

The bride's cousins, Libby Burch of Bellefontaine, Ohio and Becky Sprunger, of Monroe, Ind. and Cindy Younglove of Tecumseh and Colleen Clarke of Colman were bridesmaids, attired the same as the honor attendant.

John Reich, the groom's brother of Mansfield, Ohio was best man.

Ushers were Tim Westbrooks and Dave Johnson, both of Danville, Va., Dave Schell of Lisbon, Ohio, Doug Durham of Graham N.C. Joey Reich, the groom's brother of Eagle Springs, N.C. and Steve Burch, the bride's brother of Tecumseh.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the church fellowship hall.

Diane Spohr, Patricia Jacobus, Karen Lohmeyer and Kathy Wanner assisted with serving guests.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will reside at 1246 Shorb Ave. NW, Canton, Ohio.

The bride is a Tecumseh High School graduate and attended Marion College in Marion, Ind.

The groom was graduated from Southern Alamance High School in Graham, N.C. and attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and will attend Malone College in Canton, Ohio in the fall.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents in the church fellowship hall.

Kathy Pursues Dream To Fly

Kathy Baum, nee Kathy House formerly of Tecumseh, may be flying high someday if her career dream to become a KC-135 tanker pilot comes true.

You might say she's on Cloud 9 now. She recently received her commission as a second lieutenant at Grissom Air Force Base in Kokomo, Ind.

A recent graduate of the Purdue University ROTC program, Kathy was commissioned in a special ceremony by her husband, 1st Lt. Christopher Baum.

A family tradition was marked when Lt. Baum pinned the same gold bars on his wife that she had pinned on him when he was commissioned.

KATHY BAUM

Kathy now wants to be a KC-135 tanker pilot.

She has more than four years flying experience as a licensed pilot and she has applied for entry into pilot training with high hopes of flying one of the big tankers.

Kathy just missed being selected for a cadre for the Air Force Woman's pilot training test program because her commission preceded selection. However she had passed all qualifications and hopes to be included in the next group.

Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David House, 5261 Macon Hwy. has been flying for quite some time. Her dad is a private pilot.

Kathy used to ride her bicycle to Al Meyers Airport for flying lessons from Calhoun School of Aviation. Kathy was graduated from Tecumseh High School.

Kathy's husband, Chris has encouraged her in her efforts. He is a standardization-evaluation copilot in the 305th.

Kathy would like to fly the same aircraft as her husband but not the same crew, "that might lead to some problems," she added.

Kathy met her husband at the University of Michigan where she was a student in physical education and Chris was an engineering student.

Both joined the Air Force ROTC. When Chris graduated, Kathy had two more years to go. They married July 28, 1973 and moved to Vance AFB, Okla.

Kathy was determined to finish her education. She attended Phillips University in Enid but commuted to Oklahoma State University in Stillwater three times a week to continue her ROTC activities.

Chris was assigned to Grissom and Kathy became more determined to finish college and earn her commission. When the couple settled, she was accepted by Purdue and joined ROTC there. She graduated last spring.

Until her pilot training, months away, she expects to be assigned to the Combat Support Group at Grissom. Then it will be only time before Kathy gets into that pilot's seat.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

We raise a garden each year and I usually do a variety of canning and freezing. It keeps me pretty busy in the summer, but we are able to enjoy the benefits all winter.

Here are two of my family's favorite recipes that I make every year. Both are easy to prepare and well worth the effort.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

1 gallon cucumbers
8 onions
2 green pappers
2 red peppers
½ cup salt

Wash and slice cucumbers, onions, and peppers. Mix together with salt. Pack in ice. Place a heavy weight on top of pickles such as a plate with a weight on top. Let stand three hours then drain well.

In large kettle, combine:
5 cups sugar
2 Tablespoons mustard seed
2 Tablespoons celery seed
1½ teaspoon tumeric
½ teaspoon ground cloves
5 cups vinegar

Bring to a boil and add drained cucumbers. Heat thoroughly but do not boil. Pack while hot into hot sterilized jars and seal at once.

My family loves cantaloupe and right now they are plentiful and at their best, just right for freezing. If your family enjoys cantaloupe you will want to try this recipe. Delicious!

FROZEN MELON BALLS

Wash, halve and remove seeds from melons with firm flesh and delicious flavor. Cut melons into slices, cubes, or balls of uniform size. Place in freezing containers.

Dissolve 2 cups of sugar into 4 cups of cold water, stirring well, to make sugar syrup.

Cover melon balls with syrup, seal containers and freeze. (Watermelon or Honeydew melon can be substituted for the cantaloupe.)

Please don't forget to send me your favorite recipes. Mail them to Shirley Weekley, 1207 Russell Road, or call 423-4848.

Fall Organ Recital Set

The second annual Fall Organ Recital Series will be performed on Sundays, Sept. 5, 12, 19 and 26, by doctoral students of Marilyn Mason, professor of organ at The University of Michigan School of Music.

The series will be presented at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Tecumseh at 7 p.m. and are free to the public.

The Rev. David Fox, pastor and Lisa Byers, director of music and organist, have planned this event.

Organists to participate are Tong Soon Chang, Larry Hammerling, Francine Mate, Dennis Schmidt, David Wagner, Kenneth Weir, Paul Wey and Allan Willis.

The recitals encompass four centuries of organ literature. Composers represented will include Jehan Alain, J.S. Bach, Bohm, Bruhns, Buxtehude, Couperin, Distler, and Mozart.

All concerts will be performed on the Rudolf von Beckerath instrument of Hamburg, Germany. The organ is mechanical (tracker) action with three divisions, 14 stops, and 20 ranks. This Baroque instrument was built in 1964 and remains the only von Beckerath in Michigan.

MSC New Program Looks Promising

First of two parts

BY KATHY BROWN

Instant solutions don't exist for treating problem youth.

Sometimes it takes a few years of operation before the effectiveness of a new program can be measured.

In 1974, Maurice Spear Campus, the Lenawee County Youth facility, introduced a program called Reality Therapy to replace its former program called Guided Group Interaction.

The post two-year survey, part of a study launched by the Campus is coming up in January and from the data so far, it would seem Reality Therapy is successful program for redirecting youth.

Basic difference is the new program requires the youths to assess their behavior in terms of responsibility for their actions.

In contrast, Guided Group Interaction, formerly used, is a therapy which emphasizes peer pressure to correct behavior. The new positive culture substitutes for the street influence. This Guided Group Interaction program is a variation of a therapy program called Possitive Peer Culture, used by some youth centers in the area.

One problem with the Positive Peer Culture approach however is that when the youth returns to the real world, he lacks positive reinforcement of the group.

In Reality Therapy, the goal is to make the individual cognizant he can solve his behavior problem only if he wants to recognize his irresponsible behavior and chose alternatives.

Tecumsehite John Baran, administrative director of Maurice Spear Campus, has worked with youth for 28 years. He explained the important differences between Reality Therapy and PPC which Maurice Spear Campus has found.

"PPC was too negative. Recidivism began to grow. Kids were too conditioned to institutional life. Check here, check there. It was too mechanical. Once the student left the institution there was no support from the peer group and things in the real world seemed strange. So we decided to take a second look," Baran related.

William Glasser, author explains Reality Therapy concepts in his book by the same title.

Reality Therapy, unlike PPC recognizes that not all problems can be solved by the group approach. Professional counselors work in privacy with youths. A psychiatric profile is taken of each youth upon entering the Campus.

Reality Therapy respects the youth's privacy—not all confidences need be reported to the group. Continuity of counselors is also important. Treatment is thus individualized. Pressures exerted through the group are more of a security measure, for example, "new" groups move together.

Runaways are also handled differently. At Maurice Spear pursuit by peers is allowed only on campus. Under the PPC program whole groups have been known to turn out missing from campus in pursuit.

Instead, local law enforcement agencies are contacted by Maurice Spear Campus (MSC). In 1975, 46 runaways were reported at MSC, including repeated runaways. This is a 60 percent reduction over the old system, according to Baran.

How do these statistics compare with other youth homes? Nobody keeps these statistics, said Baran. But the the Maurice Spear Campus follow-up study includes these figures and others in a monthly report to its 24-member board of directors.

Evaluations are made on arrival, leaving, after six months and now two years following the youth's return home.

These are in addition to 30-day trial release period, 60 days maximum, before final releases. The County Probation office then follows up with a big brother and sister program.

Unlike the old PPC system, Reality Therapy provides for a family counselor. The Probate Court encourages families to visit the family counselor who is available on two weekday nights and Sunday afternoons, when most parents don't work, for their convenience.

If Reality Therapy is so good, why don't other youth homes adopt it?

Lack of knowledge of the program and convenience are two reasons Baran cited.

Next week: Does the community know about MSC?

PRIDE IN ACHIEVEMENTS — Two young men from Maurice Spear Campus point to the progress record, designed by one of the students. It explains privileges earned when they accept responsibility for their behavior. Students see exactly what is expected of them. Reality Therapy used at the Campus helps young men and women alike assess their behavior in terms of responsibility for actions.

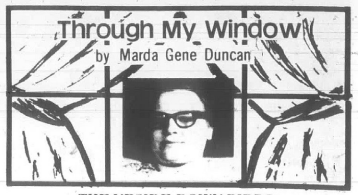
Downtown Tecumseh



THE UPSIDE-DOWN BIRDS.

They landed on the rough bark of the walnut tree and, had the windows been open, we could have heard as well as seen. The white-breasted nuthatches have strong sharp 'toenails' and, when they scramble up and down a tree trunk, the sound is really quite distintive. A little scratchy clatter noise.

We have not seen many of these birds this summer but that is not at all unusual year round residents, our classified as nonmigratory birds and thus in theory are year round residents, our yard and feeders have never hosted them much during the summer months.

The white-breated nuthatches apparently mate for life but during the cold weather months the bond is not a strong one.

Only when the lengthening daylight hours of spring trigger the urge to mate do the males truly become concerned about their lady loves.

Then they do a male cardinal act, they bring the gals to the feeder and with great ceremony select the fattest sunflower seeds or the choicest bits of suet for them. How gallant!

The courtship we have watched but the nest building, incubation,aand child care are done elsewhere.

According to the books the upside-down birds are hole nesters — they are not particular about the height above ground and any natural cavity or abandoned woodpecker hole will do.

Occasionally they will even be tempted to use a bark covered bird house. Feathers, hair, plant fibers, anything that is soft is used for the nest and the average clutch of whitish eggs speckled with reddish brown or light purple markings numbers from five to nine.

Only one family is raised per year and the female does most of the incubating.

These are friendly birds and I only hoped my book was right when it said that often the family group will remain together well into the winter.

I can vouch for their accuracy when not only this book but several others talk about the upside-down birds associating with black capped chickadees and tufted titmice.

Such a threesome has brightened more winter days than I care to count.

Fortunately the white-breasted are fond of feeder fare. Nut meats, seeds, and suet are their primary foods — primary at a feeding station that is.

As they walk up and down tree trunks and circle over and under all promising limbs they are often searching for insect eggs or the creepy crawly bugs themselves.

Their long slender bills are ideal probes, they can poke into and explore all the crevices and cranies in even the roughest bark.

Of course, these same bills are also super handy when the birds build their caches of food. The "National Geographic's" bird book calls them "great rainy-day birds" by which they mean the nuthatches are forever and always collecting stores of food.

They take goodies from a feeding tray and wedge them into the bark on nearby trees.

This obsession with hoarding food helps not only the white-breasteds but also the squirrels, bluejays, woodpeckers, chickadees, etc.

These upside-down birds are really quite handsome. About six inches in length they have long bills, short stubby tails, chunky bodies, and give the impression of being short necked and broad shouldered.

Their faces, throats, and breasts are white; backs gray; wings and tail gray with black and white markings; and the tops of their heads and the backs of their necks are bluish black.

The females are marked exactly as the males except their heads are not quite such a dark and rich blue-black.

There are four members of the nuthatch clan found in North America.

Our white-breasted is the largest and the next to the smallest is the shy red-breasted who also has been known to visit feeders in this area.

The five inch long brown-headed nuthatch and the little four inch pygmy are rather specialized in their territories — the former restricting itself to the southeast whereas the tiniest nuthatch likes the mountainous areas of the west.

I call our white breated upside-down birds but in truth, all four qualify for the name.

Participates In Career Program at Alma College

Tamara Will, daughter of Major and Mrs. Thomas S. Will of 803 River Acres Dr. is among the members of Alma College's 1976 freshman class who may participate in the college's innovative career preparation program.

The new Alma program, developed this year and funded in part by a $200,000 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, integrates liberal arts education with career planning and counseling to prepare students to get a job.

Participants develop a career plan with the help of a professor. The career plan, a guide for the development and evaluation of the student's personal career interests, helps in planning academic schedules and on-the-job practice experience.

Other aspects of Alma's career preparation program include seminars in which experts in several vocations visit campus, share experiences with students and explain job requirements.

Bi-centennial Journey

By Thelma Younglove

Children Enjoyed Threshing

BRITTON — Adults found threshing hard work, but youngsters looked forward to the threshing season with considerable pleasure. It was an exciting time for them.

When the grain was being cut and shocked, children too small to help in the fields carried fresh cool water to the workers in the middle of the forenoon and again in mid-afternoon.

Usually the farmer requested that a lunch be brought at the same time.

Work in the field was difficult and men could do better if they were not hungry.

Lunches usually consisted of big fat sugar or molasses cookies (homemade). If cookies were not to be had, the farm wife sent sandwiches made with thick slices of homemade bread.

Children did not object to trudging to the fields with water and lunch. There weren't any television programs for them to miss and Mother usually included a snack for them, too.

What a thrill the boys got when they were allowed to climb upon the big steam engine and toot the whistle.

Girls felt quite grown-up when they could assist with the preparations for the big meals and help with the serving.

Neighbor ladies who came to help prepare the meals usually brought their children with them. What fun the children had playing together.

Almost all children went barefooted all summer. By harvest season the bottom of their feet had become toughened they could run across rough terrain without flinching.

Boys and girls alike became quite agile and could scramble up onto grain wagons with ease.

As grain bins began to fill, boys and girls (too young to work, yet old enough to be out of their mother's sight) had fun playing in the freshly threshed grain.

The feeling of the warm kernels of grain against their bare legs was a pleasant sensation known only to barefooted country children.

About the only disappointment experienced by children during the threshing period, was having to wait to eat until after all of the hungry workmen had satisfied their appetites and resumed threshing.

Youngsters didn't tarry at the table, lest they miss some of the outside activities.

After the last bundle of grain had been threshed and the threshing outfit had moved on to the next farm, the children stopped playing in the grain and switched their play activities to the straw stack.

There they frolicked in the golden straw, sliding down the stack and throwing straw at each other seemingly unaware of the prickly chaff biting into their tender skin.

Wonder how many senior citizens recall the care-free days of childhood when they too looked forward with eager anticipation to threshing time with all of its fun, work, and excitement?

Some may also recall times when things didn't go too well - someone's team ran away (usually a terrifying experience) or when a wagon broke down spilling its load - just to mention a couple of incidents.

Yes, times have changed. Children today have other interests. Opportunities to travel are almost unlimited.

Many possess high-speed bicycles, trail bikes, and toys of every description.

But, are today's boys and girls happier then the youngsters of their age who had so much fun during threshing seasons years ago?

Hosts Group Monday Evening

BRITTON — Last Sunday, at the Bethel Baptist Church, the Rev. Ron Perrine and wife, Cheryl and sons, Mark, and Michael, Missionaries on furlough from Bangledesh, with the association of Baptist for World Evangelism, presented their work with slides and narration at the combined Sunday School hour with the sixth grade and adult classes. The Perrines presented an informal discussion at the 6 p.m. Training hour.

Also, Alma Felts of Battle Creek, gave her testimony on the work she will be doing in Japan, as a short term missionary, teaching missionary children. She will leave for Japan in September.

Following the 7 p.m. service, the Jack Rendels, missionaries on the literature ship "Logos", showed slides of his work. The ship stops in various ports where they sell Christian literature. They work overseas missions.

Jack is the son of the Rev. George and Betty Rendel, Missionaries to Nigeria.

Andrea Feted on Birthday

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower, Todd and Scott, entertained supper guests Wednesday of last week on the occasion of their daughter Andrea's eighth birthday anniversary.

Guests included Mrs. Claude Crutchfield, Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield, William Cundiff, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Bower and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martlock.

The following Friday afternoon Andrea was again feted at Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor in Toledo, Ohio with her girlfriends, Sarah Bush, Nicki Cook, Deanna Osborne and Coleen Spence.

On their return to the Bower home they were treated to a pizza supper.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Bower, Todd and Scott.

Sarah and Nicki remained as overnight guests in the Bower home.

Missionaries at Bethel Baptist

RIDGEWAY — Mrs. Jack Hintz hosted the Ladies' Missionary Group of Ridgeway Baptist Church Monday evening for a picnic, business meeting and coffee hour.

President, Mrs. Tom Bailey led in prayer for the missionaries of the church. Many future projects were discussed. Final plans of these were tabled until next meeting.

Devotions consisted of each lady sharing the blessings she has received since Ridgeway Baptist was organized.

The 17 ladies were seated at one long table for the picnic and entered the house for the meeting.

Next meeting will be Sept. 20 at the church.

Coffee was served by the hostess following the meeting.

NOTICE
VILLAGE OF BRITTON RESIDENTS

All property owners of the Village of Britton are reminded that all real estate and personal taxes are due and payable no later than August 31, 1976. Village treasurer, Elizabeth Osterhout, will be collecting taxs on Thursday 9 A.M. to 4 P.M., and on Saturday 9 A.M. to 1 P.M., or checks may be mailed to her. Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

This is the week that finds me at Camp DeSales cooking for those Tecumseh Indians! My news may be a bit short this week as I had to leave Macon before people got their weekend news to me. Next week I'll be back going full steam, so come on Macon area people, keep your news coming.

The Faith Circle of the Macon United Methodist Church will meet Sept. 2 at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mabel Burleson.

Mrs. Kathryn Wittkop of Canton, Ohio, niece of Agatha Camburn, daughter of Hester Gunder, has been visiting in the Macon-Britton area this past week. She spent time at the home of Helen Downing of Britton and Mrs. Camburn. They visited Mrs. Gunder at the Lenawee County Medical Care Center.

Mrs. Ahlene Connors returned from a two month vacation last Saturday. She spent time with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Savage and family of Bovee, Minn. She also visited her sisters in Iron River, Wis.

Jim and Phyllis Thomas have returned home from a week camping

Jim and Phyllis Thomas have returned home from a week camping trip in the Soo area in the Upper Peninsula. Judy and Jayne were guests of Phyllis' sister, the Robert Deblers in Lansing. John was at Grandpa and Grandma Thomas' in Macon. Jim II held down the fort at home. Jim and Phyllis visited Earl and Frances Pennington at Hessel while in the "UP". Also visited were an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Gilbert and family at Mancelona. While at the Gilberts' they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schweighart and family.

Aug. 21 Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas, Judy and Jayne attended the wedding of a cousin, Harold Lee Holcomb of Milan to Teresa Ann Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson of Wamplers Lake and Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The ceremony was held at the St. Joseph Shrine in the Irish Hills and the reception was at the Tecumseh Country Club.

8 Return from Park

RIDGEWAY — Eight young people from Ridgeway Baptist Church returned from Chautauqua Baptist Fellowship Park in Miamisburg, Ohio, where they had a week of camping.

Each gave a testimony of the blessings they received while at camp and the many activities they engaged in at the Sunday evening church service.

They also taught the congregation a new song.

Attending were Mike, Joyce, Chris and Tim Casey, Berry and Larry Harrison, Trisha Hintz and Tim Stephenson.

Patti Taylor Is Honored

BRITTON — A miscellaneous bridal shower honored Patti Taylor Tuesday evening of last week, at the Fellowship Center of the Britton Congregational Christian Church. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Fay Downing, Mrs. Audrey Palmer, Mrs. Shirley Craig and Mrs. Marian Taylor.

The Center was decorated in yellow and white, the bride's wedding colors. Old fashioned umbrellas hung from the ceiling.

Bridal bingo was played with several prizes awarded. Door prize winner was Mrs. LaRue McWilliams.

Miss Taylor will become the bride of Tom Grounds Sept. 3.

Marshall Home Tour

An innovative look at houses in process of restoration and six "first-time" houses will be the highlights of Historic Marshall's 13th annual Historic Home Tour, Sept. 11-12.

Event is sponsored by the Marshall Historical Society with the cooperation of some 35 organizations.

The tour features a total of 13 structures open to the public.

These will include six private homes already restored, three homes, and an 1835 hotel in process of restoration, and the city's three quasi-public historic buildings: the "almost" Governor's Mansion (1839) Honolulu House (1860), and Capitol Hill School (1860).

The tour calls particular attention to the little city's (population 7,250) Bicentennial projects including a $50,000 restoration of the famed Brooks Memorial Fountain raised by the Chamber of Commerce's Bicentennial Committee by public subscription.

The 13 buildings range in age from 84 to 141. They represent an oustanding cross-section of 19th century architecture, particularly from the 1840-70.

All Marshall residents make a special effort to groom their homes, gardens and entire community for tour time.

For the seventh year the two-day event will let visitors enjoy the unstructured tour along Marshall's tree-shaded streets at leisure. Hours are 9-5 Sept. 11 and 10-5 Sept. 12.

The tour includes church luncheons, bake sales, antique sale, an arts and crafts fair with over 110 craftsmen, band concerts, an ice cream social, Civil War encampment, barbershop quartet singing and numerous other events recalling the customs and pleasures of 100 years ago.

A Grand Bicentennial Parade will be at noon each day. The 5th Michigan Regiment Band from Howell will highlight Sunday's parade.

Free parking and shuttle service are available.

For the Record

It was mistakenly reported in last week's Herald that Tecumseh School District borrowed $100,000 last year.

In fact, the district borrowed in excess of $700,000. The $100,000 figure is the amount of state aid lost by the district due to the state's financial difficulties.

Receives Senior Membership

Mrs. Adeline Ferow, director of purchasing at Herrick Memorial Hospital has recently received senior membership in the National Association of Hospital Purchasing Management at the University of Chicago.

To obtain senior membership eight credits must be earned at college level by projects and written materials, and attending courses of Universities, and a member in good standing for at least two years.

Candidates must be unanimously approved by the certifications committee of the national association.

After satisfactorily obtaining the senior the candidate is eligible to have a fellowship and upon completion of eight more college level credits, and successfully passing a full day of oral and written mandatory examinations the candidate becomes a certified purchasing executive. This is the highest degree to be obtained in the Association.

Families Play Musical Move

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. John Fox have sold their two houses, one on W. Franklin St., the other in Willis, and have purchased the house of Mr. and Mrs. John Bauer at 413 Sunset Dr.

John and Melinda Fox and children, John and Barbara Blumhardt will move here in September. John will be a senior and Barbara will be a freshman in high school.

Daughter Minota Fox is moving from the W. Franklin St. residence to the Porter apartment on W. Michigan Ave. She is employed with Social Services in Monroe County.

Mr. Fox has returned to his work at Tecumseh Products after several weeks convalescence.

John and Judy Bauer and daughter will remain in the area until December, when they plan to move to Arizona or another southern area for Mr. Bauer's health. He has an acute bronchitis condition. He has been employed for 12 years with General Motors.

Party Set For Wednesday

CLINTON — Third annual Fall Festival fund-raising party will be held at Sadler's Race Track Inn Wednesday, Sept. 1 from 8 p.m. 'till 2 a.m.

There will be live music by "Travelin Band," composed by John Powers and Jim Molner on the guitars, Bud Lewis, organist and Gary Underwood, drums.

Proceeds will be donated by owner Jean Sadler to Clinton's Fall Festival '76.

Club Holds Paper Drive

CLINTON — Girls Varsity Club will pick up old newspapers, Aug. 28 from 10 a.m. to noon.

Village residents are asked to tie or bag newspapers and leave them in front of homes.

Rural residents may call 456-4435 for pickup of papers or may drop them off at 217 W. Church St. anytime.

Next paper drive is Sept. 25 and each last Saturday of the month.

Clinton Athletic department is in need of a small old refrigerator with a freezer compartment. Anyone who has one may call Bob King at 456-4435.

PASTOR RICE

Guest Minister to Speak

Missionaries, Pastor and Mrs. Edward Rice will minister Aug. 29 at the 9 a.m. Sunday School and 10:15 a.m. Worship Service at Immanuel Luthern Church, 1500 N. Blissfield Hwy., Palmyra.

Public is invited by local Pastor Karl S. Oelschlager.

Edward and Beth Rice served in "faith" missions in Bolivia and Ecuador which were sponsored by the Lutheran World Mission Prayer League. During the Sunday School hour the Rices will show slides and artifacts from Bolivia and Ecuador. The couple come from Norwalk, Ohio.

(Photo by Frank Weir)

New Building Put to Use

CLINTON — New sexton's office and storage building at Riverside Cemetery is in use now.

Located on the north side of Coman St. near the entrance to the cemetery, the 22x28 block building, built by Alton Hoelzer, is painted a soft green to blend with its tree-shaded surroundings.

Constructed with attention to double security, the workshop provides room for equipment storage, and bathroom, besides the sexton's office.

The new sexton Joe O'Donnell and his staff, Norman Westfall, who has served about 16 years, under three sextons; J.D. Lancaster, college student and third-year employee, and newest staffer Nancy Terry, have the grounds looking good with lawn well mowed and all tombstones free of weeds.

One may phone the office 456-4861, and messages will be recorded.

It is readily apparent that the former owner of the Jo-El's antique business appreciates the history of the old cemetery.

He has discovered the original plat map for the "River Bank" Cemetery, as it was called when first established.

Originally Clinton's early residents were buried in Oakmount Cemetery near the site of the present water tower on Currier St., from 1830 until 1864, when a few graves were moved to the new cemetery location at Brown and Coman Sts. Some 53 graves were left at the old cemetery.

O'Donnell began sprucing up the historic stone chapel constructed in 1912 under the sponsorship of the Clinton Culture Club, antecedent of Clinton Woman's Club.

Notable for its solid oak cathedral ceiling and leaded windows the chapel was used for funerals for many years until funeral homes became available for use. Mounted plaques inside list all who contributed to the chapel project.

O'Donnell was intrigued by his find of the original old sexton's double compartment desk in the chapel office. He plans to restore it to usefulness.

He'd like to see the chapel restored and used by visiting families who only need a place to await a graveside service. It would be a nice place for a memorial or sunrise service, too.

Responsibility for Riverside Cemetery is now jointly shared by Clinton Township and Clinton Village in the Riverside Cemetery Association formed in recent months, succeeding the previously autonomous Clinton Cemetery Association. Robert Winder is chairman of the board which administers the cemetery.

New restrictions are in force at the grounds and O'Donnell reports vandalism is now in check. Dogs, motorcycles, mini-bikes and horses are forbidden there.

Gates are open 8 a.m. to sundown daily. Wrought iron entrance gate was recently freshened by newly painted gold lettering on the overhead arch. The sexton hopes to paint the old iron fence that lines the street sides of the cemetery before winter.

It's a nice place to visit. . .

20 Bales In Fire Loss

CLINTON — Shifting winds drifted sparks from a trash fire to an adjacent field of baled hay, Thursday afternoon, touching off a blaze that kept Clinton Firemen at the scene for nearly two hours.

Some 20 large rolled bales of hay were destroyed.

Another 80 bales were saved, as nearby bales were moved out of the way and several tank loads of water was spread at the scene.

Fire was in a field north of the George Heimerdinger house on Pennington Rd.

Party Store Opens Friday

CLINTON — Clinton Bell Party Store will open Friday in the former Jo'El's building east of Clinton.

Owners are Jim and Mickie Conklin and son Mark, who moved here from Oakland County.

Business will handle general groceries, delicatessen items, beer and wine, and notions.

Mark will be in charge of the gas pumps and the store business will mainly be staffed by members of the family, and will be open from 11 a.m. to midnight seven days a week.

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Helen Service Michealson, who passed away 9 years ago Aug. 25, 1967.

Memories are treasures no one can steal

Death is a heartache nothing can heal.

Some may forget you now you are gone,

But I will remember no matter how long

Sadly missed by her mother.

Seven Accidents Minor

Police investigated seven minor accidents this week. One bicyclist was shaken up after he drove into the side of an auto pulling out of a private driveway.

In the cycling incident, Lavern Theeke was pulling out of a private driveway on E. Chicago Tuesday when a bike traveling east on Chicago drove into his left front fender. Both visions were blocked by buildings.

The cyclist, 12-year-old Perry Jordan, of 1104 Park Court, was taken to Herrick Hospital and released.

A resume of other accidents include:

Aug. 19 — Sharon R. Furgason, 20, of 3712 Westgate Place didn't see a stop sign at the corner of W. Pottawatamie and Van Buren. She collided with Jesus Espinoza, 39 of Texas.

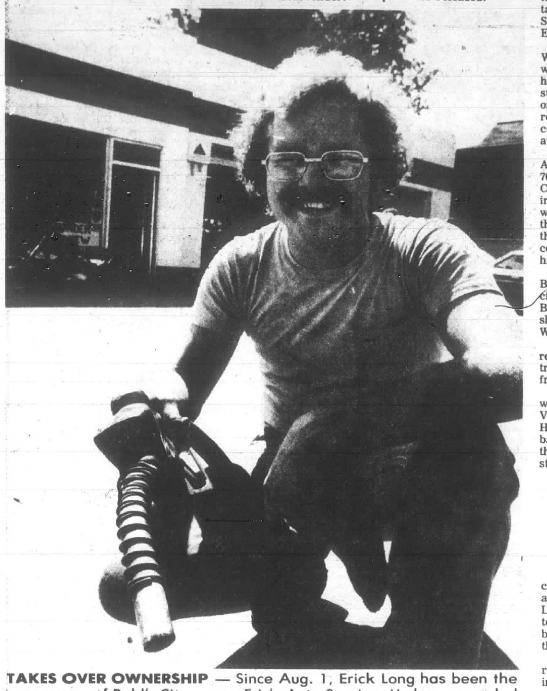
Aug. 20 — William M. Warner, 18, 303 Herrick Pk. was cited for failing to have his auto under control after he struck Leonard E. Lewis, 66, of 5641 Rogers Hwy. in the rear. Lewis was stopped at the corner of Union and Chicago at the light at the time.

Victor T. Sanchez, 18, of Adrian and Herbert W. Dillon, 70, of 503 Brown collided on W. Chicago. Sanchez was driving in the center lane while Dillon was in the right lane. Sanchez then swerved into Dillon as a third auto was also in the center lane heading toward him for a head-on collision.

Aug. 21 — Debra A. Baumler, 16, of Clinton was cited for failure to yield at Bidwell and N. Evans when she collided with Gregory L. Winkler, 19, of 419 Wildwood.

Rosanne Wanner, of Indiana reported damaged to her car trunk while it was parked in front of 601 W. Pottawatame.

Sue A. Adkins, 34, 601 Center was parked in the 100 block of VanBuren when Wanda S. Holmes, 28, 105 S. VanBuren backed out of her drive into the Adkins car across the street.



TAKES OVER OWNERSHIP — Since Aug. 1, Erick Long has been the new owner of Ruhl's Citgo, now Eric's Auto Service. He has expanded the business at 1104 W. Chicago to include complete auto repair work as well as retail gasoline. Eric had previously worked with his father at Long's Motor Sales as a mechanic for seven years. (Photo by Cortland Hunt)

You Told Us

By Kathy Brown

Activity on the front lawn has replaced summer reruns on television as the diversion at the Brown homestead. First came the tree planting then the landscaping. Later it was weeding knee-high chicory and Queen Anne's lace from the backyard.

This week so far we've spread 10 yards of black dirt and graded the yard in preparation for laying sod.

This summer we've nursed three sets of blisters and feted crews of friends and relatives, who came to lend moral support.

This weekend, the hostess claims bound hands and the buffet fare will be chicken by the bucket or home delivered pizza.

We're Proud of Our Small Cars!

60 in Stock

Fact: GM's 5-year/60,000-mile guarantee on its 140-cu.-in. engine is the toughest in the business.

How tough is tough? Well, the 140-cu.-in. engine you can get in the following GM small cars is so tough that it's backed by a 5-year/60,000-mile guarantee. No foreign car even comes close to it.

And it's a very simple guarantee. It covers all 1976 Chevrolet Vegas and Monzas, Pontiac Astres and Sunbirds and Oldsmobile Starfires equipped with 4-cylinder 140-cubic-inch engines for 5 years or 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

It means that should something go wrong with the engine, your Chevrolet, Pontiac or Oldsmobile dealer will fix it...free.

The guarantee covers repairs to the cylinder block, cylinder head, all internal engine parts, intake and exhaust manifolds, and water pump, made necessary because of defects in material or workmanship.

This guarantee, an added value feature on these GM cars, is in addition to the New Vehicle Warranty but naturally does not apply to repairs required because of misuse, negligence, alteration; accident or lack of reasonable or proper maintenance.

Compare engine guarantees. Ours is tough to beat. And that's a fact.

ENGINE GUARANTEES

SERVICES ARE YOUR RIGHTS

What does your pharmacy offer? Here's a handy checklist to help you recognize the services available from your pharmacy.

1. PATIENT MEDICATION PROFILES. Does your pharmacist keep personalized health records of the medications you are taking, along with other details that enable him to warn you and your doctor about drug interactions, overdoses, adverse reactions, etc?

2. CONSULTATION. No need for a sterile consultation booth in which to talk, but is your pharmacist available to answer your questions and discuss problems?

3. EMERGENCY SERVICE. Can you get medicine for real emergencies, even at a time when the pharmacy is closed? Does your pharmacy list an emergency phone number?

Loggers Take Championship, Beat Tecumseh Merchants 18-3

Tuesday Playoff

Every player in the lineup for Beglinger-Reid had at least one hit while Underwood Chevrolet got only three hits collectively.

Terry Ranta had three hits, including a home run, Jim Fliss and Bob Cunningham added three hits each. Beglinger-Reid bombed Underwood 19-1.

Tecumseh Merchants took advantage of 12 errors by Goble Lumber while crushing the Blissfield team 21-5. The winners scored 10 runs in the sixth inning on six hits as fifteen players went to the plate.

Goble managed only five hits for the game.

Tri-County Loggers used home run power to eliminate Handley Equipment 10-3. Jim Hunt started off the game with a solo blast. Dave Pray also soloed in the fourth and Dave Arnold hit a grand slam in the fifth. Hunt also added two singles.

Wednesday Playoff

Ember's Bar took a 12-1 lead over B&W West, then saw a B&W comeback fall short. Ember's won 12-9. Ken Pieh had three hits for Ember's while five players had two hits each for West.

VFW came from behind to tie United Savings Bank three times, but three straight singles in the bottom of the eighth inning gave USB a 6-5 win. The bank lead 3-0, 4-3, 5-4 and VFW tied it each time. Gene Cooley homered for United Savings Bank.

Jim Hunt had four hits and three home runs, including a grand slam, leading Tri-County Loggers to a 20-5 victory over Beglinger-Reid. Al Roberts had three hits, including a home run, and Don Eaton added three hits as the Loggers totaled 21 hits. Beglinger-Reid got only five hits for the game.

Semi-Final Games

The Tecumseh Merchants scored three runs in the first inning and never let up eliminating Ember's Bar 14-7. Dave Gramling and Dave Phillips each had three hits for the Merchants to pace them into the championship game.

Bill Horton and Ken Pieh homered for Ember's but five runs in the fifth inning put the game out of reach for the Merchants.

In the other semi-final game, Tri-County Loggers and United Savings Bank played even softball for 11 innings before the Loggers won 11-10. The teams matched runs the entire game. The score was tied at the end of every inning but the second, when the Loggers took a two-run lead.

At the end of regulation play, the score was tied 6-6 and stayed that way until the ninth inning when both teams scored one run and the Loggers left the bases loaded.

The Bank broke the tie in the eleventh when Gene Cooley hit a two-run line drive over the left field fence and added another run on an error and three straight singles to lead 10-7.

The first Logger hitter, Dennis Kime, singled and it looked like the Bank would win since the next two batters hit towering fly balls for outs. However, Jim Hunt and Al Roberts singled and suddenly the Loggers were back in the ball game with the tying run on second base.

Dave Pray then laced a line drive off the short stop's mitt into left field and raced all the way home, beating a good throw from left field with the winning run.

For the Loggers, Jim Hunt and Al Roberts each added three hits, while Greg Allen hit four safeties for the Bank.

Championship Game

The momentum that the Loggers built during that 11th inning rally against the Bank carried over. They scored five runs in the first inning against the Tecumseh Merchants and went on to win the City Tournament Title 18-3.

The Merchants never could get untracked offensively, getting only six hits with a triple by Kurt Beasley, the only extra base hit.

Meanwhile, the Loggers were pounding the ball. Don Eaton got three hits, including two home runs and Dave Arnold connected for a two-run homer.

Al Roberts added two doubles and a single in the win.

The Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department presented a runner-up trophy to the Tecumseh Merchants and a championship trophy to the Tri-County Loggers.

Dundee Team Wins Title

Regular season girls softball champions, Dundee Products, scored four runs in the first inning eventually beating Tecumseh Products 6-5 last Friday.

Tecumseh had rallied to tie the score 5-5 in the fifth inning, but Dundee scored the winning run in the bottom of that inning. Cowen had three hits for Dundee.

Deerfield Merchants and Store Bar entered the seventh inning tied at 2-2 but Store Bar took the win 5-4 after a wild last inning.

Blater homered, starting the Deerfield rally to add another run, but left the bases loaded. Trailing by two runs, Store Bar capitalized on three straight errors, added two singles, and won the game with two outs. The winners got only six hits, but the Deerfield errors provided the difference.

Airport Bowl scored six runs in the third inning on Saturday but fell short as Dundee Products won 9-7. Airport left the bases loaded in the seventh inning after scoring one run. Errors again were a factor. The first three Dundee runs were the result of Airport errors.

Beglinger-Reid pounded out 18 hits eliminating Store Bar 14-6. The winners started off quickly with three runs in the first inning and never let up. Ellen Zimmerman had three hits and a homerun, Barb Hamilton, A. Haines and L. Pipkins each had three hits.

Dundee Products and Beglinger-Reid battled for the league championship and then met again for the tournament title with Dundee winning 16-11.

At the end of four innings, the score was tied 2-2. Both teams then broke loose in the fifth scoring five runs each.

In the sixth inning, Dundee scored five and Beglinger-Reid four. In the last inning, Dundee put the game away scoring four runs.

For Dundee, Cowen had four hits including a home run and Gail added four singles with Owens contributing three more. Wittkoph also homered.

Davis and Haines each hit three times for Beglinger-Reid. The squad committed nine errors to help Dundee offensively.

Trophies were presented to both the champion and runner-up teams by the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department.

4-H Squad In Finals

The Roundtop 4-H softball team number 2 coached by Brian Shearer — took a third in the state finals last Saturday in Lansing.

The squad won the district championship August 14 beating Monroe County 30-2 and Wayne County 8-4 in the single elimination tournament.

Jacobs Is Jr. Champ

With previous scores of 76 and 75 Jacobs tallied a 225 total.

Jacobs was one shot behind Adrian's Mark McNitt going into the final hole of play. Jacobs birdied the 581-yard par five hole while McNitt carded a bogey icing the victory for Jacobs.

Adrian's Doug Hartung finished in the third spot with a 228 total.

Jacobs will be a senior at Tecumseh High School this year.

Indians at Grid Camp

Tecumseh's football squad is already busy preparing for the coming season by attending a camp this week for intensive training.

Forty-four Indians are attending Camp DeSales near Brooklyn.

Head coach Pat Connors stated that the purpose of the camp is three-fold. Physical conditoning is one, teaching offense and defense is another. In addition, group unity is stressed and coaches instill their philosophy of how the game should be played.

The squad has practices from 9-11:30 a.m. and 3-5. Other Indian coaches assisting Connors on the caap are Bob Ondrovick, Ron Spagnoli, Rick Montcalm, Ted Todd, Wayne Nix, and a new Tecumseh coach Carl Novak. Novak coached for two years at St. Louis, Michigan and is a graduate of MSU.

Sharon Connors is in charge of cooking for the entire group. Assisting her is Kay Todd, Sandy Curth, Sharon Nix, Paula Bowman, Wilma Clark, Eunice Smith and Sue Allen. McDonalds donated their orange drink machine for three days, 800 cups and two gallons of concentrate.

Police Investigate 7 Minor Complaints

Police investigated seven minor complaints this week. Two men were arrested for being under the influence of alcohol and two were arrested for driving with revoked licenses.

A resume includes:

Aug. 18 - Jerry J. Hale, 20, 800 Shady Lane, was arrested for driving with a revoked license after he left Standish Dam. Police investigated two cars at that location and found three drinking beer. They were advised to dump the remaining beer.

Hale then left the scene and was pulled over on Burt St. as police found he was driving on a Mississippi license and had a revoked Michigan license.

Aug. 19 - Glenn Tirb, 310 S. Evans reported his bicycle stolen from the north side of his house during the night.

Police were then advised that a 15-year-old subject was trying to sell a bicycle. Tirb was able to identify the 10-speed as his own as the 15-year-old was arrested.

Aug. 20 - Jeff Southwell, 1204 Murray, reported a stolen 10-speed during the night.

Lamar Cheever, 125 Park, reported the larceny of a garden hose and hose sprinkler valued at $200.

Aug. 21 - Fay L. Burlew, of Onsted was arrested for driving with a revoked license. Burlew reportedly stopped for police on Sunset and then started up again when the patrolmen left their car. Police discovered Burlew had no license after he was pulled over the second time on S. Occidental.

Aug. 23 - Reinhold R. Wever, 23, 16484 Staib Rd., was advised he was under arrest for driving while under the influence of liquor when he completely disregarded the stop sign at the corner of Union and Brown St. He reportedly hit the east curb of the road before pulling over for police.

Transport of Seniors Planned

Transportation for persons 55 years of age and older in the northeast quadrant of Lenawee County will be available five days a week beginning Sept. 7. The service will be provided by Lenawee Council On Aging on a combined demand-response and scheduled route basis.

Eligible persons will be picked up at their homes and transported to the Senior Citizens Center, to appointments or to shopping areas. No set fare is paid but donations are accepted from participants.

Senior Citizens living in the Tipton, Clinton, Tecumseh and Britton vicinities are advised to contact the Tecumseh Senior Citizen Center at 423-2107, ext. 25, to make their transportation arrangements.

Persons are urged to phone at least one day in advance to avoid delays. The advanced scheduling is important for proper dispatching and coordinating of the routes.

It is important for participants to give accurate addresses, house numbers and locations of their residents. The participants are advised to be ready and watching for the Lenawee Council On Aging vehicles within 15 minutes of the scheduled pick-up time, as several persons are picked up and riding the vehicle at once.

General times transportation will be in specific areas for pick-ups are 9:30 a.m., Tipton Community Church; 10:00 a.m., Clinton Water Wheel Estates; 10:30 a.m. Tecumseh Community Center; 10:50 a.m. Britton Bank; and 11:00 a.m., Tecumseh Community Center.

On Monday mornings, the vehicle is in Holloway at 9:00 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. in Deerfield.

General return times are 2:30 p.m., Tecumseh; 2:45 p.m., Tipton; 3:10 p.m., Clinton and 3:30 p.m., Britton.

Return transportation on Mondays leaves Deerfield at 2:00 p.m.

TWO TICKETS FOR A TUNE—Will Tecumseh loose a mayor and gain a star? Harold Easton looks like he's practicing to audition for the one and only Tommy Dorsey Orchestra which will be in Tecumseh Sept. 16 for a concert-dance. More likely, Band Booster mother Lori Egli, center and daughter, Karen of the varsity band coaxed Easton into playing a tune for his tickets. Proceeds from the event benefit the band. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Big Band Playing Here Sept. 16th

The one and only Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, directed by famous trombonist, Murray McEachern, is coming to the Tecumseh High School for a big concert and dance sponsored by the Tecumseh Band Boosters on Sept. 16.

One ticket will admit to both the concert (9-9:45 p.m.) and the dance (10-1 a.m.)

Donald F. Burack, Tecumseh Band Booster president, indicated, "everyone is excited about the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra coming to town. We anticipate a big crowd. We strongly urge those wishing to enjoy an evening of nostalgic music and dancing to purchase their tickets in advance, not only to save, but to be sure of getting in!"

That the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra was one of the major bands during the golden era of the big bands goes without saying.

The trombonist extraordinaire toured and played before millions, made dozens of recordings, and led one of the most popular musical groups in America.

"The Sentimental Gentleman of Swing" is credited with being one of the first to add vocalists to his band, at one time or another: The Pied Pipers, Edythe White, Jo Stafford, Frank Sinatra, and Dick Haymes.

Now, with the resurgence of the big bands, the One and Only Tommy Dorsey Orchestra is on tour again, playing before record crowds everywhere, this time directed by Murray McEachern, one of America's greatest musicians and showmen.

McEachern has toured with such greats as Benny Goodman, Glen Gray, Paul Whiteman, Freddy Martin, David Rose, Harry James, and Meredith Wilson.

He played the trombone for Jimmy Stewart's starring role in the movie, "The Glenn Miller Story," and did the same for Paul Newman in the movie, "Paris Blues."

Big band buffs, those with a bit of nostalgia in them, and everyone who enjoys music and dancing will be thrilled when Murray McEachern lifts his baton to lead the one and only Tommy Dorsey Orchestra in "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You" and other famous Dorsey tunes in concert and dance at the Tecumseh High School on Sept. 16 at 9 p.m.

Advance tickets are now on sale at Flander's Music Store (Tecumseh), Lamb's Pharmacy (Tecumseh), Court's Village Pharmacy (Clinton), the Tecumseh High School, and from all Tecumseh High Band Boosters and Music Students. All tickets are more at the door.

Wanted: Rain!

Just about everyone has complained about the weather, and justifably so.

Although city records show three rain days in August, the month's total rainfall amounted to less than a quarter of an inch.

Officials report that .05 of an inch fell on Aug. 6th; .02 on Aug. 12, and .15 on Aug. 14. Total August rainfall, just .22 of an inch.

It has been nearly two months since a decent rainfall. On July 6th, records show that the city received 1.65 inches, well over half of the amount that has fallen in the past two months.

July had a total of 10 rain days, but the total was only 2.70 inches.

While some nearby areas around Tecumseh have received considerably more rain, many local farmers report the lack of rain has severely hurt the corn and bean crops.

Many lawns and fields are brown, practically burned out; however, Tecumseh firemen have received only one call on a grass fire and, this fire was extinguished before fire trucks left the barsn.

OVER 3,700 PROJECTED

Schools Expect Record Enrollment on Sept. 7

Tecumseh opens the 1976-77 school year here next Tuesday with over 3,700 students — and possibly a lot more — expected in the classrooms.

All students will report opening day except kindergartners, who will begin the new school term on Wednesday.

While many schools are experiencing a drop in total enrollment, Tecumseh will probably set an all-time mark. For example, kindergarten enrollment is already more than 50 over a year ago — and more registrations are expected.

At the high school, Clarence Lacny, principal, is predicting an enrollment between 1,200 and 1,250 in grades nine through 12. Last year's official enrollment there was 1,166.

Lacny says Vo-Tec classes for THS students will not begin until Wednesday, Sept. 8, but students are expected to report for their regular classes on Tuesday anyway. They will be excused for the day after reporting.

The principal also reminds students to pack a sack lunch as the cafeteria will not be ready to serve complete meals until about two weeks after school opens. Milk, however, will be served in the cafeteria.

David Dick, junior high principal, judges the enrollment in grades seven and eight will fall just short of 600, about the same as a year ago.

If a new Tecumseh enrollment mark is established, the expected increases at the high school and kindergarten will be the reason. Only a slight increase is expected in grades one through six in the elementary schools.

Kindergarten registrations Tuesday totalled 320, an increase of 52 over last year's figure of 268. This increase plus the fact that parents are continuing to register their youngsters at the Board of Education office has necessitated increasing the number of kindergarten sections from 10 to 11.

The new section, to be taught in the afternoon by Mrs. Bryce Roekle, will be added at the Tecumseh Acres school, Supt. Robert Duhan reports.

In 1971 Tecumseh students numbered 3,680, a mark that was broken last year when enrollment reached 3,682. Official enrollment for state aid purposes is taken on the fourth Friday of September, which will be Sept. 24th this year.

Town Meeting for Tecumseh Area Oct. 23

Tecumseh area Town Meeting will be Oct. 23 at the Tecumseh High School. Date was selected Tuesday night at an organizational meeting.

Purpose of the town meeting is to enable the residents of the Tecumseh area to meet for a day of dialogue, to discuss the challenges facing the community at large and come up with feasible solutions residents can enact.

Steering Committee includes: Todd Cornell, promotion leader (attendance, publicity and hosting); Doug Bird, practice leader, (materials production, decoration, set-up and clean-up) Laura Foust and Barbara Myers, co-leaders for the enablement team, (food) and children's. program) Donna Roe-Flynn, leaders workshop; Mary Bowers, decorations; Dee Jay Rinehart, Henry Newlin, Carol McClure, Ray Russell, Clarence Lacny, the Rev. David Fox and Roger Proctor, coordinator.

A meeting will be held Sept. 8 at the Tecumseh Public Library at 7 p.m. At that time, all organizations who have been contacted and interested individuals are invited to make a committment to assist with planning the Town Meeting.

Tecumseh City Council has expressed interest in being a financial sponsor for the Town Meeting. Tecumseh Rotary has already donated $100. Donations from other groups or individuals are welcome.

Cost of the Town Meeting, conducted by the Institute for Cultural Affairs, a non-profit organization, is $600. Promotional and food expenses are additional and must also be raised.

ICA has conducted such meetings in Pontiac and Ann Arbor, the latter impressed Tecumsehites who attended.

"Anyone that is affected by Tecumseh should be involved and get in on it," said Roger Proctor, coordinator.

Committee Plans City Historic Ordinance Date

Nov. 1 has been the projected date when the Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee will present a proposed ordinance for a historic district in the downtown residential area.

A series of neighborhood meetings will be held to inform residents of the language of the ordinance, who it will affect, how and why.

2 Caught After Chase

Two Tecumseh men were arrested early Wednesday morning following a high speed chase originating at the Cedar Shack and covering five streets in the west end of town.

Arrested were Lonnie G. Creger, 20, of 402 Adrian St. He faces charges of fleeing and eluding a traffic arrest.

Also arrested was David Barnett, 22 of 501 E. Chicago. He was a passenger in the auto and faces charges in Cleveland for auto theft.

The incident occurred at 3:45 a.m. as Creger was observed leaving the Cedar Shack without lights. Police followed the vehicle on east bound Chicago as Creger's lights came on. Creger reportedly then turned the lights out and turned sharply from Chicago onto Cairns.

Police attempts to pull Creger over did little as Creger reportedly sped on despite overhead lights, car lights and horn blowing from police.

The chase continued on Sunset, Park and Pottawatamie Sts. before Creger drove into a private drive at 100 Cairns St. The patrol car turned in after him.

Creger told police he was going to visit a friend at 100 Cairns when he was stopped. At that time, Tecumseh backup car checked out the story, but no one at the residence could identify Creger or the passenger.

Creger was then put in the patrol car while Barnett was asked to drive the auto home. He responded he could not as he had a revoked license. Tecumseh then ran a file on him to find Barnett had a felony warrant outstanding in Cleveland for auto theft.

Both were lodged in Lenawee Co. jail.

92% of Tax Collected

Over 92 percent of city taxes were collected on or before the Aug. 31 deadline, Vera Gardner, city clerk, reports.

The city sent tax payments totaling $511,199 to property owners in July and has collected $471,760, not including payments received in the mail Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Gardner says the percentage of payments is about normal.

7 Accidents Investigated

Police investigated seven accidents this week as six different drivers were cited. One Adrian man was taken to Herrick Hospital Saturday and is presently in satisfactory condition while being treated for cuts and bruises.

Resting in Herrick is Phillip B Clymer, 23, of Adrian. He was westbound on Chicago Blvd. when Anna C. McMahon, 52, of Deerfield turned left from Chicago into Kroger. According to police reports, McMahon hit the Clymer vehicle and Clymer's auto skidded into the parking lot.

Two other passengers in the Clymer vehicle and one in the McMahon auto were unhurt.

McMahon was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

A resume of other accidents includes:

Aug. 25 — Gregory D. Roe, 18, of Adrian backed out of a driveway at 1110 Park and hit a parked car owned by Roger D. Austin, 1110 Park St. Roe was cited for improper backing.

Aug. 26 — Steven L. German, 19, of Adrian was cited for driving too fast for conditions when he collided with Theresa S. Schmidt, 22, of 4651 Tecumseh-Macon Rd. Schmidt was backing out of her drive when the incident occurred. Police reported German was driving too fast in the thick fog to avoid the incident.

Aug. 27 — Robert E. Hamden, 57, of 1102 Willow collided with a parked car owned by Larry D. Mitchell of Adrian. Hamden was cited for improper backing after he backed around a truck on Jane St. and hit the Mitchell vehicle along the road.

JoAnn M. Ford, 16, 9393 Mills-Macon Rd. misjudged the distance ahead and hit the rear of a car driven by John B. Bradley, 4055 W. Monroe. The Bradley vehicle was properly backing into a parking place on E. Chicago when Ford tried to pull around and hit the Bradley auto. Ford was cited for failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Aug. 29 — Kenneth L. Callison, 30, 3633 Noland Dr., was cited for failure to yield when he stopped at the intersection of Adrian and Chicago and then turned left into Freddie D. Randall, 52, of 908 Red Mill. Randall was eastbound on Chicago when Callison turned left in front of him from Adrian St.

Aug. 30 — Loyce Kennedy, 52, of Adrian and Ferdinand O. Shove, 64, of Onsted collided in the Tecumseh Products parking lot. Shove was in the center lane and Kennedy in the right lane when Shove turned right into a parking spot, striking the Shove vehicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Southard of 8444 Milwaukee Rd. will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sept. 5 at an open house from 2-4 p.m. at the Grace Methodist Church on M-50. Friends and relatives are invited. Edith Jewell and Clifford Southard were married in Belleville on Sept. 5, 1926. They lived all their married life here. They are still active farmers. Their daughters, Mrs. Joseph Geierman and Evelyn Rodgers are hosts for the celebration. The couple has five grandchildren. Couple requests gifts be omitted.

SERVICES ARE YOUR RIGHTS

What does your pharmacy offer? Here's a handy checklist to help you recognize the services available from your pharmacy.

1. PATIENT MEDICATION PROFILES. Does your pharmacist keep personalized health records of the medications you are taking, along with other details that enable him to warn you and your doctor about drug interactions, overdoses, adverse reactions, etc?

2. CONSULTATION. No need for a sterile consultation booth in which to talk, but is your pharmacist available to answer your questions and discuss problems?

3. EMERGENCY SERVICE. Can you get medicine for real emergencies, even at a time when the pharmacy is closed? Does your pharmacy list an emergency phone number?

4. HEALTH INFORMATION AND REFERRAL. Does your pharmacist answer questions about prescription drugs and non-prescription medicine purchases, or help you decide when to see your doctor and refer you?

5. DRUG PRODUCT SELECTION. Does your pharmacist provide product selection when possible — less expensive equivalent drug products — for the prescriptions your doctor has written?

6. COMPOUNDING SERVICE. If your doctor writes a prescription that must be specially mixed for you, will your pharmacist get the ingredients and compound your prescription?

7. DELIVERY SERVICE. Will your pharmacy deliver medicines when you can't pick them up?

Dear World

MY YOUNG SON starts to school today . . . It's going to be sort of strange and new to him for awhile, and I wish you would sort of treat him gently.

You see, up to now he's been king of the roost . . . He's been boss of the backyard . . . His mother has always been near to soothe his wounds and repair his feelings.

But now things are going to be different.

This morning he's going to walk down the front steps, wave his hand, and start out on the great adventure . . . It is an adventure that might take him across continents, across oceans . . . It's an adventure that will probably include wars and tragedy and sorrow . . . To live his life in the world he will have to live in, will require faith and love and courage.

So, World, I wish you would sort of look after him . . . Take him by the hand and teach him things he will have to know.

But do it gently, if you can.

He will have to learn, I know, that all men are not just, that all men are not true.

But teach him also that for every scoundrel there is a hero . . . that for every crooked politician there's a great and dedicated leader . . . Teach him that for every enemy, there is a friend.

Steer him away from envy, if you can . . . and teach him the secret of quiet laughter.

In school, World, teach him it is far more honorable to fail than to cheat . . . Teach him to have faith in his own idea, even if everyone says they are wrong . . . Teach him to be gentle with gentle people and tough with tough people.

Try to give my son the strength not to follow the crowd when everyone is getting on the bandwagon . . . Teach him to listen to all men — but teach him also to filter all he hears on a screen of truth and take just the good that siphons through.

Teach him, if you can, how to laugh when he's sad . . . Teach him there is no shame in tears . . . Teach him there can be glory in failure and despair in success.

Treat him gently, World, if you can, but don't coddle him . . . Because only the test of fire makes fine steel . . . Let him have the courage to be impatient . . . Let him have the patience to be brave.

Let him be no man's man . . . Teach him always to have sublime faith in himself.

Because then he will always have sublime faith in mankind.

This is quite an order, World, but see what you can do . . . He's such a nice little fellow, my son!

New Winners at Country Club

Two new golfing champions were crowned Sunday afternoon at Tecumseh Country Club when Scott Macbeth and Ginger Burrington won the coveted titles.

Macbeth, sudden-death loser last year to Bill Holmes, rallied to beat Bob Thompson, 6-5. The new champion reeled off four straight winning holes in the second 18 holes of the 36-hole scheduled match.

Mrs. Burringer, down two holes with two to go in her match against Maurine Hannibal, upset the five-time ladies champion by squaring the match and then winning on the 19th hole.

Results of the men's flights are:

Walter Elwartowski defeated Bernie Bush, 5-3, in the second flight.

Ken Brewer trimmed Dave Genter, 5-4, for the third flight title.

Flight winners for the ladies were:

Marty Owens took the first flight against Liz Grossman.

TCC Pair Take 5th in Tourney

Stan Brion, Tecumseh Country Club pro, and Bill Holmes, six times TCC champion, finished fifth Tuesday in the Michigan PGA Pro-Am at Bay Valley Golf Club, Bay City.

It's the best finish ever by two Tecumseh golfers.

The Brion-Holmes team carded a 367 for a 12 under score in the two-day, 54-hole event.

A score of 16 under won, and three were tied at 13 under. A total of 108 teams played in the Pro-Am, the state's largest tournament for pros and amateurs.

Examination Is Sept. 2

Sept. 2 has been set as the date for a preliminary examination in District Court for Leith Arthur Friess, driver of a truck involved in the Aug. 17 fatal accident on US-233 near Riga Hwy.

Former Tecumsehite Rebecca (Barron) Allen, 18, of Adrian, was killed in the accident.

Friess was arraigned in District Court Aug. 26 and charged with negligent homicide.

He is charged with having smashed into an auto in which Mrs. Allen, her husband, Wilson, 21, her sister, Beth Baron 13 of Tipton and Melody Hemstreet, 13, of Adrian had been riding.

Lost Arts 2-Day Event

CLINTON — Donna Marion, and Joyce Piatt are co-chairmen for the Lost Arts Days activities during Clinton's Fall Festival the last weekend of September.

Lost Arts demonstrations will be staged two days this year, all day Saturday Sept. 25 and from noon Sunday, Sept. 26.

Many of the favorite old-time arts will be shown again this year such as cottage cheese making, soap making, butter churning and bread making.

There will be candle dipping, egg decorating, spinning, rug hooking, chair caning, quilting, needle pointing, tole painting, doll making and furniture stenciling.

An added feature will be the playing of old-time music by Chris Schnizlein on the center piano, and strolling musicians, who will play folk tunes on mountain dulcimers.

That's just a sample of the fascinating things planned for the Fall Festival.

As more develops we'll keep you informed.

Fall issue of the national publication, Decorator and Craft has a story about Clinton's Fall Festival Craft show.

NEW BUSINESS OWNERS — Jim and Mickie Conklin have opened Clinton Bell Party Store just east of Clinton on US-12. Jim is a real estate broker and notary public and has operated several resorts. Son, Mark, will operate the gas pump. Claude Horning of Grayling and the Conklin's grown-up family will staff the store, which features groceries, delicatessen, dairy products, ice cream and luncheon meats. Grand opening is planned for late September.

The engagement of Debbie Gamboe to Dave Prichard is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Gamboe, 210 W. Church St., Clinton. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prichard. The couple was graduated in 1975 from Clinton High School. The bride-elect is employed at the Evangelical Home, Saline and her fiance is employed at Fisher Body in Tecumseh. A May 7 wedding at the United Church of Christ, Clinton is being planned.

JC Auxiliary Sale for Burn Center

CLINTON — Clinton Area Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring a rummage sale for the National Institute for Burns Medicine in Ann Arbor Sept. 10 and 11 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

To donate items for the sale, make arrangements for pick-up by calling 456-7377.

Graduates from U of M

CLINTON — Mrs. Gerald (Donna) Marion was among 16 graduates in the class of Pediatric Nurse Practioners (PNP) at the University of Michigan's Towsley Center for Continuing Medical Education, Aug. 20.

Dr. Liz Allen, director of U-M continuing education services was the guest speaker for this, the sixth and largest graduating class in the relatively new program which prepares nurses to assist predіatricians in preventive medicine.

Mrs. Marion designed and decorated the special graduation cake for her classmates and guests for the reception.

For Donna Marion this was the conclusion of a demanding and busy eight months, but only a beginning for implementing the PNP role in the Lenawee County area, as she is the first graduate PNP in this area.

Donna has been a registered nurse for three years. She received her basic nurses training at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

During the first four months of the PNP program, she took her classes on the U-Mcampus School of Nursing.

She also went to Harley Medical Center, Flint, twice a week for clinical experience.

During the second four months, she did her student practicum in the pediatric practice of Dr. Susie Luz, MD, in Adrian.

She will continue to work with Dr. Luz and will do much of the well-child care in that practice.

Also, she will function as a PNP on a volunteer basis at the Community Action Center's well baby clinic two or three times a month.

Other plans include doing health assessments at High Point in Ann Arbor this fall and continuing the health and safety programs she has done in the past for the local school systems.

She is scheduled to speak about the PNP role before several groups this fall.

The Pediatric Nurse Practioner role is relatively new for Michigan, and new to Lenawee County.

What does a PNP do? She is a registered nurse who has completed a formal training program preparing her to specialize in the care of well children on an ambulatory basis.

The PNP has also been taught how to manage the minor illnesses of children and advise parents accordingly.

She has studied to work closely with the physician in a collegaeal manner, assuming a portion of the physician's work.

This enables the physician and PNP to spend more time with parents and children, thus giving a higher quality of care.

The PNP can handle well baby, and well child care effectively. Her post graduate preparation enables her to spot babies and children who should get personal attention from the physician.

She gives complete physical exams, and renders much counseling and anticipatory guidance to parents in regard to parenting and child rearing.

Donna's typical day begins making nursery rounds at Emma Bixby Hospital in Adrian, on the newborn babies in Dr. Luz's practice.

At this time she examines all babies assigned to Dr. Luz, records their progress, problems, and discusses with Dr. Luz the findings, the need for any tests, and referals needed.

She then visits the parents of the babies. Because Bixby has family-centered maternity care, she may talk with fathers as well as the mothers.

An afternoon may include several complete physicals, consultation with a parent, special evaluation, or assisting with sick call.

"It is a busy pace, but I really believe in and enjoy what I am doing. The PNP role has been well accepted in the area. Dr. Luz and her office staff, and the OB and pediatric staff at Bixby Hospital have been really great to work with," Donna said.

Donna and her husband, Gerald, are the parents of three daughters, Kathie 11, Kris 9, and Kim 8.

The Marions own and operate a family dairy farm in rural Clinton. They participate in Farm Bureau, church and school activities.

The Marion family will again be involved in Clinton's Fall Festival in September.

Donna is also presently recruiting and organizing nurses in the Clinton and Tecumseh areas to assist with the swine flu vaccine clinics projected for this fall.

Members Attend Assembly in Holt

The members of the Tecumseh congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses attended the semi-annual circuit assembly on Aug. 28 and 29 in Holt.

Eleven other nearby congregations attended. A highlight of the seminar was a baptism on Sunday morning of 32 persons.

"The assembly featured Bible discussions and demonstrations on how to teach and apply Bible truths and principles in the family circle," stated C.M. Dew, a local elder. "Also, true worship was stressed as a way of life."

K.R. Huckaby district supervisor, delivered the keynoted discourse on Sunday at 2 p.m. entitled "Are You Dong What God Requires of you?"

Leo Mahan circuit supervisor of 23 congregations in southeastern Michigan, also delivered Bible talks to those in attendance.

Mahan will spend a week with the Tecumseh congregation the week of Sept. 26 as part of his full-time ministry.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

Last week just as I finished my column and was leaving Macon for the week, a long line of old cars passed my house. Torn between finding out what was going on, for my readers, and getting to camp to start my cooking job I decided on the latter and promised myself I would find out and report it this week.

Sunday, Aug. 22, the Dearborn Old Car Club had a corn roast at the Eldridge place on the Mills-Macon Rd.

As for my week with the Tecumseh Indians it was super. I never had such as good time working.

The young men of this year's varsity team were a fine group and even the camp director said they were one of the best he has ever had there. The boys are certainly a credit to their parents.

Just as a head coach can't succeed without his assistants, I never could have accomplished the week's cooking without my assistant cooks!

As for getting along with the coach, his own bottle of bleu-cheese dressing and his own pitcher of Wylers on his table was all it took to make him happy.

Players' mothers took part in a dessert pool organized by some fan club members. Some moms were asked to furnish cookies and brownies, while others helped with the lemon meringue pies for Monday, the creme puffs for Tuesday and the apple pies for Wednesday.

A family potluck supper was held on Thursday at which the players, parents and coaches all met each other.

A super skit was put on by the team for all present.

Everyone sensed the unity that was beginning to develop in the young men – and so – the Tecumseh Indians have started another great year!

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

This week I prepared two new peach desserts from recipes given to me by readers. My family enjoyed them both and I think yours will too.

This first recipe was given to me by Barb Croft. It is easy to prepare, (no cooking at all), and is really good.

CINNAMON CRISP DESSERT

½ cup butter
2 eggs
1½ cups powdered sugar
2 cups sliced peaches, drained
2 packages prepared Dream Whip
Cinnamon Crisp Crackers

Layer bottom of ungreased 8x12 inch dish with whole cinnamon crisp crackers.

Combine butter, eggs, and powdered sugar in bowl, beat five minutes, and spread over layer of crackers.

Place another layer of whole cinnamon crisp crackers on top of powered sugar mixture.

Beat two packages of Dream Whip according to directions and fold in drained peaches. Spread this over second layer of crackers.

Sprinkle cinnamon crisp cracker crumbs on top.

Cover tightly and refrigerate 24 hours.

Note: I used a 9x9" pan and made it according to these directions but used only one package Dream Whip.

When I need a really good quick dessert, I often make a fruit cobbler. This fresh peach cobbler from Carol Lambert is especially good.

FRESH PEACH COBBLER

8 fresh peaches
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 cup Bisquick baking mix
¼ cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons boiling water

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Slice peaches in an 8x8 inch pan, stir in sugar and corn syrup. Combine baking mix and softened butter in small bowl. Add water and mix well.

Drop dough by spoonfuls onto fruit mixture. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until topping is golden brown. Serve warm and, if desired, with light cream or ice cream.

Hope to hear from you soon. Call 423-4848.

MSC Program

Part II

Oddly enough the work of Maurice Spears Campus does not seem to be well-known in the county. Reason may be its location or lack of publicity.

Maurice Spears Campus is the county detention center for youths aged 12-17. It works in cooperation with the Probate Court. Goal is therapeutic not punitive.

At present, the young men are there for repeated criminal offenses, the young women are there for truancy, permissiveness or other offenses. All have character disorders.

The 35-acre site is located on Airport and Cadmus Rds. It has a school, maxium security detention center, recreation area, chapel, and private quarters for young men and women.

The late Ray Herrick of Tecumseh and Judge Maurice Spears of Onsted founded the center in 1962. Before its founding, only a dilapidated TB sanitarium was available for Lenawee County's youth. Today the county's program is considered one of the top in the state.

John Baran from Tecumseh, MSC director, said it is frustrating that the campus has a distant meaning to some in the community.

He said the Campus has had a "cool reception" from Tecumseh, perhaps because citizens don't realize Tecumseh youth also are sent to the Campus.

Baran summarized the principles of the program at Maurice Spears Campus in five points.

First, personal involvement in the program is required. Staff plays an important part in committment to working in the program.

Availability of resources keeps the youths involved on a mental level. Students attend school. Classroom field trips are important to practical learning experiences. Auto shop, woodworking, gardening and sports are some activities available on campus. Field trips for entertainment are allowed when earned by responsible behavior.

Staff members must be compassionate persons with common sense, insists Baran. "To learn how to communicate with adults, adults must be brutally honest with youth so they can learn how to make friends by example. Establishing trust is important," asserted Baran.

Two other important principles in the Reality Therapy program are facing reality and recognizing irresponsible behavior. This is accomplished partly in group and private therapy discussions. Biographies are also used in an innovative way to give students an opportunity to discuss the behavior of others and to gain understanding of their own behavior. This technique is called "bibliotherapy".

Each student is also asked to write a brief autobiography. Other themes are also assigned to develop writing skills and understanding of behavior simultaneously.

The youths pay for damage they do from their own "accounts," gifts of money which are evenly distributed among the youth.

Finally commitment or contract is important to accomplish the goals or Reality Therapy.

Having had the opportunity to talk to a group of students at lunch, it appears even newcomers understand why they are at the Maurice Spears Campus. They are aware that only they can help themselves. When they accept this and work with the program to change, they do.

Although the campus has 60 students, about one-third of them are now non-county residents. One reason for this is that juveniles must be treated in the county in which they break the law. Another reason for detaining them in Lenawee County is for the county's public safety.

However the county does not receive reimbursement from the various counties for treating these youth. Records now being kept may be used to get reimbursement in the future.

Baran said he knows Lenawee County Youth are not scattered throughout Michigan because he keeps abreast of this situation.

2 Year Grant for Library

Tecumseh Public Library has received a $700 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek.

The grant will be used over a two-year period to improve interlibrary loan service to library users through the Ohio College Library Center (OCLC), a computerized data base which provides a nationwide informational system to libraries of all sizes and types.

Dr. Russell G. Mowby, Kellogg Foundation President, explained that "the grant to Tecumseh Public Library is one of approximately 450 similar awards being made to public and academic - college, university, and community college - libraries throughout the state to utilize existing informational networking to improve services for all Michigan library patrons."

The Foundation is providing over $1,500,000 for the total statewide informational network program which will tie Michigan's libraries to the state's regional library system centers, the State Library Service in Lansing and the Michigan Library Consortium with the national cataloging service of the Ohio College Library Center of Columbus Ohio.

Re-enlists for Six Years

Marine Sgt. Robert S. Souders, 27, son of Mrs. Ada Wilson of Lee Villa Terrace Court, has reenlisted for six years while serving at the Marine Corps Air Station New River, Jacksonville, N.C.

A 1968 graduate of Adrian High School, he joined the Marine Corps in Aug. 1973.

Achievement Remarkable

The junior and senior high school members of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church contributed "a remarkable achievement" said Pastor Laslo Gero during the Vacation Bible School which ended Aug. 27.

The young people completely refurbished the signs in front of the church. The old "rugged" cross was straightened and painted.

Eighteen young people and their leaders worked hard that week, commented the pastor.

The younger ones enjoyed the evening schedule of the VBS, especially when helium filled balloons were released with postcards attached.

The child who receives a postcard from the farthest distance will earn $25.

Last Sunday Matthew Richard was baptized. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Neilson. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Sheldon, members of the congregation.

Sept. 5 is the last 9:30 a.m. service with Holy Communion. Regular schedule resumes Sept. 12 with Sunday School at 9:15 a.m. and Worship Service at 10:30 a.m.

SYMBOL OF NOBILITY

And yet it was not the choice of Benjamin Franklin, one of our wisest patriots.

To emphasize the differences between the world's first democracy and the warlike, aristocratic powers of Europe, Franklin chose the docile turkey, so common to America—instead of a bird of prey—to symbolize the United States.

But the eagle, long a sign of courage, freedom and power, caught the fancy of Franklin's fellow patriots gathered at Philadelphia in 1787.

To them "noble" meant more than hereditary rank.

Noble also meant "an exalted moral character, admirable in conception, stately"—all qualities epitomizing the democratic experiment called the United States.

And to this day the United States strives to retain that noble character symbolized by its emblem, embodied by its spiritual heritage.

ABC Plan Labor Day Festivities

BRITTON — American Bohemian Club (ABC) is scheduling a busy Labor Day weekend.

The club, composed of 55 family members from Southeastern Michigan (several from the local area) will hold a multi-ethnic fair Sept. 3-4 from 11 a.m.-11 p.m. in downtown Ann Arbor on Main St.

The local ABC'ers will hold a pastry booth with plenty of beer and slivovitz on the menu.

Local musicians donating their talents at the fair are Joe Prochaska and Tom Koman with accordian music and Mel Simecek on his tuba, plus other talents.

On Sept. 5 from 7-11 p.m. the local Bohemians will hold a dance at Hickory Park with music provided by the Walter Klatak band.

Public is invited. A donation charge will be asked.

On Labor Day, Sept. 6, the club is sponsoring a chicken barbecue under Mel's tent in downtown Britton, beginning at 2 p.m. Public is invited.

Visit Arizona

BRITTON — Nancy Lorenz and cousin, Sandy Lorenz were guests of Nancy's brother, John in Scottsdale, Ariz. for 10 days.

While there, they visited Mt. Lemmon, Big Surf, Camelback Mt., The Praying Monk and spent one day tubing down the Salt River and one day in Nogales, Mexico.

John and Nancy are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lorenz and Sandy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lorenz.

For The Record

BRITTON — A mixup occurred in the reports of the church activities in last week's Tecumseh Herald. The old fashioned revival is to be held at the Ridgeway Baptist Church. The story incorrectly named the Ridgeway Bethel Baptist Church, which does not exist.

Also, the head on the account of the Ladies' Missionary meeting of the Ridgeway Baptist Church was incorrect.

The Herald regrets the errors.

BREATH OF LIFE

$150 Goal Set For Campaign

BRITTON — Mrs. Ned Brown, chairwoman for the Britton 1976 Breath of Life Campaign, announces a fund drive will be held during September to aid the fight against cystic fibrosis, in the Britton area.

A goal of $150 has been set again for this year's support research and care for children suffering from cystic fibrosis, a severe asthma, bronchitis and other related lung damaging diseases.

A total of $170 was raised last year for the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation from the excellent response from the community.

Door-to-door volunteers, working under Mrs. Brown, are Mrs. Meridith Lorenz, Mrs. Phyllis Below, Mrs. Ginger Cline, Mrs. Dorothy Lorenz, Mrs. Nancy Gibbs and Mrs. Linda Linn.

A BLUE RIBBON FOR "COMFORT"—Ridgeway Elementary School students walked away with first prize in the Lenawee County Fair quilt competition for the open class division of the theme division. The Bicentennial was their theme. Each block was composed of patches disigned by students of each grade. Blocks were designed around a theme, such as the alphabet, by one kindergarten class and a birthday cake by the first grade. Mothers of Ridgeway School then helped the students join the blocks and tie off the quilt. Names of teachers and mothers surround the border of the red, white and blue background. Lois Fleming, principal and Mrs. Franklin Schroeder, of Ridgeway PTO, pictured, decided to enter the quilt in the open competition. Daughter Arrin Schroeder will be a fifth grader at the school. The quilt will be a wall hanging in the school. (Photo by Kent Downing)

Two Meetings Set for Kiwanis

A business meeting is scheduled for the Sept. 7 meeting date for Tecumseh Kiwanis. A board meeting will be held Sept. 2.

The Rev. Allan Gray, president designate and delegate gave highlights of the Kiwanis International convention at San Diego, Calif. Information from seminars and administrative changes were reported.

Two individuals were inducted by Ed Walters, membership chairman. Thomas Carpenter was sponsored by Pete Hayes and David Fontaine was sponsored by Carl Lamphier.

Guests from Blissfield were Virgil Eisenman, Lawrence Ricker and Merele Betz; Norman Spencer from Britton and Gene Tuckey of Tecumseh were also guests.

At the Aug. 24 meeting, Trooper Earl Raczkowski of the Michigan State Police Clinton Post presented a program on child abuse. Dr. Dean Kirkland was chairman. The Rev. Allan Gray and Russell Scott reported on the state convention.

At the state convention in Kalamazoo, Martin Vegter was elected trustee of Division 8 for the Forney Clement Foundation. He also attended seminars.

Hospital Training Is Finished

Navy Hospitalman Appren. Ricky L. Hand, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Hand of 7887 Smith, was graduated from the Navy's Hospital Corps School at San Diego, Calif.

During the 10-week course, he studied the basic medical procedures used by corpsmen as they assist Navy doctors and nurses.

Hand was introduced to all phases of military health services including x-ray technology, laboratory analysis, general practice and surgery.

A 1975 graduate of Tecumseh High School, he joined the Navy in Feb. 1976.

ROBINS ROBINS ROBINS

Apparently this is a super season for robins. At least here where Logan Street meets Evans there has been a bumper crop. The lawns the trees, the bushes, and the creek bank — everything full.

As for those who do spend a happy winter in the sunny southland, their trip back to the family rearing areas has been well studied.

They migrate mostly during daylight hours and travel approximately 38 miles per day. The males reach their destination a week or 10 days ahead of the females.

But what are the formalities of the fall jaunt? With no territorial boundries to establish, do perhaps males and females travel together?

And since it is generally accepted that the increasing number of daylight hours is one of the main factors triggering the urge to fly north and return to old breeding areas, is it likewise true that the shortening of the days, the decreasing of the daylight hours, prompts the southward migration?

None of our books have much to say about these matters.

Oh my though, they certainly have a great deal to say about other facets of the robins' life.

For example. In this area it usually takes about six weeks to go from egg to independence -- a two-week incubation period, a two-week stay in the nest, and a two-week school session during which the males take over most of the instruction duties and teach the kids the tricks of survival.

However, there is a documented record of one pair of robins nesting in the far north who, instead of four weeks, used merely 10 days to bring their family "from egg to first flight".

The long Artic days were apparently responsible because the birds were estimated to work 21 hours per day. That is carrying 'overtime' and 'forced feeding' almost to the point of being ridiculous.

One book gives some interesting nest building facts and figures. Although the male may help a little by occasionally bringing a bit of nesting material, the female is in charge of and does the actual construction work.

On an average she takes four or five days to build a nest but, under extremely adverse weather conditions, it has been known to drag out to a tedious 20 days.

If the need is urgent a talented lady can build a nest for her second brood in one day.

The usual number of pretty blue eggs is three or four and they are laid one per day. In the late morning.

Some claim that if a cowbird intrudes and deposits her egg in a robin's nest, it is the cowbird who loses. The robin will throw out the other bird's egg.

And one last stat -- life expectancy: 14 months for a newly hatched robin but the longevity record for a non-protected bird is 10 years.

What a wonderful contrast to not many years ago when the heavy spraying of DDT and other insecticides almost wiped out the robin population. Fortunately the danger was realized in time.

Young robins are always great fun and, since there are two and usually three broods a season, there are always young ones to watch. With their short bobbed tails, fat round bodies, big yellow rimmed bills, these youngsters look so young and not quite sure of themselves.

In surprisingly short time they are completely capable of coping but they still look young. Those pale speckled breasts and white bibs on the throats are tell-tale signs.

There is a great deal of information in my bird books about the robins' northward migration in the spring but little mention of their southward trip in the fall.

Actually the spring flight is the most exciting I guess. After a long and dreary winter those first sightings are precious.

Even though more and more birds are wintering in the swamps or sheltered areas of the northern states everyone seems to think of the robins as harbingers of spring.

Reunion Held

Beevers and Lee families held their 80th reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beevers, S. Evans St., Sunday with 62 persons present. A potluck dinner was shared.

Those attending came from Morenci, Waterford, Britton, Clinton, Jackson, Jonesville, Blissfield, Pennsylvania and Tecumseh.

Plans were made to hold the next year's reunion at Waterford Park, Morenci.

The family has learned from reading records of past reunions that the first reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Ben Beevers on Raisin Rd., grandmother of Don Beevers, and there were 110 persons there. Ham to feed them all only cost $1.

James C. Cubberly, a 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School, received his master of science degree at commencement at Pennsylvania State University, Aug. 28. He was discharged from the Navy in 1969 and earned his BS degree at Michigan State University in 1972. Currently he is senior planner for Centre County Pennsylvania. Neva Cubberly and daughter, Donna spent the weekend in Milesburg, Pa. visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Cubberly and daughter, Susan.

BULLDOGGER—Ray Ostrander of Clinton, owner of Tecumseh Collision Service will be a contestant in one of the six events during the Second Annual B-Bar-J Ranch Rodeo, Sept. 4,5,6 located four miles east of Napoleon. Also shown, is the hazer on the horse at the left, Roger Logan of Onsted. Rodeo will benefit Lenawee, Hillsdale and Jackson Area Muscular Dystrophy Association. Former Tecumseh area residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spence are sponsors of the event.

SCHOOL BOARD BUILDING REPAIRED — Repairmen recently completed renovations on the Tecumseh Board of Education offices on W. Chicago. Brick and masonry were repaired replaced and sand blasted. Trim was painted and eaves troughs repaired. William H. Kelley Co. of East Lansing repaired the masonry while Tecumseh school workers handled the rest. Total cost was estimated at $10,000. Above, George Kempf, Robert Glascock and Chuck Frost complete trim work.

Clinic Planned

A coaching clinic will be held Sunday, Sept. 19 for the national punt, pass and kick competition.

The competition is for youths 8-13 years old.

The clinic will start at 1 p.m. at the Clinton football field. Registration forms are available at the George Underwood Lincoln Mercury dealership in Clinton. Registration will not be taken after Sept. 18.

Investigate Complaints

Tecumseh police investigated six complaint reports this week. All incidents were minor, but one Tecumseh man was arrested for driving on a revoked license.

A resume includes:

Aug. 26 — KenRay's reported the apprehension of two 13 and 14 year-old girls caught shoplifting in the store. The girls reportedly took pencil and marker sets from KenRays and nylon elastic jewelry from the D&C store.

Aug. 28 — Ed's Standard Station, 500 N. Evans reported the larceny of motor parts from an auto. Estimated loss was set at $15.

Jeff Sanderson, 303 W. Russell, received a dog bite to the lower right leg. He was in the back yard at 205 W. Russell when he received the bite. Dog owners were advised to watch the dog the required 10 days.

Aug. 30 — Gordon E. Schultz, 34, 606 W. Cummins, was arrested for driving on a revoked license. He was spotted by police pulling out of Adrian St. onto Chicago in front of another car. No accident occurred. Schultz was stopped just west of the intersection when police found he had no license.

Steve DeClercq, of 512 W. Kilbuck, reported the theft of a 10-speed bicycle. He left the bike on his back porch and found it missing in the morning.

REGULATIONS DELAY CLASSES

THS Starts Day Late

A fire marshal from Jackson told school officials Friday that Tecumseh High School could not start on schedule - Tuesday, Sept. 7th. - after a tour of the cafeteria area failed his inspection.

With regards to adjacent construction underway in the immediate area, he ordered a one hour rated firewall constructed at the north end of the cafeteria, closing off the north exit of the cafeteria. This temporary wall will be removed when work is completed on the $1.5 million high school addition.

He also ordered temporary doors removed and other openings on the east side of the cafeteria sealed off until fire rated doors arrive from the supplier. These doors have been shipped, officials say, but lost enroute.

At the present, the cafeteria will be approximately 500 square feet smaller. School officials contemplate serving meals in the cafeteria later this month. Students have been asked to bring sack lunches until cafeteria is completed.

Wallace MacGeorge, Tecumseh fire chief, inspected the cafeteria Tuesday afternoon, approving the temporary fire wall and the closing of the openings on the east side leading to the kitchen area. Classes started Wednesday.

Ratify Salary Schedule

A two-year salary schedule for teachers in the Tecumseh schools was ratified last Thursday by the Tecumseh Education Association and the School Board.

Board held a special session that evening for ratification.

Salaries were raised by 3.75 percent the first year and 3.40 percent the second year, Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, explains. The adjustment makes the local teachers the highest paid in the county.

The base for a teacher with a B.A. degree was raised from $9,900 to $10,275 with a maximum in 11 years of $16,738.

For the 1977-78 school term, the base will be raised again, with a starting salary of $10,625 and a maximum of $17,308 after 11 years.

Teachers with a masters degree will start the 1976-77 school year at $11,328. Next year the base will be raised to $11,714 with a maximum of $19,083 after 11 years.

Cooley says the total package amounts to an increase of just over seven percent with the biggest increase coming in health care costs. He pointed out that hospital care alone amounted to a hike of $43,000.

TEA and School Board had been negotiating salaries since spring, and will not negotiate again until 1978 when the present contract expires. Last year the contract was re-written for a three-year agreement, except for salaries.

Police Residency To Be Required

Tecumseh City Council agreed Monday night to the contract ratified by Tecumseh police union local 2170.

Major change in the contract is a residency requirement, permanent shift, pay increase of between $400-$500 per officer. City employs 12.

Officers have been working without a contract since July 1.

Only sore spot in the contract was the residency requirement.

Officers turned down the contract on that point in mid-August.

Contract requires, as of June 30, 1976, all officers are required to live in the city. This will allow the two now living outside the city to do so and remain employed.

Monday night Council debated the usefulness of a residency requirement. Mayor Harold Easton spoke strongly in favor of it.

"I believe the people who don't live in the city don't have their heart in their job," Easton told Council.

Council members Mary Bowers and Len DeMoss thought the residency requirement on the police department was showing "partiality." They suggested residency requirements be imposed on all city employees or none and that perhaps it should start with those in higher offices.

The city has never had anything like a residency requirement in any other contract, said city manager Cal Zorn. "I can't see any reason to take it out," he added.

He went on to say that the requirement was a "request of management," that the officers "bargained for this and now they have agreed to it." Zorn said he believed it would leave "a door open for management."

Easton also criticized the provision for permanent shift.

"I'm against any contract which takes power away from management. . .I think management should have the right to tell a man what shift he works on," Easton stated.

Zorn said rotation is something the city would prefer. First, permanent shifts sometimes mean all rookies may be left on one shift, since senior officers select days or afternoons and second, officers may develop patterns not easily broken.

Police Chief Merlin Mowery estimated at least 95 percent of departments rotate shifts, citing efficiency as another reason.

However he stated "Tecumseh is fortunate to have as much police experience as it has," and the city "does not have a 'rookie' or 'old man' problem" since the youngest officers have more than one year experience in police work.

Councilman Len DeMoss suggested at one point that the residency requirement be exchanged for permanent shift.

This would entail reopening of the collective bargaining process which did not appeal to Council. It then agreed to have the city manager proceed with the new contract.

PEGGY CLEVELAND

Daughter, 16, Is Missing

Lyman Cleveland, 808 Murray Dr., reported his daughter missing Saturday from his home.

The daughter, Peggy Elain Cleveland was visiting him from Oregon after arriving Friday. Saturday, she left a note that she was going to look for work and would be back soon. She still has not been seen or heard from.

She is described as 5'3", 16 years old, 120 pounds, long brown hair and eyes.

Anyone with information can contact Cleveland at 808 Murray Dr., or the Tecumseh Police Department.

Lee Taylor Is Appointed Bank Director

Lee W. Taylor, 9525 Pocklington Rd., was appointed a director of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh by the board Wednesday. His appointment raises the number of directors on the board to 11.

A life-long resident of the Britton area, the new 54-year-old director farms 800 acres and once operated L&I Leasing, a trucking firm at Britton. He has two married daughters and a son, Perry, 18, who assists in the farming.

Other board action included the appointment of Nina F. Wright as auditor along with her other duties as vice-president, and J.L. Stoner was named vice-president and assistant security officer.

DPH Denies Hospital's Lease Plan

A Herrick Memorial Hospital proposal to lease space to a private physician to operate a diagnostic service, independently of the hospital, has been denied by the Michigan Department of Public Health (DPH).

An unclear need for the service and the "appropriate geographical site" were cited as reasons for the denial.

HMM had agreed to lease available space to Dr. Nancy Newlin, of Tecumseh, for the purpose of operating a diagnostic service, utilizing ultrasound capability.

Method, which uses the principal of sonar, is used in lieu of X-ray, as in obstetrics examine a fetus, or in procedures to locate a tumor, etc.

Dr. Newlin is considered "well qualified" by the HMH Board and is a member of the hospital staff.

Hospital Administrator William Groover said he is not sure whether the Hospital Board will appeal the decision. Appeal must be made within 30 days.

He stated the hospital felt there was a demand for the service. It surveyed physicians and felt there was a need.

Groover stated Tecumseh is probably as close to every other part of the county as Adrian's Bixby Hospital.

Furthermore, the board offered to lease the space since the hospital is a center for health care in the community and some in-patients could also benefit from the service.

Dr. Newlin would not have to apply for approval from the state DPH to open a private office, in Tecumseh or anywhere else in the county, Groover stated.

Closest available service of this kind is now in Ann Arbor or Toledo.

OK Street Religious Meetings

City permission for the Tecumseh House of Prayer, Inc. to hold street meetings required two separate motions at Monday night's council meeting.

Approval to the local group was given in a 5-2 vote in favor of the meetings. Councilmen Ray Puffer and James Palmer voted "no."

Councilman Ray Puffer said he opposed the meetings because "I don't feel its a legitimate religious group. It has no church affliation."

Palmer said he believed there were alternatives to street ministry. He didn't feel the city should "authorize" these meetings.

Phil Zick representing the group at Monday's meeting told Council the ministry would be conducted to try to reach teenagers and addicts. Funds would not be solicited. Approach would be to enable persons to talk out their problems.

Zick was a member of a group which tried to found a Christian Coffee House. Because the federal government authorizes only religious organizations, the group incorporated to gain its non-profit, tax exempt status, Zick told Council. It plans to purchase the former Tecumseh Assembly of God Church on Bidwell as its "church."

Council members Carlton Cook and Aden Mead said they "didn't see any harm" in permitting the meetings. Council defeated a motion to prohibit the meetings then approved a motion to permit them.

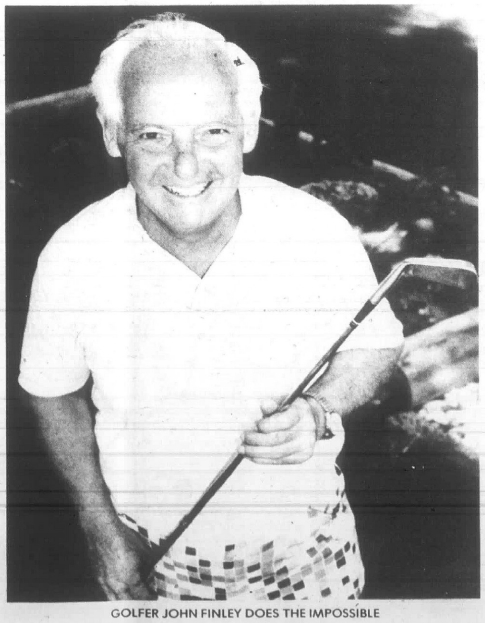
Approve 35¢ Bank Dividend

A cash dividend of 35c per share was approved by the directors of the United Savings Bank Wednesday.

The Oct. 1 dividend is payable to shareholders of record on Sept. 15th.

2 Rounds, 2 Aces, 2 Days!

TCC's John Finley Is JP's 'Winner of the Day'



GOLFER JOHN FINLEY DOES THE IMPOSSIBLE

Every once in a while, a near-impossibility occurs in sports, and such an oddity happened last week at the Tecumseh Country Club.

John Finley, a 13-handicapper playing golf for over 30 years, cashed in two aces on two successive rounds of golf on two consecutive days.

His first hole-in-one occurred Wednesday on the 150-yard 15th hole, where his five iron turned the trick. His ball hit the pin just above the cup and dropped straight down for his first ace.

Playing again on Thursday, John flew a five-wood just short of the 190-yard 4th hole, The ball trickled on to the green and straight into the cup.

Wednesday's hole-in-one was the first ever by John, who under went open heart surgery this past year.

The incredible feat was relayed to WJR's J.P. McCarthy Friday morning by Barb Blanden, and the popular J.P. made John his "Winner of the Day."

Witnesses Wednesday were Dwight Helms, Tecumseh Country Club assistant pro, and Harold Kelley. Kelley also was with John Thursday along with Gordon Clark and John Williams.

A third hole-in-one at the Country Club was shot Sunday when John Williams, a witness Thursday to Finley's second ace, dropped a six-wood shot on the edge of the 4th hole.

Wendell Disbrow, Bob Burrington and Dick Erb were in the tournament playing foursome and watched as the ball curled across the green and dropped in for the third hole-in-one at the Club within a five-day period.

REV. and MRS. DAVID HOLLY

Celebrate 25th Anniversary

The Rev. and Mrs. David M. Holly, pastor of the Grace Bible Church, will be honored with an open house in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary at the church Sept. 13 from 7-9 p.m.

Hosts are their daughter, Mrs. James (Joanna) Abbott of Okemos, and sons, Jerry, James and John of Tecumseh.

David M. Holly of Reading Center, N.Y. and Lois L. Foster of Beckley, W. Va., were married Aug. 17, 1951 at the Mt. Tabor Baptist Church in Beckley, W. Va., by the Rev. B.C. Jennings.

During their anniversary, the Hollys were vacationing in the area of Watoga State Park, W. Va., where they spent their honeymoon.

The Rev. and Mrs. Holly have lived in Tecumseh for 17 years.

Louise Marks 25th Year with Hanna

Louise Reum, office manager for F.C. Hanna Insurance Agency marked 25 years with the business last Friday.

She started in 1951 when F.C. "Charlie" Hanna, the founder, owned the agency.

Louise probably holds more seniority as a secretary or office manager than anyone else in Tecumseh.

Tommy Dorsey Concert Sept. 16

When the one and only Tommy Dorsey Orchestra performs for concert and dance at the Tecumseh High School on Sept. 16, it will be directed by Murray McEachern.

With the resurgence of the big bands, when the decision was made to put the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra on the road again, it was only fitting and logical that McEachern be selected to head the group.

The Toronto-born band leader became one of the all-time great jazz-men during what is now nostalgically called the big band era and is still going strong today. He calls the opportunity to lead the Dorsey band his "second big break."

Murray McEachern's "first big break" came when he joined the Benny Goodman Band in 1936 for $80 a week..

Later he played with Glen Gray, Paul Whiteman, Freddy Martin, David Rose, and Harry James.

The personable McEachern is accomplished on many horns, but often played only one with a given band. With Goodman and Martin, it was the trombone; with Gray, the saxophone; with others, the trumpet and clarinet.

Recently, on a European tour, he played a concerto for trombone and saxophone written for him by his friend, Billy May.

Murray played the trombone for Jimmy Stewart's starring role in the movie, "The Glenn Miller Story," and did the same for Paul Newman in the movie, "Paris Blues."

The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra concert and dance at the Tecumseh High School on Sept. 16, is being presented by the Tecumseh Band Boosters. One ticket will admit to both the concert (9-9:45 p.m.) and dance (10 p.m. - 1 a.m.) All tickets will be more at the door.

Advance tickets are now on sale at the Tecumseh High School, and from all Tecumseh High Band Boosters and music students.

Announcing the acceptance of PURSE FUNERAL HOME
into membership in
The International Order of the Golden Rule

This is an important announcement because membership in the Order is open only to funeral directing firms of high professional standing. It is a distinction shared by carefully selected firms throughout the world.

Membership is granted only after the Order has made direct contact with those who are in the best possible position to know whether a firm is worthy: families served, clergymen, and business and professional people of the community.

The Order confidently recommends this firm to the people of this community and the surrounding area.

Dear World

MY YOUNG SON starts to school today . . . It's going to be sort of strange and new to him for awhile, and I wish you would sort of treat him gently.

You see, up to now he's been king of the roost . . . He's been boss of the backyard . . . His mother has always been near to soothe his wounds and repair his feelings.

But now things are going to be different.

This morning he's going to walk down the front steps, wave his hand, and start out on the great adventure . . . It is an adventure that might take him across continents, across oceans . . . It's an adventure that will probably include wars and tragedy and sorrow . . . To live his life in the world he will have to live in, will require faith and love and courage.

So, World, I wish you would sort of look after him . . . Take him by the hand and teach him things he will have to know.

But do it gently, if you can.

He will have to learn, I know, that all men are not just, that all men are not true.

But teach him also that for every scoundrel there is a hero . . . that for every crooked politician there's a great and dedicated leader . . . Teach him that for every enemy, there is a friend.

Steer him away from envy, if you can . . . and teach him the secret of quiet laughter.

In school, World, teach him it is far more honorable to fail than to cheat . . . Teach him to have faith in his own idea, even if everyone says they are wrong . . . Teach him to be gentle with gentle people and tough with tough people.

Try to give my son the strength not to follow the crowd when everyone is getting on the bandwagon . . . Teach him to listen to all men — but teach him also to filter all he hears on a screen of truth and take just the good that siphons through.

Teach him, if you can, how to laugh when he's sad . . . Teach him there is no shame in tears . . . Teach him there can be glory in failure and despair in success.

Treat him gently, World, if you can, but don't coddle him . . . Because only the test of fire makes fine steel . . . Let him have the courage to be impatient . . . Let him have the patience to be brave.

Let him be no man's man . . . Teach him always to have sublime faith in himself.

Because then he will always have sublime faith in mankind.

This is quite an order, World, but see what you can do . . . He's such a nice little fellow, my son!

'TIS FALL

Not too long ago someone said that we were probably going to have an early fall this year and that everything was at least two weeks ahead of schedule. More and more it looks as though that prediction is coming true.

Of course, with Michigan's changeable weather, I could be all wrong in 10 days but, as by this dication, there is a definite feel of fall in the air.

For a few days the temperatures have been almost more than fallish. We all should be used to going from air-conditioning to furnace heat in the space of a day but I seriously doubt that the Duncans will ever learn to take it in stride.

Even though it happens every year it comes as a shock. There will, of course, be lots and lots of hot weather yet — but there will be a different feel to it.

A September and October sun can blister, boil and melt but step in the shade and the air feels cool.

Another thing responsible for today's early fall mood is that the lack of rain has hurried the fallish sights and smells. Things smell dusty and dry because they are.

Hopefully the drought will be broken soon but I wonder if the rains will be in time. The grass, trees, and shrubs are crying for water and I refuse to even think about what the home gardeners and farmers are needing.

The creek which was so high early in the summer shrinks every day — it is as though someone has pulled a plug and the water is just disappearing.

The trees' reaction to this long dry spell is an early leaf fall. Raking yards before Labor Day is not the usual thing but there are some places where it has been necessary.

Our walnut trees always drop their leaves early but well, yes, they are about two weeks ahead of themselves.

Ditto the elm tree in back. To see those dried up elm leaves falling causes great concern — some of them yellow and some brown and, of course, our worries are is the tree merely reacting to the weather or has it fallen victim to the dread Dutch elm disease?

Oh, how we hope that it is the former. For years this tree has withstood the disease but it is one of the few left and always in the back of our minds is the nagging question 'how much longer?'

The only thing we know to do is keep giving the elm long and tall drinks of turpentine — and keep our fingers crossed.

Since mid-August we have been amazed at the robins. So many of them. Even though it seemed too early for such things there was one thought that persisted in raising its ugly head when we could count nine to twenty robins congregating in the yard.

As much as we dislike the idea they simply had to be getting together to talk over travel plans. Yesterday and today the lawn is quite empty but late yesterday afternoon we suddenly realized that there were robins everywhere.

Had the old bunch come back or was it a traveling group who decided this was a good place to rest for the night? And will we be revisited at dinner time today?

One sure sign of fall was smeared all around the mouth of the squirrel who scrambled up on the neary-my-window feeder this morning.

One of this summer's youngsters, he is full gorwn now and his body is losing some of its long skinny underfed look. A few more lunches of corn and sunflower seeds plus the aquisition of his heavy fur coat and he will be a big handsome fellow who finally does credit to his luxurously bushy tail and huge hind feet.

The messy dark brown stain around his mouth was a sure-fire sign that he had been at the walnuts. And what is a better sign that is fall!

MR. and MRS. STEVEN ELDRED

Couple United at Plymouth Church

After a four-day honeymoon in Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Steven R. Eldred are at home, 159 W. Chicago Blvd., Britton.

Lou Ann Schultz and Steven R. Eldred were married Aug. 28 at 7 p.m. at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Plymouth with the Rev. Leonard J. Koeninger officiating at the ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schultz of 7854 Lilly Rd. in Canton, Mich. and the groom's father is Donald A. Lutton, 5410 Britton Hwy., Britton.

Mrs. Leonard J. Koeninger was organist.

Sue Gates, the bride's sister of Southfield was matron of honor. Tom Korican of Britton was best man.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Roma Hall in Ann Arbor.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Eastern Michigan University and is a teacher at Pinckney Middle Schools, Pinckney. The groom is a 1969 graduate of Michigan State University and is employed at Fingerle Lumber Co. in Ann Arbor and C.J.'s restaurant in Plymouth.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's family.

Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Mr.and Mrs. Hearold Coates will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary Sept. 12.

Hearold Coates and Lenore DePuy were married Sept. 12, 1936 by the Rev. Walter C. B. Saxman at the home of her parents, the late Neil and Beatrice DePuy.

They have two children, Mrs. Ronald (Ruth Ann) Sturgeon of Cabot, Arkansas and Larry Coates of Tecumseh; three grandsons, Craig and Eric Sturgeon and Neil Coates.

There will be no formal celebration as their daughter, Ruth Ann is unable to attend.

They went to supper Sept. 10 with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kempf of Vineyard Lake.

Cheryl Lynne Weds Gordon Gibson

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gibson have made their home in Telluride, Colo. after their wedding July 24 at the Ann Arbor Campus Chapel. The Rev. Robert Porter officiated at the ceremony.

The former Cheryl Lynne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lynne of Detroit. Gordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson.

Gordon is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a masters degree in special education. Cheryl is a reading specialist and graduate of the University of Michigan and Michigan State University. They will teach in their field and Gordon will also coach basketball.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of white eyelet designed and made by her mother. The scoop neckline was trimmed with a flounce and the empire waistline was trimmed with a pale yellow satin sash, woven through beading. The skirt flounce had matching trim.

Her waist length veil was accented with daisies. She carried daisies and baby's breath.

the bride's sister, Judy Lippman of Louisville, Ky. was matron of honor. She wore a yellow gown styled similarly to the bride. She wore a floral headpiece.

Heather Renee Dicks, the groom's neice was flower girl wearing a white eyelet dress with yellow trim. She carried a basket of daisies.

Alex Gibson of Fort Collins, Colo. was his brother's best man. Glenn Betzoldt of Alpena and Jim Woodward of Ypsilanti were ushers.

A dinner-dance reception was held at the Weller's Carriage House in Saline for 130 guests.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Casa Nova restaurant in Ypsilanti.

MR. and MRS. GORDON GIBSON

Service Change for Fall, Winter

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

This week I have chosen two recipes that are ideal for packing in lunches or for after school snacks. Kathy Hartley gave me this recipe for brownies that are easy to prepare and are really good.

PERFECT FUDGE BROWNIES

2 sticks of margarine
4 ounces (4 squares) chocolate
1½ cups plus 2 tablespoons sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
4 eggs slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup chopped nuts (optional)

Melt margarine and chocolate over low heat; cool.

Sifted together flour, baking powder, and salt.

Gradually add sugar to eggs, mixing thoroughly. Add vanilla and cooled margarine mixture, blending well.

Stir in dry ingredients and blend in chopped nuts.

Turn batter into a greased 13x9 inch pan. Bake 375 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

This second recipe is my favorite cookie recipe. One batch makes eight dozen cookies. They keep well, freeze well, and are delicious.

JUMBO COOKIES

1 cup boiling water
2 cups raisins
4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cloves
1 cup softened margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts

Add boiling water to raisins in saucepan and boil 5 minutes. Remove from heat to cool.

Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, and spices.

Cream margarine in bowl, add sugars, and beat until well blended.

Add eggs and vanilla and beat well.

Gradually add sifted dry ingredients, mixing well.

Stir in cooled raisins and nuts. Drop by teaspoon 2 inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Bake 10-12 minutes, at 350 degrees.+++

Hope to hear from you. Call 423-4848.

BRITTON — Harvest seasons are busy times not only for men but for the entire family.

During the early part of this century women's work during the harvest season was much more difficult than at present.

It was not uncommon for women to help shock the grain and also assist with the chores. Most farms had horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, chickens, ducks, geese sometimes turkeys, rabbits, a few guneas, and even a peacock or two.

All had to be fed and a supply of water kept for them.

Women and children helped keep water tanks full, especially if the wind was too calm to operate the windmill.

Nearly all farmers got up at day break. By the time the morning chores were done, they had developed an appetite and were ready for a hearty breakfast.

In those days breakfasts were not the ready prepared kind served in many homes today. A typical farm breakfast consisted of homemade bread, butter, fried potatoes, bacon and eggs, and coffee with cream.

Some farmers might have been considered eccentric. One man insisted on having hot baking powder biscuits every morning. Another wanted baked beans. While another wasn't satisfied unless he had pancakes every morning.

The threshing season found housewives exceptionally busy. The men with the threshing rig stayed over night at the farm where they were to thresh.

Sometimes it was after dark before the slow moving outfit chugged into the farm yard. Frequently the men had not had supper and the homemaker had to be prepared to serve the hungry men.

The next morning breakfast had to be served, not only to the family but also to the threshers, (men who operated the rig). What appetites they had.

As soon as the threshers left the house after breakfast, the housewife examined the beds where the men had slept to make sure that they had not brought any bed bugs. Most of the threshing crew came from respectable homes but could have carried bed bugs from some place where they had stayed.

Breakfast over, preparations were begun for dinner. Quantities of food must be prepared. Often a large beef roast gotten from the meat market late the day before or early that morning (homes lacked refrigeration) or chickens were started to cook.

Pies, at least three or four were baked. A large kettleful of potatoes was peeled and vegetable prepared. In addition there would be homemade bread, pickles - (beet, sweet apple, or string bean), assorted relishes, cabbage salad, jams, and cheese. Usually one or two neighbor ladies helped with meals.

Shortly before noon, children placed a large wash tub on a couple of crates and filled the tub partly full of water so the men could wash before eating. Then they put a mirror, comb, bar of soap, and large roller towels in a convenient place for the men to use.

As soon as some of the men had eaten and left the table the dirty dishes were removed and a fresh place setting put on. Older girls help wait table. By the time the men, women, and children had eaten about 25 had been fed.

Dinner over, dishes had to be washed and the table set for supper. Preparations started immediately for the next meal.

Supper menus usually included American fried potatoes or potato salad, platters of cold meat, deviled eggs, sliced tomatoes, pickles, fruit (fresh or canned), cake and tea or coffee.

Farm families having only a few acres of grain got by with serving only one or two meals, while on larger farms it took longer to thresh which meant that several meals had to be served.

Threshers soon learned in which homes the best meals were served and schemed to at those places at meal time and avoided if at all possible eating at homes that were not too clean or where the food served was inferior.

There were two threshing periods each season, one for threshing wheat which had been planted in the fall and the other for threshing barley and oats which ripened later than the wheat.

Farmer's wives were not only busy preparing meals, but there was cleaning to be done, and extra laundry which included table cloths and numerous towels. Still there was little complaint.

The role of a farmer's wife has certainly changed. There are few large crews of workers to be fed.

To The Editor

To the Editor

I am not going to put down the parents of the Tecumseh Shawnee Marchers, but the students. I am truly upset and ashamed of our students.

Mr. Jimmie Rice and Donald Dobrosky have been working hard at trying to get our band to be the best band in Michigan.

Because of the students not turning up at practices, we lose out on hard work and parades. The reason I say parades is, the last band practice before the Michigan State Fair parade, we had 40 students turn up, out of 70. We needed that practice, but with only 40 students showing up, Mr. Rice Cancelled practice and the parade.

There was no way for some students to get home. Mr. Rice and a few other drivers had to drive these people home.

Because of the students who are not responsible enough to attend a practice, after being reminded at camp and by phone, we lost a parade and we might not get invited back to anymore. We have already cancelled two parades.

A lot of us students are very angry, and those people that did not show up for practice should open up their minds and take on the responsibilities as a student in band and as an adult, we are not little children anymore!!!

To the Editor:

I would like to personally thank you and your entire staff for making this year's Lenawee County Fair the success it was.

This was my first year at the job with publicty, and with your help, it has made my work a more meaningful learning experience.

I am pleased to report that this year's attendance figures are up from 1975, and again you and your staff with your help has made this possible! We couldn't have done it without you.

Cordially,
Jim Bills
Publicity Director

Dear Editor:

I am very upset with the parents of those band students that refuse to take their responsibility seriously.

Mr. Rice has been working for the Michigan State Parade and their first competition this fall.

Perhaps, as parents, we are not aware of what type of band Mr. Rice is forming. It is more than just parade marching and football game routines; it is a competitive band where practice is a necessity. It is wrong to have students sign up and then the parents not insist they attend.

To show the importance of practice, the top competition band practices two hours before and after school, and eight hours on Saturday.

Mr. Rice knows what can be accomplished and how many times students can miss. When there are absent members, it causes delays in learning routines.

This new concept of competition bands is new and unique in this area. It is a pleasure to behold.

We, as parents, have a responsibility to our young adults, as well as to the school, to look into what these students are trying to accomplish. The only way this can be done is by attending band booster meetings, perhaps riding along when there are band competition meets or being there when Mr. Rice has meetings explaining what is happening.

With over four hundred band students, it seems almost a sin to have only about 20 people show up for a band booster meeting.

We may be pretty busy with other activities of our own, but how many years will we have our children?

If each band parent just took the time to see the enthusiasm these students have, it is catching, I will assure you. I love these students. They are spending time doing something constructive, rather than being on the streets destroying. How do we say we are proud of them; by not showing an interest. I am only sorry I have not taken a more active part. We all have excuses, yours truly included.

What is yours?

1 Killed, 2 Injured

CLINTON — Drinking driver may have contributed to the death of one man and injury to two others in a head on collision between an automobile and a semi-trailer transport vehicle, according to Clinton State Police.

Dead on arrival at Saline Hospital was Richard A. Laurent, 22, of New Boston, driver of the automobile which apparently crossed the center line and hit head on the truck driven by Jimmy Lewis, 47, of Detroit.

Passenger in the Laurent car, Steven D. Robinson, 23, also of New Boston, was treated at Saline Hospital and released.

Lewis was admitted to St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, and has been released.

The Laurent vehicle was eastbound on US-12 and crossed the centerline, striking head-on the westbound truck driven by Lewis.

The truck flipped on the side and both trailers flipped on their sides, coming to rest about 288 ft. west of point of impact on southside of US-12. Mishap occurred at 2:45 a.m. Sunday.

The engagement of Mary Elizabeth Manley to Bryan L. Koebbe is announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Manley of Tipton. Miss Manley is a senior at Tecumseh High School. She is employed at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Mr. Koebbe is the son of Mrs. Donna Sabo of Belleville and Ellsworth Koebbe of Saline. He is a 1975 graduate of Clinton High School and is employed with Adrian Glass Company. A Dec. 18 wedding is planned.

Renews Rare Stenciling Art

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — One of the rarest of the nearly 'lost arts' is the one of Hitchcock type stenciling done by Laura Sisson of Tecumseh. She'll be demonstrating the art at Clinton's Fall Festival the last weekend in September.

During the 30 years Miss Sisson operated an antique business just east of Clinton, she collected old chairs she's restoring and decorating them with Hitchock style stencils.

She sold her antique business to Alton Emerines about seven years ago and moved to an old house at 9924 Clinton-Tecumseh Rd., which is uniquely suited to a person of her antique collecting nature.

She's kept it filled with her treasured collections of Currier and Ives fruit and flower prints, toy banks, metal molds, limited edition plates, and decorative crocks, just to name a few of the fascinating things that surround her stencil working area.

A charming old gingerbread house-shaped iron stove heats the dining room.

The particular style of stenciling she does originated with the Hitchcock factory in Terrytown, Conn., circa 1820-1865. Since 1940 a new factory there has been making reproductions of the chairs that gained renown.

Ethereal effect designs, often of fruit or flowers, are achieved by powdered liner gold colors applied by a velvet wrapped finger on the art-tex linen stencil. Flat backs and sometimes the legs of the chairs are stenciled on a chair which has been painted, usually black.

Laura learned the art seven years ago from Florence Wright, a charter member of the Stenciling Guild, now of South Lyon.

She's decorated some 75 of the chairs, which sell from $39 to $65 or more.

She's copied many of the truly antique designs, some from the original Hitchcock chairs in her collection.

Actual stenciling doesn't take as long as the chair preparation, regluing, rosewood graining, wood staining, painting and caning, then the final six or seven coats of protective varnish, all necessitating lengthy drying periods.

She can do one in about two weeks.

She says she has stenciled about 75 chairs and still has some 100 chairs to do and expects she'll never run out of something to do.

There's some quilt tops she expects to finish someday and maybe soon, she'll study the art of tole painting. This 67-year-young woman isn't ready to slow down yet.

Look for her at Clinton's Lost Arts exhibit, Sept. 24, 25, 26 in Smith-Kimball Community Center, during the Fall Festival.

UCC Plans Rally Day

CLINTON — Rally Day for church school children will be held at United Curch of Christ.

Hugh Pike, the new chuch school superintendent, announced there will be classes ready for all ages.

Schedule is same as last year, with children and teachers going to classes during the latter portion of the worship hour.

Senior choir rehearsals are beginning this week on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. and the choir will resume singing at the Sept. 12 service.

Fall Flea Market Benefits Children

CLINTON — Due to lack of donations to Project Workshop, Caro Regional Center Flea Market, this year, the Caro Committee has decided to put all items on sale before the Fall Festival in September at a big flea market to be held at 303 Donna Dr., off Washington St., in Clinton Sept. 9, 10, 11, from 9 to 11 p.m.

Antiques, collectibles and white elephants will be sold and all proceeds will be given to Caro Regional Center.

However the committee will still have a booth in front of the Clinton Township Library during the Fall Festival days, Sept. 24, 25 and 26, selling homemade craft items, such as wooden toys, hand loomed rugs, art and craft items.

Mrs. Robert Flack, is chairwoman for the project.

Investigate 7 Complaints

Tecumseh police investigated seven complaints this week.

A Clinton man was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol after he hit a tree, curb sign, and landed half way in the ditch on N. Evans.

Sunday, Michael E. Sackett, 28, of Clinton was found by police in a ditch on N. Evans north of the Burt, Red Mill, N. Evans St. intersection.

The Sackett vehicle was in gear and spinning when police arrived. When police finally got him out of the vehicle, Sackett reportedly swung at an officer. He was cuffed and then taken to Lenawee County jail where he again reportedly became beligerent and tried to fight with deputies.

Sackett had earlier traveled east on Brown when he struck a tree at 111 Brown. He then headed for Clinton when he went off the right side of the road and hit a sign. He then went off the left side of the road and got stuck in the ditch.

A resume of other reports includes:

Sept. 2 — Johnie D. McCarley of Hudson reported the larceny of a CB valued at $150. The unit was taken from Herrick Hospital parking lot while McCarley was visiting a friend.

Sept. 3 — Jack Watts, 106 N. VanBuren reported the larceny of a CB antenna from Herrick employee parking lot. His wife had returned from work to find the left vent forced open and antenna removed. Loss was set at $30.

Carl's TV Shop reported the larceny of store items totaling $330. Someone apparently walked into the store and took the items. A clock radio, radio, and CB were missing.

At 3 a.m. police investigated a report of malicious destruction of property. They found two broken lights near the N. Evans St. bridge where two juveniles had apparently thrown rocks at the lights.

Sept. 4 — Jess W. Saylor Jr., 28, was arrested for failing to appear on a traffic warrant out of Erie Post. Saylor was observed traveling west on M-50 without tail lights when police stopped him.

James E. Baldwin, 36, was arrested for being drunk and disorderly after police spotted him staggering south on Evans St. near Harry's Cafe.

Quartet Concert Is September 12

The Tribunes Quartet, from Plant City, Fla. will sing in musical concert in the Tecumseh Church of the Nazarene, 808 W. Chicago Blvd., Sunday, Sept. 12 in the 11 a.m. service.

The group is nationally known on stage, television, and recording artists. Pastor Herbert Nation said everyone is welcome to attend the concert. A free-will offering will be received.

ONE OBJECTION

Senior Housing Hearing

After a public hearing, with only one objection to the rezoning, Council decided Monday night to rezone seven acres of property between Pottawatamie and Adrian Sts. from RA-2 family to RM-1 mulitple resident district.

Land is being offered to the city by Jens Touborg for the sole purpose of a possible site for senior citizen housing.

It is Council's intent the site be reserved exclusively for senior citizen housing. City is applying for federal funds for the project.

Objection to rezoning was raised by Northern Propane Gas. The owner said city had been asked for rezoning twice before so the business could expand its storage area. Request was denied. Owner wanted his zoning changed as well.

Council replied the change would require rezoning for industrial purposes which is not compatible with a residential area.

Escolme's Celebrate 50th

The Rev. and Mrs. Edward Escolme will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house, Sept. 19 in the Damascus Friends Church, Damascus, Ohio, from 2 to 4 p.m.

For 39 years the Rev. Escolme was pastor of Tecumseh Friends Church, then he returned to Damascus, their hometown, to serve as pastor until his retirement in 1957.

He had come from England, was educated here and returned to England to marry his English bride on Sept. 16, 1926.

They have one daughter, Mrs. William Pierce, better known here as Elizabeth or "Beppy", who now resides in Berea, Ohio. There are two granddaughters and one grandson.

$1,431 Collected for Dystrophy

Tecumseh's Wishing Well for Muscular Dystrophy collected a record of $1,431. Last year $800 was collected.

This year's support from Tecumseh area residents was the "best ever" said Greg Gadek, a local student organizer of the effort.

Landfill Approved

Tecumseh City Council has agreed to contract Walker Landfill for another year for use by city residents at a cost of $900 per month.

Monday night Council would not agree to an alternative contract under which the city would be charged more per ton over 5,000 tons annually. Additional payment would have been deferred to the following year. Contract would have been for five years.

Landfill officials said the city's use was under 5,000 tons last year.

Council did not want to enter a five year contract with built-in cost increases, thus reserving annual review of the contract and city use of the landfill.

Child Study Club Meets

Tecumseh Child Study Club monthly meetings resume beginning Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Karen Haughn is hostess and Ann Osburn is cohostess.

Meeting will be a workbee and business meeting.

Members are asked to bring material scraps, glue or rubber cement, scissors, paper punch and sewing trimmings.

Agenda for the year is:

Oct. 11, Extended family; Nov. 8, Recovery Inc.; Dec. 11, Adult and children's Christmas parties; Jan. 10, How to handle death with children; Feb. 14 To knot or not to knot; March 14, What we did that was right; April 11, Speakers from the state organization and members of the Morenci Child Club have been invited; May 9, Potluck and installation of officers, past presidents are invited; June 13, Kids picnic.

Call Joanne Schrader, 423-3474, president for more information.

Soil Study Is Ok'd

Council approved Monday night a soil study on the Tecumseh industrial park property by the engineering firm of Atwell-Hicks of Ann Arbor.

Cost is $661 for boring approximately 90 feet plus $60 for the cost of moving.

Council agreed to the tests since it would help the city's site rank as a high class B site according to a point system by the Office of Economic Expansion which certifies industrial parks.

Cost is expected to be recovered through the sale of property. Tests may also help city in determing soil for lift station in the area as development progresses.

Table Gate Installation at Globe Dam

Action to install a stop-log gate at the Globe Dam was in effect tabled by Tecumseh City Council Monday night.

Council decided to table submitting plans to the Bureau of Land and Water.

The proposal was one originally made by an Ann Arbor engineering firm, employed by the city to come up with solutions to the algae problem on Standish Pond behind the Herrick Park subdivision.

One of the least expensive measures, the stop-log gate would trap debris instead of sending it over the Globe Dam.

Council seemed to like the idea at earlier meetings because it was the least expensive and Council thought the plan would help solve some problems of the waterway.

However Monday night city manager Cal Zorn repeated his earlier position that the stop-log gate was unnecessary since it would give no more control over the water and trap debris which now flows over the dam.

Youngsters working for MDA collected spare household change from residents door-to-door and in front of the United Savings Bank.

"We have even bigger plans for next year," tipped Gadek.

Over $21.7 million dollars in pledges was collected nation-wide for MDA over the Labor Day weekend and in conjunction with the Jerry Lewis telethon. Nation figures surpassed the $18 million collected in 1975.

You Told Us

By Kathy Brown

Mrs. Albert Todd and son, Robert spent the four-day holiday camping with 115 members of the National Campers and Hikers Association. The group camped at Pellston. Buses took over 200 of the group across the Mackinac Bridge for the annual Labor Day walk. It was Robert's sixth walk. Reportedly a couple was married at the bridge this year. The buses returned the campers and hikers for a breakfast of pancakes, rolls and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt spent the Labor Day weekend at the home of their son, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt and family in Fairfield, Iowa. They also attended the National Steam Threshers Reunion in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. Accompanying the Robert Hunts in their visit were daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. James Wolf and Melanie of Plymouth, Ohio and Robert's father, Howard Hunt and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Withrow of Jerome. Mrs. Wolf and Melanie returned to Plymouth on Tuesday.

SERVICES ARE YOUR RIGHTS

What does your pharmacy offer? Here's a handy checklist to help you recognize the services available from your pharmacy.

—1. PATIENT MEDICATION PROFILES. Does your pharmacist keep personalized health records of the medications you are taking, along with other details that enable him to warn you and your doctor about drug interactions, overdoses, adverse reactions, etc?

—2. CONSULTATION. No need for a sterile consultation booth in which to talk, but is your pharmacist available to answer your questions and discuss problems?

—3. EMERGENCY SERVICE. Can you get medicine for real emergencies, even at a time when the pharmacy is closed? Does your pharmacy list an emergency phone number?

—4. HEALTH INFORMATION AND REFERRAL. Does your pharmacist answer questions about prescription drugs and non-prescription medicine purchases, or help you decide when to see your doctor and refer you?

—5. DRUG PRODUCT SELECTION. Does your pharmacist provide product selection when possible—less expensive equivalent drug products—for the prescriptions your doctor has written?

—6. COMPOUNDING SERVICE. If our doctor writes a prescription that must be specially mixed for you, will your pharmacist get the ingredients and compound your prescription?

—7. DELIVERY SERVICE. Will your pharmacy deliver medicines when you can't pick them up?

We're Proud of Our Small Cars!

50 in Stock

Fact:
GM's 5-year/60,000-mile guarantee on its 140-cu.-in. engine is the toughest in the business.

How tough is tough? Well, the 140-cu.-in. engine you can get in the following GM small cars is so tough that it's backed by a 5-year/60,000-mile guarantee. No foreign car even comes close to it.

And it's a very simple guarantee. It covers all 1976 Chevrolet Vegas and Monzas, Pontiac Astres and Sunbirds and Oldsmobile Starfires equipped with 4-cylinder 140-cubic-inch engines for 5 years or 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

It means that should something go wrong with the engine, your Chevrolet, Pontiac or Oldsmobile dealer will fix it...free.

The guarantee covers repairs to the cylinder block, cylinder head, all internal engine parts, intake and exhaust manifolds, and water pump, made necessary because of defects in material or workmanship.

This guarantee, an added value feature on these GM cars, is in addition to the New Vehicle Warranty but naturally does not apply to repairs required because of misuse, negligence, alteration, accident or lack of reasonable or proper maintenance.

Compare engine guarantees. Ours is tough to beat. And that's a fact.

THS Golf Season Opens, Squad Loses By 1 Stroke

Tecumseh's golf squad has already begun its season losing a dual meet by one stroke to Adrian Tuesday and taking a second place in the annual Tecumseh Invitational last Thursday. Both were played at Centerview.

Final tally in the Adrian contest was 317-318.

Doug Jacobs was low man for the tournament with a 74. Dave Graf came in with an 80, Steve Lynch 81, Scott Macbeth 83, Dave Bauman 87, Mike Gower 90.

For the Tecumseh junior varsity, Steve Hunter shot a 78, Keith Bauman an 83, Kevin Koszka 85, John Faulkner 88.

The Indians took a second place in the annual Tecumseh Invitational Golf Tournament.

The Tecumseh A team carded a 335 behind tourney winners Monroe with a 320. Eighteen squads participated.

Individually, Tecumseh's Doug Jacobs scored a 76 to finish in second place. Jake Pilat of Monroe was tops with a 74 for the par-71 course.

Other finishers for Tecumseh's A team were, Dave Bauman 82, John Gibson 85, and Steve Lynch 91.

Tecumseh's B team finished tenth at 352 with Dave Graf at 84, Mike Gower 86, Keith Bauman 87 and Steve Hunter 95.

Coach Paul Cunningham said of the two losses, "It might be a good thing. It might shake them up a little bit. We've got the talent, its a matter of just getting them in gear."

The Indians will attend the Bowling Green Invitational this Saturday hosting Lumen Christi Monday.

A match with Ann Arbor Pioneer originally scheduled for this Thursday has been rescheduled for Sept. 30.

Girls Singles Tourney Held

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation ' Deparment's Tennis classes ended with a girls' singles tournament August 19 and 20, and 24.

Runner-up in this double elimination tourney was Chris Escott, who was narrowly defeated by Sherrie Dunn. The semi-finals included Anna Williams and Kathy Webber, who also played tough matches in the hot weather.

In the under nine competition, Michelle LaVeck came out on top after a close match of mini-sets with Leonard Villasenor, who took second

'Old Pal' Ends

Tuesday was the completion of the "Old Pal Tournament."

Judy Thompson and Carol Davis were in charge of the summer-long tournament in which 15 teams took part.

Prizes were presented Wednesday to the first place team, T.C. Roekle and Gloria Schwartz.

Tied for second place were Edna Smith and Maurine Hannibal; Irene Feldman and Joyce Manwaring.

Tied for fourth were Barb Bladen and Nancy Griffin; Judy Thompson and Carol Davis.

First flight, Ginger Burrington, 1st. and Pat Holmes, 2nd. Second flight, Mary Disbro, 1st. and June Macbeth, Marty Owen and Annebelle Bock tied for second. Third flight, Frenchy Blanden, 1st. and Joyce Butters, 2nd.

Marge Rohweder and Mary Hanna tied for low putts.

PIKE SURPRISES ANGLER — Local angler Jack Steele, 21, caught this 34", eight pound pike in Standish Pond last week. Casting from shore, he hooked the pike in the middle of the pond using a "wiggler" for bait. Steele reports that it took 30 minutes to land the fighter.

Only 3 Petitions Out for Council

Unless there are more petitions filed before next Monday, Sept. 20, there will be no race for Council in November.

Vera Gardner, city clerk, reports only three petitions have been taken out. Two are filed.

Incumbent James Palmer has filed as has John Seay, 606 Adrian St.

Three other incumbents, Mary Bowers, Dr. Carlton Cook and Ray Puffer have not taken out petitions. Mrs. Bowers, contacted Wednesday morning, says she is undecided.

Councilmen Cook and Puffer were not available for comments.

Royal Welch, former councilman and a candidate this fall for county commissioner, has taken out a petition but not for himself.

Big Band Tonight

Ticket sales have been brisk for the concert and dance to be presented by the One and Only Tommy Dorsey Orchestra at the Tecumseh High School on Thursday, Sept. 16, according to Donald F. Burack, president of the Tecumseh Band Boosters, sponsors of the big event.

With the resurgence of the big bands, the Dorsey Orchestra, directed by famed musician Murray McEachern, is on tour again, playing before record crowds everywhere. A big turn-out is expected. Although tickets will be on sale at the door that evening, tickets may be purchased in advance.

All tickets are $1 more at the door.

Advance tickets are now on sale at the Tecumseh High School, and from all Tecumseh Band Boosters and Music Students.

Delay Opening of Cafeteria

Failure of equipment to arrive may delay the opening of the new high school cafeteria until the first or second week of October, Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, announces.

Students will be notified in advance of the opening. They are expected to continue bringing sack lunches until the equipment arrives and other related work is completed.

School officials had anticipated the cafeteria being open by the middle of September.

Thursday Rain Near One Inch

Most rain to fall here since July 6th occurred last Thursday when .91 inches fell, according to city records at the wastewater plant.

A brief shower Wednesday morning was recorded at .22 inches, equaling the amount of rain for the entire month of August.

In July, city records show 2.70 inches with 1.65 inches falling on the 6th.

More Help Is Needed

More volunteers are needed to man the Swine Flu Innoculation Clinics in Tecumseh.

Tecumseh will run the second largest set of clinics in the county.

The first clinic is to innoculate individuals over 65 and any other high risk individuals (an estimated 1,295 people in Tecumseh) and is scheduled for mid-Oct.

The Mass Clinic for ages 18-65 (an estimated 9,390 individuals) will be held later in the year on a Sunday. The clinics will be held simultaneously to innoculate these people.

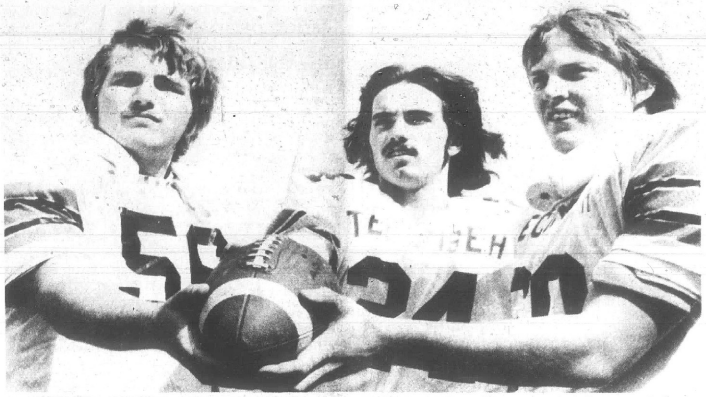
One-hundred-seventy-six volunteers are needed for these clinics to help with paperwork involved. If you can help, call Donna Gifford, 423-2078. You are needed to make this program a success.

Loses Foot in Accident

BRITTON — David Henning, 34, of Britton, underwent further leg surgery at University Hospital, Wednesday, for treatment of injuries received in a motorcycle-truck accident, Sept. 9.

Henning, who resides with his mother, Mrs. Thelma Henning at 6565 County Line Hwy., Britton, was traveling to work the midnight shift in Saline, when he apparently crossed the center line on his motorcycle and struck the truck on Saline-Milan Rd. He was thrown into a ditch.

His left foot was severed and he received multiple fractures just below the knee, a broken left arm and cut tendons.



INDIAN TRI-CAPTAINS — Tim Belcher, Dave Bohannon, and Dan Tilton will be leading the Indian squad this fall. All three are returning lettermen and starters in Friday's game against Chelsea. Belcher plays a lineman on offense and defense, while Tilton plays guard on offense and linebacker on defense. Bohannon is head coach Pat Connor's starting quarterback.

'Jobs' Named for Supporter

In tribute to her constancy as a volunteer leader in the program, the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary has named, in memorial, The Barbara Johnson Jobs for Tecumseh Teens Program.

Mrs. Johnson, a supporter of the program since it started in 1973, died July 8, this year.

The program originated in the spring of 1973 through the Parent Drop-In Center. It was started as a community effort and involved junior and senior high school students, teachers, parents and business.

BARBARA JOHNSON

Barbara Johnson, then secretary for the high school guidance office, was one of the assisting chairmen in the program which recruited students and tried to match them with full or part-time summer jobs.

The program lost momentum after the first year. There were problems with the taped telephone message system. Leadership was not recirculating into the program. Some people didn't understand the purpose of the program. There were often more kids than jobs.

But for the last two years, Mrs. Johnson, Gisela Gero and Donna Schiller coordinated JTT. Although it was organized to run with minimum of manpower, the three women felt that new ideas and leadership were needed to restore the community attention which the program enjoyed the first year. Each year an appeal for new leadership was made to the community. The city was interested but could not take over.

In April 1976, Mrs. Johnson led another appeal and the Jaycee Auxiliary adopted the program as a permanent project.

The Tecumseh Jobs for Teens program was ready to start in a short time, thanks to the organization of its predecessors. A telephone answering system was successfully initiated by the Auxiliary. Support of the United Way was continued.

Sixty-eight students signed-up and 56 full and part-time jobs were disbursed this past

Bad Checks Here Total over $800

David A. French, 27, of 307 Bidwell was arrested Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 8, on charges of uttering and publishing.

Bill Danley, A United Savings Bank officer, first called and told police a large number of bad checks were coming into the bank. They were all reportedly forged and cashed in several different downtown stores.

Other checks, bearing the same signature, started coming into the police station later in the day.

Policemen Jerry Anderson and Gary Greene then spotted French running in the downtown area and gave pursuit. He was apprehended in Dancer's.

French reportedly still had five forged checks in his possession when arrested. All of the checks belonged to Allen C. French, David's father of Onsted.

In the presence of Tecumseh police, French admitted that he had stolen four books of checks from his father. Several witnesses were also able to identify French as the man who allegedly cashed the checks.

Merchants in the downtown area though the checks were good, because they knew the man. The checks were made out to David French and were forged with his father's name.

It is yet unknown exactly how many were cashed. At least 31 checks have been returned to police custody. They total over $800.

French was arraigned in court and charged with two counts of uttering and publishing Friday. Bond was set at $30,000 with examination to take place Wednesday.

Indians Facing Big Chelsea 'II' in Friday Opener

A young Tecumseh eleven will take to the field here Friday night in hopes of ending a string of losses to visiting Chelsea.

Although Coach Pat Connors will have a number of seniors and lettermen in the lineup, both offense and defense, there will also be a number of juniors in action. Juniors out number seniors, 23 to 16 on the squad.

SEE PICTORIAL SECTION FOR FOOTBALL '76 TECUMSEH, BRITTON, CLINTON

Chelsea, seen in a scrimmage against Mason, Fowlerville and Coldwater, had a big team on the field, as usual, and dominated play against the other three schools.

The Indians will boast good size, if you compare weights against heights. They also will be quick, one of the quickest teams Tecumseh has had in years, and they've been very aggressive in recent scrimmages.

An Indian victory would not be too surprising, but it's a club that could really develop as the season progresses.

Probable starting Tecumseh lineups are:

2 Downtown Businesses Change Hands

Two downtown Tecumseh businesses were sold this past week with one local businessman expanding his interests and taking over immediately.

Dick and Marge Eggleston purchased the gift shop from Jean Colgrove last Friday, and Harvey Schmidt, former Tecumseh resident who is a pharmacist currently working in Marshall, bought Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy from Carl Lamb.

Negotiations for both businesses have been taking place for a number of weeks.

Eggleston, a businessman and jeweler here since 1949, plans a number of changes at the gift shop, to be called House of Hallmark. Besides expanding and adding new lines of merchandise, extensive remodeling is planned for later this month.

A new rear entrance will be added along with new fixtures and new paneling on the walls. It will be completely carpeted.

Mrs. Colgrove purchased the shop from the late Bea Ring on April 1, 1962. She says it has been a "very enjoyable 14 years, meeting the public and making many new friends. Its been a lot of fun."

Schmidt, 25, a 1969 Tecumseh High School graduate, will take over Lamb's pharmacy on Oct. 1st. He has spent the past two years in a Marshall pharmacy.

The new owner will operate the pharmacy department and side of the present store only. Sundries, presently sold in the west side of the store, will be dropped.

He and his wife, the former Pat Cook, daughter of the Dr. Carlton Cooks, and their son will move to Tecumseh later this month.

Mr. Lamb, the oldest pharmacist in Tecumseh, began here in 1954 at the former Hodges Drug Store. After working in Saline for a year, he returned to Tecumseh and bought the pharmacy owned by John Cameron on Nov. 1, 1961.

Mr. Cameron had acquired the drug store in 1942 from Ben Pulver, who had the Pulver Drug Store since 1905.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb expect to remain in Tecumseh until late fall or early winter and then move to the west side of Florida.

LUNA "ANU" KOSKELAINEN INGRID KRACHT

Foreign Students Arrive for School

Two more exchange students from the Youth for Understanding program have arrived in Tecumseh to spend the 1976-77 school year.

Ingrid Kracht of Essen, Germany is staying with the family of Worth McClure, 409 S. Pearl.

Ingrid's home town is one of the largest in Germany. She has a brother and two sisters. Her father is a lawyer. At home she participated in weekly hockey games and played against local hockey clubs. Painting is another hobby she enjoys .

About her host family she said, "It is not difficult to feel at home." She is looking forward to spending this year in Tecumseh and making a lot of friends.

Leena "Anu" Koskelainen of Helskinski, Finland represents the capitol of her country and stays with Kay Smith, 207 W. Logan St.

Anu is looking forward to seeing what life is like in a small town. Her favorite sports are biking, jogging and basketball. She belonged to a theatre group at home and would like to participate in a variety of school activities in Tecumseh.

"I think the most important thing during this year is to find out the American way of living and learn how people think about everything," she commented.

4 Complaints Investigated

Police investigated four complaint reports this week. One report involved the theft of over $400 worth of goods.

Friday, Dick Whelan, 111 W. Logan, reported the theft of parts from his building at 1209 W. Monroe.

Stabilizer wheel supports had been placed on the lot west of town a month ago and were stolen sometime within the month. They were valued at $402.

Charles M. Cox, 25, of 318 W. Kilbuck, was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor early Saturday morning. Police spotted Cox weaving and crossing the center line in his auto on E. Chicago when he was arrested.

Dr. Richard Dustin, 103 W. Brown, reported malicious destruction to his medical building sometime within the last 30 days. An object had been thrown and broke a storm and regular window on the east side of his building.

James C. Gordon, 209 Cairns, reported malicious destruction to his auto Tuesday. He had parked his car beside his house in the drive when he returned and found the windshield damaged.

FULL SWING — Roy Hopper, and wife, Kathy, are now in the full swing of things with their new business, Tecumseh Saw and Rental. They bought the business from Jerry Harris July 6. Hopper said he wanted to start a good rental store. The service work offered by pervious owners will be continued. Hopper "rents most everything," as well as doing repair work to any kind of small engines. (Photo by Kent Downing)

"Where there's a will..."

If you own a car, a house or a savings account, you should have a will.

Your estate, large or small, will have to be administered by someone. Without a will, the state, through the courts, will appoint an administrator. Your estate is distributed by the law of the state, at his discretion and direction. This could possibly be against your own personal wishes and might or might not be in the best interests of your wife and family.

With a will, however, you appoint your own administrator and may designate the waiving of bond he may be obligated by law to post. You direct the distribution of your estate.

With a will, you save your estate considerable time and money. You are assured that your estate will not be handled by strangers, but by people you know and trust.

How do you make a will? First, see your lawyer. He has the forms, knows the requirements of the state, and probably enough of your personal affairs to be of great help in preparing for future management control of the estate.

You may change your will, as you wish and whenever circumstances require it. You may also include provision for funeral arrangements as part of the will, if you so desire. We can provide conselling, without obligation, on this aspect of your will, but only this particular aspect.

This is one of a series of brief articles we hope will be helpful to you. You may ask questions privately or publicly through this newspaper column.

Eight Accidents Investigated

Tecumseh police investigated eight accidents this week. None of the accidents were serious, as police handed out two citations.

Sept. 8 — Carl L. Sinkey, 56, 4263 Dillingham, stopped on Jane St. at the intersection of Maumee when her car rolled ahead and hit an auto on Maumee in the rear wheel. The Maumee vehicle was driven by Rose E. Larson, 60, 703 Adrian St.

Barbara J. Hall, 34, 2850 Heritage, was cited for failure to yield at an intersection after she collided with Michael B. Creswell, 18, 406 Outer Dr. Incident took place at the corner of E. Chicago and Ottawa.

Sept. 9 — Mary A. Disbrow, 42, of 2816 Coachlite, was traveling north on Adrian St. when she saw the two cars ahead of her had stopped at the intersection of W. Chicago. Disbrow swerved right to avoid hitting the autos and hit a tree.

Harry D. Furgason, 43, of Tipton hit a Hulcher Emergency vehicle when an unidentified vehicle pulled out of the products parking lot in front of him. The emergency auto was parked along the curb at the time.

Sept. 11 — Royal E. Welch, 51, 704 River Acres backed into an auto driven by Robert L. Bennett, 23, of Arkansas behind Triner's. Welch was reportedly backing out of a parking space and did not see Bennett when the two collided.

Sept. 12 — Bradley Baker, 62, of Clinton was cited for improper backing after he pulled out of a parking spot on S. Maumee and struck a parked vehicle. The parked car belonged to Benjamin R. Pizana, 62, of 5651 Pocklington.

Sept. 14 — Robin A. Gramling, 20, 818 Waskins Dr., was traveling east on W. Chicago when Gary W. Cox, 24, 413½ S. Evans, pulled over from the left lane and caught Gramling's left fender.

David A. Withrow, 35, 108 S. Occidental, backed into Shirley Propst's auto Tuesday. Propst, 603 Herrick Park, had parked her auto on W. Chicago near S. Evans when the incident occurred.

Jaycee Auxiliary Honors Late Barbara Johnson

summer. Although the numbers are lower than the first year, the Auxiliary looks forward to the continued growth of the program. Barbara Myers and Donna Gifford were chairmen this year and new chairmen will be designated each year.

"There are times when we were discouraged," recalled Donna Schiller, "but Barbara just never gave up. My feeling is that because of her, the program is what it is today. Her whole concept of people revolved around children. She took an active interest in everyone," Mrs. Schiller added.

"She put her heart into it. She had the most enthusiasm of the three of us," Gisela Gero commented.

No one who knew Barbara Johnson denies that she took an active interest in students. Fred Johnson, her husband offered further insight.

"She always wanted to be a school teacher, but never got back to college. She loved working with kids and tried to get jobs so she could always be working with kids."

Mrs. Johnson was guidance office secretary for about five years and before that, she worked in the 4-H extension office.

Her family was involved in 4-H. They are Lawrence, Brian and Todd, Diane and Dawn.

Mrs. Johnson's record of community service includes the Jaycee Auxiliary from 1961-65. She was the winner of five consecutive Sparkette awards for activity in all areas of the Auxiliary and she also held club offices. She was a member of the Business and Professional Woman's Club and the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

I wish to extend a warm "Thank You" to all my new and old friends who have made the past 14 years so enjoyable, and to Helen Hendershot, Hilda Heeman, Helen Aebersold, Ruth Ferguson and Jean Nettleman, my thanks.

Friends and relatives are invited to an open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Weseloh on their 50th wedding anniversary, Sept. 19 at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church. Sarah Gittus and Fred Weseloh were married in Adrian Sept. 18, 1926 and have lived all their married life in Tecumseh. Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gabe (Marilynn) French will host the reception. The couple has two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The couple requests gifts be omitted.

Patti Taylor and Thomas Grounds Wed

BRITTON — Patti Alice Marie Taylor and Thomas Edward Grounds were married Sept. 3 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Msgr. Vincent Howard officiated at the ceremony uniting the daughter of Lee W. Taylor, 9525 Pocklington Rd., Britton and the late Irene Taylor and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Grounds, West Chicago Blvd., Britton.

Mrs. Yvonne Graybiel of Adrian was organist and Bill Dusseau of Erie was soloist.

Escorted by her father to the altar, the bride wore a white sleeveless gown of white maracaine. The V-neckline, bodice and cathedral length train were fashioned with Venice lace. Tiny covered buttons trimmed the front of the gown. She wore a star-burst diamond necklace and matching earrings that belonged to her mother.

A profile headpiece with Venice lace secured her two-tiered cathedral length veil trimmed with matching lace. She carried phaelanopsis orchids, stephanotis and baker's fern.

Mrs. Peggy Albaugh, the bride's sister of Britton, was matron of honor wearing a yellow gown styled with a V-neckline and empire waistline, made by the bride.

She wore a straw picture hat and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and fern.

Sheri McWilliams of Adrian, Jan Cline of Britton, and Charlene Grounds the groom's sister of Britton, were bridesmaids. Julia Grounds, the groom's sister was junior bridesmaid. Dana Bacik of Jackson, the bride's cousin was flower girl.

Perry Taylor, the bride's brother of Britton, was best man. Charles Albaugh of Britton, Greg Cowen and Gary Judkins, both of Britton were ushers. Brian Gilbert of Horton, the bride's cousin, was ring bearer.

A reception for guests was held at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will reside in Britton.

The couple graduated from Britton-Macon High School and the groom is employed in farming with the bride's father.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Tecumseh Club.

Vows Spoken in Candlelight

The United Methodist Church in Tecumseh was the setting for the candlelight wedding of Debra Jean Swift and Edward Alex Lakatos, Aug. 27.

The Rev. Allan Gray officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Donald Bush was organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swift, 702 Center Court. The groom is the son of Mrs. Marcella Lakatos of Jasper and the late Alex Lakatos Jr.

Candlelabra, flowers and greenery decorated the aisle and altar. The bride was escorted by her father.

For her wedding the bride chose a candlelight ivory gown of satin organza with point de Venice lace accenting the bodice and sleeves. Soft folds fell from the empire waistline and the back of the gown fell into a chapel train with a deep ruffle of lace at the hemline. The chapel length veil and blusher were also edged with matching point de Venice lace. She wore a diamond and pearl necklace, a gift from her mother, and carried a cascade of cultured phaelanopsis orchids with stephanotis and ivy.

Cynthia Swift, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and was attired in a blue gown of polyester, styled with a high neckline, diamond cut back and A-line skirt with matching jacket.

Bridesmaids were Jeanie Bowser of Ann Arbor and Kathy Underwood of Tecumseh. They wore green gowns styled the same as the maid of honor. Each wore a hairpiece of baby's breath and carried a bouquet of blue sweetheart roses, green daisies, blue strawflowers, white stephanotis and baby's breath.

Gerard Zenk of Sand Creek was best man. Groomsmen were Ramon Gallup of Sand Creek, and Kirk Onweller of Morenci. Guests were seated by Gary Schmitz of Lyons, Ohio and Dean Lakatos of Adrian.

Flower girl, Laurie Gillies, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Gillies of Toledo, Ohio wore a blue gown and carried a nosegay of flowers matching those of the maid of honor. She wore a ringlet of baby's breath in her hair.

Garett Gillen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gillen of Tecumseh was ring bearer.

A reception and dance for 300 guests was held at Peerless Gear Union Hall, Clinton. Bouquets of blue and green flowers and candles decorated the cake table and serving tables, with hurricane lamps with flowers and candles decorated the cake table and serving tables, with hurricane lamps with flowers and ivy as centerpieces for the individual tables. The bridal table was decorated with a centerpiece made of the bride's parents wedding cake-top.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Gary Caranci of Berrien Springs, Mrs. Michael Caranci of Lansing and Allison Bailey of Clinton. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stevenson of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. Weston Haeussler of Tecumseh were hosts.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and attending Michigan State University. She is employed as a veterinary assistant at Wayside Veterinary Clinic, Clinton.

The groom is a graduate of Sand Creek High School and is self-employed in farming.

After a wedding trip in Northern Michigan, the couple will reside on Packard Road, Sand Creek.

The groom's mother hosted the rehearsal dinner at Don's Beef Buffet.

Possible Reorganization for Community Drop-In Center

The possible reorganization of the Community or Parent Drop-In Center will be Sept. 21 from 10-11 a.m. at Herrick Park School.

The community Drop-In Center was organized a few years ago through the interest of parents. Meetings were planned to give parents an opportunity to exchange ideas or voice concern about their children and their education.

Guest speakers were invited to speak on topics of interest to parents and the general community.

Anyone interested in helping evaluate and make decisions regarding the future of the Drop-In Center is welcome to attend. School social workers Mrs. Edna Mae Henkels and Mrs. Betty Lewis will be at this meeting. Further information may be obtained by calling 423-2279.

League Continues Voter Service

Gov. William G. Milliken, proclaimed the week of Sept. 12-18, 1976 as League of Women Voters Week.

The National League of Women Voters was formed in 1920 as an outgrowth of the Women Suffrage movement. Today's organization is recognized for its many nonpartisan community services.

The Adrian-Leawee County League was formed in 1975. Although a fledging group, the local organization, through many activities is increasing the informed participation of citizens in their government.

The local group is publishing a Lenawee County survey to help inform the electorate about their county government. This will also be used as a teaching aid in schools and be given to libraries.

It also will publish, after the November election, a voters guide on national, state and local officials with names and addresses for those wishing to contact their representatives.

Purpose of the League is to help democracy succeed through increasing the informed participation of citizens in their government. This is accomplished through voter registration and distribution of nonpartisan information on candidates and issues.

Local leagues select issues of importance to their community for study, decision and action.

Membership and meetings are open to all citizens of voting age. Anyone interested in more information may call Sandy Krouse, 263-4314.

Opens Second Store in Tecumseh

Charlies – the place for food and fun – is expanding from Adrian to Tecumseh.

Tecumseh resident Charles Chapman, 709 Brook, opened his first sandwich shop and arcade in downtown Adrian last fall, and due to its success he recently acquired the site of the old Quick Lunch at 117 S. Evans and began remodeling for his second store.

Tecumseh's "Charlie's", to be managed by Charlie's son Kenn, is a sandwich shop, ice cream parlor, featuring "real ice cream", candy, popcorn, pizza, a pinball arcade and pool tables. He is also making room for card tables, checkers and chess as a personal request of several senior citizens.

"And we have something that no one else has," Charlie says, "turkey hot dogs." The wieners are made of turkey and contain less fat. The taste is indescribable. Charlie confides, "you just have to try one."

Mr. Chapman felt Tecumseh was an ideal place to set up his second store. "The young people need something to do. The reputation of my Adrian store is outstanding and Charlie's of Tecumseh will be run likewise." Charlie welcomes parents to come down and see for themselves.

But he stresses it is not just for young people. It is a fast service sandwich shop ready to serve breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Hours are Monday through Thursday 8 a.m.-10 p.m., Friday and Saturday 8 a.m.-12 midnight, and 1 p.m.-7 p.m. on Sunday.

Party Honors Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schafer, 10685 Macon Hwy., were feted at a surprise party for their 25th wedding anniversary on Aug. 22.

The party was given by their children, Mrs. Paul (Susan) Cunningham, Keith, Alan, Jeff, Scott and Ruth Ann.

Madelyn Lange and Ralph Schafer were married Aug. 18, 1951 in St. John's Lutheran Church in Trenton, Mich.

German Student to Spend Year

Bernd Weisshaar, 17, from Singen, Germany is the Youth for Understanding exchange student who will spend the 1976-77 school year with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Owen and son, Doug, 16, of 9439 Macon Hwy.

Bernd has spent five years studying English and has a good command of the language but said he would like to be more proficient. He said he is interested in getting to know more about American lifestyles.

His father is a manager of a company which sells building materials; his mother is a housewife. A sister, 21, is studying math and chemistry at the university in Freiburg.

Bernd himself is interested in a job in industrial management. He has had a brief internship in a German bank and has worked in his father's firm.

His home town is a mixture of agriculture and business center with a population of 45,000. The the town is near the Swiss border and offers vineyards, wine and hospitality.

Some of Bernd's hobbies and interests include tennis, skiing, ping-pong, soccer, photography, guitar and listening to music. He prefers the later to television. He is amused by American television cartoons and said they are easier to understand than films in which many people talk at once. Germany does not have as many stations and they air programs from 4:30 p.m. to midnight.

Germany has more townhouse living than private home ownership, consequently people congregate in restaurants and pubs for conversation and entertainment.

Bernd was a member of a youth club which offers activity similar to the combined business opportunities in Junior Achievement and socializing of discotheque.

Although the United States is preparing to elect a president, Bernd admits she is still more interested in the outcome of the German elections in October between the Socialist and Democratic parties. Unlike the Americans, Bernd said the Germans elect a party rather than the man for president.

Bernd was amused by a visiting student from Vermont who was surprised that German families live in apartments of more than one room.

"Some people are still under the impression that everyone lives in a wooden hut in the Black Forest with at least one cuckoo clock."

Germany's standard of living is comparable to the United States, said Bernd.

Third Concert Is Set

Kenneth Weir and Tong Soon Chang, students of Marilyn Mason at the University of Michigan will perform in the third Fall Organ recital series at St. Peter's Episcopal Church on Sept. 19 at 7 p.m.

The Scottish-born organist, Kenneth Weir was graduated from Otago University, New Zealand. He has studied piano with Cyril Smith, and organ with James Dalton and Marie-Claire Alain. He has given recitals in England and Europe and was a prizewinner in International Competition at St. Alban's England, in 1967.

He makes his doctoral performance Sunday. His performance will include Prelude and Fuge in E Minor by Buxtehude, Trio Sonata No. 5 in C Major by J.S. Bach and Choral Dorien and Litanies by Jehan Alain.

Tong Soon Chang attended the College of Music, Yonsei University, Seoul, Korea, and was graduated cume laude with a bachelor of music degree in organ in 1972. She came to the University of Michigan in 1973 and earned the master degree in 1974. Her husband is a design engineer and is also a graduate of the University of Michigan. She is currently studying toward a doctor of musical arts degree.

For her program, she will perform Sonata I in E-Flat, Allegro, Adagio and Allegro by J.S. Bach, Choral, "Herr Jesu Christ, dich zu uns wend," and Prelude and Fugue in E minor by Bach.

A future recital in the series is on Sept. 26.

Girl Scouts Need Leaders

Men and women are welcome by the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council to volunteer as leaders and assistant leaders and allow eager young girls an opportunity for fun and friendship in the Girl Scouts.

Being a leader involves working with girls of all ages, learning from them as well as teaching them new projects, and taking them places. Troop meetings and meetings with other leaders enable leaders to make friends. Free training is given.

For information contact the Irish Hills Girl Scout Office at (517) 784-3627.

Croswell Season Starts

Anyone interested in the activities of the Croswell Players is invited to attend an organization meeting at the Piotter Center on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Four plays are planned this season. Season tickets are available for the first time.

For further information contact Pati Stillings at 263-8455 or Grace Kaledo, 263-2161, ext. 272.

Cheaper by the Dozen will be the first selection presented at the Croswell Opera House Oct. 1, 2 and 3.

The story depicts the laughs and trials as a family of 12 children is raised by regimentation of a stopwatch and whistle, under the watchful eye of their father, a time and motion study expert.

The others are Wait Until Dark, Dec. 3,4,5; Winnie the Pooh, Jan. 21, 22, 23 and Come Blow Your Horn on March 26, 27, 28.

America, of Thee I Sing! a 200 year look at America's greatness and grandeur, will be presented at the Croswell on Sept. 23 at 8 p.m.

The program, our country's past and present, in picture and song, will be presented by Robert B. Wells of Monroe. The long program is 45 minutes long.

The presentation utilizes stereophonic music and multimedia projectors, including a kinestatic projection. This "flash frame" technique permits the projection of 1,300 slides in three minutes.

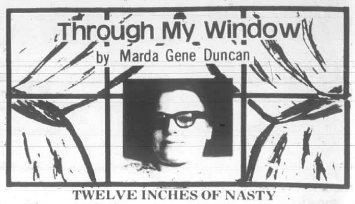
Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



TWELVE INCHES OF NASTY

They are little, cute, and mean. Last spring after we arrived home there were several glorious weeks of no red squirrels. It was too good to last, we knew that. And sure enough, first one red squirrel showed up, quickly he became a regular visitor, and now we have the dubious honor of playing host to two little reds.

Sometime during the summer there were visits by youngsters but I hardly think they were raised in the neighborhood. The two who are charging through the creek bank trees these days are not friendly of course, but just who will win the territory — well, we will wait and see.

Going back to last spring, we were both pleased with and puzzled about the lack of red squirrels. What had happened during the winter? But good things shouldn't be questioned too much and so I'll just say that I hope the fox squirrels enjoyed their vacation from the pesky little reds. The fox squirrels looked as though they had had a good winter and fortunately they have stayed around in full force.

I assume that the squirrel population is settling into its fall and winter territory. This quite possibly means that we will have two red squirrels — one will dominate but the other will be close by.

When the areas overlap there are chases and battles as one little red defends his 'country' against the scouting and raiding attacks of his neighbor.

With the trees so full of leaves, much of the chasing back and forth is hidden from our spying eyes but oh my, we certainly hear an earful. Red squirrels are noisy, they are loud way out of proportion to their size.

"The Mammal Guide" by Ralph S. Palmer claims that red squirrels have "an extensive vocabulary" — I would add that most of it is not fit for polite society. He also talks about a "chattering tcher-r-r-r" as well as "explosive grunts, growls, and other notes, sometimes all given in rapid and jumbled fashion."

I wonder why he used the word sometimes, these characters are always sputtering like a teakettle about to explode.

The one almost undisputable thing that can be said about red squirrels is that they are cute. They really are. Little mites, by stretching their bodies can reach a six inch length and their bristly bottle-brush tails are slightly shorter.

For all intents and purposes the male and female dress alike with their summer garb being more colorful than their cold weather gear. Snowy white tummies are standard year round but in the summer a noticeable black stripe on the animals' sides divides the white from the rich reddish brown color on the back. In the winter this reddish brown fades noticeably.

Bright shiney black eyes look alert and inquisitive and, as if to add emphasis, these characters ring their eyes with the same snowy white that their tummies are.

But no matter how cute the red squirrels look nor how much fun it is to watch their nimble, fast-as-lightning dashes through the trees, the fact remains that personality wise they are mean and nasty. They torment the life out of the pretty big fox squirrels, they chase them unmercifully.

Just the other day we watched a fox squirrel frantically running from a little red squirrel — they went from the maple tree into the mulberry tree, tore down the trunk, and dashed across the yard to the street but, even after crossing Logan St., the fox squirrel could not rest and catch his breath because the red squirrel who is claiming Prettyman's yard, took up the chase.

These tiny demons are also extremely destructive. They gnaw and chew their way into attics and basements thus causing or raising all sorts of havoc.

Although famous for speed and sure-footedness the red squirrels do have an enemy. The much larger martens, weasel-like animals who only now are returning to some of the remote wilderness areas in Northern Michigan, like nothing better than to dine on a red squirrel or two. Imagine how fast these animals must be in order to prey on speedy little reds.

Camp Fire Fall Recruitment

Fall recruitment for the Tuckabatchee Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc. begins this month at the round-up sessions in local schools.

Training Camp Fire organizers have been assigned to the schools and will set up these meetings. Dates and times will be in a brochure issued by Camp Fire and will be distributed to all eligible youth in school.

Tecumseh area school leaders are Mrs. Lois Hover, Mrs. Barbara Connin, Mrs. Dolores Thompson, Mrs. Linda Sherman.

Adrian organizers are Mrs. Jean Onsted, Mrs. Barbara Myers, Mrs. Judith Baughey, Mrs. Pamela Vreeland, Mrs. Patt Moran and Mrs. Connie Morris.

The Clinton and Britton areas will conduct their recruitment as before.

Additional volunteers are needed to carry out the program. Interested adults are asked to participate in this work. Assistance is needed for many of the projects and new ideas for improvement.

Woodcarver at Archbold, Ohio

The special weekend, planned for Sept. 17, 18, and 19 will also feature area craftsmen working with leather, chair caning, silversmithing, woodworking, spinning and weaving, dulcimer making, egg art, and apple and corn husk dolls.

The weekend will also be the grand opening of the museum's glass blowing shop featuring Marvin Thorp from Bowling Green State University.

Guests continue their visit into history at a general store, two old school houses, a church, a leather shop, a barber shop, a doctor's office, a log house, and a depot.

A special highlight of the depot is the ride on the scale model train, the Wabash Cannonball which winds its way through the popular homestead area.

A 100-by-200-foot museum building bulges with everything from antique cars to wicker baby buggies and horse drawn hayrakes.

The old barn restaurant, "Die Alt Scheier," has "home cooking". And in the same area a bakery offers homemade baked goods.

The museum is open daily, except Monday, from 10:30 a.m. and on Sunday from 1:30 p.m. until Dec. 20. The restaurant and bakery are closed Sunday.

The 15-acre complex is located just northeast of Archbold, Ohio on State Route 2.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

I have two quick bread recipes to pass along to you this week, zucchini bread and banana bread. Both are good.

Sandy Bills provided me with this recipe for zucchini bread. It makes two (one pound) loaves and freezes well. I think you will like this. We really enjoyed it.

ZUCCHINI BREAD

2 cups sugar
1 cup oil
3 eggs
3 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups raw chopped zucchini
2 cups flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
3 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts

Combine sugar, oil, eggs, and vanilla, and mix well. Cut raw, peeled zucchini in pieces and place in blender for a few seconds to chop. Measure two cups chopped zucchini and add to sugar mixture. Add rest of ingredients and mix well. Pour into greased and floured bread pans. Bake 350 degrees for one hour.

This banana bread recipe is a family favorite and I make it several times a year. It also freezes well.

BANANA BREAD

1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening
½ cup nuts (chopped)
3 ripe bananas (mashed)
2 eggs
2 cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda

Cream sugar and shortening. Add eggs and mashed bananas. Sift flour, salt, and soda together and add to sugar mixture. Mix well and stir in nuts. Bake in greased loaf pan for one hour at 350 degrees. Makes one (one pound) loaf. Note: I prefer my quick breads baked in ½ pound loaves rather than the one pound loaf. I bake the ½ pound loaves for 45 minutes at 350 degrees. This also makes a nice size for gift giving or for bakesales.

News from the Tecumseh Library.

He was history's first idealist and perhaps its first madman. He was also the husband of the beautiful Neferiti but he put her aside for his younger brother. He was probably the most human and touching of all the Pharoahs for he tried to bring the world a universal symbol of love. A GOD AGAINST THE GODS is Allen Drury's first historical novel.

Lucinda Baker grew up in New Mexico and Arizona and they are the backgrounds she has chosen for her first novel PLACE OF DEVILS. It is the story of Lalie, haunted by jealousy and hatred of her husband's first wife.

Detective Norah Mulcahaney finds her career and her marriage on the line as she apparently goes behind her husband Lt. Joe Capretto's back to solve one of his murder cases. LEISURE DYING by Lillian O'Donnell is the fifth in a series about Norah Mulcahany.

SECRET OF THE HEART is the title of Pearl S. Buck's newest book. It contains four stories and a novella, and, as in all of Pearl Buck's books, they are perceptive stories of the human heart.

Two boys who grew up together in New London, Conn. long for the whaling ships and stately old houses of the past. One cannot accept the changes from gardens to concrete and his friends tries to help him face reality in THE GREAT SUNFLOWER by Clifford Stone.

You Told Us

By Kathy Brown

Mrs. Neil Pearson and Mrs. Maurice McIntosh have recently returned from a trip on the Delta Queen along the Ohio River. The cruise originated from Pittsburg, Pa. and made six stops before docking in Cincinatti, Ohio. The trip was sponsored by the Ohio State Daughters of the American Revolution as a Bicentennial celebration tour.

The DAR members dedicated monuments to George Washington's journey on the Ohio River. The Tecumseh women, members of the Abi Evans DAR chapter, were two of three Michigan women making the trip. They learned about it through Wauseon, Ohio DAR chapter, that city was Mr. McIntosh's hometown.

The Delta Queen, which has been completely refurbished, makes regular trips along the Mississippi. The Tecumseh women enjoyed the meals, entertainment and luxurious accomodations and noted the Tiffany glass, stained glass, mahogany woodwork, brass, crystal and grand stairway which make the Delta Queen "truly a lady in every way." Mrs. McIntosh had the opportunity to play the Queen's calliope.

Bi-centennial Journey

USES OF STRAW
by Thelma Youngdove

BRITTON — Some of today's homemakers may find some of the tales of the past hard to comprehend. However, the following home uses of straw are true.

For many years, straw was used in households in this area, especially in homes where the families were poor and had to live economically.

Straw mattresses were used on beds. Heavy, closely woven ticking was used to make bed sized ticks. Each summer immediately after the threshing had been done, while the new straw was clean and fresh, housewives emptied the old straw out of the ticks and cleaned them thoroughly. If rain had been predicted, quantities of straw would be put into the barn where it would remain clean and dry until the bedrooms could be cleaned and the ticks refilled with the fresh bright straw.

Sleeping on a bed having a tick filled with recently threshed straw was an unforgettable experience. At first the bed seemed very high, but it was really quite comfortable. As time went on the straw became packed. The straw filled mattresses became thinner and thinner. By the next threshing season the old straw had been reduced to chaff.

Bedrooms were not the only rooms in the house where straw was used. Many housewives used straw under their carpeting, the way padding is used at present. Naturally vacuum cleaners were not used on those floors.

Soon after threshing, rooms using straw for carpet padding were given a through cleaning. All furniture was taken out of the room and curtains taken down and laundered. Carpet tacks were pulled and the carpet rolled up carefully to keep from scattering the dust. Then the carpet was carried outside and hung over a sturdy clothes line. The carpet was brushed with a broom and the youngsters were instructed to beat the carpet with carpet beaters (devices shaped somewhat like a tennis racket). The handle was made of wood. The portion striking the carpet was heavy wire, coiled in various shapes. At the start of the cleaning process, clouds of dust, emitted from the carpet, caused the persons near to cough. Nevertheless, beating continued until no dust remained. Then the carpet was spread out on a clean, grassy area and all spots removed.

While the carpet was being cleaned, the old straw and newspapers which had been under it were removed, the floor swept clean, and then scrubbed with hot soap suds.

When the floor had dried thoroughly, it was covered with several layers of fresh newspapers and approximately seven or eight inches of fresh straw spread evenly over the entire surface. Next the freshly cleaned carpet was placed over the straw. Laying the carpet was no simple task. The houswife was usually assisted by a couple of neighbor ladies. One of the women owned a carpet stretcher (device used in stretching carpets) which she willingly loaned. Carpets were tacked (using sharp carpet tacks) close to each wall. Tacking the carpet across one side was not too difficult a task, but stretching it so it could be tacked close to the other side was hard.

After the carpet had been tacked in place, curtains were re-hung and furniture put in place. How cozy the room seemed with its thick soft padding of straw. In spite of the pleasure gained from the smell of recently scrubbed floors and wood work and the newly laundered curtains combined with the scent of the new straw, today's homemakers would not want to go back to yesterday's ways of living.

Use of loose straw within the home has been discontinued in this area, but baled straw is frequently used outside the house to bank the foundation to keep out the bitter cold winds of winter and to pack around water pipes to prevent them from freezing.

Pastor Returns from Vacation

BRITTON — Pastor and Kathy Trapp returned last week with Matthew and JoAnna and Mrs. Gertrude Hoelzel, Kathy's mother, from a three-week vacation in Kansas City.

They visited Kansas City relatives and friends and attended the 10th high school anniversary reunion.

But the Republican National Convention brought some additional experiences. Pastor Trapp met State Representative John Mowatt at the Crown Center Hotel the morning after President Ford's nomination.

Rep. Mowat then introduced him at a Michigan Delegation breakfast to Gov. William Milliken, Sen. Robert Griffin, Rep. Marvin Esch, and Rep. Edward Hutchinson and was also helpful in getting a ticket for President Ford's acceptance speech that evening.

The Trapps also saw two ball games at the new Royal's stadium and visited with the Nguyen, The Minhh family.

The Minhs are Vietnamese refugees originally sponsored by Emmanuel Lutheran Church on Ridge Road and resettled near Mrs. Minh's parents in Kansas City this past March.

Mr. Minh is now working with the Orkin Co., and the oldest two children, Quang and Diep are attending school. They sent greetings to their many friends in Britton.

Mrs. Hoelzel will be visiting here for about two weeks.

Supper, Bazaar Plans Completed

BRITTON — Plans were completed for the annual turkey supper and bazaar at the fall meeting of the women's Fellowship of the Britton Congregational Christian Church Sept.

Supper and bazaar are Sept. 16. Serving begin at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Vivian Brown reported for the nominating committee composed of Mrs. Fern Morse, Mrs. Audrey Palmer, and Mrs. Vivian Brown. The office of president had not been filled. Other officers were vice-president, Mrs. Alice Exelby; secretary, Mrs. Betty Osterhout and treasurer, Mrs. Rosemary Auten.

Date for the annual brunch was set for 9:30 a.m. Dec. 1, 1976. Family night is to be Dec. 1.

Mrs. Keran reported on the dinner which had been served to the Britton-Macon School personnel.

The group decided to have names of patients at the Ypsilanti State Hospital again.

Mayflower Congregational Church in Grand Rapids announced the fall meeting of the West Central Michigan Association of Congregational Church Women for Sept. 22, 1976.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Marion Olds presented the worship program: Mrs. Lillian Kniffen read devotions and a prayer from "The Secret Place."

Mrs. Lorraine Hummel, who had arranged a display of Bicentennial pictures, newspaper clippings, certificates, and flags, told of the Wagon Train's visit to Britton and mentioned some of the highlights of the community's participation in the country's Bicentennial celebration.

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the program.

All pulling will stop at noon time for a chicken barbecue lunch.

5% Increase Is Alocated

BRITTON — A five percent increase to missionary work was included in the 1977 budget, accepted during the business session of the Grace United Methodist Women (UMW) last Wednesday.

Mrs. Robert Gibson presented the UMW pledge service for missions at the meeting.

"Day on the District" will be Oct. 14 in the Plymouth Methodist Church.

Oct. 20 everyone is asked to come to the church for a day of fall cleaning.

Plans were discussed for the church bazaar and turkey supper Nov. 4 at the church.

Old clean sheets are requested by Mrs. Raymond Bird for missionary work in Africa.

Mrs. Roger Palmer and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield served refreshments to the 14 members present.

Reunion Set

BRITTON — Pocklington-Underwood Reunion will be Sept. 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barrett on N. Ridge Hwy.

The potluck dinner will be at 1 p.m.

For the Record

BRITTON — Names of Torrettes Debby Piercy and Christine Boike were omitted from under the picture of the undefeated Little League Torretts in last week's Herald. They were not present for the picture.

Rendel Girls Hold Reunion

BRITTON — Paul and Shirley Exelby and family of Vermontville, Mich. were hosts to the family reunion of the Rendel Girls' Sunday.

Most of the guests were from the Britton, Tecumseh, Clinton, Manchester area. Other guests were from Saline, Whitmore Lake and St. Johns.

The afternoon was spent visiting and playing games. Mrs. Martha Brady of Whitmore Lake was the oldest member present and Shannon Dicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dicks was the youngest.

Hosts for the 1977 reunion will be Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Exelby and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill in Saline.

Council Selected

BRITTON — At the Sept. 7 Village Council meeting, Kermit Pickell as selected as the new councilman to fill the seat vacated by Elmer Bryan, who is the acting mayor protem, following the resignation of Stewart Niblack in August.

A letter of resignation from councilman, H. Craig Reidy, was read by the council.

Guest speakers at the meeting were Judges Kenneth Glaser and Yale Kerby who spoke briefly of their candidacy for Circuit Court judge for Lenawee County on the November ballot.

Public is urged to attend the Sept. 20 council meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the council room, above the village library. The controversial village president issue will be the topic of discussion, and a new trustee will be picked to replace Reidy.

Village of Britton,
County of Lenawee
Ordinance No. 3002

PUBLIC PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS

At a regular meeting of the Common Council for the Village of Britton, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on this the 7th day of September, 1976, at 7:30 p.m. at Council Chambers at 118 Main Street, Britton, Michigan, PRESENT: Elmer Bryan, Mayor Pro-Tem, Steven Eldred, Henry Mastie Bert Wade and Nelie Denny.

ABSENT: None

WHEREAS, Village Council has determined it to be in the public interest for the health, safety and welfare of the Village of Britton and its residents and property owners that an Ordinance be adopted to control the use of Village of Britton public parks and playgrounds;

NOW, THEREFORE, VILLAGE OF BRITTON ORDAINS:

1. No person shall obstruct or impede the public use of any walkway, street or drive in any public park or playground and no person shall mar or damage in any manner whatsoever, any monument, ornament, fence, bridge, seat, tree, fountain, shrub, flower, playground equipment, fireplace or other public property within or pertaining to said park or playground.

2. No person shall possess or consume an alcholic beverage in any public park or playground.

3. No person shall place or deposit garbage, glass, tin cans, paper, or any other waste material in a public park or playground except in containers provided for said purpose.

4. No person shall engage in activity commonly called baseball, football, softball, or any other activity similar or of a like nature in a public park or playground except in areas expressly designated by signs therefor by order of Common Council for Village of Britton.

5. No person shall enter or remain in a public park or playground during night time or after entrance gates are locked except by special written permit granted by Village Council.

6. The Village Council may, by Resolution duly adopted make rules and regulations pertaining to the conduct and use of parks and playgrounds as it shall deem necessary to the public to preserve or protect public property or the safety, health, morals or welfare of the public, and no person shall fail to comply with such rules and regulations when posted in three conspicuous places in each public park or playground.

7. Any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this Ordiance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not more than 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the Court.

This Ordinance shall take effect 30 days from the date of adoption and after publication thereof.

The foregoing Preamble and Ordinance was offered by Nelie Denny and supported by Bert Wade.

UMW Learns About Quilts

CLINTON — Quilts and their history made an entertaining subject for the meeting for the meeting of the United Methodist Women, Monday night.

Mrs. Donald Van Gassbeck gave a history of the art of quilting.

Several members brought in quilts to display, among them were Ruth Davis' mother's flower garden quilt; Pat Duede's parents' anniversary quilt; the Martiny sister's handmade quilt brought by Doris Reiser; Rosemary Terry's family's quilts; Sharon Scott brought her grandmother's Indian design quilt; Marjean Satterla showed three old family quilts and Jackie Gibbard brought a handpieced quilt from Beth Woods' auction.

Sharon Scott showed the star pattern quilt made by the Methodist quilting bee group, which will be raffled at the Oct. 4 meeting and displayed at Fall Festival.

Mrs. Jack Warren gave the devotions on "Gift of Jesus."

Announcement was made of need for volunteers to work with the Swine Flu Clinic, Oct. 11, for those over 65. Call Mrs. William Zimmerman, Mrs. Lee Thompson or Mrs. Roger Waltz to volunteer.

Book Fair will be held in December with Sharon Scott in charge.

October meeting will feature a program on old hymns by Sally Scheer.

Breakfast Benefit

CLINTON — An organ fund benefit breakfast was planned for Oct. by the members of the Priscilla Class of the United Church of Christ, at a meeting at the church Thursday night.

Breakfast will be arranged by president, Ruth Strolle, and her committee for 9 a.m. in Water Wheel Community building.

Members were assigned for the September coffee hours after worship services.

Sixteen members were present for the potluck supper preceding the meeting, with Mrs. Frank Ashton and Mrs. Louis Blaisdell as co-hostesses.

Marian VanLooy presented the devotions on the theme "Harvest of Ideas", and read a poem "Problems at Church."

All meetings will be held at the church this season. Oct. 14 meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Ed Bihlmeyer and Mrs. Paul Hoyt.

Board Discusses Teacher Needs

CLINTON — School Board discussed staff needs at Monday's meeting, noting that some classes may have to be cut because of low enrollments.

Shorthand, drama and one section of chemistry will be dropped.

Board voted to offer trigonometry-calculus, typewriting, foods-sewing, powers, speech, and drawing for the 1976-77 year.

Discussion concerned offering seventh grade shop if 15 or more students are interested in it.

If seventh grade shop is offered, a part-time employee will have to be hired to teach the additional science class at the high school. The seventh grade shop class was cut this year to enable John Jansen to teach one additional general science class at the high school.

One library aide is needed to enable the libraries at the elementary and middle school to remain open all day. Cost to the district for the added library aide would be $3,359 and she would become a member of the secretarial union.

There is a need to increase Sharon Kanous' time as art teacher from four periods of a school day to about 30 minutes more to enable her to teach fifth grade art classes.

In order to comply with Title IX guidelines, both boys and girls are required to take nine weeks of homemaking, nine weeks of shop and 18 weeks of physical education on a rotation basis. These classes have been available on an elective basis previously.

Assistant football coaching position, vacated by Tom Coyle, was posted with school staff. There was no response. Wendell Corwin, who assisted Don Eaton during the summer, will be given an honorarium for coaching this year. Tom Coyle will now be available to assist in football.

Board approved all the above changes.

Contracts were presented to Mike Tarske as systems maintenance engineer; to Marilyn Palatas, for secretary in the elementary school; to Mary Lancaster to teach first grade; to Christy Schnizlein to teach high school math and speech; to Virginia Clark to teach combined second-third grade; and to Terry Youngs to teach homemaking in high school.

Jack Greenfield, who already has his bachelors degree in Social Work, is working toward his masters degree part time at Wayne State University. Jack is employed at Ypsilanti State Hospital, Yorkwood Center, his work deals primarily with children

Mr. Tank, former teacher and choir director at the Macon Ford School and Mary-Martha Chapel, will present a one-hour program Sept. 26 at the Macon Methodist Church organ dedication. Recital will include classic, religious, vocal, waltz, tango, jazz and sing-a-long selections. Program begins at 3 p.m. and the public is invited.

Twenty-six years ago Mr. Tank dedicated the organ at the same church and his daughter was the soloist. At this dedication, his granddaughter, Susan DeGiulio will sing.

The organ is a gift from Bessie Travis in memory of her husband, Melvin.

2 New Members Join Jaycees

CLINTON — District Membership Chairman Mike Shannon was present for the meeting of Clinton Area Jaycees, Monday night, and installed two new members Gary Bradish and Ned Rosacrans.

At the meeting held at the home of Charlie Steffens, members made final plans for participation in the Fall Festival.

Negotiations Still Underway by Secretaries

CLINTON — Secretaries' union has failed to ratify the contract offered by the Clinton Board of Education, and negotiation sessions were resumed Tuesday afternoon.

This excludes the superintendent's and board's secretary staff, but it does include secretary in principal's and counselor's offices, teacher aides and library aides.

At Monday's meeting, the board voted to ratify the faculty contract. CEA will hold ratification meeting on the proposed contract on Sept. 21.

Board voted to buy a new upright, commercial, 80 cu. ft. deep freeze to be delivered next week and to be paid for from cafeteria accounts.

Board voted to install an updated computer based terminal service through the Lenawee Intermediate Office.

Primary functions of the service are vocational placement, Michigan Occupational information service, and computer assisted instruction, the latter just getting started in Lenawee County.

Cost is $20 per month for the local school.

Clinton Calling

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sue of Snyder, N.Y., called on their cousin, Mrs. Dorothy Peters, Monday. They were en route from a trip to Texas. It had been 28 years since they had seen each other.

"Landscaping Your Home"

"Landscaping Your Home" was the program presented by Jack Wikle of Hidden Lake Gardens to the Town and Country Club at the home of Mrs. Robert Marvar on Sept. 8.

Mrs. Robert Glenn and Mrs. Charles Saling, both of Tecumseh, were welcomed as new members.

Slides were shown of the flower arrangements which the club members entered in the show presented by the Club of Little Gardens in Adrian this summer.

The local club's project at Hidden Lake Gardens continues to make progress. Some of the pathways are now being covered with wood chips, making it easier for the public to view the rock gardens.

Next meeting is Oct. 6 at the home of Mrs. Fred Birdsell. Program will be "Putting Your Garden to Sleep" by Richard Allen of the Lenawee County Cooperative Extension Service.

Special Service

Special services will be held at Tecumseh Lower Light Church, at 7:30 p.m. nightly, Sept. 17, 18, 19, with the Rev. Sam Sitt. He was formerly with the Barberton Rescue Mission near Akron, Ohio.

Booster Night for Grange

Annual Booster Night for the Tecumseh Grange is Sept. 30 at 6:30 p.m. with a program to follow.

Each family is asked to bring chicken and a dish to pass. The potatoes, rolls and beverages will be furnished. All past members and friends are invited to attend.

The 25-year pins will be presented to 14 members during the program.

Saturday, Sept. 18 is another card party at the Grange at 8 p.m. All card enthusiasts are welcome.

Gary Ingram is chairman for the food project at the Festival on Sept. 25. Kielbasa and kraut will be served from 10 a.m., beer all day, and five whole pigs, will be roasted for serving from 2 p.m., all at Memorial Park.

Jaycees will also sponsor the Saturday night street dance during the Festival.

Arrangements have been made with Weekend Fashions for Jaycee emblem jackets. Members may place their own orders there Sept. 17-18 or Sept. 24-26.

A combined Jaycee and Auxiliary membership meeting will be held Oct. 9 at Water Wheel Center.

Ron Walker is chairman of the Punt, Pass and Kick contest to be held Sunday afternoon at Clinton football field.

A Mud Football game is planned later this fall with Hugh McGill in charge.

Next board meeting is Oct. 7 and next regular meeting is Oct. 11 with place to be announced.

Enrollment Increases

CLINTON — Clinton schools have an enrollment of just over 1260 students at present, an increase from the expected 1236.

Since this increase nets the school district approximately $1,084 in State Aid for each child, it has a favorable impact on the budget.

Pre-school and reading programs will be only partially funded this year through federal funds.

UCC Fellowship Postpones Meet

CLINTON — Mrs. Wes Maki, new president of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ, announced that the first meeting of the fall season will be postponed one week to Thursday, Sept. 30 because of the Fall Festival.

All members of the Fellowship board, including officers and chairmen or representatives of each woman's class, are to meet Monday, Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the church to plan the year's program.

A Women's Fellowship workshop for officers will be held in Dexter Sept. 29. There will be a noon luncheon. Reservations are to be made by Sept. 25 with Mrs. Maki.

Car Tickets Turn In-Time

CLINTON — Joe O'Donnell, Fall Festival car ticket sales chairman reminds all those who have tickets out for the four local churches that the special incentive sales program ends Sunday, Sept. 19.

All those who have tickets or stubs are asked to turn them in to each church ticket chairman by Sunday, for tabulation and credit to the churches.

Of course, ticket sales will continue until Fall Festival car drawing takes place on Sunday, Sept. 26.

Pretzels Planned

CLINTON — Pretzel making days are planned by the women of the United Church of Christ, in preparation for the church's Fall Festival booth.

Thursday, Sept. 16 an all day pretzel making bee will commence at 9 a.m. at the church kitchen with Mrs. Wes Maki in charge. Anyone who wishes may come and work, or send donations of ingredients.

Tuesday, Sept. 21, another pretzel day will be held under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Hill.

New Gift Shop Opens Sept. 20

CLINTON — Carl and Susie Woodward and daughter, Amy, of Clinton, will open Woodward's Village Gift Shop at 106 W. Michigan Ave., Monday, Sept. 20. The location is the former Stuff & Things building.

The shop will feature hand crafted doll houses made by Carl and a complete line of doll house accessories and doll house furniture, as well as kits to make your own.

They'll also have better quality gifts, including nationally known lines of glass, silver, pewter and lamps.

Local craftsmen will supply ceramic gifts and wooden candleholders.

The shop will be managed by Amy Woodward, who is a graduate of Clinton High School and has been employed at an Irish Hills resort.

Mr. Woodward is employed at Chrysler Proving Ground, Chelsea, and his wife, Susie, is employed at Clinton State Savings Bank.

FFA Garden Tractor Pull

CLINTON — Clinton Chapter FFA will again sponsor a garden tractor pull, Saturday, Sept. 25 at 5 p.m. at the faculty parking lot at Clinton High School.

The non-profit event, arranged in conjunction with Clinton's Fall Fesitval drew 22 contestants last year.

There is an entry fee of $4 and all monies are distributed in prizes and trophies.

Rule sheets may be obtained at Gilbert's Automotive Supply.

All those who plan to enter the contest are to weigh in between 3 and 4:30 p.m. at Clinton Grain Co., Sept. 25.

Committee for the event includes John Jansen, FFA Advisor; Dave Faust and Gary Kershner.

Cribbage Contest

CLINTON — Cribbage fans are again invited to join in a cribbage tournament in conjunction with the Fall Festival in Clinton.

This year the event will be held on Sunday, Sept. 19, at the Community Center at 1 p.m.

All age groups are welcome to join in the fun. All will be competing together. There will be special rates for senior citizens and children under 12.

Prizes will be awarded.

Register at the door or call Mrs. Edward Blom, 456-4603.

OES Starts New Season

CLINTON — Golden Rod Chapter 85, Order of Eastern Star resumed meetings for the fall season Sept. 2.

Chapter members observed memorial for Leona Iler and Herman Green, and a memorial poem was read by Worthy Matron Mrs. Douglas Beasley.

Announcement was made of the Lenawee-Monroe County Association meeting to be held at Hudson High School Sept. 18.

A meeting of past matrons and Past Patrons will be held Sept. 30 with a potluck supper at the home of Mrs. William Stout. Spouses are invited.

Next chapter meeting will be the annual meeting Oct. 7 with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. in the chapter room. Coffee, rolls and butter will be furnished.

Stoner Heads Legion Auxiliary

CLINTON — Members of the Frederick E. Pieper Post American Legion Auxiliary elected Mrs. John Stoner president at a recent meeting.

Other officers elected are: first vice-president, Mrs. Hattie Feldkamp; second vice-president, Mrs. Gene Murphy; secretary, Mrs. June Feldkamp; treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Meyers; historian, Jean Stauffer; chaplain, Mrs. Elvin Witherell and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Charles Voll.

Members will again sponsor Thursday night bingo games beginning Sept. 30 at the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

American Legion and Auxiliary will sponsor bingo all three days of the Fall Festival at Driscoll Bros. building.

New officers will be installed at the Oct. 5 meeting at the center, with Mrs. Meyers and Mrs. Murphy as hostesses.

Fire Department Is Topic of Council

CLINTON — Village Council meeting Monday, was attended by Harry Comstock, Clinton Township supervisor, who explained procedure for purchase of recently ordered fire truck by the township.

Question arose at August Council meeting that the Council's Fire Board had not been consulted about the purchase, and that village share of jointly operated fire department was not equitably taxed.

Comstrock explained Township's view of the matter, saying that Clinton Township provides several services to the village at no cost, such as use of Walker Landfill, and voting machines, with necessity now for an additional precinct because of population growth. He suggested that this negates the effect of double taxation for fire department in Township and Village of Clinton.

It was agreed that Township and Village Fire Board should work together on Fire Department matters.

Village council voted to purchase two new automatic door openers for the fire barn.

New zoning ordinances are still being worked on.

A special meeting of the Village Council will be held at 7 p.m. Sept. 20 for discussion of village policies in general.

LOST ARTS

Local People Are Featured

CLINTON — Lost Arts Days will be two days only during Clinton's Fall Festival, according to co-chairman Donna Marion.

Exhibits at Smith-Kimball Community Center will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sept. 25 and from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 26. There will be a recess during the big parade Sunday afternoon.

A vast array of 'lost arts' and crafts will be demonstrated by area persons.

The Community Center kitchen will be filled with the aroma of fresh baking bread, made by Edith Pence, Mrs. Alwin Marion and Mrs. Robert Girbach.

Dorothy Girbach will be churning fresh dairy butter and visitors may have a taste of it on the hot bread.

Old-fashioned cottage cheese will be made and served by Anna Anglemyre and Elva Hoelzer.

There'll be a demonstration of old-style lye-soap making.

Esther Cooley of Rawsonville will show her grass basket weaving; Mrs. Roger Hebert of Clinton will be weaving on a loom and showing her old-fashioned stuffed dolls; and Barbara Ahrens will make homemade noodles and show how she makes her Ceramic Christmas bells from hand poured molds.

Evelyn Bleumer of Milan works with eggs, too, but her Eggery runs to fanciful jeweled eggs.

Laura Sisson of Tecumseh will show the technique of Hitchcock style stenciling on Saturday, and Dorothy Schwarts of Toledo, will show another style of Early American stenciling on Sunday.

Pat Seay, of Tecumseh will demonstrate tole painting art Saturday, and April Brooks on Sunday.

There will be quilting, embroidery and crewel work exhibits by Mrs. Vickie Poland.

Ladies of Clinton Methodist Church will show their quilting on Saturday.

Visitors will have an opportunity to dip their own beeswax candles under the direction of Donna Service.

Olga Bales of Manitou Beach will show her chair caning and Mrs. James Chellman will operate the spinning wheel.

Mrs. Charles Helgren and Mrs. Howard Oesterling will demonstrate rug hooking.

As visitors tour the center there will be old-time music played on the center piano by Christy Schnizlein and strolling musicians will play the mountain dulcimer.

There is no charge for the Lost Art Days exhibition.

TWP Hearing Set Sept. 16th

CLINTON — Clinton Township Board, at a meeting Monday, made plans for a public hearing of the Zoning Board proposed zoning ordinance and land use plan for the township, for Thursday, Sept. 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Trustee Robert Winder gave the report for the Riverside Cemetery Board.

Family Honors Meads on 80th

Mrs. Oscar Meads, 301 S. Pearl St., was guest of honor Sunday, when 81 members of her family observed her 80th birthday by attending Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church with her. Her birthday anniversary was Sept. 8.

Later there were 89 members of the family present for a picnic at Friends Field. Granddaughter Ruth Penrod of Adrian sang a special song for her. She received many cards and gifts. Frances Spreeman presented Mrs. Meads with a birthday banner.

Mildred who is "Mom" to many friends has had eight children, and remains active in the Women's Missionary group of the church. She's lived in Tecumseh all her life.

Ready Or Not, Girls Begin Play

by FRANK WEIR

Just as local sports fans were anticipating the sounds of football signals wafting through the early fall air, they'll have to prepare themselves for something quite different.

Believe it or not, girls basketball is underway. And before football too.

The girls were scheduled to play their season opener against Ann Arbor Pioneer Wednesday night.

Coach Diane Nelson, who led the squad to a state title two years ago and a state runner-up spot last year, finds her ranks depleted this season.

Only two lettermen are returning, and that figure has been pared to one with the disclosure Tuesday that Tori Iffland may have a spinal cyst. Tori will not be able to play at least for the time being and may be lost for the season.

Nelson comments, "I was really optimistic during summer practice because Tori showed the leadership and everyone was playing well. I don't feel that one person makes a team but every team needs a leader. This will hurt us for a while."

Tecumseh has 13 players, including Tori, out for the team. Only three starters are certain including Grace Burns at center, Debbie Steadley at forward and Gloria Fosbender at guard. Filling out the roster is Sheryl Bihlmeyer, Jill Greenfield, Jill Hibbard, Robin Isom, Janice Jahner, Sandy MacGeorge, Kris Underwood who is the other returning letterman, Ginger Turner and Sandy Sprague.

Nelson expects Grosse Ile to be very tough in the Huron League along with St. Mary's. "Once these kids get experience they'll start jelling. They're good athletes, hard workers and dedicated. Their lack of confidence will hurt us for awhile. We're setting our goals as we go along. But they have to be realistic goals. We won't set a goal to win the state finals but its realistic that we could come in first in the league."

Speed and a lack of depth are two other weaknesses plaguing the team. But the squad should be strong on defense and rebounding. The Indians have a height advantage as well with several girls approaching or at 5'10". Nelson confides that the Indians won't use their running attack as much as in the past and they don't have the power to use the same kind of presses.

Next Tuesday the girls host Bishop Gallagher and travel to Detroit Dominican the following night.

THS Golfers Victorious

Tecumseh's golf squad participated in the Bowling Green Invitational Saturday and defeated Lumen Christi Monday.

Doug Jacobs was overall medalist at Bowling Green with a 75. Steve Lynch shot an 88, Scott MacBeth 89 and Dave Graf a 90. As a team, Indians tied for sixth place with a 342 total. Findlay, Ohio won with a 320.

The Indians defeated Lumen Christi Monday 159-161. Jacobs shot a 38 followed by Gibson 40, Hunter 39, Keith Bauman 42.

THS Runners Beat Hillsdale

Tecumseh's cross country squad won its opening meet last Thursday beating Hillsdale 28-29.

Hillsdale took first, third and fourth positions but the Indians had all the rest up to the ninth spot.

Jim Harris was second in the meet for Tecumseh with an 18:03 time. Jesse Castorena finished fifth, Kent Norris sixth, Per Jansson seventh and Brian Banda eighth.

Score Impressive Win

Clinton cross country opened its season last Thursday with an impressive 19-38 victory over Napoleon.

Clinton grabbed the top three spots, gave up the fourth position but took fifth. Only 1:14 separated the top five Redskin runners.

For Clinton, Jerry Cline was first at 16:23, Mike Risner second at 16:41, Wally Pike third at 16:52, Mark Prichard fifth at 17:18, Chris Wojtowicz eighth at 17:37 and Devin Schindler ninth at 18:53.

Eight runners are out for the team at the present time including juniors Jerry Cline, Mike Risner, Wally Pike, Chris Wojtowicz, and Dave Dagostino; and sophomores Mark Prichard, Devin Schindler and Matt Peters. Pike is the captain of the squad.

Prichard, Pike and Wojtowicz are returning lettermen since the squad lost only one starter from last year. And those three were Clinton's top three last season.

Coach Ozzie Hashley sees Addison and Manchester as the teams to beat. "We should be tough the next couple of years," Hashley commented.

Clinton Girls Beat Grass Lake

The Clinton girls basketball team launched its 1976 season last Friday with a 43-40 victory over Grass Lake.

The Redskins jumped off to a 13-0 lead in the first quarter and led throughout the game. At one point in the 3rd quarter Clinton led 32 to 15 but their aggressive style of play got them into foul trouble.

Ruth King, Cathy Gibson and JoAnn Grossman fouled out and Grass Lake started coming back. With 5 second left in the game Clinton held a slim 41 to 40 lead but Sue Richter made two foul shots to secure the victory.

Karen Busch, Meegan Buter, Judy Zimmerman, Margaret Campbell and Laura Markham played key roles for the Redskins.

Sue Richter led the way with 17 points and 15 rebounds. Clinton plays at Manchester on Thursday.

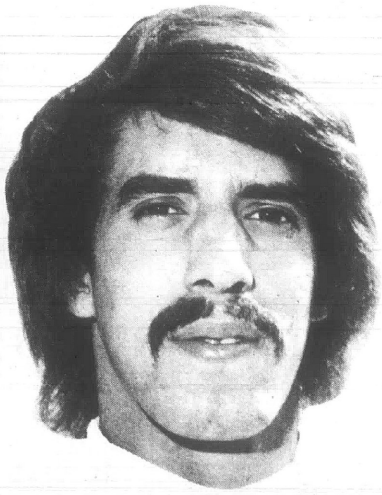
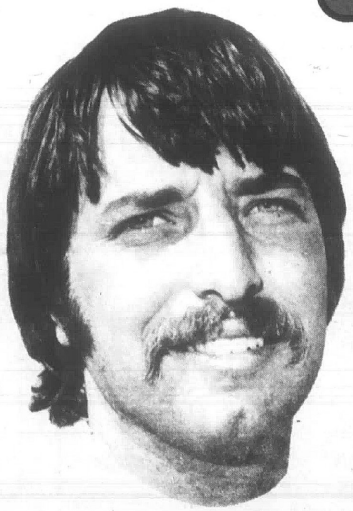
Coach Pat Connors

Starting his fourth year as head coach of the Indians, Connors is expected to improve on last year's 5-4 mark and there are hopes that the Indians will win the Huron League crown, a title last won in 1974. Fans should find the '76 team tough, scrappy and quick. A win Friday night over Chelsea would certainly be a morale booster early in the season.

Coach Don Eaton

"We won't be embarassed this year," says Eaton, remindful of last year's 1-8 disaster. The young coach, beginning his second year as head varsity coach, graduated from the University of Michigan and was a member of the Wolverines traveling squad. The Redskins are bound to improve this year and with a little luck, post some more victories in the winning column.





Coach Randy Salisbury

It looks like Britton will field another tough team under Salisbury, starting his fifth year as head coach. A Salisbury team won its league championship two seasons ago — Britton's first in 37 years — and finished with a very respectable 6-2 season in '75. The Tories could start the 1976 season on a winning note by beating Northwood Friday night.

Meet Chelsea Here Friday Night

THS Indians Are Ready To Win

The Indians open again this year with Chelsea, a team they have lost to in the last two opening season games. But this year the game will be played here, 7:30 p.m., Friday, and Tecumseh is ready to win.

Tecumseh goes into that game with 16 returning lettermen and a squad of 40.

In numbers, the big difference between this year and last year is the high number of seniors that have graduated and will no longer be playing with Tecumseh. Tecumseh lost 14 seniors last year. This year they lost 27.

But graduating seniors don't bother head coach Pat Connors. "They graduate," he states simply, and we "don't dwell on the fact that they're gone." It always looks like a "disaster," but things always get better as players mature.

The Indians come off a 5-4 overall record and 5-2 record and third place in the league last year.

They face another well-balanced, tough league. Connors stated simply that there was no one team to beat. As many as four teams could be battling for top honors.

And the head coach doesn't hide the fact that he doesn't like to make predictions. There are just too many outstanding factors yet unknown to predict where Tecumseh could end up in the league this year.

Connors does say they could end up as low as fourth or fifth place, but they got the same shot at beating all the teams in the league. It is the same old story, "improve or die."

In other words, Connors dwells on what is happening now, on week-to-week improvements, and not on what might or might not develop in the future.

And now, he dwells on working his offense. The team scrimmaged amongst themselves last Saturday and then with Fowlerville, Mason, and Coldwater Thursday night. They found they have to work to reduce offensive mistakes.

Last Saturday, the inter squad scrimmage was one of the better ones Tecumseh has had in terms of fewer penalties. But there are always a few things the team has to work on, and the Fowlerville scrimmage proved that point.

The offense "made many mistakes," as Connors explained that the team was penalized twice to bring back long touch down plays. But that problem, Connors admits, plagues all teams in the beginning of the season.

The defense, Connors explained, proved to be the team's strong point. "No one even threatened to score on us" Connors explained, while Tecumseh scored on everyone but Mason. Connors went on to explain that the defense is the quickest group of players he's had in a long time.

In total, it is the same tough league, the same offensive mistakes that hurt all teams early in the season, and another strong defensive Tecumseh team.

Most importantly, the key to success in football is improvement. And Tecumseh Indians are not so modest when they say they are going to improve fast and they are going to win a lot.

'Super Group of Kids, Great To Work With'

Head coach Pat Connors made some personal observations about his players recently as he explained who his solid starters were.

Overall, he explained that he had a "super group of kids." They were "great to work with."

Connors stated that ever since his camp experience with them he has found the players are a very responsible group with a great attitude.

And that attitude carries on into the grueling practices Tecumseh coaches are conducting now to whip the team into shape.

And that attitude is making an especially well balanced team. Connors commented there are no super players. They are all good.

There are also an unusually large number of good football players lurking in the shadows of the present starters. That means there could easily be a starting line-up change any day and that means an especially deep team that could fill any vacancy left by injuries.

Scheduled to start for Tecumseh Friday against Chelsea are:

In the offensive backfield, Dave Bohannon senior, will be starting at quarterback. Jeff Hans, a junior, is Tecumseh's backup quarterback. Kevin Eggleston will play fullback; Terry Brooks, tailback; John Egbert, halfback; Jeff Robideau and Jim Anderson will be alternating in the backfield.

Nix Is Back, Carl Novak Joins Staff

One new face and another not new, but "renewed," can be seen joining the Tecumseh Indian football staff this fall.

Carl Novak has joined the staff as assistant coach. He will be working with the offenseive ends and defensive backs during practices and games.

Novak is originally from Charlevoix, and more recently from St. Louis where he taught mathmatics and coached.

The "renewed" face on the football field is Wayne Nix's. Nix is presently back on the job working with the defensive backs and offensive centers and linemen.

Nix was sidelined from participating in coaching and teaching in 1973 with health problems, but is back at THS now assisting Connors and teaching English.

Other coaches assisting Connors include Bob Ondrovick and Ron Spagnoli.

Ondrovick is working with the defensive tackles and offensive linemen while Spagnoli is practicing the offensive backs and defensive ends.

Coaching the Junior Varsity squad are Roger Young and Dan Howlett. Ted Todd and and Jerry Fox are shaping up the freshman team for competition.

All in all, Connors explained that he was very impressed with the job his assistants have done this year. He stated that the other coaches worked their "fannies off," and certainly "made my job a lot easier."

Clinton Redskins Experienced — 15 Lettermen

Clinton's Redskins start with a clean slate this season, trying to put last year's dismal 1-8 record behind them.

The Redskins' one victory was a 28-16 decision over Grass Lake.

But Clinton has 15 lettermen returning out of 29 varsity players and its offensive line is an experienced one. Ten seniors graduated last spring from Clinton but that included just two starters, Ken Roberts, (named to the all-league first team) and Gary Payeur.

Heading the list of returnees are Jim Wilson, named first team all-league last season at guard, Phil Martiny and Phil Erickson receiving honorable mention at linebacker and quarterback respectively.

And Coach Don Eaton—starting his second year—sees that experience as a definite plus. "Having 10 of 11 offensive players back has to be called a strength. Our quarterback position is strong with Erickson with a year's experience. And Martiny has a chance to make all-league fullback. Last year I had three seniors with football experience. This year I have 13."

Eaton can't say exactly which player will fill the Redskins' ranks. "We hope the players will know a couple of positions. We have a good idea of who will play — its just a matter of where."

On the offensive line, a tentative lineup goes like this: Steve Hinz or Bob Santure and Dave Tallman or Doug Feldkamp vying for the two end positions; Jeff Voorhees and Craig Snyder at tackle; Jim Wilson and Wally Heimerdinger at guard and Brian Marion, center.

The defensive line is also up in the air but Eaton feels it will be strong. Defensive standout Bob Santure is vying with Craig Snyder for one end position. Eric Pratt and Dave Tallman are after the other spot. Terry Sell, Steve Hinz, Wally Heimerdinger or Terry Reiser are in contention for the two tackles. Either Lee Russ or Jeff Voorhees will get the nod for middleguard.

In the backfield look for Andy Hoag at wide halfback. Terry Higgins is at safety, and Casey Thilo—who looks rugged to Eaton—is at the other halfback spot. Doug Feldkamp is switching from defensive end to the monster spot this year. Martiny, Jim Wilson and Brian Marion are vying for the two linebacker spots.

Clinton's offense, a power I, averaged a meager 10.6 points per game last year and Eaton would like to double that. "We've made great improvements but we'll wait to see after we go into combat. We stressed speed in our off season program. Last year I had a number of players who were running a six-flat 40. This year they're running 4.9-5.1. A six-flat 40 just doesn't make it in this league."

And the Redskins will need all the speed and agility they can muster for the second game of their season when they host powerhouse Hudson Sept. 24. Clinton opens its season against Galien this Friday at home.

Eaton commented on the schedule, "The key to the season lies in playing a strong opener and then go into Hudson. If we start strong with Hudson we will be tough. There is no way we will go 1-8 this year."

A scrimmage Saturday with Sand Creek and Waldron pleased Eaton. "The kids hit hard. If continued improvement comes, we'll surprise a lot of people. We won't be embarassed this year."

Assisting Eaton with coaching duties will be, Tom Coyle, Mike Howe, Dave Pray, Chris Wittenbach and Wendell Corwin.

Salisbury Starts 5th Season

Tories Eye Second Tri-County Championship

Coach Randy Salisbury is starting his fifth season at the Tory football helm. In his four years in Britton, Salisbury has molded a winning squad.

The Tories finished with a lifeless 2-6 record after Salisbury's first year. The next season showed a 3-5 improvement. Two years ago, the Tories blossomed, posting a final 7-1 record and winning the Tri-County championship, the first league title for Britton in 37 years.

Last season Britton finished with a 6-2 record. Salisbury is hopeful his team can again win the title this season.

That prediction is buttressed by the fact that 11 lettermen are returning including Mark Wiellaert, Bill Lutz, Steve Crittenden, Rudy Montalvo, Don and Ron Benham, Lon Wagenschutz, Jack Geigler, Jim Frayer and Allen Hintz, all seniors. Quarterback Randy Smith, a junior, is also a returning letterman.

Britton lost six lettermen from last year including standouts Craig Wagenschutz—voted all-state tackle—and Dave Wielfaert.

The Tories have seven returning starters on both offense and defense but Salisbury is still undecided who will be starting this season. But returning standouts include offensive tackle Lon Wagenschutz and half back Rudy Montalvo.

Montalvo was the leading ground gainer for Britton last year. Temporarily sidelined with a sprained ankle in pre-season practice, Montalvo should be ready for the first kick-off Sept. 17 against Northwood at home.

One of the Tory strengths—according to Salisbury—has to be team attitude. "We've had two winning seasons in a row now and the kids are believers. What you have inside is what counts. I would rather have smaller guys that want to do it. Our outstanding senior leadership is a strength as well."

As always, Britton suffers a lack of depth. "We always have problems with this. We have 21 on varsity and 19 on junior varsity."

Salisbury confides that the team plans to "put the ball in the air more than in the last two years. We have an outstanding quarterback in Randy Smith and he's just a junior this year. He's an excellent athlete." The team will continue to use a 4-4 defense.

Of the Tri-County League, Salisbury comments, "The league should be very well balanced. Summerfield should be one of the stronger teams but all should be improved."

Bill Lutz and Rudy Montalvo are captains of the team while Jim Sweigart is assistant coach. Mark Lewis is coaching the junior high team, entering its second year of existence.

Britton opens its league season by traveling to Whiteford Sept. 24.

1976 Tory Football Squad

4 Arrested, Charged with Armed Robbery

Four Brooklyn youths have been charged with armed robbery after robbing a Clark Station attendant here shortly after midnight Tuesday morning.

It was the second robbery at the W. Chicago Blvd., station within three days.

Arrested and in the county jail are Kenneth R. McDonough, 23; Kenneth W. Tilden, 18; Benjamin J. Hill, 18, and James A. McCloskey, 17, all of Brooklyn.

Mark Strahle, station attendant, told police that a car pulled in and between the pumps and station office about midnight. Upon approaching the automobile, he was told that it was a "stick-up."

Strahle first apparently thought they were joking until a sawed off shotgun and rifle were pointed at him. He tossed his money clip containing $79 into the car.

Identification of the car was passed onto the police, except for the license plate. It was hanging down and Strahle was not able to read it.

All four youths were disguised. One had a shirt draped over his head, two used pillow cases and one had strips of masking tape over his face.

Less than a half hour later, Manchester police located the car there, observed a gun thrown from the vehicle, and made the arrest.

Local police were summoned and brought the youths back to Tecumseh where confessions were obtained. Strahle went to Manchester and identified the car.

About 2:00 a.m. Saturday, Strahle was robbed for the first time by an intruder wearing a nylon stocking over his face.

According to his report to the police, he was in the restroom when the robber entered, beat him with his fists and demanded his money. Strahle handed over $93.86 in cash.

McDonough McCloskey are in jail under $20,000 bond each, and Tilden and Hill, $10,000 each. All four were scheduled for arraignment Wednesday morning in District Court.

9 File Petitions for City Council

Nine candidates will compete for four positions on Tecumseh City Council on the November city ballot.

Incumbents filing for the two year terms by the 5 p.m. Monday deadline were James Palmer, Mary Bowers, Dr. Carlton Cook. Newcomers were John Seay, Jay Tressler, William Frownfelder, Marten Vegter, Carl Schmidt and Robert Taylor.

Ray Puffer, who served council for 14 years said he will not seek reelection. He said he has decided to step aside and give someone else a chance. He said he will continue to serve on the parks and recreation board after his term of Council expires. He indicated that if he changes his mind, he could always run for Council again.

Need 88 Volunteers for Mass Flu Clinic

Another 88 volunteers are needed to man a Mass Clinic for the Swine Flu Innoculation Clinics in Tecumseh.

Last week's story in The Tecumseh Herald brought "tremendous" response according to local coordinators. Over 50 volunteers responded last week.

Tecumseh will run the second largest set of clinics in the county.

The first clinic is to innoculate individuals over 65 and any other high risk individuals (an estimated 1,295 people in Tecumseh) and is scheduled for Oct. 22 at Tecumseh High School from 9-5. There are now enough volunteers for this first clinic.

The Mass Clinic for ages 18-65 (an estimated 9,390 individuals) will be held later on a Sunday, perhaps Oct. 24 if enough vaccine can be obtained. This will consist of two clinics running simultaneously to innoculate these people. Volunteers are still needed for this clinic.

Eighty-eight volunteers are needed for each clinic to help with paperwork involved. If you can help, call Donna Gifford, 423-2078. You are needed to make this program a success.

Rec Aide Released

Terry Lighthall, assistant in Tecumseh's Recreation Department is no longer on city payroll and Monday night Bob Robinson, a little league coach and member of the United Fund asked Tecumseh City Council why.

"We didn't really have a full-time job for him," city manager Cal Zorn explained. He added that since the Lenawee Council on Aging has coordinated more of the activities for senior citizens, Ward Eardley, recreation director, has been freed to work in other areas, especially with youth programs. He said that other part-time people would be used to fill any gaps.

Robinson said he was not completely convinced that people would be getting their money's worth from the recreation program with 50 percent of the staff. He said UF, which annually puts some $20,000 into Tecumseh parks, will also be concerned.

Lighthall worked for the city recreation department for four years. He started on a public employment program but was retained by the city. He was well known for his work with city ball leagues for youth and popular with parents as well.

Councilwoman Mary Bowers asked why Council hadn't been told about the staff change. She said she believed Council approved his full salary in the new budget. She remarked many in the community were "very high on him."

Mayor Harold Easton pointed out that Zorn's job enabled him to make decisions and said it was "commendable" that Zorn did so if there is no longer a job.

Zorn commented that he didn't feel bitter toward Lighthall. Because the city was trying to cut back in areas, Zorn said he thought this was one are that would help.

Lighthall said Tuesday that he preferred not to comment. "I don't feel bitter," he said. "I'd like to stay in this area." He is substitute teaching "for now."

Ask Voters for 1 Mill

For the first time ever, Tecumseh Township voters will be asked to approve additional millage for the township.

Al Merz, township clerk, says the board approved placing a one mill proposal on the November ballot for fire and police protection. The millage will raise approximately $8,000 each year for the next five years.

Township officials, however, do not anticipate any expenditures at this time for police protection.

Immediate concern of the officials is paying the City of Tecumseh for fire protection, a service that has increased in cost.

State Aid To Make Up $4.6 Million?

Assistant Superintendent Gene Cooley told School Board members Monday night, that due to the change in taxing personal inventory evaluation, the district will lose $4,607,000 in State Equalized Value (SEV).

Administration officials here had expected a loss of $3 million, but due to a human error in the county equalization office, the district will lose the larger figure. The loss will mean that the district will lose $124,000 in local property tax dollars.

Cooley added that state aid is supposed to pick up the $124,000 loss, but officials question that since state aid has been cut in recent years.

TM Agenda Reported

An agenda for Town Meeting '76 has been released by coordinator Roger Proctor and his planning committees. The committees welcome individual and club sponsorship and participation. Call 423-4100 to find out what you can do to help.

Town Meeting '76 is being held in Tecumseh to help shape the city's future and recreate local community action by spending one day out of the busy year to develop practical proposals for the city's future, which belongs to each resident and worker.

Town Meeting '76 will be held in Tecumseh on Oct. 23 at Tecumseh High School cafeteria. Admission is free of charge.

Welcoming will begin from 8 to 9 a.m. over coffee and donuts. Welcoming period begins the day's activities with a brief presentation on "The New World" of America's third century.

Morning workshops will begin at 9 a.m. Participants are invited to join one of them to help identify the basic challenges of Tecumseh's future. Using individual Town Meeting workbooks, each person will begin by studying the economic, political and cultural issues of our community.

At approximately noon, all will gather for a festive luncheon featuring local entertainment, group singing, and special guests. The afternoon begins with a brief presentation on "The New Human Being."

Afternoon workshops will enable all to plunge into the job of developing practical proposals for meeting Tecumseh's challenges. Another group will be working to create a new story, song and symbol of Tecumseh's heritage and new goals.

Final session, the plenary, will be a group meeting to hear the reports of the workshop. The day's accomplishments will be celebrated by singing the city's new song at 4:30 p.m. Each person attending will have a personal copy of the Town Meeting report, containing Tecumseh's challenges, proposals, story, song and symbol and renewed sense of the Tecumseh pioneer spirit.

Town Meeting is a national Bicentennial program sponsored locally in cooperation with the Institute of Cultural Affairs.

DEFEAT CHELSEA IN '76 OPENER

Indians Sharp in 23-0 Win

Tecumseh opened the '76 football season here Friday night with a convincing 23-0 victory over Chelsea. The impressive win ended a string of first game losses for the Indians, and marked Coach Pat Connors' team as a strong contender for the Huron League title.

Unless Monroe-Jefferson fields a better team this year in comparison to past seasons, the Indians will be heavily favored Friday night to scalp the Bears for their first league victory. Game time is 7:30 at Monroe-Jefferson.

The Indians were far too quick for the bigger Chelsea club, which was outclassed by the aggressive Tecumseh team for the first time in several years. An Indian touchdown called back for an infraction would have boosted the winning margin to four touchdowns.

Coverage and pictures of the game are on page eight and nine.

Board Rejects Equal Credit

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh's School Board Monday night — in a 4-3 vote — turned down an administrative request that art, music and physical education courses receive equal credit as other academic areas.

The proposal also would have changed graduation requirements.

Currently, those three areas receive a one-half credit per year while other academic areas receive one credit. Students in these areas earn four and one-half credits per year and must attain 18 credits to graduate.

The proposal would have allowed a student to earn five credits per year, but all students would need 19 credits to graduate.

The three areas would have been re-classified as "electives" instead of as "activities," as they are now called.

Opposition to the proposal came from board members William Macbeth and Todd Herrick. Herrick said, "Our job is to stress the basics, reading, writing and arithmetic. It's not that students don't get a lot out of (the other areas). I don't want people to feel I'm anti-art or anti-sports."

Herrick said after the meeting that he felt equal credit for the three areas would tend to de-emphasize what he considers of "paramount importance," that is, basic academics. He would prefer to see a student take a foreign language course or another math course. He reiterated, "I feel band and gym are very important in the development of the child."

High School principal Clarence Lacny said in support of the proposal," Art, band, chorus and physical education deserve parity with the teaching of other subjects. Many high schools give the same amount of credit. If it's worth teaching, worth offering, and worth taking, then its worth consideration of equal credit. Is it so bad if a student comes out with four credits in one of these areas?"

Band director Jimmie Rice stated, "The effort put forth in these areas is as valuable as the work put into the other areas. Most of the basics are required courses. A student still must pass these courses."

But Macbeth said, "This is pure and simple dilution of required courses. I just can't see the value."

In a final vote, members Macbeth, Herrick, Heglin and Phelan voted against the proposal while Records, Jones and Tressler voted for it.

In other action, the Board voted unanimously to begin an honor roll for junior and senior high schools.

City Paying Less for Bags

Leaf bags will cost the city of Tecumseh slightly less this year. City Council accepted the low bid of Union Camp Corporation, Tomah, Wisc. for $94 per 1,000 at Monday's meeting. City will purchase 15,000. Delivery is expected within three weeks.

Last year the city bought 20,000 of the plastic bags from another company at $112 per 1,000.

City manager Cal Zorn commented that the city at one time paid eight cents for each bag. Cost increased to 18 cents per bag during the "energy crisis." "Things must be getting better," he commented about this year's price.

Township OKs Annexation

Tecumseh Township Board last week approved releasing a portion of Tecumseh Country Club property for annexation to the City of Tecumseh.

Al Merz, township clerk, says 13.5 acres were released. The area includes the club house and pro shop, and property along Milwaukee Rd.

Monday night, Tecumseh Council delayed approvng the annexation until a resolution was prepared for adoption. Such action is expected at the first meeting in October.

'Clubs' Jerome Vehicle

Tecumseh police investigated nine accidents this week, with three drivers cited for hazardous actions. One incident led to a Hudson man clubbing another auto after an encounter on M-50.

In the M-50 incident, Michael D. Vaughn, of Jerome reported Friday, 5:20 a.m., that an auto had followed him from Onsted Hwy. on M-50. Vaughn told police that the car had tried to run him off the road several times.

The two autos were stopped on Occidental Hwy., when the second vehicle, driven by John R. Finnegan, was struck in the rear by the Vaughn vehicle. Vaughn put his foot on the accelorator accidentally.

An argument ensued when Finnegan, a Hudson resident, reportedly used a club to damage the left side window and outside mirror on the Vaughn vehicle. Vaughn told police he never left his car.

Vaughn reported that he then pulled around Finnegan to get to Tecumseh to report the incident. Finnegan followed to also file a report.

Both subjects were given their rights at the station while Vaughn filed a report immediately. Finnegan stated he would return a statement after talking to a lawyer.

Other accidents investigated include:

Sept. 16 — John E. Walden, 84, of Clinton tried to park behind a Hudson Motor Sales vehicle on E. Chicago when he struck the parked auto.

Margaret E. Reid, 41, 4334 Dillingham, was headed south on N. Evans when Clarence E. Keller, 78, of Clinton was making a right turn from Burt St. onto N. Evans. The two collided as each claimed the other was left of center during the heavy rain storm that day.

Sept. 17 — Charles L. Williams, 47, 6655 Gove Ct., reported a hit and run to his vehicle Friday. He told police he was leaving a dance at THS when he noticed a dent along his driver's door. Williams was parked in the southwest parking lot of the school.

Bradley B. Becker, 17, of Tipton was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead when he struck an auto driven by Susan L. Hamilton, 22, 327 Southwestern Dr., in the rear. Hamilton was in the process of turning right off of S. Occidental onto Southwestern when Becker hit her in the rear. Becker reportedly left 40 foot skid marks on Occidental.

Georgia L. Lisenbee, 43, 316 S. Ottawa, was stopped for the light on Herrick Park Dr., at the N. Evans intersection when she was bumped from behind. Bert Ouderkirk, 16, 501 Orchard Lane, was stopped behind Lisenbee when he went forward, hitting the auto.

Bessie I. Craig, 60, Paul's Trailer Park, was cited for failure to yield when she pulled out from behind Lawson TV and hit a northbound car on N. Ottawa. Keith L. Woodby, 51, 733 S. Union, tried to avoid the incident, but could not.

Sept. 18 — Timothy W. Belcher, 33, 311 N. Maiden Lane, was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control. He was heading north on S. Union when he hit the curb, then a pole and guide wire near the W. Cummins intersection.

David W. Fontaine, 33, 608 Spring St., was pulling into a parking space at the Party Shop when Richard Preston, 66, 316 N. Union, was backing out. The two collided, causing damage to Fontaine's left, rear fender.

85 Punt, Pass, Kick

There were 85 youngsters on hand for the Punt, Pass and Kick contest, sponsored by George Underwood Fordland, Sunday afternoon at Clinton's Hartman field.

First place winners will compete in Zone Competition Saturday, at Jackson Parkside.

Winners in each age group are: 11 years old, first, Wayne Starkey of Tecumseh, second, Donald Krauss and third, Dave Williams; 12 year old, first Bobby Zimmerman, second, Michael Francisco, and third, Eric Rockwell; 13 years old, first, Derek Nahsbedian, second, Tony Forsthoefel Tecumseh, third Andy Eidson, Tecumseh.

Eight years old, first Chad Anschuetz, Tecumseh, second, Thomas Watson and third, Douglas Burnside, Tecumseh; nine years old, first, Steven Forgacs, Tecumseh, second, Clinton Hoelzer, third, Ryan Cadmus; ten year olds, first Michael Walper, Tecumseh, second, Michael Pugh and third Andy Piatt.

Investigate 4 Complaints

Police investigated four complaints this week.

A resume includes:

Sept. 15, Mrs. Josie Wright, 1000 Shady Ln. reported that her son's bike was stolen from the family's front yard. The bicycle was valued at $85.

Sept. 18, Mike Gomez, 34, of 503 W. Cummins was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor at 3 a.m.

Gomez was traveling on S. Evans in an erratic manner and turned west on Kilbuck over the curb corner. He reportedly used both sides of the road repeatedly. Gomez was arrested at the Cummins and Union intersection.

On Tuesday, Wilbur Miller, of Brookly reported the larceny of a CB radio from his van. He had left work early in the morning to return home when he found the right, front vent lock broken and the CB gone. Radio was valued at $109.

Also on Tuesday, the sheriff department and Michigan State Police reported a red wrecker was pulling a stolen auto out of Saline. Tecumseh police then talked with Jeff Gottschalk in Tecumseh. Gottschalk told police that he and another drove from Saline with the car. The incident was turned over to Saline police for investigation.

2 Car Fires

Tecumseh firemen responded to two fire calls this weekend.

On Saturday, firemen were called to the Russell Miller residence at 305 W. Russell to extinguish a car fire. The fire was actually out when firemen arrived.

Estimated damage to that auto was set at $350. The cause of the small blaze is undetermined.

On Sunday, James Murphy of Clinton reported a car fire at 703 N. Union.

The $100 in damage was caused by the auto backfiring in the carburetor.

The engagement of Brenda Sue Hallett to Louis E. Rebottaro is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Hallett, 157 Bailey Dr., Adrian. Miss Hallett is a 1976 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is a student at Ferris State College in the dental program. Mr. Rebottaro is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Rebottaro, Centennial Rd. He is a 1971 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Ford Motor Co., Saline. Wedding date has not been set.

Low Bids Accepted

Major portion of action taken by Tecumseh City Council Monday night came with the acceptance of low bids from companies for city supplies and equipment.

Council accepted the low bid of Cunningham-Gooding for bituminous paving of 1,042 tons for a cost of $17,453 and 2,380 gallons of prime coat for a cost of $1,071. Total bid of $18,524 was less than the $23,291 bid by Belden Asphalt of Jackson.

Bid for an underbody scraper went to Root Spring Scraper Co. of Kalamazoo for cost of $3,627.

Hoyt E. Whelan Co.'s bid of $4,800 was accepted for purchase of two tractors and mowers to be used in the cemetery. They will replace three 1969 Allis Chalmer tractors and one 1971 Simplicity tractor stolen from the cemetery garage last month.

Sgt. Robert E. Beard, Jr. was recently transferred from the State Police post at Lapeer to Clinton post. He was born in Adrian, and has served since 1968 in posts at Ionia and Erie.

Area Obituaries

NINA O. TAYLOR

Services are Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Niblack-Spencer Home for Funerals, Britton for Nina O. Taylor, 80, 5248 Exelby Rd., Britton. She died Sept. 21 at 8 a.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

She was born Dec. 19, 1895 in Britton, the daughter of Ernest Oliver and Mary Curry. Mrs. Taylor lived in the area all her life.

She married Earl R. Taylor Sept. 24, 1914. He died July 1964.

Mrs. Taylor was a member of the Britton Congregational Church, president of its Dorcas Class, a life member of Tecumseh Order of the Eastern Star No. 51, secretary of the Ridgeway Cemetery Board and a member of the Britton's Woman's Club.

Surviving are one son, Francis Taylor of Britton, one daughter, Mrs. Allen (Helen) Luckhardt of Tecumseh, three brothers, Raynor of Tecumseh, George of Tipton and Clyde of St. Joseph; three sisters, Mary Oliver, Mrs. Gladys Philipp, both of Tecumseh, and Mrs. Mabel Nelson of Phoenix, Ariz. and four grandchildren.

He was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church in Adrian and a member of the Jolly Hikers Campers Club.

The Rev. Clifford Hunt officiated and burial was in Oakwood Cemetery.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

The Tecumseh Herald of September 16 carried the heading "Bad Checks Here Total Over $800."

That should have been a sub-heading. The major heading should have read "Drug Traffic Flourishes in Tecumseh."

All of the $800 and more went to the drug pushers. This is a serious problem in Tecumseh and Lenawee County.

Thank God the person involved didn't take a violent route.

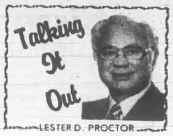
Talking It Out



LESTER D. PROCTOR

Should your wife have a will, too?

Generally, if your wife owns property, solely or jointly, or if she is heir to an estate, she should have a will of her own. This applies in quite a few other instances, as well.

It can happen that both husband and wife may be victims of a fatal accident. The husband may have designated his wife as the major beneficiary of his estate in his will. Without the wife's having a will of her own, distribution of her share of the estate will not have been provided for. Her share may be subject to laws of the state, thus tieing it up for long periods and at a time when funds may be needed. Even then, when the affairs are concluded, distribution of the wife's share may not be handled according to her wishes. Such an unfortunate situation can cause much heartbreak, costly delays and consumption of time on the parts of the heirs.

If the wife is a business partner, active or silent, in a family business, it is to the firm's advantage to have its business-continuance safeguarded by the owners' each having a will.

After the man has made his own will, with the assistance of lawyers, he should discuss the possibilities of a separate will for the wife. It certainly will help to protect your own estate from being improperly dissolved after your death(s).

After all, be sure to consult your attorneys in these matters of wills. We have seen so many bad situations arise, simply because there were no wills made or because they were improperly executed by amateurs. So be sure to put your futures in the hands of a professional legal counsel for this.

This is one of a series of articles I hope will be helpful. You may ask us questions privately or publicly through this column.

Sisson-Hayes Married

Candelabra and arrangements of lavender and pink gladioli and asters and ivy decorated St. Peter's Episcopal Church for the marriage of Kathryn Sisson and Donal G. Hayes, on Sept. 11.

The Rev. David Fox officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Harold Sisson, 311 E. Pottawatamie and the son of Mrs. George Hayes of West Branch.

Given in marriage by her brothers, William and Dr. James Sisson, the bride wore a white chiffon gown styled with high ruffled collar, square yoke, wide sash and ruffle at the hemline. She wore a hat matching the dress. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, white roses and violets.

Mrs. James Kane, the bride's niece of Tecumseh was matron of honor wearing a white voile gown with sprigs of lavender and pink flowers.

She carried a small arrangement of pink and lavender rosettes and ivy.

Sam Ostoin of Milford was best man. James Sisson, of Tecumseh and Mark Sisson of Albion, the bride's nephews, were ushers.

Tom and Matthew Sisson, also nephews of the bride, passed the guest book. Mrs. John McLaughlin of Jackson, Mrs. Tom Hayes of Livonia were assisted at the reception by Mrs. Guy Sewell of Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Chris Pellowe of Palmyra, Mrs. George Downard of Tecumseh and Kathy Hayes of Livonia.

A reception for 75 guests was held in the church hall.

After a week in the Smoky Mountains, the couple will reside at 1126 Norman Place, Ann Arbor.

The groom's mother hosted the rehearsal dinner at Don's Beef Buffet.

Love Loaf for Hunger

Families of the First United Presbyterian Church will participate in a national "love loaf" program to combat world hunger. The women's mission committee of the church will help the congregation participate.

These love loaves are small coin containers shaped like miniature loaves of bread and will be distributed to the families of the church on Sept. 23 at 6:30 p.m. Every family has been invited to attend, bringing only themselves. They will be fed a "hunger banquet" and be given facts and responses on the global hunger situation.

The committee is Mrs. Charles Cox, Mrs. Wilbur Boyce, Dee Jay Rinehart and Mrs. Stanley Kruse. "Love loaves" will be kept on the dinner table "as a reminder that while we have much, others have little or nothing to eat."

During the eight weeks, the emphasis will be on a modern day version of Jesus' feeding the 5,000. The committee's goal is to raise enough money to feed 5,000. A penny will provide a week's supply of vitamins and a dime, a full meal.

Love loaf breaking Sunday will be Nov. 21, when the proceeds will be divided with half going to the Denominations Hunger Fund and the other half to the Emergency Relief Ministry of World Vision International, originator of the love loaf program.

World Vision is a non-profit, interdenominational Christian humanitarian agency that conducts programs of child care, emergency relief, medical assistance, evangelism and community development in 26 countries.

FOR THE RECORD

In last weeks Herald in Harry's Furniture add the price for the 9-PIECE CORNER UNIT should have been $199 and not $99 as it appeared.

MRS. RODNEY PITTS

Couple Speaks Vows in New York

Christ Church United Methodist, N.Y. was the setting for the marriage of Diana K. Temple to Rodney L. Pitts on Sept. 18, at 8 p.m.

James F. Temple, 403 Marlboro Ct. and the late Helen Kay Temple are the bride's parents. Dr. and Mrs. William R. Pitts are the groom's parents.

Dr. David James Randolph officiated at the ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an empire waisted gown of bridal satin with bridal net which fashioned the sleeves and neckline. The gown as appliqued with Venice lace of roses and lilies of the valley. A matching cap secured her veil of bridal illusion.

Mrs. Donald B. Tipping, Ill., the bride's sister of Troy, of Troy, was matron of honor.

W. Reid Pitts Jr., the groom's brother of New York City, was best man.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the River Club in New York City.

The bride is a general partner and security analyst at the New York City brokerage house of H.C. Wainwright and Co. She received her master degree from the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business and a bachelor degree from the University of Michigan. She was graduated from Bloomfield Hills High School, Bloomfield Hills.

The groom is associated with the American European Associates, a private investment firm in New York City. He received his master degree from the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business and the University of Louvain in Belguim and a bachelor degree from Duke University.

After a wedding trip to France, the couple will live in New York City.

The bride's father, formerly a distributor of the Regiscope camera in Michigan and Northern Ohio, is now retired in Tecumseh and Highland Beach, Fla.

Britton Couple are Wed

Cindy Kay Stiles and Charles Wesley Loomis were married in a candlelight ceremony at the Tecumseh Friends Church on Sept. 11 with the Rev. A. Dane Ruff officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. David K. Stiles of 9200 Ridge Hwy., Britton and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Loomis, 5472 Far Rd., Dundee.

Mrs. Linda Chase was organist, Jackie Chase was pianist and Mrs. Naomi Spohr, soloist.

Candlelabra and arrangements of orchid daisies and carnations decorated the altar for the bride's approach with her father.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of candlelight satin and Alencon lace, styled with an empire waist, sweetheart neckline, bodice of appliqued flowers and pearls and long sheer sleeves gathered at the wrist.

She wore a watch, a wedding gift from the groom and matching forget-me-not necklace and earrings, a gift from her parents.

Her chapel length veil was trimmed with matching lace and secured with a Juliet cap.

She carried lavender roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Betty Loomis, the groom's sister, was maid of honor wearing a gown of orchid and pink floral polyester knit. It featured a ruffled, scooped neckline and ruffled sleeves. She wore an orchid picture hat with matching ribbons. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids attired the same as the honor attendant were:

Mrs. Tom Brown, of Tecumseh, Mrs. Glen Cook, of Westland, the bride's sisters; Mrs. Keith Crutchfield, the groom's sister of Britton; Rhonda Stiles, of Ypsilanti and Carolyn Larsen of Whittemore, the bride's cousins; and Mrs. David Stiles of Tecumseh.

Twin sisters Christi and Carrie Cook of Westland, the bride's nieces were flower girls.

Gowns were sewn by the bride's mother.

Robert Loomis, the groom's brother of Adrian was best man.

Ushers were Tom Brown, Tecumseh; Glen Cook, Westland; Keith Crutchfield, Britton; Tony Schalm, bride's cousin of Whittemore; Phil Loesch, groom's cousin of Britton; and David Stiles, bride's brother, Tecumseh. Ring bearer was Tommy Brown Jr., the bride's nephew of Tecumseh.

A reception for 300 guests was held at the Peerless Gear Union Hall in Clinton.

The bride's aunts, Ruth Hinkle and Nancy Larsen, both of Whittemore served cake and Mrs. Charles Schalm served punch. The groom's sisters, Joyce and Linda Loomis of Dundee registered guests.

Special guests were the bride's aunt, Mrs. Connie Stiles of North Carolina and the groom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Art Pollitz, from Lansing.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and is employed at McDonalds in Adrian.

The groom was graduated from Britton-Macon High School in 1972 and is employed at the Budd Co. in Clinton.

After a wedding trip to the Upper Peninsula, the couple will reside at 9747 Welch Rd., Tecumseh.

A Proven Leader for Tecumseh

To Ray Herrick On His 71st

Whole Town Helps Benefactor Enjoy Happy Occasion

From The Blade Correspondent

TECUMSEH, Mich., July 22 Tecumseh said thanks yesterday to Ray Herrick on the occasion of his 71st birthday.

And the city paid its compliments to the head of Tecumseh Products Co. in a rather unusual manner.

A birthday book and an oil painting were presented to Mr. Herrick at his summer home in Holland, Mich. The gifts were taken there by a delegation of Tecumseh officials and their wives.

The whole thing was top-drawer secret until the delivery was made.

Sometime ago Royal Welch, president of the Chamber of Commerce, conceived the idea of the birthday book. The book was prepared and members of civic clubs canvassed the city to obtain signatures. More than 2,000 names were inscribed, and since it is a loose-leaf book more are being added daily.

At the same time a Tecumseh artist, Russell Steinke, was commissioned to do an oil painting of Mr. Herrick from a photograph. This is to be paid for by contributions from Tecumseh citizens.

The whole idea was an expression of gratitude from the citizens of Tecumseh to Mr. Herrick.

As president of Tecumseh Products he is the city's largest employer. In addition to many this, his philanthropies, al- Tecums

Royal's chief talent is an ability to size-up a problem and then do something about it.

He is hard-working and would spend full-time at the job if chosen.

Tecumseh Man Will Run For County Board

TECUMSEH — Royal E. Welch of 74 Rivig Acres Drive, Tecumseh, has announced that he is a Republican candidate for county commissioner from the Sixth District. The district includes most of the City of Tecumseh.

Welch is a former two-term city councilman, past president of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, and has been area director of the Michigan Institute of Laundering and Drycleaning. He has been in the drycleaning business for 25 years and is a lifelong resident of Lenawee County.

"Many people do not realize the importance of the party in county government," he stated. "County government is run by committee and in Lenawee County the Republicans have controlled committee assignments since 1934."

"The present commissioner is a Democrat and has little input in committee organization. On the whole the Republicans have performed well in running the county over the past years and will continue to organize the county even after the next election because only seven Democrats are running throughout the county. If they all were to win, the Republicans would still be the majority.

"Welch stated, "My experience as a city councilman taught me that it is easy to spend other people's money and to soon believe that tax money in in exhaustible and without end. My rule of thumb will always be, if the money came out of my pocket personally, would I vote to spent it?"

Welch is unopposed in the primary and will be matched against each other in November.

County Commissioners

The following are the results of the balloting in the elections for seats on the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners, where again, with the exception of District 2, all candidates who ran in the primary will advance to the general election in November.

District 1: Joseph McCarthy (D) 191; Jane Davis (R) 254.

District 3: Raymond Jackson (D) 190, Ronald Brown (R) 478.

District 4: Stacy Zilke (R) 309.

District 5: James C. Fowler (D) 146, Stanley Gibbard (R) 415.

District 6: Nancy Nichols (D) 110, Royal Welch (R) 234.

District 7: Richard Braun (R) 387.

District 8: Larry Gould (R) 301.

District 9: Russel Roback (D) 120, Oscar Hauch (R) 250.

District 10: William E. Mackey (R) 361.

Back in 1958, seven Tecumseh businessmen formed a non-profit Industrial Development Corp.

There was no Chamber of Commerce at the time and the group decided something positive should be done to promote the city as a possible site for industries looking for new locations.

Six of the original seven members — Jack Osburn, Drs. Robert Laidlaw and Robert Murray, Del King, Bill Powell and Karl Schneider — are still in the group.

The seventh charter member was Jack Shutt, a home building contractor now living in Bay City. His share was purchased by Royal Welch two years ago when Mr. Shutt sold his business interests here.

When the IDC started, the first order of business was to select and buy a plot of land where potential industry could settle. The group bought 12 acres on the south side, which has been zoned industrial on the city's Master Plan.

Each member initially invested $225 as a down payment on the land. Each month ever since, the fellows have added $20 apiece to meet installments on the balance.

Royal Welch Elected Director for Institute

Royal E. Welch, Welch Cleaners, Tecumseh, was elected area director of the Michigan Institute of Laundering and Drycleaning at its Annual Convention held at Shanty Creek Lodge, Bellaire, July 30 - Aug. 1.

An important development in the industry is the return of wool and wool blend fabrics.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

I am always looking for new main dish recipes, particularly new ways to prepare ground beef. Here are two I think you will enjoy.

This first recipe is one of my families' favorites. It is easy on the budget and really good.

STUFFED CABBAGE ROLLS

1 pound ground beef
¼ pound ground pork
2 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¾ cups cooked rice
1 small onion, chopped
2 (8 oz.) cans tomato sauce
12 large cabbage leaves
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup vinegar

Combine first six ingredients and one can tomato sauce. Blanch cabbage leaves by covering them with boiling water for three or four minutes; drain. Place equal portions of meat mixture in center of each cabbage leaf. Fold ends over, roll up, and fasten with toothpicks.

Mix remaining can of tomato sauce with brown sugar and vinegar; pour over rolls. Simmer covered 30 minutes, basting occasionally; uncover and continue cooking 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

For a quick and easy meal, try this recipe from Norma Wonderly. It is delicious and one I will prepare again soon.

BARBE-CUPS

¾ pound ground beef
½ cup barbecue sauce
1 tablespoon instant onion
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 can (8 oz.) refrigerated biscuits
¾ cup shredded cheese

Brown beef, add sauce, onion, and brown sugar. Set aside.

Separate biscuit dough into 12 biscuits. Place one biscuit in each of 12 ungreased muffin cups pressing dough up sides to edge of cup. Spoon meat mixture into cups. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown.

Spreeman Wins in Salmon Derby

by KATHY BROWN

Charles Spreeman, 211 E. Shawnee, has a fish story about the fish he caught: a 34 lb. 4 oz. King Salmon caught in the 30 foot depths of Lake Michigan off the shores of Manistee.

The catch earned the angler second place in the fifth annual American Salmon Derby, Zone 2 (Michigan coast) and $2,500 in prize money which he and his boat partner and neighbor, Ray Nichols, 216 N. Oneida, will split.

Spreeman said it was "dumb luck" that he caught the fish. "It could have just as easily been Ray's fish. It takes more than one person to catch a fish." Contest requires two people per boat.

On the morning of Aug. 30 when the duo started out, Nichols fished first, while Spreeman drove the 21 ft. Century in-board out-board boat. When the men exchanged turns, Spreeman landed the fish with his green squid and red dodger as bait at just about noon.

The fish is being mounted in Ludington. Spreeman will keep it of course. "Oh, I'll probably share it a little," he added with a smile.

The contest which began Aug. 28 and ran through Sept. 6 was a competition which brought hundreds of fishermen to trawl in Lake Michigan waters from Burns Harbor to Manistee, an area known as Zone 2 in the contest.

As luck would have it, first prize winner in the August contest was taken by Bob Martin of New York who caught a salmon at 7 p.m. that same day weighing just 1 lb. 1 oz. more. Consequently, Spreeman was denied the prize for the biggest fish of the day. The two fish ran first and second for the rest of the contest.

This was Spreeman's first contest but you can bet it won't be his last. He's going back next year, "absolutely."

His charming wife, Yoshi was teased that she won't be able to keep Charles at home now. "Dumb luck" or not, maybe Charles should have the family accompany him again on the next trip as they did on this one. Family includes wife, Yoshi, son Guy, 12, and daughters Anna, 11 and Mary, 7. Ray's wife, Nancy also joined the group after attending a conference on Mackinac Island.

CHARLES SPREEMAN AND RAY NICHOLS

Both Spreeman and Nichols are enthusiastic fishermen and have made several trips together, but until the big win, most of the big game fishing trips were planned outside of Michigan, particularly in Canada.

But the duo have discovered with other Michigan fishermen that since the introduction of the coho and the chinook into Michigan in the mid-1960's, sport fishing has been brought back to the Great Lakes.

"Now we can stay right here in the state" to game fish. "Within five years, contests will be run in Lake Erie," predicted Spreeman.

In addition to the cash, Spreeman was presented with a silver bowl trophy and has received publicity in the Ludington press and will undoubtedly from the Derby News and Michigan Outdoors.

Coho and chinook are native to the Pacific Northwest. Since their introduction to Michigan, DNR officials estimate that fishermen spend over $75 million a year fishing in Michigan for salmon.

The September issue of AAA Motor News details sites where Michiganders can observe the natural phenomenon of thousands of coho and chinook swimming upstream to spawn and die. "Salmon watchers" can visit any of 15 dams and two DNA weirs with salmon runs from Lake Michigan, Huron and Erie. Heaviest runs are mid-Oct. to early November.

AAA suggests you may combine this trip with an autumn color tour. Trips north should be planned from late September to mid-October and trips south in Lower Michigan from mid to late October for best color.

My small son looks wonderingly at a bright red cardinal. And, for one instant, I glimpse a bright mind in eager search, the wonder of intelligence dawning. What an awareness of heaven is in my heart as I see my baby reflect God's goodness and love! And what a deep sense of responsibility I feel.

How grateful I am for my church! It has helped me find answers, strengthened my faith. How comforting to be able to guide the religious training of my child as his questions grow in scope and depth!

More than anything else I want to share with him the wealth of love and understanding, joy and strength I have found in the love of God and His Church.

100 Units Set To March Sunday

CLINTON — More than 100 units are expected to participate in Clinton's Fall Festival parade, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., according to parade chairman, Charles Steffens.

Michigan Fifth Regiment Band of Howell, a hit at last year's festival event, will march again and present a Bicentennial concert on stage after the parade.

Besides Clinton's school senior and junior marching bands Britton-Macon High School Band and Tecumseh High School Marching Band will be visiting units.

Several horse drawn units will appear along with Jackson County's Bicentennial covered wagons.

Howard Tesch of Tecumseh's Sutton School, will have three unusual animal units, including a dwarf steer and a llama, in the line of march.

Other parade features are: 4-H clown units, Adrian Shriner's fire engine clowns, antique car club of Dexter and other area antique vehicles, Britton-Ridgeway area Garter Snatchers, funny car and three floats, Lenawee County Sheriff's mounted posse, Lenawee Co. Voiture 40 & 8, sponsored by local area merchant, Clinton's homecoming King and Queen, high school class floats, and merchants floats. Amy Skinner of Tecumseh, Miss Lenawee County, Jackson's Cascadian Drill Team, area barbershoppers are invited to ride and sing-a-long with "Doc" Dixon.

A reviewing stand will be erected atop the Clinton Theatre marquee, where Fall Festival chairman, Forrest Haskell will describe the passing parade on a public address system.

Parade will form at Clinton Middle School, and proceed down Currier St. to E. Michigan Ave., then west through the main business block and return to the Middle School for disbursement.

Parade committee includes Waldo Ehnis, Hollis Farley, Mrs. Jon Sweet and Mark Schnizlein.

MUSICAL PRESIDENTS — That's the theme for a Bicentennial musical program by Doug Spade and Betty Flanders on Radio WLEN Show will be on stage at 6:15 p.m. Saturday at Clinton's Fall Festival.

Two to Present Bicentennial Music

CLINTON — "Musical Presidents" will be the theme of a Bicentennial musical program to be presented by Betty Flanders of Tecumseh and Doug Spade, WLEN radio personalities, at 6:15 p.m. Sept. 25, at Clinton's Fall Festival.

The 45-minute program will be on stage in front of Clinton Middle School. Patricia Patten will provide the musical accompaniment.

Mindful of both the Bicentennial and the impending election of a president, the program will include many favorite songs of the nation's presidents.

Betty Flanders noted some little-known facts about our presidents.

She said that George Washington was an expert dancer and each year on his birthday he held a ball and often danced until after midnight. He played the flute and the violin.

Did you know that Thomas Jefferson was a professional musician among all his other accomplishments? He played the violin and often appeared in chamber music concerts with his wife, who played the harpsicord.

The first president to have carols sung in the White House, was James Buchannan, the 15th president. His favorite was "Jingle Bells."

Surprisingly, 'rough and ready' Teddy Roosevelt's favorite music were the classics of Brahms, Shubert and Chopin.

William Howard Taft was the first president to toss the baseball at the first game of the season and his favorite song was "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Woodrow Wilson was an accomplished singer, one of the few who could give a good rendition of the national anthem.

Warren G. Harding could play any instrument in the Marine Band, and he often would pick up any Marine's instrument and play it.

Harry Truman a pianist actually disliked the Missouri Waltz he was so often asked to play. He preferred the music of Beethoven and Mozart.

Dwight Eisenhower liked the music of hymns.

John Kennedy loved the songs of the musical "Camelot."

Lyndon B. Johnson loved the fox trot and could dance the night away.

Richard Nixon, another pianist, liked Beethoven and Bach, but he really "dug" the Beatles, too, and his favorite singer was Pearl Bailey, and her singing of "Bill Bailey."

Gerald Ford's favorite could well be Michigan's "Hail to the Victors," especially if he wins in November.

Then, if Jimmy Carter wins, we may be hearing the "Peanut Polka."

You'll hear all these songs and more at Saturday's audience participation show, which is climaxed by Doug Spade's reading of an American Heritage poem, "Consider Our Strength in America."

Mr. and Mrs. Del Manchester, Mrs. Douglas Beasley and Mrs. Ina Basham attended the Lenawee-Monroe County Association OES meeting at Hudson, Saturday.

Shows Just One of Many Features

CLINTON — Besides the more than 70 booths displaying all types of craft and food items, and the merchants' sidewalk sales, Clinton's Fall Festival will feature many entertaining free shows.

The big stage from the Lenawee County Fairgrounds will be erected on the lawn in front of the Middle School, facing Tecumseh, St., and a variety of musical, vocal and dancing shows will be presented there Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 24, 25, 26.

Clinton High School Homecoming parade, at 2 p.m. Friday, will be followed by a presentation of the Swanton, Ohio senior citizen's kitchen band at 3 p.m. on stage.

There will be a family style, all-you-can-eat, fish fry from 5 to 7 p.m. Friday at the United Church of Christ.

St. Dominic's Altar Society will again sponsor their Apple Tree at the Community Center grounds, serving apple pie and ice cream, candied apples and, possibly hot dogs. There will be apple dunking and a trash and treasures booth there, too.

Hudson High's Tigers will be here for the Homecoming game at 8 p.m. Friday. Crowning of the queen and naming of class float winners will be at half-time.

Saturday, merchants will be displaying many sidewalk sale specials. Bingo games will be in session all day and evening.

St. John's Episcopal Church will have a beef barbecue luncheon available in Lyster Hall both Friday and Saturday. Clinton Area Jaycees will have a kielbasa and sauerkraut lunch Saturday at noon, with beer served all day. Jaycees will also roast five whole pigs for a big pork roast supper at Memorial Park.

Balloon ascension will be at 3 p.m. Saturday at the high school.

Saturday afternoon the Sally Covell dancers of Tecumseh, a belly dance troupe and Tahitian dance troupe will perform at 4 p.m. in stage.

Heide Mueller, 17, of Hamburg, Germany is staying with Mr. and Mrs. James Rolland, and three sons, two, four and six years old, 777 McCombs Court.

Heide's father is dead and she lives with her mother. She has an older sister and brother, both married.

She speaks German, English, Latin, and a little French and would like to learn Italian and Spanish languages.

She's considering a possible career in some travel field where she could use her knowledge of languages, or perhaps she'll study psychology.

She's discovered that Americans are friendly to strangers.

With her new-found family she has visited Philadelphia, Pa. where she toured the Ben Franklin Institute and had computer photos of her new little brothers put on her T-shirt. They also visited the Hershey plant at Hershey, Pa., and Cedar Point, Ohio.

She's taking judo lessons at YMCA, and is in the Clinton High flag corps. She likes to listen to pop music, and she plays the wooden flute.

Susanne Bernhardsson, 17, came from Strangnas, Sweden where she is an only child. Her father is an and her mother is a secretary. engineer and her mother is a secretary.

She is living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schumaker, Tecumseh-Clinton St., Clinton. They have four childen, ages 5,7,9 and 12.

She has played piano for eight years, likes to listen to pop music and likes sports. She'll play volley ball next semester. She's in the flag corps at school.

She speaks French, German and English.

Susanne will take tap and jazz dancing lessons, she sings in the United Church of Christ choir and with the Bicentennial Choir.

The Schumakers have taken her to Tennessee and Ohio on trips and she and Heide will be going trailer camping to other places.

Susanne plans to become a physio therapist.

Alain Ihne, 17, came from Geneva, Switzerland, to live with Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Reeves, 205 Sunset Dr. Their children are Donovan, 11, Dana Kate, 9, and Jenny 4.

Alain's father works in a bank and his mother is a secretary in a church. He has a brother 16.

His favorite sports are high jump (with a 6 ft. record) basketball and volleyball. He'll go out for track here, too. He's a good swimmer and diver.

The Reeves have taken him to the bush country at Burris, north of International Falls, Minn., southern Ohio and Ill.

He'll have to go to school two more years when he returns to Switzerland, and hasn't made a career choice yet.

Approve Zoning Ordinance

CLINTON — A new land use plan and zoning ordinance was approved at a meeting of the Clinton Township Zoning Board, Thursday evening, with chairman James Wilson presiding.

Plan must now go to Lenawee County Planning Commission for review, then will come back to the township board for final approval.

As in the earlier ordinance, adopted in 1966, the new ordinance restricts mobile home parks, except for persons building a house or in hardship cases.

It was this provision which one resident protested. He has a mobile home on his 76-acre property under the hardship clause. Board agreed to consider his position, then after he left the meeting, voted approval of the ordinance, allowing the restrictions to stand.

Another provision, protested by a local businessman, would prohibit farm produce from being sold in an agricultural zone if it wasn't grown on the same property. Businesses already established could continue to sell such products, and others could request rezoning from agriculture to commercial to permit such sales.

A representative of the Goedert Co., realty firm inquired about the lot size requirements. New ordinance would require a minimum lot size of five acres in agricultural zones. One-acre lot sizes are permitted in suburban residential zones.

Most of the township is in agricultural zoning, but five other zones are designated: single family residential, multiple family residential, suburban residential, commercial, and light industrial.

Most of the property not zoned agricultural is close to the Village of Clinton.

Officials explained that the ordinance can be put to a referendum vote if a sufficient number of signatures are gathered.

This can take place only after the ordinance is approved by the township board.

A SMALL WORLD — Amy Woodward, manager, is showing some of the handcrafted doll houses and accessories, a speciality of the new business recently opened by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woodward, Woodward's Village Gift Shop, 106 W. More Pies Than Ever for Apple Tree

CLINTON — Plans for their Apple Tree booth at Clinton's Fall Festival were the main concern as members of the St. Dominic's Altar Society met Sept. 13.

BEST SHOWMAN — Kent Rhora, 7500 Clinton Macon Rd. won in his age group in the showmanship contest and went on to be the best showman of all youth in sheep at the 1976 Michigan State Fair. Lamb Queen Melinda Bortel of 11890 Ridge Rd. presented him the Michigan plaque. Kent also competed in the showmanship sweepstakes which was held in the coliseum. Each showman from beef, dairy, swine, goats and sheep exchanged animals and answered questions. (Photo by Leona Hutchings, Ortonville)

Meeting at Smith-Kimball Community Center was attended by 23 members and a guest, Mrs. John Toomey. Mrs. Carlos Knisely presided.

Apple Tree on all three days at the Community Center lawn, will feature apple pie and ice cream, which were sell-out items last year, with more than 100 pies served. All women of the parish are asked to furnish pies.

Added this year will be hot dogs and pop to be sold by Mrs. Leonard Rochowiak and Mrs. Al Cowhy and committee.

Mrs. Mark Bauer is in charge of the caramel apples.

Mrs. Teresa Bauer and Mrs. F.W. Balk report that the Apple Cookbooks are ready for sale at Fall Fest. Mrs. Mark Bauer and Mrs. Knisely report there was good response from sponsoring patrons of the cookbook.

A trash and treasure sale is being arranged for the Festival by Mrs. E.J. Kehoe and Mrs. Gordie Poland.

Members voted to send a plant to a former member, Mrs. Florence (Gra') in a Monroe Nursing hom.

Since Mrs. Charles Still is unable to continue caring for Fr. Lee's vestments and altar linens, the women will share this responsibility. Mrs. Balk volunteered for September.

Mrs. Edward Blom and Mrs. Richard Krohl served refreshments.

Hostess for the Oct. 12 meeting at the center will be Mrs. Anthony Bandurski and Mrs. James Meier.

Kimpel Is Crib Champ

CLINTON — Jeff Kimpel, a 12-year-old, earned the first place trophy in a match of 20 cribbage players of all ages, Sunday afternoon at Smith-Kimball Community Center. Jeff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kimpel, 505 Brown St., Tecumseh.

The pre-Fall Festival event was managed by Mrs. Edward Blom.

Second place was won by Doug Wight, of Florida, who is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E.V. Wight; and third place was won by Ann LaSovage.

Republicans To Meet

CLINTON — Republican Club of Clinton and Clinton Township will meet at the Waterwheel Estates, 8 p.m. Sept. 30.

Republicans of the Clinton area, Franklin Township and Tecumseh Township are invited. Election of officers will be held.

Street Dance Is Saturday

CLINTON — Bill Vollmer's band of Tipton will provide the music for the Fall Festival street dance in the large tent beside Memorial Park.

Dance will begin after the Bicentennial Choir stage show is Saturday night.

Clinton Gridders Take 40-6 Victory

Clinton's grid squad came up with a big 40-6 win over Galien to open its season Saturday afternoon.

The Redskins tallied 361 yards total offense including 114 yards on 13 carries for senior tailback Terry Higgins.

Clinton quarterback Phil Erickson hit six of 11 passes for 94 yards and two touchdowns. He connected with tight end Doug Feldkamp on a 20 yard pass play just before halftime and found wingback Terry Reiser in the third quarter.

Three other players scored for Clinton including Higgins on an eight-yard run, fullback Phil Martiny on a five-yard run and sophomore Jeff Porterfield on a 35-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Sophomore middle guard Lee Russ led the Redskins defensively with eight tackles followed by Reiser with seven. The defense held Galien to 80 yards offense.

Defensive backs Andy Hoag and Doug Feldkamp each had an interception.

Clinton hosts Hudson this Friday for Homecoming. The game starts at 8 p.m.

THS Basketballers Fight for 2 Wins

Tecumseh's girls basketball squad won their first two games of the season fighting all the way.

The first victory was a 34-32 victory in overtime over Ann Arbor Pioneer last Wednesday. On Tuesday of this week, the Indians fought off Bishop Gallagher to post a 45-40 win again in overtime.

Grace Burns led the team in scoring against Gallagher with 15 points. Debbie Steadly followed with 13, Sandy MacGeorge eight, Kris Undersood four and Gloria Fosbender three.

Burns also led in scoring against Pioneer with 13. Nine of those points were foul shots. MacGeorge had eight, Fosbender six, Steadly five and Robin Isom one.

The junior varsity won their battle with Pioneer 22-18 but lost 44-13 to the Gallagher junior varsity unit.

Redskin Girls Are Undefeated

The Clinton Redskins raised their record to 3-0 last week with victories over Whiteford and Manchester in girls basketball.

On Tuesday Clinton traveled to Whiteford and after a close first half the Redskins exploded for 20 points in the third quarter and coasted to a 49 to 24 win. Ruth King led a very well balanced attack with 12 points. Karen Busch had nine and Sue Richter eight.

Thursday Manchester came to Clinton and the girls played their best game of the year and one of the best in the history of girls basketball outscoring Manchester 65 to 33.

Shooting 48 percent for the game Clinton never trailed as 10 players scored. Led by JoAnn Grossman and Margaret Campbell, the Redskins also controlled the backboards outrebounding Manchester 47 to 25.

Sue Richter had an outstanding game scoring 21 points and Lisa Cark chipped in 10 points.

Redskin Runners Split Pair

Clinton cross country team lost a heart breaking one point decision to Manchester Thursday at Meadowlane Golf Course. The score was 27-28.

Manchester's brilliant runner, Dan Heslip was first at 15:20 breaking the course record by over 20 seconds.

Jerry Cline was second leading the Redskins runners with a time of 16:10, Mike Risner was third at 16:13, Wally Pike sixth at 16:37, Chris Wojtowicz 8th in 16:54, Mark Prichard ninth in 16:58.

Devin Schindler was 14th in 18:21 and Dave Dagostino 19th in 19:54.

The squad scored a big 17-41 win over Hudson on Tuesday of this week.

Three Clinton runners tied for first place against the Tigers including Jerry Cline, Wally Pike and Mike Risner in a time of 16:54. Mark Prichard was fifth at 17:18 and Chris Wojtowicz sixth at 17:22. Only :28 separated the Redskin's top five runners.

Devin Schindler was ninth at 18:51 and Dave Dagostino as 11th at 20:01.

The squad is 2-1 overall and 1-1 in the LCAA. They host Blissfield on Thursday, travel to the Fayette, Ohio Invitational Saturday and travel to Sand Creek Tuesday.

Golfers Win 3

Tecumseh's golf squad made it three in a row in the past week posting wins over Columbia Central, Bedford and a second place showing at the Western Invitational.

And team member Steve Hunter shot a hole in one at the Invitational, the first ever during regular team competition.

The team outshot Columbia Central last Wednesday 165-192. Doug Jacobs and Steve Lynch each carded a 40 followed by Dave Graf with a 42 and John Gibson a 43.

The JV unit also won 197-228 with Larry Lavoy shooting a 43 for the Indians.

The Indians traveled to Bedford on Thursday scoring a 206 tie after regulation play. Doug Jacobs birdied the first hole of sudden death to take the victory for Tecumseh.

Jacobs shot a final 38 overall followed by Scott Macbeth 40, Steve Hunter 41, Dave Graf 43 and Keith Bauman 44.

The squad participated in the Western Invitational Monday held at Wiffle Tree Hills near Concord. Tecumseh took a second place to Lumen Christi out of 15 teams entered.

The Indians total score was a 311 just one stroke off the team record. Lumen Christi fired a 303 to win.

Jacobs shot a 75 to tie for third place overall. Macbeth hit 78, John Gibson and Dave Graf hit 79's.

Steve Hunter shot an 82 but scored a hole in one on the 196 yard 13th hole using a four iron. Coach Paul Cunningham reported that it was the first hole in one in competition the THS golf team has ever had.

The squad is 4-1 overall opening their league season Wednesday with Jefferson. Next Monday they travel to Huron.

Indians Open With Big Victory Over Chelsea

Tecumseh's Indians started out the season in a big way shutting out Chelsea 23-0 Friday night in grid action.

Chelsea went into the game boasting a 9-0 undefeated record from last year including a 26-13 win over the Indians. Chelsea had defeated Tecumseh three years in a row before Friday night.

And the contest was a real crowd pleaser as well with Tecumseh's Lyndon Hughes taking the opening kick off and running it back 90 yards for the score. John Egbert converted the point-after attempt.

Egbert kicked a 20 yard field goal in the second quarter for the only other score of the first half.

Tecumseh received the kick opening the second half and marched down to the three yard line helped along by a two penalties against Chelsea.

Kevin Eggleston went in for the score and Egbert kicked the extra point at 4:43.

With just over seven minutes remaining in the fourth quarter Lyndon Hughes scored on a 48 yard pass play from Indian reserve quarterback Jeff Hans. Dan Tilton had intercepted a Chelsea pass at Chelsea's 43 yard line to set up the touchdown. Egbert's point after attempt failed.

Another touchdown in the fourth quarter on a pass play from Hans to Steve Phelps was called back due to an illegal procedure penalty. On the next play, Hans again went to the air but had the pass picked off with a little over a minute remaining. Hans later intercepted on Tecumseh's 43 yard line to stop the Chelsea drive.

The Indians defense was especially tough allowing Chelsea to come close to scoring only once, early in the fourth quarter.

The Indians had 159 yards on the ground compared to 104 for Chelsea. John Egbert was the leading Tecumseh rusher with 49 yards.

Dave Bohannon started the game at quarterback and had 76 yards completing five of 13 passes. Jeff Hans played the second half getting 71 yards on three of four passes attempted. Hans passed for one touchdown but had one interception. Chelsea completed just two of seven passes for 31 yards allowing three interceptions. Kevin Eggleston was Tecumseh's leading pass receiver with three catches for 45 yards.

Tecumseh had 14 first downs to just seven for Chelsea. The Indians fumbled three times losing it once while Chelsea fumbled four times but recovered every time.

Tecumseh travels to Monroe Jefferson this Friday night.

The Indian junior varsity unit defeated Chelsea 20-6 last Thursday

Tories Fall To Northwood 12-6

The Britton-Macon Tories were defeated by Northwood in their season opener 12-6 Friday night.

Northwood scored first in the middle of the first quarter on a 47 yard pass from Bob Snider to Rick Coy capping a 75 yard drive. The extra point kick failed.

In the second quarter the Rangers marched 67 yards with the touchdown coming on a four yard pass from Snider to Jim Gugson. The extra point kick failed and Northwood led at halftime 12-0.

Britton scored its only touchdown of the game in the third quarter when fullback Bill Lutz ran 32 yards to paydirt capping a 58 yard drive. The extra point run failed to make the final score Northwood 12, Britton 6.

The Rangers had 247 yards in total offense with 125 yards coming on the ground and 122 yards in the air. The Rangers also racked up 11 first downs.

Britton had 210 yards rushing and 20 yards passing for 230 yards total offense and 12 first downs.

Lutz led the ground attack with 103 yards in 23 carries.

Lon Wagenschutz had a fine game defensively with eight solo tackles and nine assists for a 17 total. Jeff Osterhout had three solos and 11 assists and Steve Crittenden had six solos and seven assists respectively.

The Tories are 0-1. They travel to Whiteford Friday to open their league season.

Redskin Golfers Drop 2

Clinton's golf squad dropped two contests, one a 168-185 decision to Manchester a week ago Wednesday and then a 158-173 tally to Sand Creek last Friday.

The Redskins shot 10 strokes under their average against Sand Creek but it wasn't good enough with their opponents firing a school record.

Brad Eversole shot a 44, Al Wahl a 43, John Wahl a 44 and Bernie Hough a 45 for Clinton against Sand Creek.

The junior varsity lost 178-205 to Sand Creek and 198-202 against Manchester.

Plan Gobbling of Turkeys

BRITTON — Plans were made for the Fall Mission Turkey Supper and Bazaar Nov. 6, during the Emmanuel Lutheran Women's Guild meeting Sept. 14, at the church, with Mrs. Leon Squires and Mrs. Robert Billau acting as hostesses.

Mrs. Thomas Trapp and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder will be co-chairmen of the annual church event.

Following announcements were made: Lutheran Women's Missionary League Fall Rally will be held Oct. 28 at Grace Lutheran Church in Monroe and the Monroe Zone Board Meeting was set for Feb. 24 at Emmanuel Lutheran, Britton.

Cookies will be taken each month to the State Hospital.

Hostesses for the October meeting will be Mrs. Alvin Pallitz and Mrs. Elton Helle.

Marching Band To Visit Clinton

BRITTON — The Tory Marching Band, under the direction of Mrs. Meri Schoof, will march in the Fall Festival Parade at Clinton Sept. 26.

This past summer the band has marched in two Bicentennial parades.

Two members received Band Booster's scholarships and attended music camp this summer: Dawn Bush attended Smith-Wallbridge drum major camp and Jon Hintz attended Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp.

The Tory Marching Band will again perform at the All County Band Festival on the Tecumseh High School Athletic field Oct. 5.

The band is composed of 42 members, with the following officers for the 1976-77 school year:

President, Dawn Bush; vice-president, Mark Gilmore; secretary, Randy Smith; treasurer, Nancy Lorenz; representative, Allison Judkins; publicity chairman, Joann Squires; and Dawn Bush is drum major.

Britton FHA Selects Prince

BRITTON — Lon Wagenschutz was selected as Future Homemakers of America FHA Prince for Homecoming Oct. 1.

At the Sept. 15 meeting, plans were made for groups to work with Sutton School students again this year.

State president, Mary Schroeder talked about her summer activities.

The group discussed having recreation activities with the FFA after meetings.

New membership and activities for the year were discussed.

Becky Rowe is this year's president.

PTO Pancakes at Ridgeway

RIDGEWAY — The annual Ridgeway School PTO Pancake Supper is scheduled to be held Oct. 7, with Mrs. Donna Irvin as chairwoman of the event.

Supper will be from 5-7 p.m., with all the pancakes you can eat. Also on the menu is sausage and applesauce.

Money earned goes into the PTO fund.

Mrs. Diana Henry is publicity chairman.

Rubbish Pick-up

BRITTON — In other action Sept. 20, rubbish pick-up for three times a year was approved by village council. This will start in 1977. Final rubbish pick-up for 1976 will begin Oct. 4.

Residents are asked to place all rubbish at the street for pick-up.

"That much to rebuild?"

Your 35 year old home may have depreciated considerably in value. But how much would it cost to replace it at today's building costs? We advise you to investigate insurance to "full replacement value", at Sunderland Agency.

Mastie Is Elected President

BRITTON — Henry Mastie, village councilman replaces Stewart Niblack as Britton Village Council president. Mastie was elected Sept. 20 by a majority vote. Elmer Bryan and Robert Spence were defeated. Jerry Dicks elected by majority vote, will fill the council seat vacated by Mastie's election.

Jean Tiede resigned as village clerk. Linda Rohrback was appointed by council as temporary clerk.

Acting village attorney, James Beardsley, attended the meeting as did 20 residents.

John Young, village building inspector has been asked to attend the next meeting which will be Oct. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Council rooms above the library.

Hutchinson Is Asked To Support Reform

Richard McRobert, Common Cause coordinator in Lenawee County, has asked Edward Hutchinson, a member of the House Judiciary Committee, to assert his leadership in moving a post-Watergate reform bill to the House floor for a vote before Congress adjourns Oct. 2.

The bill, which requires public officials to disclose their personal finances, has already cleared the Senate with overwhelming support. Now, with less than three weeks before Congress adjourns, the bill has yet to be considered by the full House of Representatives.

The legislation, which has been pending before the Judiciary Committee for 20 months, has substantial House support: 168 Members have cosponsored it.

Although the Judiciary Committee has begun work on the financial disclosure bill, it has yet to report the bill to the full House for a vote.

"If this bill is brought before the entire House of Representatives, Common Cause beleives it will be enacted," said McRobert.

Alma Rep Visits THS

Alma College admissions office representative Craig Wesley will be at Tecumseh High School on Sept. 27, to provide information to interested students concerning Alma's academic programs.

Interested students should contact the high school counseling office for an appointment to talk to Wesley.

Bi-centennial Journey

Containers
By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — Not too many years ago, barrels and crates were essential equipment not only on most farms but also in grocery stores.

The majority of senior citizens will recall the grocer's cracker barrel. When a purchaser requested crackers the grocer used a scoop to remove the crackers from the barrel and transfer them to the paper bag. Then he weighed the crackers on the store's scales. How good those crackers tasted. Children considered them a treat.

Molasses came to the stores in barrels. Housewives took their empty containers (usually a jug or crock) to the store when purchasing the commodity.

Vinegar barrels were common both at homes and at stores. Since almost every property owner had an apple orchard it was common practice to have windfalls made into cider which soon became hard and in time turned to vinegar so useful in making pickles.

Store keepers kept the vinngar barrel, molasses barrel, and kerosene barrel in the back room and sold the contents to customers in quantities requested. How different now. Molasses and vinegar are already in bottles or jars (unless a customer purchases vinegar at an orchard). Kerosene seems to be unobtainable.

Apples were stored in barrels in home basements. What a treat it was to enter a cellar with bins of vegetables, shelves filled with jars of jams, jellies, pickles, canned fruit, and vegetables, barrels of apples, barrels of vinegar, huge crocks of pickles and salt pork.

Farmers purchased barrels of salt at a time. When the salt barrel was opened, the housewife took a crock, (normally two gallon in size) to the barn and filled it with the clean salt for use in the home to season food, and make pickles. Farmers used the salt to sprinkle over layers of loose hay as it was being mowed away. Salt was also used for sheep.

Rural families made barrels of pickles. Many used dill sized cucumbers. The cucumbers were washed, dried and packed in a barrel which was filled with a strong brine. Some people added dill. If the pickles were kept completely covered with brine they would keep for a year.

During horse and buggy days, a pork barrel in which a good supply of salt pork was kept was found in practically every rural home. Refrigeration and super markets were unknown and how else could farmers provide for their family's meat supply?

The rain barrel, an open barrel standing under the down-spout at the corner of the house assured a supply of soft water. At least one disadvantage was that rain barrels made good breeding places for mosquitoes.

Swill barrels, containers for hog feed, were smelly, fly breeding places. The swill barrel had an open top. It contained water, ground feed, table scraps, potato peelings, skimmed milk, whey, etc. At feeding time the farmer dipped out pailfuls of swill and poured them into the hog troughs then refilled the barrel for the next feed.

Numerous crates were kept on each farm for potatoes, corn, squash, apples, cabbage, popcorn and sometimes kindling.

During the years that large quantities of celerywere being produced on the muck land in the Tecumseh area, celery was packed in crates larger and taller than a normal bushel size. Much of the celery was shipped in car-load lots to Chicago.

Many families purchased a crate of celery in the fall and packed it in a container (usually one end of a barrel that had been sawed in half). If properly packed, celery stayed fresh for weeks. In those days fresh produce was not available the year around as today.

Popcorn was stored in crates and left to dry until it would pop. Then the corn was shelled by hand.

Barrels and crates once standard farm equipment are new almost non-existent. Additional historical items gone.

(Editors Note: The above article on "Containers" was written after Miss Younglove received a telephone call from a former Brittonite, Mrs. LaVina Dettman of Flint, who requested it.)

Prepare Seniors

The Tecumseh High School guidance counselors gave information to the seniors Sept. 17, preparing them for their senior year of counseling.

The counselors emphasized the importance of the senior year in post-high school planning and using the guidance counselors

The counselors gave each student a copy of the 1976-77 test schedule for the American College Test and the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Almost all colleges and junior colleges require one of these for admission. Counselors also gave students the booklet "Meeting College Costs," which can be used as an aid by the parents and student to determine in how to meet the cost for further education.

The students were urged to listen to announcements for events and information pertinent to their planning such as scholarship opportunities, meetings with college, technical school and trade school representatives visiting Tecumseh High School and deadlines for applications and financial aid.

What a difference a Bilco Door makes!

Here's the way to add new beauty to your home. Replace that wooden hatchway with a modern, all steel Bilco Door. It's ruggedly built, weather-tight, and so easy for everyone in the family to use! What's more, it will make your basement more secure against intrusion. And it will pay for itself many times over by saving repair and replacement costs.

If your home was built without the convenience of a direct basement entrance, ask us for Bilco's new handbook "How to Add Valuable Living Space to Your Home."

Stop in and see our display. We'll give you free literature on how to do it. Or, we can suggest a man to install it for you.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

NO BARBERRY FEASTING

They show bright yellow end-of-the-tail bands, black face masks, and topknots. They are friendly and usually travel in flocks. They are going to come trooping into the yard one of these days and be madder than blazes at us. They are the lovely, quietly beautiful cedar waxwings.

Settle down, Marda, saying that the birds would be angry is a bit much. Actually, it is pure plain and simple anthropomorphizing. And that is a blockbuster of a word which tickels the tongue and rolls out the dictionary once in a while but means nothing more than attributing human characteristics to nonhumans.

This may not be all bad but today is no time to become involved in that discussion.

What I started out to say is that when the waxwings come gypsying to the barberry bushes and find that they are not laddened with bright red berries, the birds may be disappointed but they will not be angry at us. Nor mad or disgusted.

I'm not even sure about disappointed—when the birds find one of their favorite fall dining sports empty will they be disappointed or will it be just one of those things that happens?

We will be disappointed, I am sure of that. The fall visit of the handsome cedar waxwings is an event to which we all look forward.

It usually follows much the same schedule — when the leaves start showing some color and the small oblong fruit on the barberry bushes takes on its waxy red color then we begin looking for waxwings.

One or two make several reconaissance flights into the front yard and finally, when the berries are just right for eating, the scouts give the word. Then the whole flock comes. For several days they gorge themselves and entertain us.

But this year there are no berries and thus there will be no cedar waxwing adventure.

No, that is not quite right. Chances are there will not be an inititate visit but we do have hopes of seeing these lovely birds in the neighborhood. Prettymans have a large bush, I do not know whether it is a huge thing loaded with dull red fruit which the waxwings dearly love. In good years they fly back and forth, eating the first course here and the next one across the street. Since our yard has little to offer this fall you can be sure that we are all keeping extra close track of our neighbor's 'free lunch counter'.

And it is nice to see that our barberry bushes are growing so fast that by next year they should once again be ready to provide a banquet or two.

In the "Audubon Bird Guide" by Richard H. Pough, an asterisk follows the name cedar waxwing which indicates that the sexes look alike. And oh, what nice looking that is — their upper backs are a soft warm fawnish brown, their lower backs are a slightly bluish gray, and their breasts are a yellowish tan.

Their dark wings have white edging and occasionally bright red globs of wax decorate the tips of certain wing feathers. No reason, uses, or purpose has ever been found for this except that it provides a good reason for naming them waxwings.

And finally, one of the best field marks, one of the easiest ways to identify these birds is by the bright band of yellow — well, this surprising bit of bold color tips the end of every waxwing's tail and looks for all the world as though they had carefully perched on the rim of a paint can and daintily dipped their tails into the brightest of yellow paint.

Weeks ago our neighbor's daughter rescued a cedar waxwing from the side of the road where it lay stunned after apparently being hit by a car. In the evening they brought it over for us to see and in the bird cage that yellow band was so noticeable as was the topknot and the rakish black eye mask.

That close-up look confirmed what we had always said about the feathers too, they were soft looking and in place. I doubt that a cedar waxwing could be dishevled or mussed up even if he tried.

Board Joins Association

Tecumseh's School Board voted Monday night to join the Michigan Association of School Boards. The cost is $1,000 per year.

Membership furnishes pamphlets and special information programs for members.

Board member William Macbeth voted against joining.

In other action, the Board voted a resolution supporting the Town Meeting to be held Oct. 23.

Oldest Businesses Mentioned

Honorable mentions in the Historical Society of Michigan's Oldest Business Contest went to two Tecumseh area businesses founded before 1840:

—Bauer Manor in Tipton (1834), a former stage coach stop, is still operating as an inn.

—Atlas Feed and Grain Co. in Clinton (1836), is still in its original building.

The Tecumseh Herald (1850) was the only Tecumseh business that entered the same contest.

All businesses at least 100 years old will receive centennial business certificates from the Historical Society of Michigan. The state society is working with local historical societies to arrange for presentations later this fall.

The George Jerome and Co., a Detroit surveying firm (1828) is the oldest business in the state, according to the contest results.

It was chartered 148 years ago, nine years before Michigan became a state. George G. Jerome, the current president, is the fifth consecutive son to succeed his father in the business. The company's founder, Edwin Jerome, was a pioneer land surveyor who laid out many of the streets and hollow-log water lines of early Detroit.

More than 190 Michigan businesses entered the contest.

Sumnerville Tavern (1835) is the oldest business in Michigan still operating in its original building. It was built by Peabody Cook on the stage coach route between Niles and Kalamazoo, now Route M-51.

In the early days, all the guests used one washroom and a single towel. Legend has it that when a guest from the east requested a clean towel, Peabody Cook's reply was, "Stranger, there's been 50 men wiped on this towel this morning and you're the first to complain." Charles and Mary Richer now operate the tavern under more modern conditions.

Mann's Feed Mill in Manchester, (1832) is the oldest business in the state still on its original site. Located on the Raisin River, the mill was built by John Gibert, founder of the village of Manchester. During its long history, the mill was destroyed by fire in 1853 and 1924 — and the dam was washed out in 1875 and 1908. Current owners are Ron and Judy Mann.

You Told Us

Have you ever read the newspaper and remarked "Something ought to be done about that." You will have an excellent chance to do something positive about things happening in Tecumseh at the Town Meeting '76, Oct. 23 at Tecumseh High School.

That is the day when 400 and more area residents concerned about Tecumseh's future will come together to discuss the problems and concerns they have for their community. Furthermore these discussions will serve as a basis for action to improve our community.

Have you seriously considered attending Town Meeting '76 to voice your concerns? Have you proposed your church, business or social group support Town Meeting '76 as a sponsor? There is still time. Planning meetings are held every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Tecumseh Public Library. Public is invited. Roger Proctor, coordinator for TM '76 invites your questions and your support. For more information you can call him at 423-4100.

And don't be shy. Somewhere in the Tecumseh area there are other people just like you who feel something ought to be done but are shy in speaking to strangers. Why not bring your neighbors and talk things over together?

Town Meeting '76 can provide the friendly, casual atmosphere of an "over the fence" conversation with your neighbor. Its success will depend on you.

There will be entertainment and a youth program, too. Most important there is a promise of a better Tecumseh for all of us to live and work in. Why not join Town Meeting 1976? It will cost you no more than a Saturday and it may be your most inspiring experience this Bicentennial year.

Herbert Hoag, 310 N. Maiden Lane is at home recuperating from a recent illness. Cards would be appreciated as he is not able to receive visitors. More club officers should follow Mr. Hoag's lead when as past president of the Exchange Club, he reported club meetings and projects in time for good press coverage. Tecumseh Exchange Club members voted not to be active this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Judd, 114 W. Kilbuck St. celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary on Sept. 22.

Retired Blissfield Advance publisher Duane DeLoach is recuperating after surgery for lung cancer. Cards and letters can be addressed to him at 141 Lakewood Lane, Marquette, Mich. 49855.

The annual William C. Kopka reunion was held Sept. 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Kopka. Thirty-two members were present from Fort Wayne, Ind., Ypsilanti, Milan, Blissfield, Ogden Station, Palmyra, Britton and Tecumseh.

Five families of the Irish Hills Indians National Campers and Hikers Association No. 155 enjoyed a weekend at Sunset Cove on Marble Lake at Quincy Sept. 10, 11 and 12.

Twenty-two members and three guests attended the potluck and meeting.

A nominating committee committee consisting of Iona Osterhout, Rosemary Dick and Helen Johnston was appointed by president Herm Steuwe.

Each member is to bring any proposed by-law changes to the October meeting. October meeting will be held at Bruin Lake, north of Chelsea Oct. 8, 9 and 10. Potluck will consist of stew pot with the club furnishing the meat.

Sherry Holmes Accepts Job

Sherry L. Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Holmes, 812 River Acres Dr. has accepted a position with Krause Travel, Grand Rapids.

Miss Holmes was graduated from McConnell School, Minneapolis, Minn.

She was graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1974 and attended Western Michigan University.

Food Program Set to Begin Soon, Hopefully

Assistant Superintendent Gene Cooley told the School Board Monday night that hopefully a food service program will begin at the high school in "two or three weeks." But, Cooley went on to say that he couldn't say for sure.

Administrative area, media center and library are near completion, although delivery of the correct doors and windows for these areas has been delayed.

The window manufacturer made and error in construction windows according to the fire code. The mistake requires modification.

Exterior and site work is on schedule Cooley said.

Cooley also remarked that the media center, administrative complex, guidance center and kitchen are the next areas that will hopefully be occupied.

Officials hope to offer ala carte meal selections besides the regular type meals.

Bonsai Exhibit Set in Tipton

Miniature trees in many styles will be featured in an exhibit staged by the Bonsai Society of Michigan at Hidden Lake Gardens, Tipton, Sept. 26, 1-4 p.m.

Bonsai is an art form in which a woody plant is grown in a small container in a way which represents a natural landscape dominated by an aged or interesting tree.

Bonsai enthusiasts are inspired in their art by the trees of our woods and fields as well as by bonsai masterpieces created in Japan where small trees in pots have been grown for centuries.

Society members will be on had to answer questions.

Jack Wikle of Tecumseh, information specialist at the Gardens, is a bonsai hobbiest.

Harvey A. Koselka, Lenawee County Prosecuting Attorney, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the National District Attorneys Association. He was nominated for that position by the Prosecuting Attorneys of Michigan. As a director of the National District Attorneys Association, Koselka will recommend legislation for enactment to improve the national criminal justice system. He is now a director and past president of the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan.

$700,000 Needed for Schools

At the regular monthly meeting of Tecumseh's Board of Education Monday night, Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, informed the Board that the district will need to borrow $700,000 this year for operating expenses.

The district borrows every year in anticipation of state aid payments and tax collections.

Last year, the district borrowed $500,000 and the year before, a million dollars.

Cooley said that due to higher costs and inflation, the district needed to borrow more than last year.

School board member William Macbeth insisted that the Board approve the administration request to borrow the money provided the funds were borrowed at a "competitive interest rate."

Cooley informed the Board that no other interest bids were sought from other banks because of "the excellent rapport with the local bank (United Savings) , I felt an allegiance."

He went on to say that, due to this good relationship with the bank, the school district has not paid the maximum interest rate.

No Action On Request

School Board took no action Monday evening on a request to use school buildings for the swine flu immunization program.

Board member William Macbeth suggested that officials check with the school district attorney concerning liability.

Complaints Don't Help

Complaints from residents about the condition of Burt St. were passed along to City Council Monday night by Councilwoman Mary Bowers. She said very many people were unhappy about the road's condition and damage to their cars.

Burt St. was torn up for sewer installation for an apartment development. Sewer installation for Tecumseh Country Club is pending for this fall.

City manager Cal Zorn said the city hoped to maintain the street as a gravel road until spring to let it settle before paving. As with almost any construction job, "We go through difficult times," Zorn said.

Tuesday city trucks dumped gravel to fill chuck holes in the road.

Two Compete for Merit Scholarship

David G. Bauman and Lynne M. Wikle, both seniors at Tecumseh High School, have been named as semifinalists in the 22nd annual National Merit Scholarship competition.

The two are among 15,000 semifinalists who will compete for 3,850 merit scholarships to be awarded next spring by the scholarship corporation, in Evanston, Ill.

The semifinalists represent the top half of the one percent of the nation's most academically talented young people.

Also competing for the $1,000 scholarships are four other Lenawee County students.

These students must now prepare to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test to qualify.

Bauman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bauman of 408 W. Chicago Blvd. His ambitions are a liberal arts major and law.

Miss Wikle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wikle, 801 River Acres Dr., plans a science major.

Both students have a good chance for a financial aid package from the schools they are considering because of achievement on the National Merit examination, told John Pobuda, guidance office at THS.

Juvenile Volunteers Are Needed

Volunteer Service Program at the Lenawee County Probate Court, Juvenile Division, will have a fall training session on Oct. 18, 20 and 26.

The training session will prepare citizens in the community to work on a one to one basis with youth that have come to the attention of the Juvenile Court of Lenawee.

Individuals interested in becoming a part of a program which the Juvenile Court considers to be a valuable asset to their services may contact Thomas Jacobs at 263-6831, ext. 223, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

A.W. Merz, Clerk

REGISTRATION NOTICE

for

GENERAL ELECTION TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1976

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Tecumseh
COUNTY OF LENAWEE, STATE OF MICHIGAN

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law", I, the undersigned Clerk, will upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT I WILL BE AT MY OFFICE

Monday, October 4, 1976 -- Last Day
From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m.
The 30th day preceding said Election
And on Saturday, October 2, 1976 — 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

As provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954 As Amended

For the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, CITY or VILLAGE as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

The name of the person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION, PROCEDURE

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

UNREGISTERED PERSONS NOT ENTITLED TO VOTE

SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 116, P.A. 1954.)

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION, APPLICATION, TIME

SEC. 506. A registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Transfers shall not be made after the 30th day next preceding a regular or special election or primary election, unless the 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday in which event registration transfers shall be accepted during the following day.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION ON ELECTION DAY

SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village and had not recorded such removal with the local Clerk shall execute a transfer of registration request, listing the new residence address thereon over his signature, with the election board in the precinct in which he is registered at the next ensuing primary or election. The inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact by affixing his initials upon said request. The applicant for transfer, after having signed an application t vote as provided in Section 523 of this act, shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that primary or election only. The application for transfer shall be field with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the chance to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

Band Festival Next Tuesday

Tecumseh Marching Band Festival celebrates its 30th anniversary with the annual performance by the 12 school district bands in the county at the Tecumseh High School Athletic Field Oct. 5 at 8 p.m.

For the past three decades, band enthusiasts have enjoyed the high stepping style and march routines of the county's bands,and this year's performance promises to be as entertaining.

Three numbers to be performed by the mass band are "Colonel Bogey March" by Alford, "The Entertainer" by Scott Joplin and the "National Anthem."

Tecumseh's performance will include "Malaguena" based on a Stan Kenton arrangement and "The Way I Want To Touch You" by Toni Tennille.

Admission for the event is only $1 at the gate, with student rates available. Proceeds benefit the 12 school bands and three scholarship winners selected annually to attend the National Summer Music Camp at Interlochen.

Idea for the Tecumseh Marching Band Festival originated in 1946 with the late Clair Camburn and the Rev. B.O. Bashore. It has developed into one of the most important band activities in the county, giving the 12 school bands good exposure in the community.

Schools participating include Tecumseh, Britton-Macon, Clinton, Onsted, Addison, Adrian, Blissfield, Deerfield, Sand Creek, Hudson, Madison and Morenci High Schools.

Scouts Sponsor Memorial Fund

Tecumseh Community Association Girl Scouts will sponsor a Girl Scout Memorial Fund for Ruth Rentschler. Contributions may be made at any branch of United Savings Bank.

Two Officials Hospitalized

Severe chest pains hospitalized city manager Cal Zorn last week when precautions were taken for the city official who has a record of two past heart attacks.

After working at his desk last Wednesday, he entered Herrick Hospital. He was then transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor where heart tests were scheduled for Wednesday.

He is not in intensive care, and unless Wednesday's tests show complications, he is expected home later this week.

Another city official, Ward Eardley, reportedly was on the verge of a stroke and spent most of last week in Herrick Hospital. Although released, he will ungergo tests this week at St. Joseph's.

Quit Smoking Clinic Scheduled Oct. 17-21

A quit smoking clinic will be offered Oct. 17-21 from 7-8 p.m. at the conference room at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Gordon Guild, Tecumseh physician will lead the clinic.

Participants are asked to attend each of the five nights to benefit from the program.

Registration is now being taken. Call Dr. Guild's office weekdays except Thursday at 423-7458 or at home evenings, 423-4586.

Classes are limited and early registration is urged. A $3 registration fee covers materials. Therapy sessions include films, lectures, demonstrations, the buddy system and a personal control book to follow each day.

Two other stop smoking clinics were conducted here last fall and spring.

'Bust' After Game

Capping the Michigan-Michigan State football game on Oct. 9 will be the annual Michigan-Michigan State Bust at the Tecumseh Country Club.

The MSU Alumni Club of Lenawee County again has chartered a bus for the trip to Ann Arbor with a stop scheduled here at the Country Club about 9:15 Saturday morning. Bus will return to the club following the game for the annual party, which includes dinner and dancing.

Reservations must be made in advance for both the bus and game, and the party afterwards. Arrangements for the game can be made with Stanley Robertson of Adrian, 265-6154, or Jim Hughes, 263-1276.

Hughes, a member of the Country Club, also can handle your reservation for the party.

Seniors Here Set Election

Tecumseh area senior citizens are invited to the Tecumseh Community Center this Thursday, Sept. 30 to elect an advisory board for the Tecumseh Nutrition Center, operated by the Lenawee Council on Aging.

The Tecumseh Nutrition Center refers to activities coordinated by the Lenawee Council on Aging for Tecumseh Area senior citizens at the Tecumseh Community Center on Monday and Friday. LCOA also coordinates meals five days a week at the center and five days a week coordinates outreach for homebound senior citizens unable to attend activities at the center.

The advisory board to be elected Thursday will work with the LCOA Tecumseh Nutrition Center director, Christine Fliss, in a planning capacity for the future needs of Tecumseh's older Americans. The center advisory board is composed of senior citizen-participants and Tecumseh residents who have an interest in improving the lifestyle of older people.

The election will be at 12:30 p.m.

Anyone 55 years of age or older may attend. Reservations are not necessary to eat the 11:30 a.m. lunch served prior to the election.

Lenawee Council on Aging is funded by local, state and federal monies. LCOA is a service agency and not a social, political or fraternal club for senior citizens.

Install Lines

Approximately 12 water laterals are scheduled for installation on Burt St. in a section of the street previously torn up for installation of a new sewer main.

Officials anticipate completing the installations within the next week or so, and work may again temporarily close the street to vehicle traffic.

MARKET SOLD FOR OFFICE — Dick McCarty, right, owner of McCarty's Market for the past eleven and a half years, has sold the property to Louis Schneider, former automobile dealer here. Mr. Schneider will use the building as an office and for reconditioning automobiles in his car leasing business. McCarty, who has no immediate plans for the future, is now in the process of selling out the store's merchandise.

New Course for Adult Ed

A new course - ground school training by instructors from Calhoun School of Aviation - has been added to the Adult Ed program at Tecumseh High School.

Tom Muncie, adult ed director and high school counselor, says the new class will be offered at a cost far less than the usual fee.

The ground school training class will cover 16 weeks and will be taught by Jack Evans and Mike Carlton, both certified instructors. Classes will start Oct. 6.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mr. Muncie.

Players Pick Cast

Tecumsehite Kathi Johnstone was cast in the title role of "Calamity Jane" in the Tecumseh Players production of the musical by the same name. Rehearsals are now in full swing.

Carol McLeod is director. Show dates have been set for Oct. 29, 30, 31 and Nov. 5 and 6. Ticket reservations are now available by calling 456-7121 or 423-2596.

Kathi was first seen on the Tecumseh stage as "Pat," one of the wives in "Lil Abner." Kathi will bring to life the character of the rough and tumble, feisty "Calamity" who dresses, acts and shoots like a man.

Featured in this fall presentation will be many other familiar names from Tecumseh and nearby areas.

Much of Calamity's energies are spent in constant scrapping with "Wild Bill Hickock" portrayed by John Westol of Adrian.

The other female lead, that of "Katie Brown," a stagestruck young lady from Chicago, posing as a famous actress, will be played by Becky Scoviac of Clinton.

"Katie Brown" manages to steal the heart of the man Calamity loves, "Lt. Danny Gilmartin," a handsome young officer from a nearby fort. This role is portrayed by Hank Schade of Clinton.

A strong supporting cast includes Rick Vaught of Adrian in the role of "Henry Miller," otherwise known as Millie, the nervous fuss budget who owns and operates the "Golden Garter," hotel-bar-theater.

Marcy Prettyman, a senior at Tecumseh High School was cast in the role of "Susan", the pretty, young niece of Henry Miller.

The man Susan falls in love with, "Francis Fryer," as Eastern song-and-dance man hired by Miller to perform at the "Golden Garter," is played by Kim Swift of Clinton.

Others from Tecumseh include Gary Rader as "Doc Pierce," Gary Mills as "Joe the bartender," Dick Lewis as "Rattlesnake," Gerry Johnstone as "Buck" and Marcia Osterhout as "Adelaid Adams," the theater star.

All important chorus members, the backbone of any musical production include such familiar faces as Carol Clark, Margaret Cook, Nancy Cooper, Bev Mehan, Sue Mills, Kristin Schick and Scott Strack.

Patrons are urged to make reservations now at the numbers above. Last year others were turned away on the night of the performance.

Tecumseh Indians easily won their second straight Friday night, beating Monroe Jefferson 23-0, although they were not as impressive as in the opener against Chelsea. Hard running Jeff Anderson above (44) picks his way through the Monroe Jefferson line behind Kevin Eggleston (26). Anderson tallied two of Tecumseh's touchdowns and was the Indians' top ground gainer. Eggleston, left, bulled his way into the end zone for the other score. Although Tecumseh had another TD called back for a penalty, the Indians seemed contented in thesecond half after running up a 16-0 lead, including a safety against the Bears.

Club Reports 120 Donations for $1,600

The Indian Fan Club has collected approximately $1,600 in the annual solicitation of local businesses for financial support. Over 120 local and area businesses participated.

In recognition of its support, each contributing business was presented with a 1976 varsity football schedule placard. Businesses displaying the "Big Orange "T" " football schedule are participating business and supporters of the athletic program.

The Fan Club has a raffle underway with two tickets to the Oct. 9 Michigan-Michigan State football game as the prize. Included is a charter bus ride leaving from the Tecumseh Country Club to the U of M stadium in Ann Arbor and return. Those interested in supporting this Fan Club effort may contact one of the Club officers. Drawing will be held and the winner announced Oct. 4.

Several other fund raising programs are underway, all of which are designed to help finance the annual budget of $4,000, which is used to enhance the Tecumseh School System Athletic Programs.

18-year-old Is Critical

Joseph Marvin Horton, 18, remained in critical condition late Tuesday, at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. He is still only semi-conscious with a concussion, sprained neck vertebrae, and is in traction.

Horton was driving alone at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, northbound on Britton Hwy., at the Pennington Rd. intersection, when his automobile ran onto the shoulder and struck the bridge.

Clinton State Police are continuing the investigation of the mishap, which occurred in the rain and fog.

Horton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Horton, 10537, Pennington Rd., Tecumseh. He is employed at Ford Motor Co., Rawsonville.

Seek Donors for Victim

Blood donors are needed to replace 25 pints of blood used for Bob McKee who has had numerous transfusions in the past seven weeks. He was injured in a car accident which killed Douglas Higgins.

Volunteer donors may visit the Tecumseh Products Bloodmobile Friday, Oct. 1 from noon to 6 p.m. at the cafeteria.

McKee has been hospitalized for seven weeks and will undergo further surgery this week in St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. McKee lost a leg and had a broken pelvis.

Lee Purkey in Business Since 1943

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Purse Funeral Home for Leno "Lee" Purkey, 70, former Tecumseh businessman, who died Sunday afternoon at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Although he owned Lee Purkey & Sons garage on W. Chicago Blvd. since 1943, he had not been active in the business for approximately 15 years. He had been in failing health for a number of years and had left the operation of his business most of the time to two sons, Richard and Robert.

A member of the First United Presbyterian Church, he was also a charter member of the Exchange Club and a Tecumseh volunteer fireman for 26 years. For many years he actively supported local sport programs.

He was a resident of the city here since 1939.

Mr. Purkey, born Oct. 3, 1905 at Hicksville, Ohio, was the son of the James and Jane (Haver) Purkey. On Jan. 24, 1923, he married Dorothy Fallis in Monroe.

Survivors, besides the wife and two sons, are two daugters, Mrs. Robert (Bette) Williamson and Mrs. William (Lois) Tilton; two other sons, Donald and James; two sisters, Mrs. Lelah Nash of Toledo, and Mrs. Nelva Putnam, Sylvania; and 20 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

The Rev. Edmund Watkins officiated at the services, and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Memorials may be made to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital cancer fund.

LEE PURKEY

One Hurt in 4-Car Accident

In one of six accidents investigated by Tecumseh police this week, a Tecumseh woman was taken to Herrick Hospital after a four-car accident at the intersection of Maumee and Chicago Sts.

Saturday, Daisy F. McClain, 48, 719 Ternes, was taken to Herrick for treatment. She was listed in satisfactory condition after receiving a laceration on the forehead. She is still being observed for a possible concussion.

McClain told police that she was heading west on Chicago when she passed out and did not know what happened after that. Vista A. Morse, 53, 9498 Tonneberger, was heading south on Maumee at the time and was struck at the intersection by the McClain auto. She told police that she had the green light.

The McClain auto then reportedly crossed the the boulevard and hit two other autos waiting for the red light. They were in the left lane of eastbound Chicago at the time.

Willard A. Keith, 34, 410 E. Logan, was reportedly stopped behind an auto driven by Robert Randall, 48, 803 River Acres. Both reported that McClain, who was cited in the mishap, ran the red light.

A resume of the other accidents includes:

Sept. 22 — Jerrald R. Warner, 23, of Detroit, told officers that he slowed down for several broken cement blocks on N. Evans when he was hit in the rear. Dina D. Lee, 21, 216 W. Kilbuck, told police she could not see because of the sun when she it the Warner vehicle.

Sept. 23 — David L. Burwell, 23, of Adrian was cited for failure to stop after he ran a stop sign on Shawnee and struck another auto. Debra A. Gray, 23, of Blissfield was heading south on N. Pearl when hit.

Sept. 24 — Brian K. Maupin, 5709 Macon Rd., hit a parked car while eastbound on E. Logan. He told police that he was looking to his left when he struck the parked vehicle owned by Scott Turner, of Tipton.

Susan J. Harris, 32, of Onsted, and Deborah A. Frayer, 25, of Britton collided when Harris backed from a parking space in the Tecumseh Products parking lot and hit the Frayer vehicle.

Sept. 28 — Cynthia L. Winzeler, 26, 2510 Russell, told police she was sneezing so hard that she did not see a yield sign and struck another auto. Winzeler was southbound on Oneida when she struck a car driven by Larry D. Hollis, 19, 706 Brook. Winzeler was cited for failure to yield.

Arrested, Charged with Disorderly

Tecumseh police investigated seven complaints this week. In one incident, a Britton man was found passed out in his car. He was arrested for being disorderly after fleeing from police on foot twice.

Saturday, James C. Brown, 20, of Britton was arrested for being disorderly.

According to police reports, Brown was passed out in his car at Sunset and Beland when police found him at 7 a.m. The car door was open with a opened bottle of liquor in the back seat. A bag of alleged marijuana was also reportedly found at Brown's feet.

Police then woke Brown and told him he was under arrest for possession. As the officer reached for his handcuffs, Brown reportedly grabbed the alleged marijuana and fled north on foot.

The officer chased Brown, caught him and struggled with him. The subject broke loose and fled south across Sunset on Beland. Brown emptied the contents of the bag in the field along the way.

The Tecumseh officer then tackled the subject in a vacant field on Beland and subdued the subject. Brown was reportedly beligerant as help arrived to transport him to the station.

A resume of other reports includes:

Sept. 22 — Gerald G. Furlong Jr. of Monroe was arrested for driving on a suspended license. He was driving on E. Chicago with a head light out when stopped.

Sept. 23 — Rollin K. Wiles, of Adrian was arrested for being drunk and disorderly when police found him locked in his car on Pearl St. near Chicago. When police arrived, Wiles was laying in the front asleep and was reportedly incoherent when awakened.

Sept. 24 — Ron Neville, 608 Brook St., reported the theft of his 10-speed bicycle from THS. He told police that he rode his bike, valued at $50, to school and it was gone when he was ready to leave.

Sept. 25 — Three runaways from Boysville in Macon appeared at the Tecumseh station and turned themselves in. The two 15-year-olds and 16-year-old told officers that they fled during a doctor's appointment.

Sept. 28 — Lee Purkey, 810 Waskins Dr., and Hudson Riffle, 1105 Sunset, reported stolen CB's from their autos. Both locked their autos in their driveways and woke up to find the units missing.

GM Donates 282 Pints to Bloodmobile

The Bloodmobile that came on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 15 and 16 to the Fisher Body Plant of General Motors netted 282 pints of blood during the two days.

Gallon donors were: Robert L. Loveland, Jr., Donald E. Jenkins, Wayne R. Brooks, and Hortensia Lopez.

Two gallon donors were: Norma L. Bronis, Donald F. Burock, Kenneth R. Stidham, Ronald L. Svespka and Donald L. Schmidt and the three gallon donor was Richard G. Graham.

Mrs. Shirlie Fielder, chairwoman for the Bloodmobile thanks the Iota Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and Welcome Wagon of Tecumseh along with over 50 other volunteers whose hard work helped make it happen. Also, Ed Walters of Fisher Body did an excellent job of scheduling the donors so that volunteers were always busy, said Mrs. Fielder.

The next Bloodmobile will be located at the Tecumseh Cafeteria on Oct. 1 from noon to 6 p.m.

Organ Is Dedicated

By SHARON CONNORS

Sunday afternoon was a rainy, foggy afternoon in Macon, but to many of its residents and guests it was one of the brightest and happiest days in a long, long time. Many old friendships were renewed and memories shared when the Macon Methodist Church dedicated its new organ in memory of Melvin Travis.

The Rev. Albert Raloff, minister, gave the invocation and dedication. An engraved plate will be attached to the organ and was presented by Hallie Jane Mehler, church organist. Robert Osborne introduced Earl Tank, guest organist from Dearborn and his granddaughter, Susan DeGuiulio who was soloist.

Osborne asked old choir members to stand along with the others. He reassured the assembly that laughing and yes, crying, were definitely permitted.

This reporter must admit she did indeed do both of these as the lovely organ music rang out in classic religious, waltz, tango and jazz selections and the solos were sung.

Speaking from the platform, Mrs. Melvin (Bessie) Travis thanked God for the wonderful day and for the opportunity to attend. She said she hoped her gift, the organ, would bring much happiness, fellowship and praise of God.

The sing-a-long was inspiring and after the Rev. Raloff's benediction, the church choir had a coffee hour.

Mrs. Melving Travis was the honored out of town guest for the dedication of the organ in memory of her late husband, Melvin. He died in 1975. Melvin and Bessie lived in Macon for 25 years. Bessie came from Sidney, Ohio then moved to Toledo, where she and Melvin met singing in a church choir. They were married in 1930 and moved to Macon in 1931. Melvin's parents had taught in the Macon Ford schools, grades one through 12.

In 1972, the Travis' left Macon and returned to Mrs. Travis' home. The Baker Homestead near Sidney, Ohio, which had been in her family for 140 years. A niece, nephew and grandniece live with her.

A familiar face was seated ahead when the program started — Brother Philip Armstrong, a former director of Boysville. He left Boysville 10 years ago and went to Ghana where he was head of a seminary. He has been in South Bend, Ind. at Notre Dame since June and next year he will return to Ghana.

Other out of town guests included Ivan Parker, former principal of Macon-Ford Schools from 1938-1944. He was principal of Greenfield Village Schools from 1944-47 and has been in charge of scholarships and financial aid at the University of Michigan since 1947.

Gizella Kovach Kasnia came 200 miles from West Carrollton, Ohio for the occasion and enjoyed the afternoon, among other things, looking through two scrapbooks with her sisters, Elizabeth Kovach Donivan from Dearborn, Bertha Koavch Brown from Britton and their aunt Margaret McAllister of Dearborn. Margaret does all art work for Greenfield Villages.

5 Injured

Five persons were injured at 12:25 p.m. Friday when two cars collided at the four-way stop intersection of M-50 and M-52, west of Tecumseh.

Ronald K. Starks, 69 of Lyons, Ohio, had stopped for the stop sign, northbound on M-52, then pulled into the intersection, where his car was struck by the westbound car driven by Joseph Schewman, 45 of Adrian.

Starks and his four passengers, Hazel Starks, 67, of Lyons; Vic Hartzell, of Defiance, Ohio; Pauline Gleson and Ruth Gephart, both of Lyons, all were treated at Herrick Hospital.

Schewman was cited for failure to yield right of way by Clinton State Police.

Excitement Told

Seaman Michael A. (Tony) Caterina wrote his family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Caterina, 8800 N. Union, of an exciting experience he had two weeks ago.

Caterina is stationed aboard the USS John F. Kennedy, the nation's second largest aircraft carrier, which that day lost an F-14 jet fighter plane over the side, off the coast of Scotland, when equipment malfunctioned.

The same day, a refueling operation was nearing completion with a destroyer, when the steering mechanism of the destroyer failed, and it rammed the USS Kennedy just under the elevator, where Seaman Caterina had just disconnected refueling equipment.

No one was injured on the USS Kennedy, but several were reported injured on the destroyer.

Seaman Caterina enlisted two years ago and is enjoying the prospect of putting in to port in Scotland and a visit to France.

The Condolence Call, some guidelines

When a close friend or relative dies, you may not even think twice about making a condolence call on the bereaved; you just do it. You do so simply to express your sympathy and console the bereaved, offering assistance however best you can.

There are some logical "do's and don'ts" of which you may or may not be aware. This check list may serve as a helpful guide.

1. If you're not really sure whether you should make the call or not, then do it. They're bound to appreciate it.
2. Remember, the purpose of the call is to express sympathy and offer assistance. Don't make it a long "social" event or a fashion showcase for your wardrobe.
